Attacked by a Mob and beaten, in a labor riot, until covered with sores, a Chicago street car conductor applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and was soon sound and well. "I use it in my family," writes G. J. Welch of Tekonsha, Mich. "and find it perfect." Simply great for cuts and burns. Only 25c at all druggists.

MR. B. W. UPCHURCH DEAD Successful Young Merchant of Raleigh—Funeral This Afternoon

After a lingering illness of five months Mr. Bailey Williamson Upchurch, one of the city's best known and most prosperous young merchants, died yesterday at his home, 312 south Person street. Mr. Upchurch has a complication of stomach troubles and endured his long suffering with great Christian fortitude. The end came at 2:30 last afternoon.

The life of Bailey Upchurch should be an inspiration to the young men of Raleigh, so plainly did he exemplify what patient industry and high character combined can accomplish. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Upchurch and was only in his thirty-second year. When a youth he began work for himself and when he reached his majority bought the business of his grandfather, the venerable Mr. W. C. Upchurch, now the oldest white inhabitant of Raleigh. This store, on east Hargett street, has for about seventy years been conducted by Mr. W. C. Upchurch or his grandson.

A STORE IN COURT

Little Darkey Took Sample of Everything in Stock

But the Assyrian Had $200 in One Shoe, and the Money Was Not Found, Although That Very Shoe Was Taken

Yesterday morning Police Justice Badger was confronted with two small, black pickaninnies of eleven and twelve years old, a lay-out of goods, consisting of boxes of sardines, candy, shoes, tobacco, chewing gum, a can of peaches and some potted ham. The mess represented the store of the Assyrian H. Diamond, or rather a sample of everything in it, which is conducted at the corner of Cabarrus and Haywood streets.

The two little darkeys were charged with stealing the stuff, but it was worse than that appeared on the surface. In broken tones and accent guttural and full of anguish he explained in a way that could not be misunderstood, that he had hid $200.00 in a shoe, one of a pair packed in its box in stock, and that that very pair was the one taken, but the money was not in the shoe as it appeared in the police court.

It seems that one of the little black prisoners, Willie Hinton, had worked for Diamond up to several days ago, and had done the stealing, which he freely confessed to his lawyer, Mr. Chas. U. Harris, who promptly pleaded guilty. His client went to jail in default of $50 bond. He declared that he knew nothing of the money in the shoe, that he had given the things to his mother. When found the shoes were on a trash heap at the boy's mother's house. He tried to implicate the other boy, Jasper Norwood, but there was no other evidence against him, and he was discharged.

BASEBALL GAMES

National League Chicago, Sept. 25.—Brooklyn and Chicago broke even today on a double-header. Stricklett pitched fine ball in the first game and the locals could not touch him, while they threw away several chances by bad base running. The second game was cleverly and closely contested.

First game: R.H.E. Chicago ..... 000000000-0 6 1 Brooklyn ..... 001001000-2 8 2 Batteries: Reulbach and O'Neill; Stricklett and Bergen. Umpire, Klem. Second game: R.H.E. Chicago ..... 100100001-3 8 1 Brooklyn ..... 010000100-2 11 3 Batteries: Weimer and Kling; McIntyre and Bergen. Umpire, Klem.

American League New York, Sept. 25.—Both New York and St. Louis kept up a murderous fusillade of hits, but Morgan was too easy in the first two innings to get away with the game. Frisk and Stone each got home runs. The New Yorks won by 13 to 10.

St. Louis ..... 010120042-10 12 5 New York ..... 500000032-10 12 3 Pittsburgh ..... 002001010-4 6 3 Batteries: Philippe and Gibson; Mathewson and Bresnahan. Umpires, O'Day and Emslie.

at the end of the seventh inning. First game: R.H.E. Chicago ..... 201000000-3 7 0 Boston ..... 000000001-1 5 3 Batteries: Altrock and McFarland; Barry and Criger. Umpire, Connors. Second game: R.H.E. Chicago ..... 1030003-7 8 1 Boston ..... 00100030-4 7 1 Batteries: Smith and McFarland; Gibson and Armbruster. Umpire, Sheridan.

Philadelphia, Sept. 25.—Bender crawled out of a very small hole this afternoon. O'Leary started the ninth with a triple, but the chief succeeded in striking out the next three men. The score: R.H.E. Detroit ..... 000000020-2 7 3 Philadelphia ..... 00011100x-3 6 1 Batteries: Wiggs, Warner and Drill; Bender and Shreck. Umpire, Connolly. Washington, Sept. 25.—The first game of the final series with Cleveland was played today. The exhibition was slow and lacked ginger. Joss had everything and the nationals were at his mercy.

Women in Church

(London Telegraph.) The following remarkable notice has been issued by the Rev. G. M. Parsons, vicar of Crantook Church, Newquay, Cornwall: "Crantook Church is closed until further notice except at hours of divine service. The church has hitherto been freely open. It is deplorable that it cannot so remain, as it ought to. This is wholly due to the irreverence of numbers of women, who walking uncovered presume to enter God's house with no sign of reverence or modesty upon their heads. A small veil or kerchief would betoken this and be sufficient, but remonstrance during several seasons has proved in vain. Such a refusal by men to offer the customary respect of uncovering would justify their exclusion from God's house. The corresponding refusal by women to cover their heads obliges it. The church is closed with deepest regret and shame for the cause. It will mean much loss to the church of the devotion and offerings of the reverently disposed. It is hoped, however, that the solemn protest thus made in God's name will bring thoughtless persons to a better sense of what is due to His presence and glory, so that His house may speedily be set open as freely as before."

Good Business

(Harper's Weekly.) A writer who spends his summers at the seashore tells the following story: An ignorant countryman who saw the sea for the first time was much impressed with the effect of the blue water, and asked a fisherman if he could tell him the owner, as he would like to buy a gallon to take home to his wife. The fisherman replied, proudly: "Us, me man—we own it!" "Land's sakes!" exclaimed the rustic. "Could you sell me a gallon for fifty cents?" "Sure," said the fisherman; and he disappeared, returning in a few moments with a jar of water, for which he received the countryman's fifty cents.

Tom Atkinson

(Somerville Journal.) Tom Atkinson was just a crank. So all the people said. He had so many strange ideas. A-seething in his head. They looked on him with pitying smiles. Because he was so queer. And tapped their foreheads, and declared: "There's something lacking here." Well, Thomas nursed his strange ideas. And studied night and day. Until by constant, active thought. At last he found the way. He got the patent, safe and strong. To make the thing his own. And then one fine day he announced "The seeing telephone." Nobody laughs at Thomas now. He's richer than a bank. And none admit they ever thought That he was just a crank. But they were strictly accurate. When, seeing him so queer, They tapped their foreheads, and declared: "There's something lacking here!"

No Need of a Key

(San Francisco Chronicle.) It happened during the recent visit of Secretary Taft. Several of them were debating on the important affairs of the city, when one of the company suggested that it would be a graceful and courteous thing if those who preside over the municipality out at city hall would present the War Secretary with the keys of the city. "Well, I can't quite comprehend what good the keys of the city would be to Secretary Taft or any one else," quietly suggested Gavin McNab, "in view of the fact that San Francisco is a wide open town."
