A Threatening Outlook in Berlin.

By Cable.

BRUSSELS, April 18.—The night passed more quietly than expected, but the outlook is still threatening In Antwerp today the outlook is more threatening than yesterday, and this despite the fact that extraordinary military precaution had been taken to preserve peace. Among the more prominent of the agitators in Antwerp are a number of anarchists. Of these, two, Fabry and Walters, made themselves particularly obnoxious to the police and today were placed under arrest The striking dock laborers began their disorderly demonstrations again this morning They took possession of the dock and marched along the water front attacking men at work, compelling many to quit. The police in force finally ordered the rioters to disperse. A short conflict ensued during which the police used their swords and revolvers. Finally the mob scattered.

Eight Hundred Lobyists.

By Southern Associated Press.

MADISON, Wis, April 18.—The most remarkable and largest lobby that ever journeyed to Madison to pass or kill a bill, arrived here shortly after noon yesterday. It consisted of 800 citizens of Waukesha who went to plead with Governor Peck to veto the Pipe Line bill which passed both branches of the legislatare by a bare majority.

All banks closed at ten o'clock at Waukesha and the entire population cheered the train as it pulled out of the depot. They simply over ran the State House, and cornered Governor Peck, who assured them that he would carefully consider the bill.

A Destructive Fire in Berlin.

By Cable.

BERLIN, April 18.—Fire started last night in the eastern wing of the Hezen Zollern palace at Sigmaringen, and did an immense amount of damage before the flames were extinguished. The palace stands on a rock rising abruptly from the Danube and it is extremely difficult to get sufficient water to the altitude of the palace. The fire burned throughout the night, and that part of the structure known as Furstenbau was completely gutted. The palace contained a great number of priceless works of art. Many were destroyed.

An Exodus of Senators From Washington.

By Southern Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, D C, April 18.—The adjournment of the Senate has been followed by a general exodus of Senators from the city, and the capitol building has a very deserted look. A number of Senators are hidden in their rooms behind locked doors, attending to correspondence and seeking to avoid visitors and office seekers. A number have arranged to witness the naval review and will leave this week for the rendezvous. Others are preparing to depart on various investigating trips that were ordered during the closing hours of the session.

VESSELS BY HUNDREDS

CARRY SPECTATORS BY THOUSANDS TO HAMPTON ROADS.

The Great Marine Spectacle Viewed By Armies of Excursionist Who Arrive On All Conceivable Kinds of Crafts.

By Southern Associated Press.

FORT MONROE, Va, April 18.—The second day of the naval rendezvous finds the weather cool, clear and beautiful, and all that could be desired by both those on shore and on fleet. The Roads are beginning to fill up with steamers carrying thousands of excursionists from Baltimore, Richmond and Norfolk, and numbers of small steam craft of every description gaily decorated with bunting and flags of foreigners, loaded to the gunwales with passengers who show their appreciation of the ships as they pass down one long line of the American vessels and then back by the British, Russian and French ships, by gaily waiving handkerchiefs, parasols and small banners. Occasionally an officer on watch steps to the side of his vessel and returns the salutes, which calls forth more waving and cheering from those on the little pleasure craft.

The harbor this morning is dotted with every imaginable description of vessel, from the modern man of-war to the oyster canoe of the darkey, who paddles his party around the vessels and apparently enjoys the sight as much as his more fortunate fellow-countrymen who crowd the deck of the larger passenger steamers, or who are being lavishly entertained in the cabin of some luxuriant yacht These latter craft have begun to arrive, and by tomorrow several more will be here with their loads of enthusiastic spectators.

This was the first morning since the arrival of the Russian fleet last week that there has not been great firing off of guns in the fleet and at the fort to welcome some new arrival.

FORT MONROE, Va., April 18.—The French flagship Arethus is expected some time during the afternoon, and the fast Argentine Cruiser, now on her way, will probably drop in about the same time.

Admiral Gherardi begins to entertain visitors at dinner this evening on board the dispatch boat Dolphin, which has been especially fitted out for the proper accomodation of the distinguished Admirals and Commanders who will be dined by our Commander in Chief during the week. The junior officers of our ships, also entertain the junior officers this evening at dinner.

The Cotton and Agricultural Interests.

By Southern Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—During the closing hours of the Senate among other contingent expenses authorized was an appropriation of $5,000 for the committee on agriculture to investigate the causes for the depression that exists in cotton and agricultural industries. The committee will meet tomorrow and apportion the appropriation between the sub-committees in charge of two branches of inquiry. It has already been agreed to that Senator George as chairman and Bate and Proctor shall institute inquiry in the direction of cotton and other fibrous products and that Peffer, as chairman, and Roach should conduct that devoted to wheat and other cereals. These two committees will make personal inspections of the territory in which these two great products, cotton and wheat, are most produced and submit the report to the next session, which will indicate what legislation is necessary, in their opinion to remove the evils that are now claimed to exist.

A telegram was today received from Secretary Hoke Smith, from Athens, Ga., stating that he was ill with a severe cold, but would return to Washington in a day or two. Since his appointment as Secretary of the Interior, Smith has given from fifteen to eighteen hours a day to his official duties and in consequence he is overworked and greatly in need of rest.

Committed for Contempt.

By Cable.

LONDON, April 18.—The Dowager Duchess of Sutherland was today committed to Holloway prison under sentence of imprisonment for six weeks imposed by Sir Francis Jeune, president of the court of probate, for contempt of court. She was also sentenced to pay a fine of 250 pounds. The Dowager Duchess had obtained permission to inspect the documents in the possession of the court and destroyed one of the documents.

Brewery Burned.

New Berne Journal.

Mr. E. Danenburg's beer bottling establishment was burned last night about 10:30 o'clock. The machinery and stock were valued at about $10,000, some insurance, the building at about $3,500. It belonged to Mrs. P. Holland, and there was not any insurance on it. The building was of brick and the walls are standing. It is thought that considerable of the machinery is not injured past use.

Note from Washington.

By Southern Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Mr. L. Renick of Ga. formerly of the comptroller's office in the treasury department, has been appointed chief of the bureau of statistics of the State department.

The statement is made that the treasury contemplate the advisability of stopping payment of gold coin for treasury notes issued under act of July 14 1890. Under that act the government was compelled to purchase each month 4,500,000 ounces of silver, and at the same time issue notes for bullion received. These notes are termed "treasury notes" and on the face of them they declare that they are "redeemable in coin." There are said to be $130 million of these notes in circulation, and according to springer's report to the last Congress on the circulation of the treasury, about $21 million of these notes have been presented since last July and gold paid out for them or at a rate of 4 million a month.

It is asserted that it is this class of notes that has been largely presented by New York brokers in exchange for gold. No verification or contradiction of the statement that it is in contemplation to issue an order suspending the payment of gold on treasury notes of 1890 can be obtained from Secretary Carlisle.

The President has not decided whether or not he will attend the naval ball in New York, April 27th, but it is probable that he will do so. He has placed all arrangements for his visit to the review in the hands of Secretary Herbert, and as Herbert has the interest of the naval ball at heart, it is likely that he will arrange for Cleveland to go there. This is as near a positive statement as can be obtained on this matter.

Several small offers of gold have been received from the West. These offers aggregase less than $500,000 and will not appear on the treasury books for several days. At eastern points a slight increase in gold is noted, free gold having increased $25,000, making the total as shown by books of the treasury today $65,-560. There is said to have been also a slight increase in New York, which will not be shown until tomorrow. Information received at the treasury indicates that gold shipments for next Saturday will not be heavy and none may go out at all.

OFF TO CHICAGO.

Six Tanks of Ocean Inhabitants From Morehead for the World's Fair.

The New Berne Journal says: The United States Fish Commission car which went down to Morehead a week ago after live salt water fish for the Columbian Exposition passed through yesterday morning with its six tanks filled with the specimens secured. Mr. J. Frank Ellis, superintendent of the Commissions car and Messenger service and Capt. M. Gleason were along with the exhibits. Hon. Marshall McDonald, Fish Commissioner will join them in Virginia and accompany them to Chicago.

The gentlemen express themselves well pleased with the results of the trip, having been more successful such as they desired than they anticipated.

Of edible fish in the tanks there were spotted trout, gray trout hog fish, whiting, spots, croakers, tautogs blue fish and flounders.

Non edible fish were represented by specimens of nurse fish, skates, stingarees, burr fish, toad fish and gars.

In the line of crustaceans there were king crabs, stone crabs, sea urchins, fiddleps, conchs, and wells.

Specimens of green and red algea and others s a flora attached to rocks and shells were also being taken along.

This is the first experimental trip of the car. The distance 1200 miles from Morehead to Chicago, is the longest that an attempt has ever been made to transport live salt water fish and new methods have been brought into use for the occasion and it remains to be seen what the result will be.

The water is kept in commotion as we stated in a fromer article by means of an engine at the centre of the car and kept at a temperature of from 58 to 64 degrees by passing through a cooler that being considered the desirable temperature

The seven carloads of salt water taken up from Morehead to Chicago a short time ago is considered a perfect success. After being filtered it is clearer even than when taken from the "briny deep" An aquarium at the World's Fair will hold 25 carloads of fish and they can be seen with perfect clearness by all visitors

Members of the service will ere long make another trip to Morehead seeking specially for kinds of fish that are not well known. There are four cars in the service work. Two of them are now engaged in getting fresh water fish from the Mississippi river.

THE JOHN BULL TRAIN.

RECEIVES AN OVATION ON ITS WAY TO CHICAGO.

The Queer Little Engine and Cars, the First Ever Used on This Side of the Atlantic, Puffing Their Way to the World's Fair--Enthusiasm Along the Route.

By Southern Associated Press

NEW YORK, April 17.—The queerest railroad train that has been seen in many a long year drew out of the Pennsylvania depot, Jersey City, at 10:16 this morning amid the cheers of a big crowd of curiosity-seekers. The train consisted of engine No. 1 of the Pennsylvania Railway, and cars Nos. 3 and 5. Engine No. 1 of the Pennsylvania road is also engine No. 1 of the United States, being the first railway locomotive used on this side of the Atlantic. It is called "John Bull," and started this morning to puff its way laboriously to the World's Fair, where it will be an object of wonder to millions

The train is manned by veteran railroaders. The conductor, W. T. Bailey, has been a passenger conductor since 1859.

The journey between Jersey City and Philadelphia was a continued ovation. Thousands of enthusiastic spectators gathered at every station and lustily greeted the antique conveyance.

The locomotive made but slow progress, however, because of the inability to keep up steam with soft bituminous coal, and several stops had to be made.

When Broad street station, Philadelphia, was reached at 5:42 o'clock, the enthusiasm of the multitude knew no bounds They made frantic efforts to board the train, but were kept back by a squad of policemen. Cheer after cheer went up and the demonstration lasted until the train, five minutes later, backed out of the station and proceeded to the yaads in West Philadelphia. At the latter place "John Bull" was supplied with cannel coal, which it was thought would make steam faster. It was 8:13 o'clock when the train left for Chicago

HARRISBURG, Pa, April 18.—The ovations tendered the "John Bull" train increased as the little locomotive and two ancient coaches proceed westward. After leaving Philadelphia last evening large crowds gathered along the banks overlooking the Pennsylvania Railroad in the Quaker City and cheered lustily as the "Johnny Bull" puffed along in the noisy struggle to maintain the fifteen-mile rate. The engine's responses were its shrill whistles. Through the sparsely-settled country a good speed was kept up although stops were frequent, and the escorting special train, was many times obliged to pull sharply in order to save the "Bull" train and its coaches for the inspection of the World's Fair visitors.

All stations were crowded and the gatherings, by cheering and waving of handkerchiefs, wished speed to the "Bull train" as it drew away. Downingtown, Coatesville and Lancaster turned out en masse, but the greatest crowd after leaving Philadelphia awaited the arrival of "Johnny Bull" at Harrisburg. Here the depot gates were opened for for the townspeople who took every advantage of the opportunity to inspect the quaint train from wheels to roof.

South Carolina Whisky Law.

By Southern Associated Press.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 18.—The fight against the dispensary law in this State was brought up in the Supreme court today on the case from Chester where two bar-keepers ask that the city be compelled to isue them license for a year. The new liquor law goes in effect July 1, and the town refused to issue license later than that date. The court reserved its decision until May 1st, when the argument will be heard.
