THE REGULATION RADICAL CARD.

MR. ISAAC R. STRAYHORN, the Radical candidate for Solicitor in the Fifth District, has sent the CHRONICLE one of his circulars announcing himself a candidate for re-election as Solicitor. Of course he is an "Independent candidate" in his card, though everybody knows that he is a Radical and has the same assurance of Radical support as if he had been nominated in a regular negro (same as Radical) convention. Most Radical candidates for office this year are Independents. He gives the customary regulation taffy to the farmers. He is himself a "horny handed" tiller of the soil, and says that he lived upon his farm and chiefly engaged himself in conducting its operations until elected Solicitor. We thought he was a practising lawyer before he was elected Solicitor, but now he says he was "chiefly" a farmer-and he says that for the ear of the Alliance. The objection to Mr. STRAYHORN is that he is a Radical and that he tries to make the people believe he is an Independent. Why? He knows the negroes and their white allies will vote for him anyhow and he is seeking to deceive unwary Alliancemen. The CHRONICLE does not believe his "chiefly engaged in farming" and his "independent" candidacy will deceive the farmers of the Fifth district. They will vote for the Democratic nominee, CAPT. E. S. PARKER, of Alamance, who in ability, industry, cleverness and character is admirably suited to perform the responsible duties of the position.

JAY GOULD views the passage of the McKinley tariff complacently. Interviewed by the New York Word, he says:

If the McKinley tariff increases the cost of some articles people will simply use less of them. Take wool, for instance. If the tariff on wool makes clothing cost more a person will get along with one suit where he would otherwise have two.

What does he care? How does he know the suffering that one suit instead of two will involve upon the poor?

THE farmer who wants an old-fashioned gun for the squirrel or the crow finds the price advanced a little over 66% per tent., but the "swell" sportsman who comes down in season to Nag's Head, Kitty Hawk and High Point with his "Manton" or "Paragon" finds it only 8 per cent. higher in the schednle in the McKinley tariff. - Fayetteville Observer.

THE McKinley tariff will add 10 per cent. to the price of common shoes. Let the poor man thank God that acorns have been put on the free list.

The Chronicle has never impugned the motive of any honest Republican. It has never said that they were scoundrels. We did print the statement of Mr. W. Y. Jones, a prominent and well known Republican of Granville county who, withdrawing from the party, said "Two out of three white Republicans in North Carolina are scoundrels." That was his observation, and he had had excellent opportunities for judging. But it is not the honest Republicans we have denounced. We never denounce any honest man, however widely we differ from him. The men we have been attacking in the Republican party are those office-hunting fellows whose Republicanism is "office-deep and dollarwide," who have sold out for office. They are a sorry set of fellows and no epithets would be too severe to apply to them. We would not mention them in the same breath with honest men, however misguided we think they are. We cannot understand how a white man who loves publican since the passage of the Force bill and the wicked sectionalism of the McKinley bill; and we are glad to know that many Republicans are leaving the come and will have the consciousness of knowing that they are performing a and patriotic Republicans are cutting aloof from the party which they have are becoming opened to its hatred of the South and all men in it, and they are very properly announcing that they have been deceived by Republican prommade, they cannot consistently support the party longer. We are persuaded There was no inclination to applaud; that there are many others who will fol- there was no desire for applause. low their example.

THE SITUATION IN SOUTH CAR-OLINA.

The worst living enemy of the South to-day is A. C. HASKELL, who is running as an independent candidate for Governor in South Carolina against CAPT. TILLMAN. He is walking on a volcano, and the trouble is that if it burst, as it will if he is successful, it will not only 9th District—W. H. H. Cowles of Wilkes. Puln him but swallow up all his people in the vortex as well. In 1887, A. C. HASKELL spoke truly when, as a Democrat, he was a candidate for office. He said:

"There is only one way by which we can hope to maintain an honest government, and every true citizen is bound to adhere to that, whatever his opinions of persons or local questions, and that is to obey the voice of the majority of the Democratic party. If he does not he is a deserter, and should be so treated."

He spoke truly then, and to quote his own language he is now a "deserter." Let him "be so treated"—give him a dose of his own medicine. In saying that, we do not wish to be understood as endorsing all of TILLMAN's methods. He did much that deserves harsh criticism, but he fought his battle inside the organization and won. Those who lost are traitors to oppose him now when they know it means to turn the State over to the negroes. Commenting on the South Carolina situation the Charlotte Chronicle speaks thus forcibly to HASKELL and his bolting crowd:

Don't scuttle the good old Democratic ship because you think pirates are in command for this trip. They have got to bring her into the Democratic port at Columbia, where the ship's log may be

THE DIFFERENCE.

In the MILLS bill the Democrats removed all the tax from tobacco so that farmers could sell it as freely as wheat or cotton. This would have been of inthe McKinley bill the tax is reduthe machinery which so annoys the far few manufacturers. Its burdens will mer is kept in operation. CAPT. J. M. DAVIS, who reprented Granville in the Legislature, has left the Republican party recently because it betrayed its promises to repeal this tax. Farmers object to the tax, but they chiefly object to the intricate machinery of its collection and the needless restrictions put upon its sale. Section 26 of the McKinley bill reads as follows, and every tobacco grower will see at a glance that it does him no good:

Section 26. "That it shall be the duinternal revenue officer, or the authorized agent of the treasury department, to furnish said officer or agent a true and complete statement, verified by oath, of all his sales of leaf tobacco, the number of hogsheads, cases or pounds, of the person to whom sold and the place to which it is shipped. And every farmer or planter who wilfully refuses to furnish such information, or who knowingly makes false statements as to any of the facts aforesaid, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding five hundred dol-

THE McKINLEY tariff bill increases the cost of common hats 16 per cent, but at the same time it helps the poor by putting cat-gut, whip-gut or worm-gut the way they show their friendship for on the free list. The poor man's hat the laboring man. may be high, but he can console himself by the music made by cheap cat-gut.

THE Radicals up in Wilkes are abusing the Wilkesboro Chronicle. Strange, is'nt it, that no selfish, office-seeking Radical likes a newspaper called the CHRONICLE? Reason: The Chronicles tell the truth | nominees. There is no safety in any about them.

(Statesville Landmark)

If a discriminating stranger, without having heard the name or known the station of the speaker, had dropped into the court house at this place Tuesday and heard Hon. Matt. W. Ransom from the first to the last word of the address which he delivered here that day, he would have said at its conclusion, "That man should be in the Senate of the United States." While yet under the immediate spell which he threw around all who heard him, and while the music of his voice yet rang in the ear, we would not have undertaken to put on paper an estimate of this effort and invited judgment upon it as a temperate, considerate opinion. Thirty-six hours afterwards we do not hesitate to do so. Looked at in whatever light one choo ses to regard it, this speech was entirely great. It was purely an intellectual performance. There was no appeal to prejudice or passion. The speaker brought a message to the people, and he addressed it to their intellectual faculties. His manner was at no time declamatory. He never left the path of true conservatism. He indulged in no jest, North Carolina can continue to be a Re- | employed no sophistry, and at no moment dropped from the high key on which he pitched his argument. For ises, and now that the last Cougress has | minutes at a time the stillness was brokdeliberately broken all the promises en by nothing save the speaker's voice. A deep solemnity was upon the people.

> The speech lifted men up. It impressed them with the dignity and responsibility of citizenship. It declared unto careful preparation, always realizing that the American birth-right must be tical. as sacredly guarded as was the ark of the covenant in the devious windings of

The sentiment was high-this has already been said. The diction was faultless, the manner of delivery incomparable. No language could so aptly describe the man and his marvelously impressive and effective utterance as that which Ben Johnson employed to describe Lord Bacon:

"There happened in my time one noble speaker who was full of gravity in his speaking. His language, where he could spare or pass by a jest, was nobly censorious. No man ever spoke more neatly, more pressly, more weightily, or suffered less emptiness, less idleness, in what he uttered. No member of his speech but consisted of his own graces His hearers could not cough or turn aside from him without loss * * * The fear of every man that heard him was lest he should make an end."

As to the oratory, pure and simple, "no member of his speech but consists of his own graces." The eloquence was the stately eloquice of the Senate-not the thin rheotoric of the rostrum. The manner of the speaker was the poetry of action, and what measure his magnificent presence contributed to the witchery he flang about his audience it is difficult to say. Surely none who saw and heard this man on Tuesday but felt his heart swell with pride as he reflected that this polished orator, this profound logician, stood for North Carolina in the highest deliberative body on earth. The people of Iredell will be most fortunate if they ever hear this great oration equalled. They need not hope to ever hear it surpassed.

HOW THE FARMERS ARE TAXED.

(Extract from Gov. Hill's Speech.)

The Republican Congress has made the living of the American farmer even more expensive than it has hitherto been. It has heavily taxed nearly every article of wear, many of his agricultural implements, his building materials, and estimable value to the farmers. Under his household furniture. Protection of the McKinley sort means the taxation of ced from S to 6 cents a pound, and all the great body of consumers to enrich a fall particularly upon the poor. The people are to be taxed $60,000,000 for three years in order that a few manufacturers may experiment in this country with the tin-plate industry. If you think this a partisan statement, read what a member of Harrison's cabinet says about it in a recent advertisement:

"Tinware is advancing in cost and very soon the manufacturers will have their way and you and I will have to pay very much more. In view of this state of things we made, some time since, a large purchase of kitchen tinware at what was a low price then and ty of every farmer or planter producing | would be far lower now, in the face of and selling tobacco, on demand of any | two advances in the makers' price-lists. "JOHN WANAMAKER."

A QUESTION OF TASTE.

(Person County Courier.)

Mr. Brower said in his speech here that he would vote for Jim Harris, a negro lawyer of Raleigh, in preference to Vance if he were the choice of the Republican caucus, but, let us be thankful, Person county folks are not after the order of Mr. Brower.

Bank checks formerly paid a tax and it brought a large revenue to the United States government. But "taxes had to be reduced" and the Republicans took off the tax on bank checks and left it on salt, blankets and woollen good. That's

THE only hope of the Radical leaders is to divide the Democratic party, and they therefore endorse and assist all independent Democrats. Let all Democrats, whatever their disappointments, stand squarely by the regular Democratic other way.
