

PERFECT FACILITIES FOR CASHING CHECKS

Raleigh Warehousemen and Banks Co-operate to Accommodate Farmers

The Post is requested to correct a false impression unintentionally made by another Raleigh paper with reference to the tobacco market and the facilities at hand for accommodating the farmers in the matter of cashing checks for their tobacco sold on the warehouse floors. The fact is, so The Post is advised, that there has not been the least bit of bother or delay to the farmers in the cashing of their checks. On last Friday all the banks were open until 5 o'clock to accommodate the farmers, and the Carolina Trust Company was actually open for this purpose until dark, and Mr. Frank Stronach says he knows of his own personal knowledge that there was not a single farmer who had any trouble at all in getting the cash for his check and Friday's sales were the largest of the season thus far. There has not nor will there be at any time in the future be any trouble at all on this score.

ELEVEN YEARS SERVICE AS RECTOR

Dr. I. McK. Pittinger of Good Shepherd Church Gives Some Statistics

Dr. I. McK. Pittinger, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, gave the services at that church Sunday a sort of anniversary turn and the exercises were very interesting and profitable. Dr. Pittinger has just returned from a month's vacation which he spent at his old home in Ohio, and as a sort of preface to his sermon he stated that eleven years ago, on Friday of last week, he first assumed the pastorate of Good Shepherd church. He added that on last Friday, the eleventh anniversary, he made the ideal trip from Ohio to Raleigh that he made when he first came to this charge. In speaking of the development of the parish during his eleven years' pastorate, it was stated that there have been 147 baptisms and 203 confirmations. The membership has grown from 269 to 345, and the congregation has raised for all purposes about $60,000.

GOV. AYCOCK AND PARDON GRANTING

He Makes a Statement Both Specific and General

Governor Aycock discussed with a Post writer yesterday the matter of pardons by the people of any of the pardons he has in the past or will in the future grant, the discussion being brought up especially by the criticisms about Wilmington on the pardon he granted one Tom Rouse, who was serving a term for assaulting a 13-year-old girl with a stick. He said the facts in this case were that he received sworn statements from the girl and her mother that the blow inflicted by Rouse was purely accidental, both urging the governor to grant the pardon. The statement was made by the mother that the girl would have gone on the stand and testified to this effect had it not been that she was sick at the time of the trial and could not go to the court house. Speaking of pardons in general, the Governor said that he wants it distinctly understood that the reason he requires all applications for pardons to be advertised by posters at the county seat and in some county paper where the applicant for the pardon was convicted, is in order that any who object to such a pardon may come forward and state their objections. When an application has been duly advertised (and every one considered by the governor is necessarily so advertised), and no objections are filed, the Governor naturally takes it for granted that there is no objection in the county to the granting of such a pardon.

MR. ADAMS OPENS FIRE ON SALOONS

He Wants Officers Who Will Make and Enforce Laws

Live-questions were discussed by Rev. G. T. Adams in his Sunday night sermon at Central Methodist church. The words of his text were, "Thy kingdom come," and the theme of his discourse was on the establishment and maintenance of Christ's kingdom on earth. That kingdom, he declared, is not the church, but it is a kingdom in the hearts of men—a living, moving and acting spirituality. The man who belongs to that kingdom will not oppress the poor, but will treat his neighbor right whether that neighbor be a rich man or belongs to the humble walks. Membership in Christ's kingdom gives peace and joy. The one supreme mission of the Son of God was to establish His kingdom in the hearts of men. He commissioned His disciples before He went back to the Father to plant and establish the kingdom of righteousness on earth. From the handful receiving that divine commission there has grown to be 450,000,000 of His people. All church organizations of whatever denominations are working to the extension of Christ's kingdom. Said Mr. Adams: "If you are not working for this purpose ask yourself what use God has for you. A man who is not doing this is out of the economy of God. All men and women are not called to do the same work. I say to the business man that you can serve God in your business for the extension of the kingdom of God and if you can't you had better get out of that business, and get in some business that you can do."

In any legitimate business you can do it."

The preacher then touched a question that is local. Not only local but state wide and world wide. "You can't engage in the whisky business," he declared, "and work for the extension of the kingdom of God. The saloon business stands condemned by God. The saloon man condemns himself—he needs no law to condemn him. The fact that he is engaged in a business that God has pointed his finger at is evidence that it is wrong."

Mr. Adams condemned the selling of soft drinks and other articles in the drug stores on Sunday. Such a business cannot help to extend the kingdom of God and it is therefore wrong. "The men who do this are stumbling blocks and it should not be permitted. If it is right to sell cold drinks on Sunday, it's right for everybody else to sell goods. Some officers in the church offer up prayers and then go out and give the lie to what they have said. You hear some of the highest officers in the church pray and their prayers are not lifted higher than their heads. They sing beautiful songs and get down on their knees and their voices are not raised higher than the ceiling of the church."

It was stated that liquor is sold at places not licensed as saloons, and that a distressing feature of it is, boys in their teens are permitted to buy. They are led into paths that are dark and foul, the end of which is the lowest depth of degradation, disgrace, death. These places are open, veritable death-traps, but some parents are not blameless. A gentleman had remarked to him but a day or two ago that people used to raise boys on hickory, but now they are raised on the streets.

Coming to an intensely practical point, Mr. Adams said that another obstacle to the establishment of Christ's kingdom was the board of aldermen. A resolution was offered to make the restaurants connected with bar-rooms close at 12 o'clock. Did you notice the action taken? The resolution was withdrawn. I want a set of aldermen who are loyal enough to stand up for the kingdom of God.

Mr. Adams said he had spoken to the mayor of the city about certain violations of the law, and that the mayor had told him he could do nothing, that it was hard to get evidence. The plea that "I can do nothing" is childish, declared the speaker. Only a few nights ago somebody went along the principal street and cut and mutilated nearly all the awnings. Where were the policemen? Were they all asleep? I don't know where else they could have been. "I love the boys and want to save them. I want to raise my voice in their behalf, and I will do it. The saloon is nearer hell than any place I know of. I want you to stop going there. If you will stop drinkings and patronizing such places and join in the fight against them we can do something. Pretty soon an opportunity will be given to say whether or not we will have saloons. When voting time comes I want us to roll up a big majority against them."

NOTHING TO DECIDE

State Committee Will Not Interfere in Campbell-Gudger Contest

A copy of the letter of Chairman Griggs, declining to interfere in the contest between Campbell and Gudger for the right to be considered the regular Democratic candidate for congress in the tenth district, was shown to Senator Simmons, chairman of the Democratic state convention, last night. Senator Simmons was asked if his committee would take up the matter and decide between the rival claimants. He replied that there was nothing for his committee to decide. A copy of Campbell's claim had been sent to him when the matter was called to the attention of Chairman Griggs, but he considered that it was only intended for his information. It is not expected that Campbell will ask the state committee for a decision.

TEAM WORKING HARD

Football Fever Running High Among the Boys.

The question of athletics is not being slighted among the students at the A. and M. College. The football team for the coming season is working hard now every afternoon.

Never before in the history of the college has athletics been so strongly talked. The students line daily around the athletic field and watch with eager eyes the practicing of the boys dressed in football toggery. As they watch, the passerby can hear favorable and enthusiastic remarks about different players, and opinions expressed as to how the other college teams will have to hurry to get this way and that way.

The team will be composed largely of the boys who made up the picky team last year, and the new ones are said to be just as good. The old boys who are back to face the other teams with a determination to win are: Gardner, Welch, Ashbury, Gulley, Darden, Carpenter, Neil and Shannonhouse. Then there are new men here to finish out the line-up and hold their post with as much grit. Among them are: Koon, Burkhead, Santres, Robertson, Beebe, Hadley, Gradon, Kennedy, Venable, O'Berry and Brockwell, and a host of others from which good timber may be selected.

Besides the practicing of the football team the campus is dotted with awkward squads every afternoon. Capt. Phelps is rushing things and it will not be many days before the squads will turn to companies and then there will be dress parades and company drills.
