

Little Change in the College Situation

Only Six Seniors in College, About Thirty Students Said to Have Gone Home—Futile Efforts to Persuade Boys to Yield—Next Step

The senior class at the A. and M. College, together with some of the juniors and sophomores, continue their refusal to accept the new regulations and it is estimated that 30 students have gone home.

Repeated efforts were made yesterday to persuade the seniors that they had made a mistake and to get them to apply for reinstatement in the college but all these attempts failed. State Treasurer B. R. Lacy tried to persuade the young men to yield and telegrams of the same purport came from Commissioner of Agriculture S. L. Patterson to the presidents of the three highest college classes but nothing was seemingly accomplished.

Meanwhile college work is moving on, though with reduced classes. President Winston persists in declaring that the rules will not be changed and will be enforced to the letter, and no students are wanted who will not conform to the regulations.

Although the situation did not clear up yesterday and the college classes were rather slimly attended still there is evidence that the whole unpleasantness is approaching an end. Not more than two-thirds of the sophomore class and less than that number of the juniors signed the paper to stand by the seniors in their demands for modifications of the college rules and the re-enrollment of the four expelled seniors. Many of those who did sign declare that it was only upon condition that the lass acted as a unit and if any of their classmates refuse to join in then they are not bound by the agreement.

But at least 35 of the seniors seemed determined to remain out of college under the present condition. This number yesterday visited a photograph gallery and had their pictures taken. A roll of the class was called and only 6 of the 41 seniors were unaccounted for. This half dozen represent those who are remaining with the college ready to submit to the discipline of the institution. The Post was in error yesterday in including W. H. McIntyre among the number who have not withdrawn. He has gone with the majority of his class. However, it is said that ten seniors have signified a desire to return to the college and yield their contentions and they may do so today.

State Treasurer Lacy met the senior class and a few juniors in his office and had an earnest talk with them. Many of the seniors said that they were not willing to return and surrender their contentions provided the four seniors who were expelled were taken back. But the college faculty will not treat with the students as a class but as individuals and no such assurance will be given. The conference with Mr. Lacy resulted in nothing.

An effort was made to get Governor Aycock to advise the class. However, the governor naturally considered such a course improper. He is clearly of the opinion that the boys have made a mistake and that they should quietly submit to what rules the faculty and trustees deem it wise to adopt. Commissioner of Agriculture Patterson as chairman of the board of trustees made it clear yesterday in no uncertain terms that the young men in rebellion need expect no comfort or aid from the trustees. He sent a telegram to the president of each of the three highest classes in college saying that the classes ought to submit to the rules and he would call no special meeting of the trustees. The trustees, he said, would stand by the faculty. He told the young men that for their own sakes they should desist from the present course, for they would hurt themselves and not the college. On this ground he strongly advised them to be obedient to the rules.

President Winston had nothing to say last night further than to reiterate his former position. He will today send out a circular letter to the parents of all the students informing them of the difficulty and saying that no students are wanted who will not submit to the college regulations.

Just how many boys have left college it is difficult to ascertain. Four seniors, L. V. Edwards of Merry Oaks, L. A. Murr of Wadesboro, J. D. Spinks of Albemarle and O. L. Bagley of Kenly, left last afternoon. Some juniors and sophomores have also quit.

Telegrams and letters have been pouring in from parents telling their sons not to come home.

SLAYER OF MANLY WILDER CAUGHT? Negro Who Killed, Another Here With Bat Probably Arrested

The police think they are on the trail of the negro who killed Manly Wilder, colored, here last spring by striking him on the head with a bat at a negro base ball game.

Chief of Police Mullins has been advised from Durham of the arrest of a man there who answers to the description of the murderer. The officers have found a man who can identify the fellow and he will probably be sent to Durham today.

A special from Durham to The Post last night said: "A negro who gives his name as Samuel Spencer, but who is thought to be Sherwood Hinton, is in jail pending the arrival of an officer from Raleigh.

It is thought that the negro under arrest is the same who killed a negro by the name of Wilder during the progress of a base ball game in Raleigh last June. The man under arrest admits that he came here from Raleigh in June, but said that he passed through Raleigh on his way here from Selma. He then said that he had been in Raleigh "off and on" all his life. The negro came here in June and first went to work in the country. Later he secured a position with the American Tobacco Company and while working in town at night has lived some three miles in the country. This has excited suspicion and some of the negroes say that he told them he was wanted in Raleigh. Yesterday he was arrested for engaging in an affray and Officer Harvard thought he saw a resemblance between the prisoner and the description of the one wanted in Raleigh. After a talk with Chief Mullins over the long-distance phone he was held.

The Death Penalty

A little thing sometimes results in death. Thus a mere scratch, insignificant cuts or puny boils have paid the death penalty. It is wise to have Bucklen's Arnica Salve ever handy. It's the best Salve on earth and will prevent fatality; when Burns, Sores, Ulcers and Piles threaten. Only 25c. at all druggists.

A TRUANT WIFE

Raleigh Husband Wires Norfolk for Eloping Couple

The Norfolk Virginian-Pilot of yesterday contained the following: "Yesterday a telegram was received at the station house in this city and by the County Justices from Raleigh, N. C., requesting the officers to be on the lookout for a man who had run away from that city with another man's wife, the name and description of the parties was given, but by request their names are withheld in hope that the officers may come up with them. The telegram stated that they would come by the Atlantic Coast Line.

"Officer Dickerson of the county met the train, but when it came in the parties were not there. He learned from the conductor that two persons, answering the description had gotten off in Suffolk, it is thought that they suspected something and left the train and will probably come in today by some other route."

The Raleigh police are absolutely in the dark on the matter and say that no such case has been reported to them. Chief Mullins said he had not heard a word about such a case.

MRS. FRED A. OLDS DIED YESTERDAY

President Daughters of Confederacy and Leader in Every Good Work

Mrs. Frederick A. Olds died yesterday afternoon at 1:40 at her home, corner of Salisbury and Cabarrus streets. Four months since she was injured in a runaway accident and never regained her strength. A malignant attack of malaria found her too weak to withstand the disease and after a brave fight her spirit passed away.

The announcement of her death is not only a loss to every noble undertaking here, but will cause profound sorrow in hundreds of southern homes. Her energy, zeal, capability and love for God and men led her into every good work, and few philanthropic movements here have not had her valuable aid. Her work has been lasting and will bless hundreds of lives in the future. With a frail and delicate body she never considered her feelings, but was ready to exert every power for benefiting others.

Mrs. Olds had for many years been a devout communicant of the Church of the Good Shepherd and took a leading part in the various charity works in the parish. She was deeply interested in the new church building and had worked zealously in raising the funds. She was one of the board of managers of the Day Nursery and kept the nursery open when many saw no chance for its success. Rex Hospital was the recipient of her help and she was a member of the hospital aid society. As president of the board of St. Luke's Home she was largely instrumental in establishing and maintaining this home for aged and infirm women. She was president of a local chapter of King's Daughters for several years and was one of the state secretaries. When the Associated Charities was organized here she was one of the board of managers and has worked in season and out of season investigating cases of poverty and distress and securing relief. Mrs. Olds has labored incessantly for a reformatory for youthful criminals.

MRS. FRED OLDS—Two LeaM4s00 In the midst of her busy life she never forgot the Confederate soldier. She has been a valiant worker in the Ladies' Memorial Association and in the Johnston-Pettigrew Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. At the time of her death she was president of the North Carolina Daughters of the Confederacy. She took the keenest interest in the welfare of the veterans and the fitting and furnishing of the soldiers' home here was largely through her assistance. These are but a few of the noble works engaged in by this frail little woman, with a heart as brave and true as that of any hero. Mrs. Olds was born in Summerville, Tenn., in 1852. She was the daughter of Dr. Robert H. Cannon and Honora

Devereux Cannon, daughter of the late Thomas P. Devereux. Mrs. Cannon was for several years a member of the faculty of St. Mary's school and there Mrs. Olds was educated. In 1872 she married John D. Primrose of Raleigh and he died in 1874. Two children survive from this marriage: Mrs. Thomas J. Dupree of Memphis, Tenn., and Mrs. R. E. L. Bunch of Washington, D. C.

On June 27th, 1878, she became the wife of Col. Fred A. Olds, one of the state's best known newspaper men. Mrs. Olds was herself a fluent and easy writer, carried on an extensive correspondence in her charity work, and aided her husband in his labors. Two children survive from this marriage, Messrs. Fred C. and Douglas Olds, both of Waco, Texas.

Mrs. Olds while out driving April 30th last was thrown from her buggy. The injury did not appear serious at first but she has never been able to walk without crutches since and has been out very few times. Several weeks since she was attacked with malaria and inflammation also set in. She had grown very weak and for several days her condition had been precarious. Both her sons reached here Tuesday, and Wednesday Mrs. Dupree and Mrs. Bunch were wired for.

The death of Mrs. Olds was received with every manifestation of heart felt grief among all classes. Hundreds called to express sympathy last evening and scores of telegrams were received. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 5 o'clock from the Church of the Good Shepherd.

A Novel Entertainment

Archie L. Shepard's Moving Pictures, in a program of special features, will be presented at the Academy on September 12th, and all those who desire to spend two hours in real enjoyment and witness a presentation of the finest pictures ever shown in the south will do well to attend. This is a form of entertainment that any lady or child can safely witness without fear of being offended by anything objectionable. Mr. Shepard has made it a point to present nothing but high-class subjects, to cater to the best, and to eliminate everything of an objectionable nature. This has always been his policy and it has always brought him success.

Quaker City Quartette

The Quaker City Quartette is one of the fixed fixtures of popular performances, not only in the minstrel field, but in the vaudeville line of amusement. Their instrumental numbers are as entertaining as their vocalisms. Their comedy is a never failing inspiration of good, wholesome fun. There is just enough comedy worked into the quartette to keep it going well. This element of the act is refined and never fails to make a hit. Special stage settings and appropriate embellishments make the Quaker City Quartette portion of the program of the Al. G. Field Greater Minstrels one of unalloyed enjoyment to the audience.

Two Charters Issued

A charter was issued yesterday for the Inter Urban Street Railway Co. of High Point. The company was authorized to operate a street railway system in High Point and establish lines running out to neighboring towns not exceeding 50 miles. Two notable objective points are Greensboro and Winston-Salem. The capital is $600,000 authorized and $300,000 subscribed. The incorporators are W. A. Heller of Danville, Tenn.; P. H. Mills, R. A. and R. H. Wheeler of High Point.

The other charter was to the Moffitt Iron Works Co., of Sanford. This concern has $25,000 capital authorized and the incorporators are M. N. Moffitt and W. K. Moffitt all of Sanford. The company proposes to conduct a general iron foundry and machine shops including the making of engines and boilers.

Death of Rev. W. G. Chappell

Rev. W. Y. Chappell died yesterday afternoon at his home eight miles north of Raleigh, after an illness of several days. He was pastor of Reeder Creek church near Cary and also pastor of Bethlehem church, east of Raleigh. Mr. Chappell is survived by a wife, two daughters, Mrs. Clarence Stallings of Durham and Miss Swannie Chappell and two sons, Messrs. Willie and Jimmie Chappell, and by two sisters, and four brothers. The funeral will occur today at two o'clock from the home.

The State Fair

Secretary Joseph E. Pogue of the State Fair said yesterday that the outlook for the fair is the brightest in the history of the Agricultural Society. The interest, he says, is wide spread and if the weather is anything like fair the crowds will be immense. Already several additional excursion trains have been arranged for. Every department of the fair promises to be more extensive than ever before and President Ashley Horn and every member of the executive committee is striving for the greatest fair in the history of the state.

Card of Thanks

I wish to thank my many kind friends for their aid and sympathy during the illness and death of my husband.

MRS. FRED. E. MITCHELL.

Death of Mrs. Ford

Mrs. J. B. Ford died Wednesday night at her home in Holly Springs, after an illness of several weeks. She was well known in that community and her death will be learned with sorrow by her many friends. The funeral will occur today at noon from the home. Mrs. Ford is survived by her husband, a well known engineer, and one daughter.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES FOR A. & M. CADETS

Raleigh Ministers Will Preach to Students Once a Month at College

The pastors of Raleigh met yesterday in the Presbyterian church and arranged for special religious services in the A. and M. College during the ensuing year.

There were present Rev. M. M. Marshall, D. D., Rev. R. F. Bumpass, D. D., Rev. W. M. Butler, Rev. W. C. Tyree, D. D., Rev. I. McK. Pittinger, D. D., Rev. F. A. Bishop, D. D., and Rev. A. H. Moment, D. D.

President Winston was also present and briefly stated his views as to what the special meetings should be. Professor McLane was also present, representing the faculty.

After a free exchange of opinions it was unanimously agreed to hold one preaching service each month, on the second Sabbath, at eight o'clock in the evening. Each of these services will be conducted by one of the pastors—the pastors alternating through the college year according to an arrangement made among themselves. The services will be held in Pullen Hall. As each clergyman's turn comes, his church will be closed for that Sabbath evening, the choir will be expected to accompany the minister and an urgent invitation will be given to the congregation to worship that evening. Great desire to do all in their power to aid the students personally and to sustain the high standing of the college.

The services will open next Sabbath night and will be conducted by the Rev. R. F. Bumpass.

ELKS BARBECUE

Feast and Battle Between the Regulars and Reformers

The Elks of Raleigh yesterday afternoon entertained their friends at a royal barbecue on the fair grounds. At least 125 persons were present and they were served with hot brunswick stew and unsurpassed barbecue. Mr. Frank Stronach acted as toast master in his usually elegant style. The committee on arrangements, composed of Messrs. A. B. Andrews Jr., Will Robbins and J. P. Wray, had provided an abundance of choice food and drink for the enthusiastic crowd and all did full justice at the festive board.

After the feast a baseball game was played between the "Reformers" and the "Regulars" and at the end of the seventh inning the score stood 9 to 7 in favor of the "Regulars." Refreshments were served after the seventh inning and the teams were then unable to organize.

The teams were composed of: "Reformers"—Duckett, Dockery, Morson, G. Anderson, Crocker, Lynch, Howell, Wilkinson and Horner; "Regulars," Fleming, P. R. Anderson, Brickhouse, Linehan, J. Jordan, Thomas, Furnell, Gattis and Stronach. Umpire, Capt. Jack Duncan.
