The heavy receipts of tobacco on this market from country carts is a surprise to everybody here. The popularity of this market among the planters throughout this section is widespread and increasing from day to day. While the price of tobacco is high everywhere this year, still it is contended by those who are in a position to know that tobacco is selling higher on this market than on any other in the state. Both the Imperial and American tobacco companies have buyers here besides a number of local buyers.

[Last night the Washington correspondent of The Post reported that he had inquired at the treasury department and had been informed that selections of public building sites in North Ogrolina will not be made until next week .- Ed. 7
