There have been various rumors of hotel building in this city the past few days. In fact these rumors have been afloat for several weeks-and months. A few days ago talk of enlarging the Yarborough was revived. Then it was stated that an entirely new hotel was a probability if not a likelihood, on the corner of Fayetteville and Hargett streets, opposite the site selected for the Masonic Temple. Neither of the above reports have been verified, though the people, who have been long suffering and kind, would rejoic to see it

And now comes still another unverified report. It was street rumor yesterday that the improvements inaugurated by Mr. R. B. Raney on the Swepson property, corner of Hillsboro and Salisbury streets, are in the direction and for the purpose of erecting there a modern hotel for the accommodation, northern cities who come south in search of warmer sunshine and balmier breezes.
