ADJOURNED SINE DIE.

THE SENATE BRINGS ITS EXTRAORDINARY SESSION TO A CLOSE.

Vice-President Stevenson, the Presiding Officer, Makes Some Appropriate Closing Remarks Before the Final Adjournment.

By Southern Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 15.—Although confidently expected by the Senators at the close of yesterday's session that they would be able to adjourn sine die to-day, the prospects of reaching the end are not so bright this morning. The judicial nominations sent in yesterday will be reported to the Senate today from the judiciary committee, which approved them all at a meeting this morning, but a single objection to any one of them would prevent confirmation today and send them over until Monday.

Appointments Yesterday.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—The President today nominated Joseph S. Miller, of West Virginia, Commissioner of Internal Revenue; John W. Biddle, of Minnesota, Secretary of the Legation of the United States to Turkey. Miller's is the first case of reappointment by Mr. Cleveland of the same man to the office held in a former term. The Senate has confirmed the following nominations: Alex W. Terrell, of Texas, Minister Plenipotentiary to Turkey; John W. Biddle, of Minnesota, Secretary of the Legation to Turkey; Edward H. SHE WALKS OVER THE OAK RIDGE TEAM EASILY.

A One-Sided Game Yesterday at Chapel Hill—The Score Was Fourteen to Nothing.

By Southern Associated Press

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., April 15.—Special—The University of North Carolina nine had a walk over this afternoon in the game here with Oak Ridge, defeating them easily by a score of 14 to nothing. The Varsity boys fielded beautifully and their batting was heavy. The visitors were unable to hit Kenan and their fielding was poor. The following composed the teams with their positions: University C. F. Robertson, Oldham C. Devine first base, Gray, second; Stanley, short stop; Busbee, captain; R. F. Moyce, L. F. Mason, third base; Kenan, pitcher. Oak Ridge: S. S. Johnson, P. Smith, Ogburn, second base; R. Stafford, Captain; C. Jessup, third base; King first base and H. Hampton, right field; Stafford W. C. F. and first base; L. F. Jones and Robertson made the prettiest play of the evening, making a long run and catching a fly almost over the fence. Masons fielding and throwing were features of the game. The batting of Oldham, Kenan and Mason deserve special note. All interest centers on the championship game at Raleigh next Friday between the University of North Carolina and Wake Forest. Both teams are in fine trim, and a splendid game is anticipated. Base hits, University 11, Oak Ridge 2; base hits, Robertson and Mason. Errors, University 2, Oak Ridge 10. Stolen bases, Robertson and Gray, 2; Oldham, Stanly and Jessup 1; struck out by Kenan 4, by Smith 3, by King 1. Passed balls, Stafford 2; base on balls of Smith 4, off of King 1; hit by pitcher, Kenan will pitches King 2; double play, Ogburn to King; left on base, Oakridge 3, University 8. Time of game, two hours. Umpire, J. Crawford Biggs, of the University.

A Dreadful Fall.

Charlotte News.

Mr. J. H. Myrover, of the Observer editorial staff, met with a very serious accident last night, but one which may happily not prove fatal. In a somnambulistic freak, he stepped from the window of his room in Central Hotel, out on to the court, and from the court he stepped to the roof of the kitchen, a two-story building, and fell from that to the brick paved yard below, a distance of thirty feet. The affair occurred at a little before 11 o'clock last night, but it was not until two o'clock this morning that he was discovered. At that hour Syd, the night watchman at the hotel, heard groans, and on making an investigation found Mr. Myrover unconscious and covered with blood in the yard in rear of the hotel. He was at once conveyed to his room and Dr. Register was soon in attendance upon him. The doctor found that no bones were broken, but feared that Mr. Myrover might have received internal injuries. Since then no symptoms have developed to indicate that he has sustained injuries of this kind, which leads his many friends to hope that he will soon be himself again. He rested well this morning and further than an acute sickness, seemed to suffer no effects from his experience. He has been the object of much solicitude all day by his many friends in Charlotte, and has been receiving every kindness and attention that it has been possible to bestow.

The James City trouble.

The New Bern Journal of yesterday says: Sheriff Lane made a formal demand Friday upon the people of James City to move from the property, but they declined to do so, and said they would stay until put off by the power of the law. All has now been done in the interest of harmony that could be expected and that the colored people have reached such a determination is deplorable. Unless they quickly reconsider their decision it can only end in trouble upon top of trouble for them.

A Victory for Wake Forest.

WAKE FOREST, N. C., April 15.—Special—The A. and M. College baseball team met Wake Forest's team on the grounds of the latter today. The contest resulted in a victory for the home team by a score of 28 to 4.
