It has been discovered in Europe that the warmer a country the more centenarians it has.

There is much opposition in Venice to the project of widening the railway bridge which connects that city with the mainland, so as to make it available for ordinary traffic. It is admitted that the alteration would reduce the overcrowding and be of commercial advantage, but the art lovers are eager to preserve the insular seclusion of this romantic city at all costs.

The land in the state of Vera Cruz, Mexico, are exceedingly fertile, and will yield two crops easily during the year, the soil in most instances being a rich alluvial loam, several feet deep and apparently inexhaustible. It is adapted to all kinds of agricultural pursuits, including nearly all the vegetables produced in northern latitudes.

Engines and boilers, all types and sizes. Saw mills, edgers, swing cut off saws. Shingle and lathe machines, and boilers.

Creswell & Walters' High Grade Planers. Colladay's moulders and fine wood-working tools. Brick-making outfits complete. Pumps gas and gasoline engines—without a peer.

Write for catalogue and descriptive printed matter. Second-hand engines, boilers and machinery in great variety. Before placing your order for machinery of any kind save money by writing.

PROF. DODD TO LECTURE ON HISTORY

The A. and M. summer school will have a most interesting series of lectures on its story next July. These will be by Dr. William E. Dodd, professor of history in Randolph-Macon College, and will be along the following lines:

1. The Study and Teaching of History; 2. North Carolina: Her History and the Practical Benefits Her People Would Derive from a Knowledge of It; 3. The United States; Practical Side of, as Well as How to Bring It Home to Common School Children; 4. Europe: What Every Man Ought to Know of Its History; 5. Public Services of Nathaniel Macon.

Dr. Dodd is a Wake county boy, who now belongs to the entire country. His "Life of Macon" has attracted wide attention and most flattering encomiums. His department at Randolph-Macon College is largely attended and full of enthusiasm. Our people will hear him most gladly at the A. and M. summer school. He has a great career before him.
