Hamburg Belle Wins the Futurity in a Sea of Mud

Leonidas Beaten by a Nose in a Heart Breaking Struggle. The Minute Man Third and a Long Stride in the Rear

New York, Aug. 29.—Sidney Paget's wonderful filly, Hamburg Belle, by Hamburg-Isaac, won the rich Futurity stakes at Sheepshead Bay by a head in a finish that brought a tremendous cheer from twenty thousand throats. Pressing her hard all through the quarter was W. C. Whitney's Leonidas, also by Hamburg, out of Boise, who was four lengths before John E. Madden's The Minute Man, by Juvenal-Scupper Paratuse.

The weather conditions could not have been more unfavorable. The chilling rain was blown straight down the stretch in the face of the spectators by a heavy northeaster, which probably aided the making of fast time in spite of the fact that the course was fetlock deep in sloppy mud covering a hard bottom. The going was a source of bitter disappointment to many owners who started their horses, however, in sheer desperation.

Hamburg Belle was sent to the post on the advice of Trainer Jack Joyner. Mr. Paget was inclined late last night to scratch the filly, but Joyner was so positive that she could triumph in any kind of going that his wisdom prevailed. Grover Cleveland Fuller, who has been riding with brilliant success, had the mount and it was probably due to his cool headness and remarkable finish that the game little daughter of Hamburg stood off the determined challenge of Mr. Whitney's colt when the crucial moment arrived.

Hamburg Belle had a big pull at the weights, it is true. She picked up only 114 pounds, which just about suited her and received six pounds from Leonidas. But her race was a superb performance, truly run, and at its conclusion there was unlimited praise for her wherever the race was discussed. The victory of Mr. Paget's filly was immediately popular as was evidenced by the long lines of happy spectators behind the books in the booth rings after the board had been adjusted.

At the post where the rubber suited starter and his assistants had made everything ready the horses were assigned their positions, Lady Amelia, Coburn up, having the rail. Then spread across the track to the outer rail the two-year olds were placed thus: Little Emma, Kohinor, Leonidas, Phaser, Collector, Jessup, Highball, Delhi, Abdel, Hamburg Belle, The Minute Man, Broomstick, Rain or Shine, Midshipman, Ancestor, Ragland and Mercury on the extreme outside, where Burns was ready to make a dash across the big field for the inner rail.

Up went the barrier with a snap and the race for gold was on. But the waiting crowd did not know of the fact until an electric bell in the steward's stand began to tinkle. Then the cry of "They're off" went up from 20,000 pairs of lungs and the book keepers came rushing out of the betting rings with stools upon which to have a better view of the race. Had the Lick telescope been in operation it is doubtful if the casual observer could have made out the colors far up the futurity course, which is practically straight except for a slight elbow just beyond the field stand.

All that could be seen by the naked eye was a bunch of dark objects bobbing up and down in the mist. As the quarter was reached the youngsters had settled down to a long, desperate struggle.

Hamburg Belle got clear of the others and was running easily, yet swiftly. Nearing the elbow in the track Lady Amelia and Little Emma began to stop; the fearful pace was too much for them. With quick perception Fuller let out a wrap and Hamburg Belle shot ahead with a dazzling burst of speed followed closely by Leonidas. Leonidas gained until at the last furlong pole, he got his nose in front. Then Fuller drew his whip and piled it on Hamburg Belle with unmerciful vigor. The filly bounded ahead. Another cruel blow from the whip settled it. Hamburg Belle, with one mighty, dying effort, got her head in front, and Leonidas was beaten. The Minute Man was third. The others came home tired and bedraggled.

TAKEN IN THE ACT

A Washington Letter Carrier Captures a Burglar

Washington, Aug. 29.—Edward W. Tanner, a Washington letter carrier, today arrested Washington H. Ireland, formerly a reporter on the Washington News, who was caught in the act of burgling. Tanner was going his rounds delivering mail, and at an unoccupied house was attracted by a noise and began to investigate. He found Ireland in the dining room helping himself to the silver. In a fight which followed the burglar fell against a window. He was so badly cut that he had to be taken to the Emergency Hospital for treatment. Ireland confessed his guilt.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Pittsburg, Aug. 29.—Pittsburg won both games of a double-header here today from St. Louis. First and sensational fielding characterized both contests, at which the Pirates showed some superiority.

The score: R.H.E. St. Louis . . . 000101000-2 7 2 Pittsburg . . . 20201000-5 9 0 Batteries: Murphy and Ryan; Leever and Phelps. Umpire, Emslie. Second game: R.H.E. St. Louis . . . 00110000-2 6 0 Pittsburg . . . 40000011-6 8 0 Batteries: Rhoades and O'Neil; Weirham and Smith. Umpire, Emslie. New York-Philadelphia-Rain. Chicago-Cincinnati-Rain. Brooklyn-Boston-Rain.

American League

Washington, Aug. 29.—Boston won the first game of today's double-header in ten innings on hard hitting by Dougherty and Collins. The second game was a pitchers' battle for eleven innings, when time was called with the score tied.

The score: R.H.E. Washington . . . 0020000000-2 7 0 Boston . . . 0000020001-3 1 2 Batteries: Lee and Drill; Young and Criger. Umpire, Connolly. Second game: R.H.E. Washington . . . 0000000010-1 6 1 Boston . . . 0000001000-1 7 0 Batteries: Wiltzer, Orth and Drill; Winters and Stahl. Umpire, Connolly. CLEVELAND 0; ST. LOUIS 4.

St. Louis, Aug. 29.—The fact that the St. Louis and Cleveland clubs were yesterday wrecked prevented the double-header scheduled for today, but one game being played. The feature was the pitching of Powell and the fielding of the locals. The Blues only got four hits and only had a man on third. The score: R.H.E. Cleveland . . . 00000000-0 4 2 St. Louis . . . 01030000-4 10 0 Batteries: Killen and Bemis; Powell and Sugen. Umpire, O'Loughlin. Others games postponed on account of wet grounds.

A Disappointed American

(Invaders in Punch.) Dear Mr. Punch: This morning I was strolling in the Strand, meditating on the sad fact that I am now three thousand miles from Broadway and can't swim, when I suddenly found myself in front of the American Quick Lunch Restaurant.

Says I to myself: "Here's where I get glad. I shall go get a piece of pie like mother used to make, and listen while the girls use language to the chef." The outside of the place looked all right, with the chef browning the steaks in full view of an admiring crowd, but the first step inside gave me a jolt. This was no Nassau street quick lunch, but across between Delmonico's and Dennett's, that had suffered a sea-change into something rich and strange.

Thinking it might improve on acquaintance, I took a seat in front of a palatial mirror and tried to imagine that I had just stepped around the corner of Park Row to wrangle some sustaining hash before going to do my afternoon stunt in the famine district of a yellow journal. (The famine district is familiarly known as the literary department.)

"Buckwheat cakes and a cup of black coffee," I said to the waitress, and then perked up my ear expectantly. "Thank you, sir," she said as politely as if she had never walked "faster than Finsbury."

"What's the use of having an American quick lunch without the local color? If I had given that order in a New York quick lunch bean emporium, it would have been translated to the chef's department in this fashion: "Three up and draw one on the dark!"

Think how that would have toned up the frayed system of an exile, and what an exhilarating fillip it would have given to a correct Islander!

What does it matter to me that the pies, shortcakes, beans and all American dishes are as advertised, if I can't have the language with it? When I order an omelette in a hurry I want to hear the waitress sing out:

"A language in the pan, and no waiting." Poached eggs can never be the same to me unless they come as "White-wings, sunny side up," and I want my veal cutlet as "A slab of a yearlin' for a summer." Pork and beans should come as "Chicago and Boston," and a small coffee as "One in a shell."

Besides, they served me pie without cheese!

While the new quick lunch appears to be thoroughly convincing to the untravelled Englishman, it somehow lacks flavor to a homesick.

"You're forever trying to give the impression that you're a martyr," snapped Mrs. Henpeck. "I suppose you want everybody to think that you suffer in silence." "No," replied Mr. Henpeck, "I suffer in the perpetual absence of silence. A little silence would be a positive pleasure to me."—Philadelphia Press.

FUGITIVES RETURNED

One of Three Murderers Brought Home on a Stretcher

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 29.—Special. The Murray boys and John Rice have been brought back to Marshall from West Virginia. The Murrays and Rice are charged with the murder of old man James Rice. As the families concerned are well known in Madison and adjoining counties much interest was taken in their capture. Gus Murray and John Rice were in custody of Sheriff Cole of Madison and some officers of Williamsport, W. Va., who will doubtless share the reward offered for the capture of the men. John Murray, who was shot by Baird Blankenship while trying to escape, was brought home on a stretcher placed in the baggage car. His wounds are serious, and at first it was thought he could not be brought home for some time.

Solicitor Mark W. Brown said this afternoon that steps would be taken to bring the prisoners to Buncombe jail as the jail at Marshall is by many considered unsafe. It is feared that even the man suffering from a gunshot wound could escape, as the half dozen men who broke out of this jail the first of the week were all invalids. In fact they were suffering from a contagious disease and a story is going the rounds to the effect that no effort is being made to recapture the men, as they were considerable enough to buy tickets to another state.

Shaw at Oyster Bay

Oyster Bay, Aug. 29.—Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, who came here last night to confer with the president, left town early this morning. The purpose of his visit was to consult with Mr. Roosevelt about several speeches on currency matters which he will make on a trip in the west soon. Financial legislation was also discussed in a general way and Mr. Shaw had a talk with the president about the plan proposed by the secretary for relieving the stringency in the money market during the crop moving season.

Gloomy Prospect in Jamaica

Kingston, Jamaica, Aug. 29.—News received here today to the effect that Colonial Secretary Chamberlain has refused to sanction an imperial loan of $2,000,000, to assist the planters whose crops were ruined by the recent hurricane, has created general dissatisfaction. The outlook is very gloomy. Thousands of people are out of work and they have no money.

NEGROES IN ARMS

A Mob of Indiana Blacks Undertakes to Regulate Justice

Indianapolis, Aug. 29.—Last night at Sharonville a negro teamster attacked a union blacksmith named Boomershine with a knife, and was shot dead as he reached his intended victim. The shooting was so clearly in self-defense that the magistrate before whom Boomershine's trial was held today, released him from custody. This greatly incensed the negroes, and late this evening they formed a mob and started to attack Boomershine's home. Sheriff Schulenburg and Prosecutor Daniels were notified and fifty deputies were sworn in. The negroes were armed with revolvers, knives and clubs and the people were in a panic when the sheriff and his deputies arrived. The sheriff tried to disperse the mob, but the negroes had been drinking freely, so he decided not to provoke any difficulty, but content himself with resisting of an attack if one should be made. The people of the county are getting greatly excited, and many of the farmers in the surrounding country have volunteered to assist the sheriff and are now at Sharonville heavily armed.

Sued for Dog Bite

Salisbury, N. C., Aug. 29.—Special. W. D. Deal of Alexander county has brought suit against P. E. Key of Statesville for damages sustained to his nine-year-old daughter who was bitten several months ago by a dog which was owned by Mr. Key. The case will be tried at the next term of Alexander superior court. Because of the peculiar character of the damage suit the case will be a very unique and interesting one.

Drastic Measure Proposed

Constantinople, Aug. 29.—The ministerial council has advised the sultan to proclaim a state of siege in western Macedonia. Reports of fresh dynamite outrages by insurgents near Adrianople have been reported at that place.

Turkey Threatens Bulgaria

Vienna, Aug. 29.—It is reported here that the portie has addressed a note to the Bulgarian government in which it threatens to commence military operations unless the latter takes steps to check the assistance which Bulgarians are giving the insurgents.

This much is certain. There will be no oratorical confidence game played on the presidential nomination at the next Democratic national convention.
