

Trade Reports Show Increasing Confidence

Merchandise Is More Active. Railroad Earnings and Bank Exchanges Are Larger. Gains in Textile Industries

New York, Sept. 23.—Dun's weekly review of trade tomorrow will say: Trade expands steadily as confidence increases with the harvesting of the crops, and mercantile collections are less tardily met. Lower temperature stimulates the demand for fall and winter wearing apparel, and there is more disposition to prepare for the future rather than to confine operations within the limit of immediate requirements. This improvement is according to all developments of manufacture, and in the aggregate there is less idle machinery. Settlements of labor disputes have helped in the development of this favorable condition. Steel mills are resuming at Pittsburg, but window glass production is small and retail trade recovers slowly. Railway earnings are 5.7 larger than a year ago, and foreign commerce a gain of $2,945,887 in exports, as compared with 1903, although imports decreased $713,067. Firm money and a larger supply of cotton bills depressed foreign exchange. Renewing the talk of the possibility of arranging gold imports and security trading developed considerable irregularity, in which there was evidence of vigorous manipulation. Bank exchanges at New York were 4.6 per cent larger than in the same week last year, mainly because of heavy stock sales at higher prices, while at other leading cities there was an increase of 8.2 per cent. There is no evidence of anxiety among consumers or to secure quick delivery, yet the tonnage gradually expands and it is evident that the lowest point of the depression has passed. The railways are exhibiting more interest in structural steel and the building trades will require a large quantity as soon as there is some settlement regarding labor disputes. Steel rails are in light demand for home consumption, but exports to Canada are stimulated by the approaching increase in tariff. Quotations of pig iron and all forms of steel are fairly steady, the only event of the week being a reduction in the selling price of billets. The cut of $3.50 a ton is almost exactly what was expected and has no significance because sales were being made at $20. Moderate gains continue to be made by the textile industries, particularly as to woolsens and worsteds. Staple lines are quoted somewhat higher and prompt deliveries are urged by purchasers. Fall river spinners are buying a little raw material, and it is thought that the strike will soon terminate. It has been a week burdened with sensational crop estimates. Cotton was sharply advanced by weather and insect reports and had the further support of response at Liverpool. Commercial failures for the week are 225, against 224 last week. Failures in Canada number 30, against 21 last week.

Sensational Charge by an Alabama Judge

Selma, Ala., Sept. 23.—The charge of Judge Daniel Partridge, Jr., to the Dallas county grand jury has created a great sensation. Judge Partridge is a law partner of Senator Pettus and was born and reared in the heart of the black belt of Alabama. The principal theme of his charge was the negro question and he urged the grand jurors to do their duty in fully investigating the charge against the three white deputy sheriffs and the seven negroes confined in jail charged with the lynching of the negro Edward Bell several weeks ago. Judge Partridge criticized the white people most severely for their treatment of negroes and declared that the lower class of whites were responsible for the lawlessness among the negroes by setting bad examples for their inferiors to follow. He spoke of the faithfulness of the negroes during the war and declared that if they were now given equal justice with the white people they would make better citizens. He denounced the class of southern gentlemen that carry a pistol in their pockets to shoot down the innocent negroes on the least provocation. He spoke of Booker Washington as a great man and quoted his views with approval. The charge was pronounced by conservative citizens to be the most sensational ever delivered in Dallas county, and it was freely predicted that the jury would free the ten lynchers after hearing Judge Partridge's charge, notwithstanding the fact that one of the alleged lynchers had confessed the crime and implicated the white deputies and other prominent white citizens. This prediction proved well founded, as the grand jury, after hearing the evidence, recommended that the men charged with the lynching be discharged. Colonel W. W. Quarles, the prosecuting attorney for the state, made the charge in open court that the jury had been influenced by friends of the prisoners. The local papers editorially criticize Judge Partridge most severely for his views on the negro question and many prominent Democrats admit that the charge will greatly offset the arguments being used against President Roosevelt by Democratic politicians on account of the president's southern policy.

marriage will be changed, and marriage will be allowed for a certain period, perhaps ten years. The state will see that sufficient money is saved in that period to provide for and educate the children. Perhaps the state will take charge of this fund. There will be a devil of an uproar before such a change can be made. It will be a great shock, but look back and see what shocks there have been and what changes have taken place in marriage in the past. The difficulty is to make the English people face such a problem. They will not look ahead, and especially the governing people, and you must have philosophy though it is more than can be hoped for to get the English people to admit the bare name of philosophy into the discussion of a question. Again and again, notably in their criticism of America you see how the English people persist in regarding any new truth as a sign of disease, yet it is a sign of health."

Snake Bites a Child

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 23.—Special. Cyrus, the little son of H. C. Long, while playing in the yard of his home at Dilworth this afternoon, was bitten by a snake. The little fellow almost immediately became faint and sick and ran into the house. A physician was summoned and remedies were applied. It is not known just how serious his condition is, but a physician is in constant attendance.

Alumni Celebration

Wilmington, N. C., Sept. 23.—Special. The one hundred and fifty or more of the alumni of the University of North Carolina residing in this city have on foot plans for the celebration of University Day here on the 12th of October. President Venable of the University is much interested in the movement to have University Day generally observed in all parts of the state and he has called upon all branches of the alumni association to observe the occasion in some form of gathering in the many parts of the state where there are alumni.

Divorce Suits in Durham

Durham, N. C., Sept. 23.—Special. Superior court will convene here October 24. There are eleven divorce cases set for trial during the term. This is the largest number of divorce suits ever set for trial in Durham at any one term of court. It is learned that there are other divorce suits started, but will not be tried at this term. Of the eleven cases to be sent through the divorce mill there are nine white and two colored couples. In most of the cases there will be no contest, one or other of the parties either being afraid of a fight on account of past records, or else agreeing to the dissolution of the bonds of matrimony.

JONES AND GRADY

Candidates for State Senator in Fifteenth District

Dunn, N. C., Sept. 23.—Special.—This morning R. N. Hackett addressed a large audience from Johnston, Harnett and Sampson counties. He was introduced by D. H. McLean and spoke for nearly two hours on state and national issues. At two o'clock the senatorial convention of the fifteenth district convened to nominate two candidates for senator from Johnston, Harnett and Sampson counties. D. H. McLean was made permanent chairman. The three counties answered the roll call and there were no contests. A resolution was adopted whereby all delegates were pledged to loyally support the nominees of the convention. J. A. T. Jones of Johnston was nominated by acclamation. The contest came when a candidate was to be nominated from Sampson. Henry A. Grady and Eli R. Wilson were put forward. At this juncture the convention took a recess for a short while for Sampson to caucus. The result was 47 1/2 for Grady and 27 1/2 for Wilson, whereupon Wilson withdrew and Grady was nominated by acclamation amid great applause and enthusiasm. Grady and Wilson responded with strong speeches, Wilson avowing his purpose to support Grady. This closed the gap and healed the split in Sampson. Prior to and during the convention factional feeling was high. The primary in Sampson had resulted in utter failure, as two townships failed to meet. The contest was referred to this convention, which settled it to the satisfaction of all the delegates. The work of this convention leaves no opportunity for the Republicans. The probability is that great Democratic gains will be made in Sampson.

RHODES SCHOLARS

Mr. Winston Will Sail With a Party of Forty

Durham, N. C., Sept. 23.—Special. Mr. James Horner Winston, son of Judge R. W. Winston of this city, North Carolina's Rhodes scholar to the Oxford University, left the state today. The entire party of forty scholars from the United States will sail from New York Tuesday on the Ivernia, of the Cunard line. The party will spend two days looking over Harvard University before sailing for England. Under the rules governing the Rhodes scholars not more than four will be assigned to any one of the twenty colleges composing Oxford University. Mr. Winston has been assigned to Christ Church College, the wealthiest, most celebrated and famous of the twenty colleges. The dining hall in this college is said to be the handsomest hall of the kind in the world. It was here that Charles I held his court after he was driven from London by Cromwell. There are now a total of fifteen thousand students enrolled in this celebrated university and they are gathered there from all parts of the world. Mr. Winston, who is a graduate of the University of North Carolina, secured the appointment after competitive examination.

WIRELESS STATION

Mr. Howland Will Erect One at Cape Lookout

Beaufort, N. C., Sept. 23.—Special. Land for the wireless telegraph station to be erected by Mr. R. S. Howland, president of the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad at Cape Lookout, has not yet been secured, though negotiations for it have been under way for some time. Only a few acres are necessary for such a station and there ought to be little trouble in getting it. The force of men that will erect this station is now at work on a station that Mr. Howland's company is building at Cape May for use by Old Dominion and other steamers passing there. It is expected that as soon as the Cape May station is completed work will begin on the station at Lookout. Reports from Morehead City are to the effect that the fishing was never better. The Spanish mackerel, which were blown out to sea by the recent storm, have returned, and the "catch" is just now very large. The "run" of other fish is also unusually fine. The hotel, which has heretofore closed the last week in August, is this year being kept open for accommodation of guests who wish to enjoy this, the best fishing season of the year, and many are taking advantage of it. During the past few days a party of sportsmen from Georgia have been making some exceptionally fine catches. Local fishermen are likewise enjoying a season of great prosperity. The bathing at Morehead continues excellent and the Sunday excursions on the Atlantic and North Carolina road carry crowds of bathers to the beach every week. Despite the cool nights in the interior the water is not at all chilled. Bathers last Sunday found it at a temperature of 70. This, of course, is due to the fact that the Gulf stream comes within a few miles of the beach and will, it is said by residents of that section, keep the water at a good bathing temperature until well into October, and sometimes later. In fact, people have gone in bathing at Beaufort on Christmas day and found the water not at all uncomfortable.

BACK FROM THE CONGO

A North Carolina Man Will Speak From His Knowledge as Missionary

Rev. L. C. Vass, a missionary from the Congo Free State, arrived yesterday afternoon from Louisville, where he addressed the Albemarle Presbytery. He will speak Sunday morning and night in the Presbyterian church, in the morning on the misgovernment in the Congo state and the terrible accident that resulted in the loss of their steamer on the great river, and at night principally about the mission work. Mr. Vass is a native of New Bern, and has been for a little over five years in the Congo Free State as a missionary of the Southern Presbyterian church. He is on his furlough now, and has been traveling and speaking through the south for about four months, taking advantage of his time to press the work for an investigation into the misrule and cruelties in the domain of King Leopold II. He says that Senator Gorman is going to take the matter up on a petition before long in the United States Senate. The Congo Free State has developed, he says, into a great rubber trust. Not long ago a disaster befel the missionaries out there. Some three years ago they procured a steamer for the navigation of the river. It was built in Richmond, Va., and shipped in sections. Mr. Vass reconstructed it on last November, when in a spot where the banks of the great river come within a mile of each other and the water is a mass of seething whirlpools and eddies, she capsized and turned turtle completely, drowning Rev. Mr. Slaymaker of Alexandria, Va., and twenty-three natives. Mr. Vass was on board, but was saved, as was also Rev. Mr. Martin of Texas. Already the children of the various Sunday schools throughout the south have raised $36,000 for a new boat to be put on the Congo, and Mr. Vass is now working on plans for its construction. This great sum has been raised in considerably less than one year. The mission board with headquarters at Nashville, have conducted the work of collecting the fund. Mr. Vass is a nephew of Mr. George Allen of this city. While here he will stop with Mr. Albert Bauman.

There is a stop of an hour, from one to two, for dinner.

MR. GATTIS' TOUR

Many From the State Will Go Oct. 4th.

It looks now as if a large crowd will go to St. Louis from North Carolina on Mr. Gattis' personally conducted trip starting October 4th by way of the Seaboard Air Line to Atlanta. Many inquiries are coming in from various parts of the state. This will be the last of the special tours during the World's Fair, and it is very cheap and everything possible is being done to make it very comfortable. Wide vestibule Pullman sleeping cars will be run through, and high-back seat coaches. Mr. Gattis will be in personal charge all the way, and will, if desired, arrange in advance for hotel accommodations. He will also personally arrange for Pullman accommodations for the return of the party. The train will leave Raleigh at four o'clock on Tuesday afternoon, October 4th, and the time is so arranged as to secure a day-light ride between Atlanta and Nashville, passing over the famous battlefields of North Georgia, Kerten Missionary Ridge, through Chatanooga, passing Lookout Mountain, over and through the Cumberland Mountains, and into Nashville for supper. On the return from St. Louis, leaving there on the morning train, they will pass through the fine farming country of Central Illinois by the famous Big Muddy Coal Mines, and through the fruit belt of southern Illinois and into Cairo—at which point we cross the Ohio river on the second longest steel bridge in the world—and on through the beautiful farming country of Western Kentucky and Tennessee by the famous Belle Meade stock farm, and into Nashville. On the return trip stop-overs will be permitted at Nashville and Atlanta, but not beyond the limit of ticket, which is fifteen days. The party from all over the state will get together at Monroe. Those contemplating joining the tour should notify Mr. Gattis as soon as possible, in order that he may know how many coaches and Pullmans to reserve.

College Site Changed

Greensboro, N. C., Sept. 23.—Special. Rev. J. F. McCulloch has sold to Mr. Paul C. Lindley for the trustees of the Methodist Protestant College, the Patterson tract of forty acres, located west of the Central Carolina fair grounds. It is intended by the trustees to build the proposed college upon this site, but the Southern Railway recently built its shifting yards in front of the property, rendering it undesirable as a college place. An option has been secured on another tract west of Lindley Park on Pomona avenue and the college will be established there. A public auction sale of lots was held last Tuesday afternoon at the Patterson tract, but all the bids were rejected, the transfer to Mr. Lindley being by private sale at a splendid price.

TELEGRAPH TERSITIES

Liverpool, Sept. 23.—Russian agents are offering shippers thirty shillings ($7.50) a ton for coal, plus three per cent upon departure, and fifteen shillings ($3.75) additional upon arrival at Vladivostok. There have been few takers. London, Sept. 23.—Professor Samuel Ives Curtis, of the department of geology in the University of Chicago, was seized with apoplexy while visiting his publishers, Potter & Stanton, here yesterday. He was taken to St. Bartholomew's Hospital and died there last evening.

London, Sept. 23.—On instructions received from New York, the body of Charles B. Spahr, editor of the Current Literature, who lost his life while crossing the English channel August 31, will be cremated and the ashes will be sent to America. Tangier, Sept. 23.—A British merchant named Lee, who was kidnapped at Rabat by tribesmen, while fishing there, has returned in safety. Mr. Lee was released by the private influence of Mr. Neourts, the British vice consul at Rabat. Petersburg, Va., Sept. 23.—There was a heavy frost, the first of the season, here and in the neighboring counties, last night. It is feared that much damage was done to tobacco, as much of the crop is still in the fields. St. Petersburg, Sept. 23.—It is reported that the Japanese have abandoned E battery of the Kuropatkin fort after blowing it up. General Stoesel has ordered that the Russians recapture it, and that the approaches be mined. Berlin, Sept. 23.—Colonel Caedk, military editor of the Tageblatt, who is with the Russian army in Manchuria, says that he meets with many who wish the war ended at any price. Even in the highest circles this view prevails. He adds that it is not impossible that this feeling will result in a sudden and surprising cessation of hostilities. Cincinnati, Ohio, Sept. 23.—The big plant of the J. A. Fay & Egan Co., manufacturers of working machinery, was damaged tonight by fire to the extent of $200,000. The loss is fully covered by insurance. About six hundred men will be thrown out of work. East Brookfield, Mass., Sept. 23.—A special train conveying the archbishop of Canterbury from Bar Harbor to Washington was wrecked on the Boston & Albany division of the New York Central near the station here today. The archbishop was not injured although considerably shaken up. J. Pierpont Morgan of New York, who was also on the train accompanying the archbishop, was shaken up, but not hurt.

Extra Low Rates to S. Louis

Account of Cotton Growers' Convention and Farmers' National Congress, which meets in St. Louis on September 26th, the Seaboard Air Line Railway announces they will sell coach excursion tickets on Tuesday, September 20th, and Thursday, September 22d, at rate of $18.50 from Raleigh and corresponding low rates from all other points. These tickets will be limited ten days. We offer double daily service via Atlanta, also via Richmond and the C. & O., which is one of the most attractive routes to the World's Fair. These tickets sold on Thursday, the 22d, will enable the delegates to the above convention to arrive in St. Louis on Saturday, the 24th, three days before the convention opens on the 26th. In addition to the above we will sell round-trip tickets limited fifteen days for $24.80, rates on same basis from all other points. For rates, schedules, pamphlets and any information, apply to C. H. GATTIS, Traveling Passenger Agent, Raleigh, N. C.

$30.60 Raleigh to Hot Springs, Ark., and Return—$30.60

The Southern Railway announces special Summer Excursion Fares to Hot Springs, Ark., and return at the above low rate. Tickets on sale every Wednesday and Saturday up to and including September 29th, final limit sixty days from date of sale, with privilege of extension to ninety days upon payment of difference between rate at which ticket was sold and the All Year Tourist Rate. For full particulars call on or address any agent Southern Railway. T. E. GREEN, C. T. A. Raleigh, N. C.
