RUN OR DISARM IS THE OPTION

Russians May Not Repair in the Philippines

STRICT ORDERS GIVEN

Ruling as to Ships Injured in Battle. Russians at Manila in No Condi- tion to Flee or Fight—Neutrality of the United States Must Be Maintained Strictly

Washington, June 5th.—The Russian cruiser Aurora, Oleg and Zemtchug, which fled from the Japanese fleet in the straits of Korea and found refuge in the harbor of Manila, must either dismantle and become interned or be put to sea within twenty-four hours after Governor Wright has communicated to Admiral Enquist, the commander of the Russian squadron, the decision of this government in regard to the matter. After several conferences today, involving the War Department, Secretary Taft telegraphed Governor Wright that under no circumstances would the Russian ships be allowed to make repairs because of the fact that this government does not consider that the warships of a belligerent are entitled to repair in a neutral port unless they were involved in an engagement with another belligerent.

Governor Wright will communicate Secretary Taft's instructions to Admiral Enquist without delay. The state department this afternoon received a communication from the Japanese minister here, asking what this government intended to do. Secretary of State Loomis replied that the president had decided that the Russian vessels must either get out of Manila or be interned. The Japanese minister will doubtless satisfy the Japanese government, but the decision may meet with favor at St. Petersburg. It is maintained that the interpretation of international usages relative to the granting of permission to make repairs which has just been made is entirely new, and that customarily the vessels would be given a reasonable time to put themselves in seaworthy condition.

Admiral Enquist is awaiting instructions from his government. Governor Wright telegraphed Secretary Taft today that he had conferred with Admiral Enquist and that the latter said he had no instructions from St. Petersburg. It is the general opinion that the Russians can do nothing but intern themselves once the three vessels are in Manila in a condition, and only one, the Zemtchug, is seaworthy to any degree and there are evidently a number of holes in the Zemtchug which would cause much trouble if she should encounter bad weather.

Admiral Train telegraphed the navy department today that it would take thirty days to repair the Aurora, thirty days for the Oleg and seven for the Zemtchug. The Japanese warships are presently waiting for the Russian ships whenever any effort is made to leave Manila. In the face of these conditions it seems entirely unlikely that Admiral Enquist will make an effort to go to sea.

Secretary Taft's message to Governor Wright today did not specify that the Russian ships must leave within twenty-four hours, but this is according to international law the prescribed limit, and it will govern the president. Admiral Train will be in full charge as soon as Governor Wright, acting as the representative of the United States government at Washington, carries out his instructions. If the Russians decide to go forth Admiral Train will see that they do so within the limit, and if they decide to intern Admiral Train will have charge of the dismantling of the ships, and will take the crews of the officers and crews. Two of the cruisers of the United States Asiatic squadron are guarding the Russian vessels now and nothing is being done. It is understood, to put them into a better condition.

There can be no mistake on the part of the Russians, that the United States government means to fully maintain the neutrality of the Philippines. If the Russian cruisers are interned they will be nothing to prevent repairs being made immediately and to any extent the Russian government may desire. Once interned, however, the Russian warships will have to stay within the harbor of Manila until the end of the war unless the Japanese government should consent to have them leave. This, of course, is highly improbable.

The present case is very similar to that of the Russian cruiser Lena, which arrived in San Francisco last September. Orders were issued for the internment of the vessel and the officers were now under the control of the United States authorities at the Mare Island navy yard. Repairs are being made on the Lena at the cost of the Russian government. New boilers are being put in and other work done.

Russian Ships Overhauling Merchantmen

Hong Kong, June 5.—The Pingsuey sighted yesterday two Russian volunteer cruisers engaged in overhauling merchant vessels off Shelang point, eighty miles from Hong Kong. The United States transport Zafiro, on her way from Manila to Hong Kong, passed on Saturday off Subig Bay a battleship, cruiser and coast defense vessel. They were steaming southeast at speed of nine knots. Their funnels had been riddled by small shot, their steam pipes were gone and the battleship had a hole at her deck line amidships.

Today the Zafiro saw a volunteer cruiser, two destroyers and a warship. A tramp steamer accompanied them.

Sailors From the Oldhamia at Swatow

Hong Kong, June 5th.—The South China Morning Post reports that twenty-nine of the crew of the British Oldhamia, which was captured by the Russians while bound from New York to Japan, arrived at Swatow yesterday. They say the Oldhamia was captured in South Bashee Channel May 18th. Part of the crew was transferred to the converted cruiser Dnieper. They then believed that the Oldhamia had been sunk. The fate of the captain, engineer, steward and cook they did not know. The Dnieper yesterday transferred them to the British steamship Washiang at Chelang Point, and she brought them to Swatow.

Wheel Ran Over a Child

Winston-Salem, N. C., June 5th. Special.—The three-year-old son of Rudy Hine, who resides near Wallburg, Davidson county, met with a fatal accident Sunday morning. The child was riding on the front seat of a phaeton, going with the parents to church services at Friedland. The little fellow lost his balance and fell from the vehicle. One of the rear wheels ran across the child's abdomen, inflicting internal injuries, which it died last night.

James Galloway, colored, attempting to make his escape from the convict camp today, was shot and seriously wounded. Nineteen shot took effect in his back and right side.

NATIONS DESIRE PEACE

Consultations Are Going on in Diplomatic Circles

Germany Has Advised War, But Hao

Seen Enough of It—Russia Sitting on Top of a Slumbering Volcan

Among Her Own People

London, June 5th.—It may now be definitely said that certain great powers are consulting as to how they can express to the czar their strong belief that the war should be brought to a speedy conclusion. The matter is one of extreme delicacy and difficulty owing to the embarrassing position of Germany. It is an open secret that Emperor William has advised the czar until now to pursue the campaign. This counsel had greater weight at St. Petersburg than any other foreign influence.

This opinion of the kaiser's ingenuousness is not shared in diplomatic circles. His desire for the military weakening of his eastern neighbor is well understood in Europe. This wish has been more than gratified. There is reason to believe that the last crushing blow carried the process a bit further than suits the kaiser's plans. In a word, he is willing to see Russia crippled, but not destroyed. The complete collapse of the Russian empire would create a dangerous political vortex.

It is as plain to Emperor William as it is to the rest of the world that persistence in the war policy with the country almost unanimous in its opposition would be an act of suicide. It is hardly possible, however, for the kaiser personally to advise the czar to make peace when his earlier counsel has been of the opposite tenor. Neither can he join officially in general peace proposals without stultifying himself in the eyes of the Russian sovereign. Hence the difficulty in framing representations in which England, France, Germany and America may join. This problem should not be insuperable. The knowledge that a peace movement would not be secretly opposed by Germany is of high importance. Friendly, but strong advice to seek terms from her adversary, coming from the four powers named, could hardly fail to have great influence with the misguided and distracted monarch at Tsarsko-Selo.

The latest advices from St. Petersburg make it clear that the czar is now committed to the extreme form of repression and tyranny. The autocracy is terrified and desperate and is capable of any folly or excess. Movements of humanity, if none others should prompt the earliest measures to avert the greatest tragedy the world has known. The initiative has already been taken at Washington. No power will act alone. The counsels of prudence, if given at all, will come jointly from the four countries, whose motives can not be impugned and whose words can not be disregarded.

TRINITY HONORS ITS BENEFACTOR

President Kilgo's Address on Washington Duke

THE FACULTY'S TRIBUTE

An Immense Audience Present at the Sunday Exercises—Meeting of Trustees Held Yesterday—Two Fraternity Banquets Last Night. Sermon to the Graduates Today

Durham, N. C., June 5.—Special.—The thirty-eighth annual commencement of Trinity College is now on. The first feature was the address of Dr. J. C. Kilgo, president of the college, which was delivered yesterday. This was a memorial address in honor and memory of the late Washington Duke, who gave to Trinity, directly and indirectly, more than a million dollars during his life. The second feature was this afternoon at 4 o'clock, when the annual meeting of the board of trustees of the college was held in the office of the president. Tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock the annual sermon will be preached by Rev. Richard Wilkerson of New Orleans. This will be preached in the Craven Memorial Hall, beginning at 11 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Wilkerson reached here today. Another feature of tomorrow will be the speeches by representatives of the graduating class. These speeches will be delivered at night.

Wednesday the commencement address will be delivered by Prof. Francis Greenwood Peabody of Harvard University. This will be at 11 o'clock. This address will be followed by the graduating exercises. Wednesday afternoon the annual meeting and banquet of the alumni association will be held. The alumni address will be delivered by Rev. G. T. Rowe of Concord, who arrived in the city this morning.

The fraternity banquets will be a prominent social feature of the commencement occasion. Two of these banquets—the Kappa Sigma and Kappa Alpha—were held tonight. The Kappa Sigma held forth at Hotel Carolina and the banquet of the Kappa Alpha was given in the banquet hall of the new dormitory at Trinity College. Tomorrow night two other banquets will be given. These will be the Alpha Tau Omega, which will be given at the Trinity city center hall, and the Pi Kappa Alpha, given at the Carolina.

There are a large number of people in the city for the purpose of attending the commencement exercises.

The Memorial Service

Yesterday morning the Craven Hall at the college park was packed to the doors. There were the thirteen hundred people in the hall, probably fourteen hundred were inside the walls of the building. The occasion was the memorial address of Dr. J. C. Kilgo, president of Trinity College, in memory of the late Washington Duke. This address took the place of the regular baccalaureate address to the graduating class. It was a great effort of a very fine speaker.

Prior to the address of Dr. Kilgo, Dr. W. P. Few, member of the faculty, read an expression from the faculty, telling of the high esteem in which the deceased was held by that body.

The musical feature was especially fine. The choir was one picked from the city churches, including the best musicians in Durham.

Expression From the Faculty

The expression from the faculty, as read by Dr. W. P. Few, was as follows: Mr. Washington Duke was the founder of the new Trinity and the foremost southern philanthropist of his generation. The faculty of Trinity College wish to place on record some sense of their appreciation of his worth and character and of the service he has rendered to this college, to the cause of education, and to the wider cause of humanity.

Mr. Duke was a man highly endowed by nature. He was blessed with sharp wits, keen insight, a strong and active body, and the precious gift of character. He had the stability and flawless integrity, the sobriety of judgment, and the eager desire to live his life for the highest ends—those fine qualities which have characterized all the great men whose careers have illumined like stars the long annals of our English race.

He had, besides, the American turn for practical affairs, the sleepless energy, resourcefulness and power to bring things to pass, which applied to the building up of a new country here have made ours the richest nation in the world. And he had the equally characteristic American capacity to spend himself and his large wealth for the betterment of mankind—a new manifestation of the old Anglo-Saxon altruism and devotion to the common good, which has made American philanthropy of recent years the most impressive fact of our time. To the service of his fellows he not only gave personal effort, he gave abounding sympathy, he gave a heart that was ever fresh and that could never grow old. Living through a period of intense (Continued on page 6.)

Murder on an Excursion Train

Williamston, N. C., June 5.—Special. On an excursion train from Washington to Goldsboro were two negroes, Presley Daniel and William Elam. When the train arrived at Farmville Presley Daniel went into one of the cars and found William Elam sitting with his girl. He had vowed to kill Elam if he ever spoke to his girl again, and he pulled out his pistol and shot Elam through the brain killing him instantly.

The verdict of the coroner's jury was that William Elam came to his death by a pistol shot from the hand of Presley Daniel. Presley Daniel is now in the Martin county jail at Winston.

New Cars for the Coast Line

Wilmington, N. C., June 5.—Special. The Atlantic Coast Line has just awarded the contract for 1,500 box cars for quick delivery. Of this number 1,000 will be made by the Western Steel Car and Foundry Company and 500 by the Waycross, Ga., Car Works. The Coast Line is also receiving installations of the new passenger cars for which orders were placed some time ago, the first lot now being delivered to the road.

Lease of A. & N. C. R. R. Condemned

New Bern, N. C., June 5.—Special.—At a meeting of the board of magistrates and board of county commissioners today a strong resolution offered by M. D. Lane, of Port Barnwell, condemning the lease of the Atlantic & North Carolina railroad to the Howland Improvement Company, was carried by an almost unanimous vote. It was directing the board of commissioners to investigate the legality of the lease, and if possible to set the same aside.

Editor Webster Paralyzed

Reidsville, N. C., June 5th.—Special. Editor John R. Webster, suffered a stroke of paralysis last night. His condition tonight, though alarming to his friends and relatives is not so bad this afternoon as it was last evening.

MURDERED FOR MONEY

Was Seen Counting Money Saturday Afternoon—Sunday Morning He Was Found With Pockets Empty and Died During the Day

Goldsboro, N. C., June 5.—Special. What appears to be a clear case of murder and robbery occurred in the public road near this city late Saturday night. The victim, whose name is Upchurch, was not found until yesterday morning. He was not dead then, but he died during the day. Upchurch was living with some of his people on the plantation of Dr. W. J. Jones, about three miles from this city. He came to town Saturday afternoon and was seen in several stores in the Little Washington section of the city. In the last place in which he was seen he was counting his money, which consisted of gold pieces and some currency amounting to about fifty dollars. There was a crowd around the store, and it is thought that some of the negroes who saw the money followed Upchurch and used clubs on him. When found yesterday morning he had no money in his pockets.

Coroner Hill impaneled a jury this morning and held an inquest, but the investigations failed to throw any light on the case. One negro, who has a ten dollar gold piece this morning and got change for it at a corner grocery, was arrested. He was a strange negro, but had papers on his person to show where he got the money. Another negro was seen with money in gold late Saturday night, but the butchers who saw the man with gold and sold him meat could not identify the negro, and did not know of the killing at that time.

Death of a Minister's Daughter

Tarboro, N. C., June 5.—Special. Friday afternoon the spirit of sweet and precious Lucile Craven, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. R. C. Craven, passed into the realm of eternity. She was a bright, genial and lovable girl, who by her sweetness of manner won her way to all hearts. She was only 13 years of age, but gave promise of a bright, useful and noble life. This community mourns with the beoved pastor of the Methodist church and his lovely wife in their great and unspeakable sorrow.

Jury Duty Proved Fatal

Salisbury, N. C., June 5.—Special. John Blackwelder, a young farmer of Rowan county, was buried today, having died Saturday from an illness contracted while sitting upon the jury in the Grubb murder trial three weeks ago. He was taken ill and received medical attention in the court room during the trial.

FALSE FIGURES ON COTTON CROP

Statistics Doctored in Interest of Bear Operators

THE FACTS FOUND OUT

Information to Be Laid Before the President With a Request for the Dismissal of an Official of the Agricultural Department—Result of a Broker's Inquiries

New York, June 5.—Richard Cheatham of Atlanta, secretary of the Southern Cotton Growers Association, has gone to Washington to call President Roosevelt's attention to matters which he considers gross irregularities in both the preparation and the publication of the government cotton report, issued last Friday. Mr. Cheatham has with him documentary evidence which he will submit to the president. He will make no charges of bribery or any other crime, but will ask for a rigid investigation and ask that the resignation of one of the important employees in the statistical bureau of the department of agriculture be demanded.

The Southern Cotton Growers Association is an organization of planters and southern brokers whose object is to regulate as far as possible the acreage of cotton and to protect the planters and other southern cotton interests from manipulation of the market tending to bear the price of the staple. This association says it has as many experts as the department of agriculture and makes every effort to secure the most trustworthy information. For several months the statistics gathered by the association have been at variance with those emanating from Washington, and the officers of the association with brokers and cotton merchants in this city have conducted a secret investigation in the hope of ascertaining the reasons for the discrepancies.

A prominent broker of this city, whose name is withheld on his insistence that he does not care to be known as an investigator on these lines, gathered the most important of the documentary evidence in the case. From employees of the department of agriculture, the says, some of whom are in the habit of making frequent visits to this city, he learned that advance information in regard to the reports could be secured. He followed up this line by inquiring whether or not the figures of the governments expert reporters altered so that a false impression might be made of cotton conditions. He was successful in this endeavor also. Several months the statistics gathered by the association have been at variance with those emanating from Washington, and the officers of the association with brokers and cotton merchants in this city have conducted a secret investigation in the hope of ascertaining the reasons for the discrepancies.

The letters he received with others that were gathered from other sources, with affidavits concerning statements made by employees of the department, were turned over to Mr. Cheatham, who, being notified of the discoveries by telegraph, made a hurried trip to this city today. From 7 o'clock this morning until noon a conference between Mr. Cheatham and cotton brokers and attorneys was held in the office of a Wall street law firm. At one o'clock Mr. Cheatham, on advice of the attorneys, left for Washington to lay the case before the president.

Mr. Cheatham will charge that the figures of the bureau of statistics have been manipulated in the interest of a certain bearish element in the market for cotton tomorrow. Knowledge of that fact was one of the reasons that prompted Mr. Cheatham to proceed with all haste to Washington with his evidence. It is believed that Mr. Hyde will postpone his European trip when he hears what Mr. Cheatham has to tell him.

Mr. Cheatham considers the matter of the greatest importance to southern cotton interests. "Planters who will go to the extremity of burning a part of their cotton to keep down the supply of the staple and secure a fair price for that which remains, must be subjected," he said, "to the detriment of an unfair price produced by the false government figures. In the New Orleans market last Friday the price fell $2 a bale solely on account of this manipulated report. The continuation of such a condition would mean the loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars to planters in the cotton belt in addition to the loss that has been caused already."

Delcasse Will Resign

Paris, June 5th.—There is excellent authority for saying that the statement of the Liberte that Foreign Minister Delcasse's resignation may be expected tomorrow is true. It is probable that Premier Rouvier will assume the duties of foreign minister in addition to his own. Failing this arrangement, Leon Bourgeois, the former premier, may take the post. Jean Constans, now ambassador to Turkey, is a third possibility.

Fire in New Bern

New Bern, N. C., June 5.—Special. There was a fire tonight in the Bryan brick block on the corner of Front and Middle streets. The flames were confined to the corner store occupied by Mr. Yoffie, whose wife and child were on the second floor which they occupy as a sleeping apartment. They were rescued. The damage to stock is almost total, estimated at eight thousand dollars with insurance of five thousand. The building is owned by James A. Bryan and is covered by insurance.

Gravesend, N. Y., June 5th.—Results today:
First race—Broadcloth, 3 to 5 won; Buttons, 5 to 2, second; Czaraphine third.
Second race—Gold Van 4 to 1, won; Sandhurst, 1 to 2, second; Nirate third.
Third race—Garnish, 10 to 1, won; Beldame, 7 to 5, second; Kehalan third.
Fourth race—Guiding Star, 7 to 10, won; Quorum, 3 to 5, second; Jane third.
Fifth race—Ocean Tide, 4 to 1, won; Canteen, 3 to 5, second; Jane Holly third.
Sixth race—Yanke Consul, 3 to 5, won; Athlete, 8 to 1, second; St. Esteban, third.

DEATH IN THE STORM

Disaster Wrought by Light- ning and Tornado

Houses Blown Down and Numerous Persons Fatally Stricken by Electric Bolts—The Injured are Many—Particulars Meagre

Binghamton, N. Y., June 5.—A tornado struck this city shortly after 11 o'clock tonight. The terrific wind razed a number of houses and it is reported a number of inmates who were asleep at the time were killed and injured. Reports from suburbs are to the effect that much damage was done there.

Detroit, Mich., June 5th.—Saginaw Valley, in the lower part of the state, was swept by an electric storm today. A number of persons at various points were struck by lightning, some of whom were killed outright, while others were injured.

Two children of John Smith, a farmer near Urbana, were killed. Three children of Edward Philpot were fatally injured. The back of a Mrs. Wagner was broken.

Elsie Appleman, a girl of twelve, was killed by lightning at Herkules, near Cass City. Thirteen dwelling houses and nineteen barns were blown down and a number of persons were injured.

George Morrow, a young farmer at Central Lake and three companions sought refuge in a vacant building. Morrow was killed by lightning and the others sustained severe shocks.

CLAYTON HIGH SCHOOL

Commencement Begins With a Fine Sermon by Dr. Ivey

Clayton, N. C., June 5.—Special.—The closing exercises of Clayton High School began Sunday with a magnificent sermon before the graduating class by Rev. Dr. T. N. Ivey of Raleigh. Dr. Ivey's text was: "He that ruleth his spirit is better than he that taketh a city." The keynote of the sermon was a plea for the conquest of self, and the preacher breathed into his words a sublime sentiment of heroic self-denial, the subjugation of the base and ignoble passions of our natures, and pleaded for a finer, truer expression of the beatitudes of Christ in us. The Holy Ghost is in league with the soul in its fight against the arch enemy of man, and the greatest victory won in this world is achieved when a human being wins the day on the plains of his own life and plants the white flag of conquest of self upon the ramparts of his soul. The sermon was pronounced by every one as being the most appropriate, timely and valuable ever heard here on a similar occasion.

The exercises today consist of a concert by the music department of the school at 4 p. m. and a medal contest by the elocution class at 8:30 tonight.

CARLISLE HAS NOTHING TO SAY

Declines to Discuss the Bond Syndicate's Scheme

FLOWERS FOR HEROES

Tribute to the Confederate Dead in Ar- lington—Higher Rates Established by the Royal Arcanum—Making Plans for Two Formidable Bat- tleships to Be Built Soon

By WILLIS G. BRIGGS

Washington, June 5.—Special.—Ex-Secretary of the Treasury John G. Carlisle of New York, now a prominent corporation lawyer and attorney for one of the two syndicates engaged in purchasing the repudiated bonds issued by the carpet bag legislatures in North Carolina, is here stopping at the New Willard. The state authorized the issuance of $25,000,000 in these bonds, and $18,500,000 were actually placed on the market, but they were effectually repudiated later in the new constitution of North Carolina. Mr. Carlisle was seen here today, but he positively declined to make any statement about the plans of his syndicate. "I have nothing to say," declared the ex-secretary. In reply to the question as to what particular class of North Carolina bonds his company would accept for collection, he asserted that he thought that fact was clearly set forth in the papers in the case, meaning the advertisements published in the New York papers and copied as a matter of news in The Morning Post some time ago. The rumor that $1,600,000 of these bonds had been placed in the hands of the syndicate represented by Mr. Carlisle could not be verified from him.

Impressive ceremonies were held at Arlington Cemetery Sunday evening when the local Confederate veterans and the Sons and Daughters of the Confederacy decorated the graves of the thousands of men who wore the gray uniforms there. Scores of North Carolinians were present. The orator of the occasion was the noted Judge John Goode of Virginia. Hundreds of ex-Union soldiers were present, and all liberally applauded the speaker as he extolled the virtues of the southern soldiers and the cause for which they fought. Every grave in the Confederate section of the cemetery was decorated. A notable incident was the donation by President and Mrs. Roosevelt of lovely flowers for the decorations, accompanied by a note expressing regret that they could not attend the ceremonies in person.

Not a little interest has been excited here by the action of the Supreme Council of the Royal Arcanum in Atlantic City in establishing a higher schedule of insurance rates. Those who uphold the change say that it will make every man carry his own insurance and bring young men in. As an illustration of how the new rule will work, a man who joined twenty years ago at the age of 28 years paid $1.25, sixteen assessments. In 1898 on the basis of twelve assessments, the rate was raised to $2.24. The new schedule advances him to $4.23, an increase of 100 per cent. The Royal Arcanum is strong and popular in North Carolina. In Brooklyn and Baltimore the changed rate is being extensively discussed in the newspapers.

Two North Carolinians have been appointed to government positions—Miss Mary R. Matheny at $800 a year in the office of internal revenue, and Lee V. Moore at $700 in the office of the United States treasurer.

The postmaster at Elkin will be pleased to know that the first assistant postmaster general today increased his salary from $1,000 to $1,100 a year.

Plans for the battleships South Carolina and Michigan are being prepared at the naval bureau of construction. They will be the most powerful battleships in the world, surpassing even the splendid new ships being added to the British navy. They will be about 425 feet long, will displace 17,000 tons and carry four 12-inch, four 8-inch, ten 6-inch and twenty-eight smaller guns.

Today's arrivals: Judge James E. Boyd, Greensboro; Henry Clark Bridges, Tarboro; P. W. Liberty, Liberty; P. L. McManus, Charlotte; A. Rameaux, and Claybrook Jones, Asheville.

The Industrial News, the proposed Greensboro Republican daily to be issued by the company of which State Chairman Rollins is president, expects to send forth its first issue about July 1. Ex-Senator Marion Butler has returned from New York, and it is learned that he there signed the contracts for the necessary linotypes to be delivered July 1st, July 10th and August 1st, and made arrangements for the presses. Assured of these facts Judge S. B. Adams left for Greensboro tonight.

Augusta, Ga., June 5.—According to reports received here this afternoon a race riot occurred at Turner, S. C., in which a white man named McLean was killed, his son wounded and three negroes killed.
