East Side Is for Japan

@www.www.www

Significance of the War to Russian Jews in New York

From the New York Sun

& MANAGEMENT MANAGEMENT & jubilating in public meetings over the and that, too, has to be considered. sinking of the Czar's ships, for expering the government which drove them movements. to this country.

the East Side and a man of educapeasant type talking on the street. his hands very full at home. Translated, their conversation ran about like this:

"Well I see the big sailor had some trouble in the pond over there."

"What trouble?" "Didn't you hear about the Japs?"

"No. What Japs?" "Why the Japs came up at night | with oil on their oars so that no one the big sailor's boats." Then they gravely shook hands and wished the Japanese more luck at tipheard them, and they tipped over all the least intelligent Jews in the Ghetto, | character. but their attitude was declared typical of that of all their neighbors. The all his dealings with his countrymen would win. The more intelligent Jews, of course, realize the power of Russia. Some of not encourage him. He even went so them have an even better understand- far as to offer the company to the ing of it than any Gentiles, and while Japanese consul, but was told that they doubted the ability of the Mikado Japan did not accept volunteers. to withstand the full power of the Czar's fighting forces they expressed the hope that Russia could be met more than half way, and held.

"Usually the East Side is divided on every question," said this gentleman. "It is seldom that there is not long argument over every conceivable point to any question. But on this war the tache. East Side is united. I don't believe a Russian Jew in the world would turn over his hand to help Russia."

He was asked if this showed a lack of patriotism, if the Russian Jew was not more of a Russian than anything else, and should not stand by Russia in her trouble; if the military training of most of the men ought not to make them wish to return to their regiments. "Not at all," was the answer. "Let me tell you right here that the Rus-

He is an American. "Ask any man in any station of life and he will tell you the same thing. Probably he will show you his naturalization papers, and perhaps quote you a few sentences from the Declaration of Independence.

sian Jew in America is not a Russian.

"As the Jews understand America and their citizenship, there is not a more loyal and patriotic part of the community. I think thousands of them would fight for the United States, but not one for Russia.

"As for their service in the army, that is only an added argument against their return. All of them were forced into the army, most of them when they were mere boys.

"No matter how hard they worked Why should a man wish to return to such service?

"You will find the general attitude of the Russian Jews in America one war continues as it has begun. If Russla gets the upper hand they will probably still be passive, but anxiuos. If Japan continues to win they may become wildly enthusiastic."

This gentieman thought that 50,000 men of fighting age was a very conservative estimate of the number in the 200,000 Russian Jews said to live in New York. A very large proportion of these are subject to military duty as members of the reserve. They have served before emigrating, and at their discharge are held liable to duty un-

It is probable, so this man said, that the entire reserve will be called upon soon to hold itself in readiness to go to the front if needed. Government agents will look up all who do not re- | nent , but extends between China's port promptly, and it will then be officially known for the first time how great are the numbers of men subject to military service who have left Rus-

Relatives in the old country will be accused of hiding them and there will probably be a good deal of trouble. General notifications will be sent out ordering members of the reserve to report by a certain date. They will probably be told to apply to the nearest Russian consul for transportation

If they do not report all will be wellso long as they stay in America. But should they return to Russia, government secret service men will be likely to find them and have them before a court-martial. Desertion from the army is a very serious offence.

So the war is a pretty serious affair to many in this country., Some who had planned to return to Russia for their families will not dare to do so now, and many of the more ignorant will be afraid even to write, lest they be traced through their letters and in some way fall into the hands of the

The 200,000 Russian Hebrews in New | secret police who have always been York are almost a unit in rejoicing at their oppressors. Letters from them the Japanese naval victories over Rus- might be made weapons against memsia. They are not burning red fire or bers of families remaining in Russia,

"The war has struck the New York ience has taught them to keep their Russian Jews in different ways," conopinions pretty much to themselves, tinued the gentleman who gave the But in their homes, on the streets and information. "A large number take it in the shops and cafes of the East quietly and hope fervently for Japan-Side men are reading the war news ese victory. Then there is a class of aloud from the Yiddish papers. Their the educated Jews who will watch little audiences listen gravely, and at closely for revolutionary movements. the end as gravely congratulate one | They believe that a few more warships another that the Japanese are punish- sunk will mean more active social

"If the Japanese continue to win, A Russian Jew who is a leader on these movements will become more general and more public. If the Jaption overheard two men of the lowest anese win the war the Czar will have

> "They believe that an ultimate and decisive defeat of Russia will mean a great revolution in her social and political life. Even if Russia fights to a finish, or is the winner, there will be increasing signs of a revolutionary

"These men believe that the present war, no matter what its outcome, will mark a step in the history of Russia much greater than the significance of the fight with Japan for control of parts of China. It is on Russia herping over boats, but the rest of the self that the lasting changes will be conversation was in such an idiom made. I know several educated Rusthat the hearer could not make it all signs in this city-not Jews-who hold the same opinion and are watching These men were representatives of closely for signs of a revolutionary

"Then there is another much smaller class which is full of war spirit and rian railroad, the occupation of Man-Sun reporter's informant said that in talks pretty loudly of licking. A man who has formed recently a physical since the first talk of war he had culture club and a military company heard only quiet satisfaction at the for boys conceived suddenly the idea pluck of the Japanese in tackling so of changing this into a regular combig an adversary and hope that they | pany of men and offering them to Japan to fight Russia.

"He came to me about it, but I did office that his company wanted Japan as we do on the advanceguard of an to win and wanted to help her win.

"But you couldn't understand the orders in Japanese and there would not be time to repeat them to you in English and for you to repeat them to your men in Yiddish,' said the at-

"'Never mind,' said the Jew, 'we are used to obeying orders we could not understand, and besides we would not need any orders when we stood up in front of a Cossack with a gun in our

LA GUERIE'S COREA

Latest Information Concerning the Hermit Kingdom

There has sprung up, within twenty years, a new sort of French literaturethat of distant journeys and explorations. The most energetic of our young men and young officers have found a field for their activity in all parts of the world. This spontaneous movement is perhaps owing to the prolongation of peace in Europe. The nafes of Col. Marchand, of Prince Heri d'Orleans, of tically abandoned; but in 1901 a Rus-Bonvalot, of Grandidier, etc., have be- sian mission was formed, which apcome very popular, and this new sort peared in 1902 in the valley of the Yalu, of popularity has the advantage of be- marked the trees in the forest, and or how well they drilled they had only ing independent of the narrow spirit of prepared for their systematic cutting. the hardest service, they could not be- partisanship. Recent events have ad- This mission established itself in a come officers and they were paid so ded much to the interest of one of the Corean city, where foreigners have no scantily that they could scarcely live. books characterized above. In the rich right to reside built a telegraph line, collection of "Illustrated Journeys" and made plans for a railway which published by Hachette, I had already should unite the Yalu river to the rail. iam A. Girard, Pease, Vt. These Tabnoticed a volume on Corea, the country way lines of Manchuria. It obtained which is at the present moment attract- in August, 1903, the monopoly of the of passive satisfaction so long as the ing so much attention and which has log rafting on the Yalu, and a piece For sale by W. G. Thomas and Robt. become a bone of contention between of land at Yongampo. Russia and Japan.

panese war, as special correspondent of railways, telegraphs, administrative rethe French paper Le Temps. He saw forms. The Russians, on their side, of a crisis that involved the fate not and more eagerness on the land which only of Japan, but also of China. .

seas and the Sea of Japan very much question of peace or war between Rusas Italy lies between the Mediterran- sia and Japan remains undecided; each ean and the Adriatic. It is about 900 day brings contradictory news; great kilometres in length, and 200 kilome- preparations are being made on both tres wide from sea to sea. Seul, the sides. Japan seems better prepared capital of Corea, may be compared to for immediate hostilities; the length Rome, which is halfway between the of the Siberian railroad to Manchuria north and the south. Corea, however, is immense, and troops can be carried is but a truncated Italy; in the north only slowly on a sigle-track line, init has no valley of the Po, no rich terrupted by Lake Baikal. If the hos-Lombardy and Venetia, albeit it has a tilities began on sea, the Russian fleet, sort of equivalent of the Alps in a in case of a defeat, would have no high mountain barrier reaching from the Sea of Japan to the Yellow Sea, from the port of Vladivostock to Port Arthur. These Manchurian Alps are covered with woods and snow, and rise to the height of 3,000 metres. Italy has always been subdivided in kingdoms, duchies, principalities. Two races only have established themselves in Corea, the Mongol or Manchu race, the continental race, and the Malay or Japanese, the island race. Corea has from time immemorial formed a single king- | dom, and been inhabited by a single nation, a single race, formed by the union of two races. The continental element has, however, been predominant; politically and religiously, the Corean people has lived under the discipline of China as a vassal state ever are the end of the fourteenth century. It hos been a kingdom of mandarins, though it had its own monarch and it: autonomy; it had to pay annual tribute to China and to render annual homage to the suzerain Emperor of China, with all the forms of an old ceremonial. After the war between Japan and China, this state of things was altered. The first article of the treaty of Shimonoseki reads thus:

China recognizes definitely the entire independence and autonomy of Corea; and, in consequence, the payment of tribute and performance by Corea with regard to China of ceremonies and formalities in derogation of this independence and this autonomy will cease completely in future.

As for Japan, it was careful not to rights are worth I will not examine; wife. if it has been said that for the most civilized nations might is right, it can all the more be said for nations which are only emerging from barbarism.

Corea has but a small populationprobably only ten millions of inhabitants, a number which represents an outlet for her ever-increasing population; she has about forty-five millions of inhabitants, and the rate of ritory. that the Japenese should, on account of its proximity, and of the character of its population, consider Corea a suitable land for the creation of colonies. Russia, on her part, is now considering Siberia and the Far East as an outlet for her population, already so large, and which will soon attain formidable numbers. The Sibechuria, the acquisition of Vladivostock and of Port Arthur, on the Japan Chinese seas, are visible signs of the movement of Russia's expansion; but there is this difference between the Russian colonies and the Japanese; the first may be called military colonies, the second are really colonies of population given to all the arts of peace. Time may some day transform the military colonies which Russia is creating in Manchuria; at the present "He told an attache in the consul's moment we can look upon them only army. The Japanese colonies in Corea have a different character . The land of Japan proper no longer suffices for its inhabitants, and the population increases every year by 400,000 souls. Since 1597 there have been Japanese colonies in Corea; there are at present from twenty to thirty thousand Japanese established there, with their families. This emigration, concentrated at first in the ports, is spreading over the country; and it would rapidly augment if it were not for the deplorable administration and tyranny of the Corean officials.

The difficulties between Japan and Russia now culminating go back to 1897, and, as is often the case, had their primary origin in a conflict of personal interests. Corea had become the field of many enterprising companies; it was thought that its gold mines, its petroleum, its forests, could (Paris Letter in New York Evening be used, and become attrations for Europeancapital. In 1897 a Russian company obtained the concession of immense forests in the valleys of the Tumen and the Yalu; it was the time when Russia and Japan had signed a protoco, whichl so to speak, divided Corea between them. When a second protoco, which, so to speak, divided Corea completely to Japanese enterprise. It was thought that the Russian concession of 1897 would be prac-

The emporor of Corea had not a word The title of the volume by M. Ville- to say to all this, but the minister of tard de Longuerie is almost prophetic; Japan naturally claimed similar ad-'La Coree, independetne, russe ou ja- vantages for his own country, and ponaise,' Here we have, so to speak, in among others the opening of Wiju, the a nutshell the question now agitating port of the Yalu. A constant struggle all governments, and, it may be said, of Japan and Russia became more and all nations, civilized or half-civilized. more tense. The Japanese asked for M. Villetard de Longuerle resided in the opening of all the ports and the the Far East during the late Sino-Ja- cities still shut against foreigners; for clearly the importance of the part of fortified more and more their position Corea was to play in the final solution in Manchuria, and looked with more separated Vladivostock from Port Ar-Corea is a part of the Asiatic con- thur.

> While I am writing these lines, the suitable port of refuge, and its naval unities could be pursued one by one. has to be considered seriously by both sides; the expenses of a war are enormous in our day, and neither the Japanese nor the Russian finances are well prepared to be put to a severe test. It is perhaps idle to estimate now the chances of a conflict which, it is to be hoped, will be averted if there is any wisdom left in those who can control the destinies of nations. It is easy to see what calamities might follow a war in the Far East; it is difficult, if not impossible, to see what could be its advantages.

Chief Red Fox and Pretty Music. The Ball Woman Surprise Their Folks

(From the Denver Republican.)

Cupid's darts never sped truer to the mark than did the shaft sent by Chief Red Fox of Lame Deer Indian Agency, Montana, when he drew a bead on Ball Woman, the pretty Pottawatomie squaw with whom he eloped from Indian Territory early this week. He met her at the Cheyenne frontier day festivities.

They were both at the Union depot in Conserva-Denver last night, chief and squaw, tory of happy as eloping lovers can be. They Music. The had a section in a Pullman over the Best Place Burlington out of Denver, for Chief for Your Red Fox is a sly old Reynard and has valuable ponies on a wide stretch of hills in Montana. He was paying his way with a lavish prodigality, and the section the two occupied was provided stipulate at the same time its own re- with nuts, candy and fancy pieces of nunciation of the rights which it pre- gayly colored cloth which he had tended to have over Corea. What these bought en route for his pretty skuaw

Many passengers were amazed to see an Indian travelling first class. When Indians travel they have to bear credentials. Uncle Sam does not allow them to roam at will from the reservation. Chief Red Fox was equipped with a passport from Agent Clifford of about fifty inhabitants per square kil- the Lame Deer agency in Montana, ometre. Japan is looking to Corea as which said he left that place a month ago to pay a "friendly visit" to the Pottawatomie reservation in Indian Ter increase is very great. It is natural | Ball Woman had a passport, too. Hers was signed by Agent John H. Seger of the Pottawatomie reservation in Indian Territory and was only good for sixty days. This passport was secured upon the representation that she was merely going to the Lame Deer agency on a visit. But as soon as she was safely on the way she was joined by Chief Red Fox, and the two were married in Wichita, Kan.

Chief Red Fox was unsuccessful in his open and above board wooing of Ball Woman, for the reason that she is an heiress and her title to an immense stretch of land in Illinois is still in the courts. The chief of her tribe used what influence he had to break off the match, and as a result of his interference Chief Red Fox and Ball Woman planned an elopement, which was earried out fully as well as the romances of their pale face b.others and sisters who skip by the light of the moon.

Joe Bo one of the best known Indians in the Middle West, was the father of Ball Woman, and through him descended to her whatever title to lands in Illinois her grandfather, Shawbenee, died possessed of.

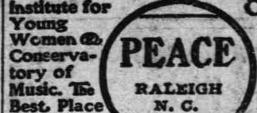

The Indians had two modern suit cases in which they packed their be-

Their dress was a combination of the picturesque costumes of the nomads of the plains and of that of the civilized Indians. Chief Red Fox wore "citizen's clothes" and had a broad sombrero to distinguish him from other passengers. His hair was cut short and his feet were encased in shoes. His bride wore moccasins, small and ornamented with beads. She were a Navajo blanket and there was little to distinguish her from the border savage. Yet inside the blanket her dress was that of the civilized woman. She wore the blanket and moccasins merely as a travelling costume. She was educated in the Indian school on the reservation.

Whether the government will take steps to stop the runaway couple is not known. Their passports are regular and the railroad men who knew they were eloping were apparently anxious to see them get to their destination in

"I'm sorry to hear you've been ailing again, John. I must send you down something from the rectory. How would you like some soup?" "Thanky kindly, mum-but I h'aint so terr'ble wrapped up in soup!"-Punch.

The best physic. "Once tried and you will always use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets," says Willlets are the most prompt, most pleasant and most reliable cathartic in use. Simpson.

for Your

Daughter

nstitute for Women ®

Daughter

Courses Bigh Standard Catalogue Afdrese, s. Binwiddie

Desires four more resident

students after the holi-

number of day pupils.

RALEIGH

College Fruit, Shade AND

FREE Ornamental Trees

Write for free iMustrated catalogue also pamphlet on "How to Plant and Cultivate an Orchard." Gives all neg. essary information. We grow also days, and an additional and supply same for Weddings and all social occasions. Floral Designs a Spe. cialty. We ship to all points. Order funeral designs by telegraph or tele-College Courses

Cut Flowers

J. Van Lindley Nursery Co.

POMONA, N. C. Near Greensboro.

High Standard

Catalogue

Address,

s. Dinwiddie

FREE

You will need new books for the new year. See what we have in

JOURNALS, RECORDS

and various petty Blank Books. Large assortment of Files, etc.

State Agent for the Free School Books. All orders given our personal attention,

YOU

have been using some so-called preparation for your floors BUT USE

JOHNSON'S Prepared Floor Wax

Thomas H. Briggs & Sons, Raleigh, N. C.

BUCK'S STOVES AND RANGES.

WARE @ LELAND,

SUCCESSORS T O BARBER & CO. RALEIGH, N. C.

> STOCKS. COTTON,

> > GRAIN and

PROVISIONS.

Direct Private Wire to New York Chicago and New Orleans.

Instantaneous quotations. All transactions bona fide. Information concerning the market cheerfully furnished the public of Raleigh and surrounding towns.

Interstate and Bell Phones.

Members Chicago Board of Trade, New York Cotton Exchange, New York Coffee Exchange, New Orleans Cotton Exchange St Louis Merchants Exchange, Milwaukee Chamber of Commerce.

IS SUGGESTIVE OF ALL THAT IS

In "Old Line Life Insurance

MOST APPROVED VARIETIES OF CONTRACTS

WITH ANNUAL, OR DEFERRED, DIVIDENDS

Our Ten-year Term Policies, costing. at age 35, only $14.80 per $1,-There is, fortunately, an element which ooo, oo, reduced by Annual Dividends of about 20 per cent., provide the cheapest absolute protection in existence.

BEST COMPANY FOR THE INSURED, THEREFORE THE BEST FOR THE AGENT.

Active Agents wanted

For information, write to

R. B. RANEY,

General Agents for North Carolina. RALEIGH, N. C.