POLITICAL GOSSIP.

ALREADY PEOPLE ARE TALK-ING ABOUT CANDIDATES.

The Chronicle Gives the Gist of Some of the Gossip about Politics That is Heard These Days.

The Congressional Convention of the but these are the principal ones, and will Third District will be held at Clinton, suffice for the present. We have con-July 27th.

Hon. W. H. Kitchin for Congress from are satisfied that so far as Cabarrus is the Second District. It says the people concerned, Capt. S. B. Alexander is the choice of her people. unanimous choice in the nominating convention."

The Oxford Day is strongly in favor of Capt. A. H. A. Williams, for Congress in the Fifth District and says: "Granville is the pivotal county of the Fifth Congressional District. Reverse the result of the last election in this county-and we believe firmly that Capt. Williams CAN reverse it-and the district is rescued from Republican control. The Democratic Nominating Convention have a plain duty before it. Our distinguished townsman" ought to and will be the nominee.

If the farming interests of the Third Congressional District desire to be represented in Congress by a man who is in thorough sympathy with them and who will be of practical benefit to their interest in the halls of Congress, they will nominate and elect Charles B. Aycock. If the test is fidelity to trust, unswerving integrity, unusual ability which is aiways devoted to the cause of the people, they will nominate him. If the test is the individual preference of the pe ple of the district he will be the p minee. - Wilson Advance.

It is published in the papers that Hon. Brower, Republican member of Congress for the 5th district, applied to his home Alliance for membership, and was rejected. Our Congressman, Mr. Ewart, we have been informed in Henderson, was more successful. It is said that he promised to surrender his law beense if admitted, and they took him Mr. Alexander, the head of the Alliance in this State, said a lawyer who would surrender (if he could) his license to join the Alliance was not fit to be a member of that body. The Alliance will Wonder of the Amphibious not be fooled by any such, however. They are level headed men, generally, and are sound on the principles of their great order. - Asheville Democrat.

Hon. Alfred Rowland. (Lumberton Robesonian.)

Colonel Rowland left on the Wilmington bound train this afternoon, after a few days visit to his family, to resume his duties at Washington. The geniality, affability, purity of act and speech, broad sympathy, and rare courage for which he is so justly admired and which makes him so popular wherever he is known, appears even more prominent than ever. It is very gratifying to his numerous friends to see him so strong and his health so fully restored. He has not looked so well in work for his constituents at this time.
Recognizing the well-known rule that the greatest influence as a Representative does not go along with much speaking on the floor, but is rather lost by it, he has won a place, we are told by those on the arena and know, of unusual power in the body, considing he has had only such an opportunity as is afforded only such an opportunity as is afforded by something over one term of experi-ence—ail, through his strong personal magnetism, high character and levelheadedness. His open, honest, manly face, backed up by so pure a life would be a power anywhere.

Capt. Alexander for Congress. The Concord Standard is out in a long editorial in favor of Capt. S. B. Alexander for Congress in the Sixth district. It gives six reasons for favoring him:

1st. He is well qualified for the poeition. Being a gentleman of fine sense, cool judgment and unimpeachable integrity, each of which is most desirable bring to the duties of the position, an experience in legislative work, having been for several terms a member of the State Senate for his county, that would render him, to a considerable extent familiar with the higher responsibilities and duties of congressional work and enable him at once to enter npon the effective discharge of those duties. In legislative work he has been an eminent success as is testified by the appreciation of his own people in sending him so often to Raleigh as their representative. He is now in the prime of life, and would thus devote to the work his heat talents. thus devote to the work his best talents and with a judgment that has been tried and found true.

2d. He is the choice of the farmers, a class that has long needed, and now demands a just recognition at the hands of the government; a class of our people, that while it is surpassed in importance by none, has recently awaked to the fact that they have for long a time allowed others to legislate for them, that their rights and privileges have been to a large extent ignored, and every other profession has been more benefitted by legislation than the farmers, and many of them at the expense of the farmers. This is the class that now most needs representation in our legislative halls, and there is not in the State of North Carolina a man better fitted to represent them than Capt. Alexander. From the very organization of the Alliance in this State, he has hold an honored place in its councils, and has ever exemplified the wisdom of those who placed him in those places. Being himself a farmer, and a most in telligent one, no one is better acquainted with the needs of that class than he, and no one has studied more faithfully the great economic questions of the day, the glaring evils now prevailing, and the remedies best calculated to relieve mir people from them.

3rd. The position will come to him A gain in income of unsought and unsolicited on his part. Again in assets of This is unique in a day when greed for office is almost unparalelled and not unfrequently leads a man to corrupt and unscrupulous methods to attain the coveted goal. While retiring and reticent in seeking the office, no one doubts that Capt. Alexander would be among the most zealous and energetic, should he be called by the votes of his countrymen to represent them.

4th. While it is admitted that Col. Rowland has been an able representative, it is a custom that amounts almost to an unwritten law that no one shall be SPRING AND SUMMER returned to Congress from this district more than once, and in case of a change, it is now our deal, and the western end of the district is entitled to the representative, especially as no better or more whole district.

Various other reasons might be given, versed with several representative farmers from different sections of the county, A full line of Children's Hats at all The Scotland Neck Democrat is out for as well as men of other professions, and
