MY WHOLE STOCK FOR SALE.

Owing to continued ill health, I have determined to sell my entire business, lock, stock and barrel, in a lump, if I can find a purchaser. There is not a dollar's worth of dead stock in the house, and three-fourths of the stock is worth in the wholesale markets from 10 to 50 per cent more than it cost. I have always bought direct from the European and American manufacturers in large jobbing quantities and have always gotten the lowest prices obtainable. I can offer to a business man who is acquainted with the China, Toy, Candy and General Novelty trade, one of the best opportunities ever presented. My business has steadily increased every year, and the present year is the most successful I have ever had. My stock for the coming holiday trade is the completest ever brought to the Raleigh market, and orders for same have been placed at intervals since early spring as opportunities to secure the most desirable goods at the lowest prices presented themselves.

Until I can make a sale as above stated, I will offer to the public at retail everything in my store at a greatly reduced price, as I am determined to change my business in any event. I can offer you rare bargains in every department of my store, and I invite the immediate inspection of the trade. It will pay you handsomely to buy your holiday goods now and lay them aside until needed.
