DURHAM WAREHOUSES

Two Large Ones Are in Process of Construction

Durham, N. C., June 29.—Special. Work is well under way on one of Durham's new tobacco warehouses, and work on the other has started. Both will be 120 by 200 feet and will be built in the latest improved style. One of these houses is the property of the Durham Development Company and the other belongs to Mr. George Moffitt. Both have been leased to private parties. The Moffitt house will be conducted by Messrs. Mangum and Umstead, while the other will be managed by Lee, Warren & Company. It is thought now that both houses will be ready to open in September.

Some time ago the rumor was started that there was a warehouse combination work on, on foot here and it was denied at the time. The rumor is still in circulation in some sections, but there is nothing whatever to back the suggestions. Each of the four warehouses is in the hands of private parties and they are all getting ready to make an active move for business, each for himself. The chamber of commerce started the move that secured for Durham the two additional houses. Every effort will be made by the business people generally to make this a greater market than ever before in the history of the town.

DURHAM LAWYERS

A Prominent Firm Will Dissolve and a New One Be Formed

Durham, N. C., June 29.—Special. There has been a dissolution of the law firm of Winston & Fuller, the dissolution to go into effect the first of August. It is learned that Mr. Frank L. Fuller, who has been a member of this firm, will form a partnership with his brother, Mr. Jones Fuller, who recently represented Durham county in the Legislature. Judge R. W. Winston, the other member of the firm, will retain the offices now occupied by Winston & Fuller.

Tomorrow a number of Durham lawyers will leave for Morehead to attend the annual meeting of the North Carolina Bar Association. Several prominent lawyers who live west of Durham passed through today en route to Morehead. Among those noticed on the train were Senator Lee S. Overman of Salisbury, Maj. John W. Graham of Hillsboro and ex-Lieutenant Governor Stedman of Greensboro. Mr. J. C. Biggs of this city, who is secretary, will go down tomorrow. He will be accompanied by Maj. W. A. Guthrie, who is to respond to the address of welcome, and other lawyers.

BANK AT FAISON

A Promising Institution in a Prosperous Section

Goldsboro, N. C., June 29.—Special. A meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of Faison was held at the town of Faison Saturday afternoon. The stock is scattered among the farmers and merchants of Faison and the surrounding country. Hence the people generally are interested in its success. The capital stock of ten thousand dollars was all subscribed. The following will be the officers of the Bank of Faison: Walter E. Borden, president; B. B. Witherington, vice president; A. McD. Williams, cashier, and Col. A. C. Davis, attorney.

The town of Faison is in the midst of one of the finest farming sections in the state—right in the midst of the great trucking belt. In addition to a number of excellent merchants, the town has a splendid weekly paper, the Duplin Journal, a very large and successful boarding school, owned and controlled by the Presbyterian church of the state, and a good hotel, while the surrounding country is a veritable garden, producing large quantities of fruits and vegetables for the northern markets, besides cotton, corn and tobacco.

DEATHS IN GOLDSBORO

Capt. A. J. Galloway and Jno. W. Edwards Called Away

Goldsboro, N. C., June 29.—Special. The death of Capt. A. J. Galloway, at his home in this city Saturday night, has occasioned more genuine sorrow than any that has occurred in Goldsboro for some time. He had been in feeble health for several months and his death had been expected often, but this did not lessen the shock. He was held in the highest esteem by all classes of Goldsboro people.

Capt. A. J. Galloway was born at Smithville (now Southport) in 1832, and was 71 years old. He had been a resident of Goldsboro ever since the town was established, having moved here from old Waynesboro on Neuse river with the pioneers of Goldsboro. For many years before his death he had been an executive officer of the Atlantic Coast Line, which position he held at the time of his death. The funeral was held from his late home this morning and was attended by a large concourse of relatives and friends.

The death of Mr. W. L. Edwards occurred last night at his home in this city. He was 76 years old and was the father of Mr. John W. Edwards. He was a brave Confederate soldier. For several years he had conducted an oyster restaurant in this city during the season and was known as one of the best oyster cooks in the state. The funeral was held this afternoon at 4 o'clock from the home and under the auspices of Wayne Lodge No. 112, A. F. & A. M.

GEORGE SKIPPED

A Negro Who Stole Clothing Takes Leg Bail

Goldsboro, N. C., June 29.—Special. A negro, George Southerland, who has been employed at the brick yard of Mr. A. F. Griffin, succeeded in stealing eight pairs of pants Saturday night from the store of B. Finklestein without being caught in the act, but yesterday morning the negro with whom George boarded saw the pants and went and told Mr. Griffin, who came over and accused George of stealing the pants. When Mr. Griffin said he was going to send for the police George slipped out of the back door and made his escape. The pants were shown to several merchants and were identified by Mr. Finklestein.

Newspaper Progress

Durham, N. C., June 29.—Special. The Morning Herald came out in enlarged form Sunday morning. The paper is now a six-column six-page paper. In the future there will be no advertisements on the first page. Typographically and from a news standpoint there is considerable improvement.

MIDNIGHT MURDER

A Negro in Beaufort County Shot Through the Heart

Washington, N. C., June 29.—Special. Sunday morning at 1.30 o'clock a negro, Shade Foreman, was shot through the heart and killed in this county, near Latham's Cross Roads. It seems that a crowd of negroes had been to a distillery in Pitt county, owned by James E. Clark, Jr., and on their return Foreman was killed. Two negroes are in jail being held pending the investigation of the coroner's jury, which took the case yesterday under Dr. Joshua Taylor, coroner. The names of those being held are Ben Crandall and Wm. Titleton. The same old story—whiskey is the cause of the offense.

Early Sunday morning the residence of Mr. C. E. Harding in Aurora, a little town 25 miles from here, in this county, was burned and all of its contents was a total loss. He is a prosperous merchant. The origin of the fire has not been ascertained.

FINE TRUCK CROPS

The Season Very Successful in Beaufort County

Washington, N. C., June 29.—Special. The truck crop in this section was a great success. The prices were good. It has brought at least a half million dollars to this county. All crops in this section of the state are good. Corn, cotton and tobacco are looking well. The seasons have been all that could be desired.

The Pamlico Fish Company, a corporation recently organized here, is doing a good business. It has only been in operation three weeks and is doing as much business as any fish dealers here.
