They left at 10:30 for New Bern, their future home. They stopped at Dr. Ivey's office on their way to the station and had the marriage solemnized. MORNING MARRIAGE. Miss Eunice Worth Becomes the Bride of Mr. Chas. F. Roberts. Yesterday morning at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Worth, on West Jones street, Miss Eunice Laurinda Worth was married to Mr. Charles Delbert Roberts, of Cleveland, Ohio. The officiating minister was Rev. A. H. Moment, D. D., of the Presbyterian church. The marriage was one that was marked by and will be remembered for its beauty and simplicity—an ideal home wedding. The parlor in which the ceremony was performed was tastefully decorated with palms and ferns, and graceful drapery, asparagus and white ribbon, suspended from the ceiling of the bay window in which the couple stood. The hour for the ceremony was 10:30 and promptly at that time the first strains of the wedding march were heard, Mrs. H. E. Woodside presiding at the piano. The bridal party entered the room in the following order: Misses Annie H. Worth and Daisy Young, bridesmaids; Mr. Roberts with his best man, Mr. E. O. Cole, of Rockingham, and Miss Worth on the arm of her father. At the close of the beautiful and impressive ceremony the bride and groom were surrounded by the loving friends who had witnessed their marriage, and no more heartfelt congratulations were ever bestowed upon a newly married pair. Miss Worth is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Worth, and is a young woman of unusual strength of character and lovable disposition. She is a Christian girl of the truest type, and since her childhood has been prominently connected with church work and enterprises for the betterment of humanity. She will be missed wherever she has been known, but most of all in the home where she is best known and most loved. Mr. Roberts is a young man who is well known in Raleigh and commands universally the high esteem of those who know him. For several years he resided in this city, but is now living in Cleveland, Ohio, where he holds an important position with the Friends Bible Institute. At 11:30 Mr. and Mrs. Roberts left on the northbound Seaboard train. They will spend some time in Washington city and Mt. Vernon before going to their home in Cleveland. Mrs. Roberts' bridal gown was a dainty white Persian lawn with lace trimmings, and in her hand she carried a bridal bouquet of roses, and a white bound copy of the Bible. Her going-away gown was of blue cloth with hat to match. The bridesmaids were attired in white dresses similar to those of the bride and carried pink carnations. The out of town guests at the marriage were Misses Rhoda and Laura D. Worth, of Guilford College; Messrs. E. W. Worth, of Oxford; E. O. Cole, of Rockingham, and H. B. Worth, of Westminster, S. C.; Misses Sadie Bilyeu, of Southern Pines, and Mamie Bays, of Salisbury. MASTER J. W. HARDEN, JR., AND MISS HARDEN RECEIVE. Seventy-five of their Little Friends Enjoyed a Charming Luncheon Party Last Afternoon. A charming party was given by Master John W. Harden, Jr., and Miss Elizabeth Pullen Harden, children of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Harden, last afternoon on the beautiful lawn at the home of the little host and hostess' grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Belvin. Wednesday was the fourth birthday of Master J. W. Harden, Jr., and his sister joined him in entertaining their little friends. Various games were indulged in and refreshments were served. A graphophone also enhanced the pleasures of the afternoon. The seventy-five little guests, whose ages ranged from 1 to 5 years, made a scene of rare loveliness as they sped over the rich lawn under the shade of the spreading trees. Those present were: Miss Elizabeth M. Cross, Mr. Wm. Withers, Miss Jean M. Atkinson, Miss Katharine Haywood Baker, Miss Julia Andrews Marks, Miss Louise Aycock, Masters John and Connor Aycock, Miss Frances Higgs, Miss Ethel Marshall, Master Peyton Cowles, Miss Agnes Cotton Timberlake, Master Frank Ward, Miss Elizabeth Kilgore, Masters Benjamin and James Kilgore, Miss Frances Williams, Miss Katharine Knox, Miss Agatha Knox, Miss Anne Litchford, Master Thomas Lacy, Master Robert Gray, Jr., Miss Wynnam Ashe, Masters Cary and Rufus Hunter, Miss Lillias Shepherd, Misses Marie and Elizabeth Linehan, Master Richard Battle Stitt, Master Palsen Smith, Master Merrimon Kenny, Masters Joe and David Batchelor, Master Edward Seawell, Masters Edwin and Holloman Robbins, Miss Rodin Robbins, Miss Julia Jerman, Master Montgome-

Perry-Little Marriage. Wilson, N. C., Sept. 10.—Special.—In the Methodist church last night was witnessed a beautiful wedding scene, the contracting parties being Mr. Frank M. Perry, a most excellent and meritorious young gentleman of this place and Miss Annie Little, a sweet, lovable and most charming young maiden, adorned with those splendid virtues and seductive graces which throw around home life a halo of enchantment. The Rev. Mr. Tyer, the able preacher and popular pastor, in his accustomed impressive and felicitous manner, united the currents of these happy lives into that glorious river of wedded bliss whose every ripple is a thrilling melody of sweetest rapture and ecstasy.

Charlotte Wedding. Marriage of Miss Frances McAden to Mr. A. T. Summey Last Evening. Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 10.—Special.—A wedding of interest, not only to Charlotte but to social circles of the state, took place this evening at the residence of Dr. J. H. McAden, when his eldest daughter, Miss Frances Yancey, was united in marriage to Mr. Albert T. Summey. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. E. Harding, former pastor and warm friend of the family, of Farmville, Va., and was witnessed only by the family and a few intimate friends. The attendants were the bride's sister, Misses Ella and Midge McAden. The groom is teller of the Commercial National bank. The happy couple took the late train for the north.

Wilmington Society. Two Notable Forthcoming Marriages and a Reception. Wilmington, N. C., Sept. 10.—Special. Society doings are at a standstill in Wilmington at present, but by the end of this month social affairs will begin to sparkle, and from that time until then there will be a constant whirl of events. The one event of absorbing interest just now is the forthcoming marriage of two popular society people, Miss Marie Theresa Peschau and Mr. Frank H. Stedman, which will be celebrated at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Peschau, on Wednesday evening, September 16th. After the marriage a brilliant reception will be given. At 8 o'clock last evening at the Grace Methodist church personage, Miss Allie Lee Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. T. Butler, and Mr. Zebulon Vance Croom were quietly married by Rev. J. N. Cole. The wedding was witnessed by several friends of the contracting parties. It was made quiet on account of illness in the bedridden, alone and destitute. Such, in brief was the condition of an old soldier by name of J. J. Havens, Versailles, O. For years he was troubled with Kidney disease and neither doctors nor medicines gave him relief. At length he tried Electric Bitters. It put him on his feet in short order and now he testifies, "I'm on the road to complete recovery." Rest on earth for Liver and Kidney troubles and all forms of Stomach and Bowel complaints. Only 50c. Guaranteed by all druggists.
