

Negro Boy Shot and Killed at Mt. Olive

A Little Chap Lost in the Streets of Goldsboro—Canvasser in the County Drawing to a Close

Goldsboro, N. C., Oct. 31.—Special.—Superior Court which convenes in this city next Monday will have to pass upon four capital cases provided the criminal is caught who committed a dastardly murder in Mt. Olive last night about 8 o'clock. At present it is not even known who the party is, but his victim is a young negro boy, Jim Cox, a son of Hardy Cox, who lives in a suburb of the town. According to the story told by the unfortunate boy's mother, there was some one passing along the street in a buggy keeping up considerable noise and swearing loudly. The boy thought it was a negro whom he knew and he ran out to the road and told the person in the buggy to stop cursing so loud. The moment he said the words the sharp report of a pistol was heard and the boy was shot to death. A second and a third shot were fired and the party in the buggy drove off down the street toward the woods. When the boy's mother reached his side he was dead. One pistol ball had entered the center of his forehead and had come out on the back of his head and another had entered the skull over his right eye and had also gone through his head. The shooting took place early in the night and hundreds of people soon flocked to the scene. Sheriff Scott and Coroner Dr. Thos. Hill were notified during the night and left this morning to hold an inquest.

Sheriff Scott and Dr. Thomas Hill returned to the city tonight from Mt. Olive where they have been holding the inquest behind closed doors all day. Dr. Hill, the coroner, refuses to make public the verdict of the jury and said that he had forwarded the verdict to Solicitor Armistead Jones for instructions. When his answer is received the findings of the jury of inquest will be made public. It is learned that persons are implicated in the homicide whose names are known only to the jury. The fact has been the subject of conversation in the town of Mt. Olive and surrounding country throughout the day and hundreds of people have come to town to find out the particulars which at present are locked up tightly in the minds of the few who have been inside the room where the inquest has been held. No arrests have been made, but enough of the secret has leaked out to warrant the statement that the jury do not believe that the party or parties who committed the deed intended anything so rash.

Mr. John L. Phelps, who lives near Boston in this county, was very fortunate in securing a horse in the city this morning which had been stolen from his stables during the night. He did not know his horse had been stolen until he went out to feed his stock this morning. After making a thorough search of his premises he came on to this city, where he found his horse in the yard of a livery stable. It is supposed that the horse was stolen for the purpose of a ride to town and was then turned loose at the livery stable.

The father and mother of Mr. J. E. Jones, one of the popular proprietors of the Farmers' Warehouse, came to the city this morning to select a location for a residence in the city. They now live in New Hope township, where Mr. Jones also makes his home. They brought with them Emmett, the 8-year-old son of Mr. Jones. While his grandmother and grandfather were talking to some friends in the street little Emmett strayed off some distance and lost sight of his grandparents, who in the meantime missed the boy. A search was begun immediately for him. The police were notified and they with several others began looking the streets over. Mr. W. K. Parker had learned of the lost boy and noticing a little fellow crossing Walnut street alone and unaccompanied he approached the little fellow and asked him his name. Emmett was the prompt reply and without delay Mr. Parker restored the youngster to the arms of his grandmother, who was overjoyed at finding her lost boy.

The Democratic county candidates were at Asheville today. Col. W. T. Dortch was with them and made an excellent speech this afternoon to one of the largest audiences that has greeted the candidates this canvass. Col. Dortch returned to the city and made a capital speech from the the jazz of the superintendent's office at the cotton factory tonight. Much interest is centered in the appointments at Fremont Monday afternoon and at Goldsboro Sunday night. He will have large audiences at both places.

being a duly qualified doctor of osteopathy, they cursed him as a "fraud." They then tried the case in Superior court; the judge found him "not guilty."

Then they cursed the judge as "an old-fool," and "crazy."

Then, by permission of MacKnight, and not otherwise, they appealed the case to the Supreme court, and that court, all five judges being unanimous in the decision, said the lower courts were right. Again judgment of "not guilty." Now they heap their curses of condemnation upon Justice Clark and say he was "hypnotized or outwitted," because he was the associate justice selected by the court to write their opinion. It seems to be a case of "curse 'em," any way we find it.

Mr. John L. Phelps, who lives near Boston in this county, was very fortunate in securing a horse in the city this morning which had been stolen from his stables during the night. He did not know his horse had been stolen until he went out to feed his stock this morning. After making a thorough search of his premises he came on to this city, where he found his horse in the yard of a livery stable. It is supposed that the horse was stolen for the purpose of a ride to town and was then turned loose at the livery stable.

When these doctors of pills and powders will set themselves up to judge and condemn the jurists of our courts of law, it is a clear demonstration of their willingness to not only transgress our rights, but their inability to not only judge the law, but to judge of our competency to practice osteopathy. Their willingness to rob the sick, and us, of our most sacred rights, is only exceeded by their impudence in encroaching anarchically upon the highest branch of our judicial power, one of the best and soundest courts in America.

Now, I will make this proposition: Appoint a committee of one allopath, one homeopath and one osteopath physician. Let this committee select our patients, men or women, with marked and decisive cases of tuberculosis, not less than 18 nor more than 35 years old, not in the last stage, and assign one to me, and one to the entire medical fraternity of Moore county, for treatment, free of charge, for six months. If at this time there can be found any of the bacilli of tuberculosis in the sputum of my patient, I will forfeit $100 for the use of the poor. If there be any in the sputum of their patient at the same time, they forfeit the same, on same terms. If my patient is found well, all I ask is for him or her to go on their way rejoicing.

Mr. Editor, if my treatment is what I claim it is, the people ought to know it, if it is not, they ought to know that.

Here is my proposition, it is fair: let the medicos put up or shut up.

HENRY P. MACKNIGHT, D. O., Osteopath.
Southern Pines, N. C., Oct. 28, 1902.

To show the falsity of the statement of Edwin Gladman, M. D., in his Sunday article, I hereto attach the following affidavits:

State of North Carolina—

Moore County.
M. B. Clarke, being duly sworn, says: I have known A. Winestine, referred to by Dr. Gladman in his article in the Raleigh Post of Sunday October 28, 1902, for nearly two years. From personal observation and information received I believe that Winestine was non compos mentis for months before he applied to Dr. MacKnight for treatment.

Winestine published in the Southern Pines Bulletin of date on or about March 23, 1902, the statement that he had greatly improved under "Dr. MacKnight's treatment." This item was given me by Winestine himself, in his own handwriting.

On or about June 1, he removed to Durham, N. C., where he became involved in domestic troubles because of his physical and mental disabilities. Being told by a first-class medical doctor there that his case was incurable, he left, in company with his father-in-law, for Waterbury, Conn., where he consulted several M. D.'s who gave him no hope.

Thereupon, while still under the care of M. D.'s on or about August 1, 1902, six months after his last treatment by Dr. MacKnight, Winestine committed suicide by drowning in the Naugatuck river at Waterbury, Conn.

Attached clippings are taken from the Southern Pines Bulletin of the dates above named. I was editor of the Bulletin at the time.

Signed and sworn to before Justice of the Peace C. W. Shaw, this 28th day of October, 1902.

"Dr. MacKnight's Physical Culture Health Club. Special class for ladies." "We are pleased to inform our readers that A. Winestine is rapidly improving under the treatment of Dr. MacKnight."

"Mr. and Mrs. Winestine, leave this morning for their new home in Durham. They were good neighbors, and we are sorry to lose them. Mr. Suggs succeeds Mr. Winestine in the grocery business here and he will do business on a strictly cash basis."

"From advices received the first of the week it would appear that Albert Winestine, who formerly ran the People's Cash Grocery, in Southern Pines, recently committed suicide by drowning at Waterbury, Conn. The information came by papers sent to Dr. Sadelson by Bert Daskum and by a letter from Mr. Winestine's brother, addressed to the postmaster here. Mr. Winestine was a young man and had a wife, but no children survive him. She is living with her parents in Durham."

AFFIDAVIT.
Fred Dixon and Mrs. Mammie Dixon being duly sworn, say concerning the statement of Edwin Gladman, M. D., in the Post of 26th inst., wherein he states that Dr. Harry MacKnight attended one Mrs. Davidson from Massachusetts and she died under his treatment in Southern Pines, N. C.; that the same is false.

Mr. and Mrs. Davidson came to affidavits for board upon their arrival from the north. Mrs. Davidson was unable to walk without assistance. Dr. MacKnight was called in and upon examination told Mr. Davidson that his wife was beyond hope, and he (MacKnight) could do nothing for her.

Mr. Davidson said he had taken her to several specialists, doctors of medicine in New York and Boston and she had failed continually.

Affiants further say that Dr. Mc-

Knight never treated her while she was in Southern Pines, and Edwin Gladman's statement to the contrary is false.

CARRIER IS CHAMPION

Closing Event of the Club Shoot of the Week

Mr. J. D. Carrier of Asheville won the state championship and the handsome silver trophy in the shoot at the fair grounds yesterday. The number of targets shot at was 75 and Mr. Carrier broke 71 with a score of 70. Mr. Jas. I. Johnson, Sr. of Raleigh, was the third with 68. Mr. Pearce broke 64. Mr. Lyon 61. Mr. Ferral 58 and Mr. Gowan 50. Others shooting, but not contesting for the state championship were Mr. Eick 52, Mr. Storr 70, Mr. Butt 58, Mr. Gray 44, Mr. C. D. Arthur 57, Mr. G. L. Arthur 44, and Mr. Adcock 43.

Mr. Storr of Baltimore won high gun for the entire three days' shoot and was highly complimented on his work. Mr. Storr made many friends in the city and will always be given the warm hand in Raleigh.

All the gentlemen representing powder, shot, shell and gun manufacturers, were well pleased with the arrangements made for displaying their goods during the tournament.

THE BIGGEST HANGING

Ever Seen in the State to Take Place This Winter

Mr. P. C. Ennis made a prediction last night to the effect that the biggest hanging ever witnessed in North Carolina would take place this winter—more copies of Turner's North Carolina Almanac will be hung than ever before. This almanac for 1903 is just out and a copy accompanies, though it does not contain the above prediction.

Turner's Almanac is an old and established institution, and because of its reliability, is popularly styled the "Old Reliable." It is the standard of local astronomical time by which to set our clocks and watches, also as to all officers of our state government, salaries, etc., public works, penal, charitable and educational institutions, courts, members of congress, judges, solicitors, etc. It contains many interesting facts and statistics of North Carolina, valuable for reference, with household and medical receipts for the family. It is a very useful publication, and commends itself to all our people. Price only 10 cents, and for sale by merchants, postmasters, druggists, etc., all over the state, or by the publishers, Ennis Publishing Company, Raleigh, N. C.

Boys' Symphony Orchestra

Of the Boys' New York Symphony Orchestra which is booked at the Academy of Music for one concert on Monday night, Nov. 3, the New York World says:

"A very large audience last night attended the first of a series of concerts to be given by the Boys' New York Symphony Orchestra at the Herald Square Theatre. The program contained eleven most pleasing numbers, including several that were classical. Their interpretation of those by Wagner, Messenet and Paganini was worthy of musicians of the highest order. It was indeed wonderful to hear these little fellows render such difficult selections in such a masterly manner. There is a spirit and a fire in their work that would do credit to many older organizations. They were greeted most warmly and their first concert was a veritable triumph."

MOST PAINFUL INJURY

Young Loomis Goodwin Sustains Broken Leg

An unfortunate accident occurred yesterday afternoon while the football game was being played. The ball rolled out of bounds and a rush was made for it. Young Mr. Loomis Goodwin, for it is Young Mr. Goodwin was standing back of a crowd along the line, and as the crowd surged back was knocked down under the wheels of a carriage. The horses took fright and the heavy vehicle passed over the young man's legs, breaking one of them just below the knee. The injury was attended to at once, the broken limb set and the patient is doing as well as could be expected.

Big Electrical Project

London, Oct. 31.—The Swedish government has decided to convert the 4,200 miles of government owned railways in that country into electric traction system for the purpose of utilizing the natural water power of the country. Representatives of the government of Sweden are in London conferring with American experts on the subject, and plans have already been submitted for the work, which will be completed in three years. It is probable that Denmark will take similar action.

Suit for Infringement

Mr. E. T. Fenwick, of the firm of Mason, Fenwick & Co., patent lawyers of Washington, was in the city yesterday and argued the case for the complainant before Judge T. R. Funnell in the suit of the Farmers' Manufacturing Co. vs. the Spruks Manufacturing Co., for alleged infringement by the defendants of the East patent for a ventilated truck barrel.

DEMOCRATS SURE TO WIN IN PERSON

Correspondence of the Moring Post. Roxboro, N. C., Oct. 30.—Notwithstanding the report sent out from here to the contrary the Democratic ticket will be elected by a good safe majority. Chairman Carlton, who has made a most inspiring campaign, assured me today that Warren, for the house, would be elected by a majority any where from 600 to 800, with the balance of the ticket thereabout, while the "old war-horse," D. W. Bradsher, will defeat his opponent for clerk of the court by at least 1,000. Have no fears about old Person for she will surely send a true blue Democrat down to represent her in the next legislature, and there will be no better or safer representative in that body than our representative, Mr. W. A. Warren.

Hon. Cy Watson was with the county candidates today at Wooddale and made one his characteristic strong speeches. The canvass will close here on Saturday when Hon. W. W. Kitchin will be with them. His majority will be something like 1,000.

The registration books shows 1,800 whites and 104 negroes, which is a falling off of more than 1,000 in the negro vote. At the last election there were 350 votes cast by white Republicans and they have been augmented by only a very few by the "independent" movement.

Food Changed To Poison

Pretrefying food in the intestines produces effects like those of arsenic, but Dr. King's New Life Pills expel the poisons from clogged bowels gently, easily but surely, curing Constipation, Biliousness, Sick Headache, Fevers, all Liver, Kidney and Bowel troubles. Only 25c. at all druggists.

BREEDS DISCONTENT

Miners on Strike Want to Return to Work

Hazleton, Pa., Oct. 31.—The new strike order issued by the district headquarters here with President Mitchell's sanction has called forth bitter denunciation from a majority of the workmen affected who desire to return to work. The strikers are now divided into two factions and a clash is imminent. Many of the men claim that now that the big strike has been called off, they should be permitted to have the same opportunity to resume work as their fellows in the other districts and allow the arbitration commission to settle all points at issue.

A poll was made by the bosses of G. B. Markle & Co. among their old employees in the Pink Ash district and three-fourths of them decided to return to work Monday. These were mostly laborers, the certificate miners showing little disposition to return.

Don't Let Them Suffer

Often children are tortured with itching and burning eczema and other skin diseases but Bucklen's Arnica Salve heals the skin without a scar. Clean, fragrant, cheap, there's no salve on earth as good. Try it. Cure guaranteed. Only 25c. at all druggists.

A Good Show

"Chris and Lena" presented at the Academy last night by Pete Baker and a strong supporting company, is a good show. It is full of bright, fresh, sparkling comedy and good singing. It is just such a production as you can cheerfully and heartily recommend to your friends. Don't fail to see it when you get a chance.

Tom Johnson on His Muscle

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 31.—At the time of the usual noon day gathering on the public square today Mayor Tom L. Johnson was called a liar by a Republican adherent and he promptly knocked the man down with a savage blow

Mrs. Frank Grosvenor,

No. 212 Twenty-first St., Galveston, Tex.
GALVESTON, TEX.,
March 13, 1902.

For three years after my marriage I felt peculiar bearing-down pains such as I had never experienced before. I tried different remedies but found it was only money wasted. I then consulted a physician who treated me for two months and then said my ovaries were diseased and that I would never get well unless I had an operation. I knew that would mean that I would never have a child and I dreaded the ordeal. I changed physicians but found this did not help me any, and I was in despair.

My sister-in-law then visited me and when I told her of my trouble she said: "If you had used common sense and Wine of Cardui you would not have been in such a plight." She had used it in her own home and it had carried her through three times when she had children. I sent for some at once and took it faithfully and now find to my great joy that it was all she claimed for it. New strength and with it new hope came back to me and it seemed as if every dose gave me new life. Within three months I was changed from a dragged-out mortal weary of life to a hearty, healthy woman full of ambition and life. No operation was needed and better than all I became the mother of a little girl, the pride and joy of the household. I have had two other children since without a particle of trouble. I am well and never take any medicine but Wine of Cardui. I only write that other poor sick women could know of this life-giving medicine and would take it without spending time and money on doctors, who don't cure.

Wine of Cardui

WINE OF CARDUI, the simple remedy which Mrs. Grosvenor advises you to take has transformed her from a sick, discouraged woman to the bright, happy, healthy person you see in this portrait. Instead of languishing on a bed of sickness Mrs. Grosvenor is now equipped for any duty of womanhood. There are some chronic cases which no medicine can cure but nineteen out of every twenty sufferers today may have the health Mrs. Grosvenor has if they will only take the Wine of Cardui treatment as Mrs. Grosvenor took it. This vegetable Wine regulates the menstrual flow, making this important function both healthful and painless. The bearing-down pains which make life a torture stop when Wine of Cardui is used and the terrible smarting pains and the inflammation cease. Though powerful in correcting the irregularities of menstruation, Wine of Cardui is a very mild medicine. Any woman may take it without a doctor's supervision, although doctors often give it to their patients when their own remedies fail. This Wine of Cardui treatment is taken quietly at home. No embarrassing private examinations or offensive operations are necessary. If you secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui and begin taking it today you will feel, health returning before the month is up. Why not secure a dollar bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist at once? Do not accept any other medicine but the Wine of Cardui treatment which Mrs. Grosvenor writes about.

WINE of CARDUI

In the face. The mayor forgot that good humor for which he is noted and proceeded to inflict further punishment on his prostrate victim. Spectators interfered and pulled the mayor away by main force.

Macknight's Case and the Moore County Physicians

Southern Pines, N. C., Oct. 29th, 1902.
To the Editor of The Post:

For over a year Dr. Harry P. MacKnight, late of High Point, now of Southern Pines, has disturbed the serenity of the medical fraternity, occupied the judiciary, been a godsend to the press and a delight to the souls of our scandal-loving citizens. The decalogue has suffered irreparable injury at his hands, so rumor says, and the devil could have no better representative on earth, if these rumors be true, his traducers finally bringing a charge of murder to his door.

The first scene in the drama opens at High Point, where it will be remembered that Dr. MacKnight established a college for instruction in Osteopathy and occult sciences, having for his ultimate object the cure of diseases without the use of drugs or surgery.

The M. D.'s objected and the band began to play. The ringmaster proclaimed immoral conduct on the part of one of Dr. MacKnight's female pupils. To prove her innocence she submitted to an examination and Drs. H. K. Gregory and J. P. Turner of Greensboro pronounced her a virgin. The lady then prosecuted her accusers for criminal libel, Mr. MacKnight appearing as a state's witness to establish an alibi in her behalf.

To prejudice the minds of the jury the defense in this case proceeded to develop Dr. MacKnight's so-called past record. They produced a photograph purporting to come from the rogue's gallery of the Ohio penitentiary at Columbus, and which bore across the breast a placard bearing the number 23,154. They then proceeded to assert that this haggard, emaciated, stoop-shouldered, care-worn, pitiful specimen of humanity which they admitted measured only five feet and six inches and weighed only 144 pounds, was the presentment in miniature of the sleek, well-fed, generously proportioned "Dr. MacKnight" who measures five feet eight inches and a quarter in his stockings and weighs 192 pounds stripped. As the Bertillon method is in use in Ohio, and was at that time, there can be no error in the proportions of a certain convict, but that this convict was Dr. MacKnight is a proposition open to grave doubts from the above showing alone. Again the convict's description called for brown hair and blue-gray eyes; the doctor's locks are jet black and he has an eye of nearly the same shade, with a tendency to hazel. The convict confessed to 41 years at the time of his incarceration. The doctor pleads 26 as his present age.

The fact that some of these statements appeared in the Morning Post of July 3, 1901, is our reason for giving in detail the doctor's side of the story. Believing that the Post would not unjustly condemn a man unheard, the writer interviewed the doctor and obtained the foregoing statement and made the above measurements. But this is not all. To further prove the untruth of the charges against him the doctor places in evidence a letter from Warden Wm. N. Darley of the Ohio penitentiary at Columbus, Ohio, bearing date of January 8th, 1902, in which the warden says that he never heard of Dr. MacKnight previous to the doctor's letter to him. The warden further says that he never talked or wrote concerning Dr. MacKnight to any person whatever, nor did he authorize any one to proclaim any photograph as coming from him purporting to be the doctor. The warden says that in December, 1888, one Hiram MacKnight was received at the penitentiary. This being his first appearance there, the photograph and measurements above mentioned would then be taken. Hence Hiram MacKnight would, therefore, be fifty-five years old at the present date, or nearly twenty years the doctor's senior. Hiram MacKnight was pardoned by Gov. Bushnell in 1897, November 10th. Now, let's see if the doctor can establish an alibi, and further relieve himself of the convict's stripes.

Oliver D. Walkers, secretary under seal of the college, certifies that Harry P. MacKnight was, in 1890, graduated from the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Keokuk, Iowa, after having pursued a full four years' course; the doctor having registered from the state of Nebraska. Under date of January 10, 1902, with seal attached, Dr. X. LaMatte Sage, president of the New York Institute of Science, located at Rochester, certifies that in 1896 Harry P. MacKnight was graduated from that institution after a one year course of study.

The scene now shifts and the actors change. Dr. MacKnight moves to Southern Pines. He advertises to treat diseases, acute and chronic, without medicine or surgery. Patients came his way. The local physicians became cognizant of this, and notwithstanding the good results of the osteopathic treatment, and the universal satisfaction of those who were treated, they applied to the State Medical Board to prosecute Dr. MacKnight for practicing medicine without a license, alleging in addition thereto that he was of immoral character, and, for the good of the community, ought to be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

Here endeth the first lesson. Likewise the interview by this writer. The letters spoken of are in the possession of the Post man, and will be shown to any one who has a desire to see them. Any one may write to the parties whose names are attached, and in the way verify the same. Dr. MacKnight subjects a communication and affidavits which speak for themselves.

M. B. CLARKE,
Dr. MacKnight's Statement
To the Editor of The Post:
Commenting on the various articles published on the decision in the late case of the State vs. H. P. MacKnight, the case was first brought in justice court at Southern Pines, by the doctors of medicine, and no one else, as commentators. The Justice, Squire C. W. Shaw, dismissed the case.

Then they cursed the justice. When the defendant began practice there,
