MISS LILLIAN FERRALL WON HONORS AT MOUNT DE SALES

Miss Claggett of Wilmington the Valedictorian—Medal to Miss Lillian Ferrall

Miss Lillian Ferrall, daughter of Capt. John R. Ferrall of Raleigh, was the recipient of many honors at the fifty-first annual commencement of Mount de Sales Academy of the Visitation, near Baltimore, last Tuesday. Indeed the young ladies from the Old North State took the lion's share of the distinctions.

In the academic honors Miss Lillian Ferrall was one of four who drew for the gold medal awarded for excellence of deportment, irrespective of class, donated by Mrs. Ada Bowers Wright of Washington, D. C.

Miss Corbett, in her essay upon Dante, spoke of the high honor done women in the poet's portrayal of Beatrice, St. Lucia and the Virgin Mother, saying: "Dante has compassed in verse what artists have achieved with brush and chisel. He has presented to the world types of womanhood so perfect that contemplation of them is a source of consolation and delight. Had he done nothing more than paint this charming trinity of heavenly maidens he would have deserved well of all ages and especially of our modern age, which needs such examples of true, grand, beautiful and pure womanhood."

MR. AND MRS. SKINNER'S PEARL WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Charming Reception Tendered Last Evening at Their Home—Those Receiving

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Skinner charmingly received their friends last evening from 6 till 8 o'clock at their home on west Morgan street. The occasion was "the pearl" anniversary of their marriage. Thirty years ago yesterday Mr. Skinner led Miss Elizabeth Piemont of Elizabeth City to hymen's altar in Hertford.

The residence was beautifully decorated for the reception and a constant stream of friends called to bestow their congratulations. Little Misses Annie Ludlow McGhee and Nellie Lewis received cards at the door and Mr. and Mrs. Frank T. Ward greeted the callers in the hall. The hall was tastefully decorated in crimson and green, North Carolina pine and magnolia being lavishly used.

In the left parlor was the receiving party, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Skinner, Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Lewis, Mrs. Charles Franklin Massey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Skinner, of Huntsville, Ala.; Miss Nannie Skinner, Mr. James Leigh Skinner, Miss Katherine Skinner, Miss Lilly Skinner, Miss Rosa Skinner and President and Mrs. Geo. T. Winston.

Mrs. Skinner wore black net over black satin; Mrs. Lewis, black net over black silk; Mrs. Massey, organdie and lace; Miss Nannie Skinner, white silk mull; Miss Katherine Skinner, white point de spirit and satin over white silk; Mrs. Winston, black and white silk; Misses Lilly and Rosa Skinner, green silk mull.

Mrs. Charles McKimmon and Mrs. Julian B. Timberlake conducted the guests from the reception to the refreshment room, which was presided over by Mrs. C. G. Latta, Miss Lena Latta, Miss Mary Armistead Jones and Miss Louise Pittenger, assisted by Misses Patsy Smith and Mary Pope McGhee.

Miss Janet Badger and Miss Kate Badger then invited the callers to the punch room, where Mrs. Grimes Cowper and Mrs. John B. Kenney graciously presided. The decorations throughout the house demonstrated the greatest taste and beauty. The reception room, in pink and white, was adorned with lovely magnolia blooms, carnations and other cut flowers, and illuminated by wax candles, the shades of the silver candelabra being pink.

The refreshment room was in green and white. The mantels were banked with magnolia and magnolia blooms, while the curtains and portrait frames were concealed by ferns. The table, with its embroidered white cover, supported the delicacies and the beautiful effect was enhanced by the exquisite cut-glass amid the carnations and asparagus ferns.

A unique and lovely bell of crimson and white hollyhock and ferns, with a magnolia clapper, was suspended by crimson ribbon at the approach to the punch room. The latter was in crimson and white. The tint of the shades for the candelabra in each room was in unison with the prevailing color there.

The gifts sent by friends presented an exquisite and varied array of great number. There were ornaments of pearl, marble statuary, cut-glass, rare vases and works of art. Mr. and Mrs. Skinner are among Raleigh's most deservedly popular and best known married couples, and their friends esteemed it a great privilege to enjoy their hospitality and extend congratulations.

BOYKIN-GORMAN MARRIAGE

Mrs. Boykin, Formerly of Raleigh, Married in Concord Yesterday

Mrs. Ada Rogers Boykin of Concord and Mr. William H. Gorman of Oak Forest Park, Catonsville, Md., were married last afternoon at 6 o'clock at the home of the bride's father, Hon. Frank B. Rogers in Concord, Mrs. Boykin is well known in Raleigh, which was her home during the life of her former husband, Judge Edward T. Boykin. She was exceedingly popular in the social circles of the capital city.

De Vaney-Wilson
Wilmington, N. C., June 18.—Special. A pretty home wedding was celebrated yesterday evening at 6 o'clock when Mr. Stacy K. De Vaney led Miss Hattie Lee Wilson to the hymeneal altar. The marriage took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Wilson, No. 408 William street, in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends of the happy young couple.

RUNAWAY MATCH
Miss Burton of High Point Weds Mr. Hutchenson in Greensboro

High Point, N. C., June 18.—Special.—Miss Ella Burton of this place went to Greensboro this morning through the country and there married Mr. Ed Hutchenson of that place. They left on the noon train for Richmond, where they telegraphed her parents of the event. No one here was on to the secret, not even her parents.

GREENSBORO WEDDINGS
Four Notable Social Events in the City of Flowers

Greensboro, N. C., June 18.—Special.—At 9 o'clock last night, at the home of the bride, on Summit avenue, Mr. Rufus K. Stanley and Miss Fannie B. Kernode were united in marriage, Rev. S. Edgar Williams, pastor of Friends' church, officiating. Following the marriage there was a delightful reception. Mr. Stanley is a clerk in the Greensboro post office. He and his bride will board with her parents for a while.

A very pretty and stylish wedding in which numbers of Greensboro people were interested was that of Dr. Charles Roberson, a popular and well known physician of this city, and Miss Mabel Hill of Danville, Va. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. L. W. Crawford of this city, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Mildred B. Hill, on Broad street, in Danville, yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock, in the presence of a large crowd of relatives, friends and well-wishers. The house was attractively and artistically decorated for the nuptials, and the wedding was one of the most important social events of the season. After the ceremony Dr. Roberson and his bride boarded the southbound fast train for a bridal trip to western North Carolina.

Upon their return they will be at home at The Benbow in this city. The bride entertained her bridesmaids at a house party for a few days prior to the marriage, and on the evening preceding the marriage there was a delightful reception at the home of the bride.

A marriage that comes as a surprise to many people was celebrated in Greensboro this morning, Rev. Dr. E. W. Smith performing the ceremony at his residence, uniting in wedlock Miss Ella Burton, daughter of Dr. J. W. Burton of High Point and Mr. Ed Hutchenson of Lexington. The groom, who travels for a Baltimore house, reached the city from the north last night, and the young lady drove through the country from High Point this morning. It is said the marriage was not an elopement, but simply a surprise. The happy couple left on the noon train for a bridal trip north.
