

RALEIGH IN BRIEF.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS IN AND AROUND THE CAPITAL.

Short Items of News Gathered on the Fly by the Chronicle's Reporters.

The fence around the city cemetery is being handsomely painted.

Thousands of baskets for grape shipping purposes are being received here every day.

The west bound afternoon train was pretty well loaded with delegates to the Durham convention and members of the Press association.

Two women, Florence Snow, white, and Mary McCloud, colored, were sent to jail by the Mayor yesterday for keeping a disorderly house.

The Juvenile circus will give another performance in Morson and Denson's academy grounds to-night for the benefit of the Soldiers' Home.

A prominent grape grower said yesterday that the like of June bugs was never seen in this country before, and that they were working considerable havoc to some of the vineyards.

The Charlotte News says, "Rev. Thos. Dixon, the famous young divine, has bought a beautiful home on Staten Island, and his family has moved there. His place contains five acres and is one of the handsomest on the island."

Mr. W. C. Stronach, Secretary and Treasurer, reports that the amount of good notes and cash in the Soldiers' Home treasury is over $4,000. In addition to this, he is advised that the ladies of Wilmington have about $400 which they are ready to turn over.

Mr. James A. Higgs, one of the best and most popular commercial men in this whole Union, offers to give ten dollars to the farmer bringing the first bale of cotton to the Raleigh market this season. Norris & Carter have the premium in hand and will turn it over to the party entitled to it.

Weather Report.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23.—For North Carolina: Showers on Thursday; slightly cooler.

For Virginia: Showers; stationary temperature.

Raleigh yesterday: Maximum temperature 83; minimum temperature 56; rainfall 0.00 inches.

Local forecast for Raleigh and vicinity for to-day: Cloudy and threatening; soon followed by rain; stationary temperature; southeasterly winds.

Got it Bad.

A citizen stopped us the other day to tell us that he was going to be a candidate—an independent candidate at that. He said he was a Democrat and always expected to be; but, said he, the Republicans are just completely whipped out, and can't do anything, and don't expect to try to do anything; don't even expect to put any candidates in the field; and they have given me to understand that if I will run as an independent the last one of them will vote for me. They don't ask me to be a Republican—Oh, no; but just run as an independent, so they can have somebody to vote for, as they are so badly demoralized they can't hope to do anything.

As I heard him and looked at him, I thought to myself, "Old fellow you may not realize it just now, but as sure as you are a man you are going as straight to the radicals as a so-called independent ever went."

Independent, indeed! No man is independent who sells out; and a man sells out when he does a thing for a consideration. The consideration in this case is, "We will vote for you if you will oppose the regular nominee of your party, and run as an independent."

Raleigh's Lively Juveniles.

The juveniles of Raleigh made the city lively yesterday. They are a bright and enthusiastic lot and can have more fun and do more good at the same time than any set of boys or girls in this commonwealth.

Yesterday they had a regular rattle-tat-tat-smattle-de-bang on the street by way of advertising a game of baseball for the benefit of the Soldiers' Home. They played the game to a small but appreciative audience, and turned over $3.65 as the net receipts.

When they came from the park it was with a hoop-la, hoorah and a whoop; and about the same time a merry party of young pic-nickers came in in ambulances, straw wagons, &c., taking the streets by storm.

Last night the juveniles had their great circus for the benefit of the Home. They drew a big crowd, and gave a brilliant performance.

Off to the Convention.

A good contingent of the Wake delegation to the Congressional Convention left yesterday afternoon for Durham. Among those who went were Messrs. A. C. Green, J. A. Askew, Capt. Jno. Smith and R. J. Powell. Hon. B. H. Bunn and Hon. J. C. Scarborough were also on the train when it pulled out.

Pardoned.

The Governor yesterday pardoned a man named Truett out of the penitentiary. He was convicted of attempted criminal assault on a young girl at the Spring term of Alleghany court, 1887, and sentenced to twelve years. The pardon was granted on a recommendation of the Judge and Solicitor, and on the statement that the girl and her father and mother did not wish him imprisoned any longer.

The Biggest Yet.

Let everybody remember the big Old Fellows' Excursion that leaves this city for Richmond, August 13th. The train will leave Raleigh at 7.30 a. m., and stay in Richmond nearly a day and a half.

Local Preachers' Conference.

The twenty-first annual session of the Local Ministers' Conference of North Carolina is being held this week at Rutherford College. The annual address was read by the president, Rev. Dr. R. H. Whitaker, yesterday morning. It was not an address of suggestions, but was a transparent and above reproach.

Among other things Dr. Whitaker said: We come together to exchange experiences, to tell of labors wrought, of trials borne, of crosses taken up, and, above all, to bear testimony to the freedom and fullness of gospel grace, to the end that we may be better and more successful laborers in the future than we have been in the past.

We must not allow ourselves to fall into the error that, because we are laymen and have to trade with the world for our living, we are excusable in adopting the methods of the world to make money. That would be a fatal mistake on our part, and I take the liberty, at this point, of warning my dear brethren to be careful in their dealings with the world. Our lives must be transparent. Our dealings with men must be frank, fair and honest; and we should, as far as possible, keep out of political wrangles.

Pensions for Mrs. Freemont and Mrs. McClellan. [By United Press.] WASHINGTON, July 22.—The Senate committee on pensions reported favorably to-day the bill to pension the widows of General John C. Freemont and General George B. McClellan at the rate of $2,600 per annum each.

DIDN'T HOLD THE COURT.

Judge Whitaker Thinks He Cannot Legally Hold Rockingham and Stokes Courts.

It will be remembered that the death of Judge Shipp, who was holding the Superior courts of the Ninth Judicial district, occurred before the circuit was completed. No court had been held in Stokes or Rockingham county, and Judge Shipp's death made some provision necessary for holding these courts.

In case of a vacant Judgeship, the duty of filling the place devolves upon the Governor who fills the position by appointment. In this case the Governor had announced that he would not make an appointment to the vacancy cause by the death of Judge Shipp, but would wait until the meeting of the Judicial Convention of the Eleventh district, and he would then appoint the nominee of the convention.

In the meantime, the time for holding the above courts would occur and the Governor sought to provide for them. He asked the Attorney-General if there was law authorizing the Chief Executive to appoint a judge from one district to hold the courts of another district.

The Attorney-General's opinion was that this power was vested in the Governor by section 11, of article 4 of the Constitution which reads as follows: "Every Judge of the Superior Court shall reside in the district for which he is elected, * * * but in case of any protracted illness of the Judge assigned to preside in any district, or if any other unavoidable accident to him by reason of which he shall be unable to preside, the Governor may require any Judge to hold one or more specified terms in said district, in lieu of the Judge assigned to hold the courts in said district."

Acting on the opinion of the Attorney-General, the Governor appointed Judge Whitaker to hold Rockingham and Stokes courts, vice Judge Shipp deceased.

The time for holding Rockingham court was on the 22nd inst, and Judge Whitaker went to Wentworth for that purpose.

He opened the court and heard one case which went against the defendant. The defendant appealed from the issue on the ground that Judge Whitaker had no right to hold the court.

Judge Whitaker took up this question for consideration and invited the whole bar to discuss it.

The upshot of the whole business was a general agreement that Judge Whitaker had no right to hold the court, whereupon he declared the term continued and left the bench.

The Judge will file a written opinion in regard to the matter in the Supreme court, and says he will pursue the same course at Stokes court.

This probably ends the matter of courts for these two counties until a judge shall be elected for the district. There can be no appeal proceedings, for before the matter should be settled, the time for holding the courts would have passed and the question would not be a practical one.

The regular procedure in this case would have been for Judge Whitaker to have gone on with the courts, and to have let any dissatisfied plaintiff or defendant find whatever relief he thought he was entitled to by an appeal to the higher tribunal for a settlement of the question as to whether the court was legally held or not. As the matter stands the question is mooted, and there seems to be no way to decide it.

Marriages.

Dr. L. B. McBrayer, of the Western Hotel, of this city, and Miss Cordie Deaver, daughter of R. M. Deaver, mayor of West Asheville, were married yesterday afternoon at 7 o'clock. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride, by Rev. W. A. Nelson, pastor of the First Baptist church. It was a quiet affair, only the immediate friends of the pair being present. Mr. and Mrs. McBrayer will make their home at the Western Hotel.—Asheville Citizen.

At the residence of the bride's mother, in Hillsboro, on Wednesday, July 23d, Mr. Thomas P. Rouse, of LaGrange, and Miss Lula H. Pell were united in marriage. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Puckett. The marriage was a quiet one, only a few special friends being present. The couple passed through this city yesterday afternoon en route for LaGrange, the home of the groom.

We Want to Talk to You. About jewelry for just a few moments. First, do you ever buy any kind of jewelry? If you do, you of course always want something that is good, and still don't want to pay a fortune for it. We have for some time been considering the advisability of establishing a special department in our store for jewelry alone, and to keep a full and complete line of all kind of goods, and sell them at figures that will enable you to have something of your year's salary after buying your wife a brooch or set of ear-rings. We intend to keep first class goods at all times, and we believe that we have made arrangements with one of the largest houses in the country that will enable us to offer you inducements that have not been offered in this line of goods in the city heretofore. We invite your attention especially to this department in our store, and we are sure you will be surprised and glad to see such an elegant display of Jewelry at SWINDELL'S.

THE WORLD'S COMMERCE.

NEW YORK, July 23.—Messrs. Hubbard, Price & Company, in their cotton circular to-night say: The distant portions, both here and in Liverpool are substantially lower, and have been freely sold by those who have been waiting for the drought to put them still higher. The near positions here have also been conspicuously weak, the decline in August at one time having carried that month down 11.91 while July, though maintaining its premiums, declined relatively as much.

WHAT GOV. FOWLE SAYS: Hot Springs, Sept. 2, 1889.—"In 1860 I was a visitor at this delightful spot. For twenty-nine years the recollections of that visit were constantly in my mind. Again it has been my good fortune to visit within the circle of these beautiful mountains, and I can consistently declare that nowhere in America have I found a sweeter or more restful spot than these springs. It is the Gem of the Mountains. In air, baths and waters it has no superiors. May it continue to prosper, giving health and strength and rest to the sick and weary, and adding a more abundant enjoyment to the robust and healthy."

HEALTHIEST PLACE IN AMERICA.

GOOD REASON For Patronizing the Moseley House.

1—I am pleasantly located, near all that is of interest and on the main street, where all the elite of the city pass, and opposite the large dry goods house of W. H. & R. S. Tucker & Co.

2—I find everything neat and clean at the Moseley House, and feel as if at home, for they make me so.

3—I find the Dining Hall for Ladies and Gentlemen well cared for and as pleasant as any seaside resort—no flies, and the Rotating Fly Fans keep one cool and pleasant, while I can enjoy one of the good meals you can always get at the Moseley House, for 50c cents.

4—An enterprise that the travelling public should appreciate and patronize is the Moseley House. (July 17-tf)
