RALEIGH, N. C., THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 1, 1893.

NO. 61.

Winston Female College.
Special—Ar Library happy and interesting commencement of Salem College was the class reunion this morning and the Alumnae Association meeting this afternoon. The latter was attended by a large number of former pupils from various sections of the South. The programme was carried out as follows: Call to order; address of welcome by the president; report of secretary and treasurer; short address and letters; report from class of '85; report from class of '88; S. F. C. Alumnae song, 1893, words by Miss Gertrude E. Jenkins, now of Wilmington, N. C.; paper on Alumnae endowment fund, Miss Annie L. Pittman; general business; short religious exercises; love feast conducted by Bishop Ronthaler.

There was a social reunion to-night and a musical concert given. The programme consisted of vocal solos, duets, choruses, instrumental music and recitations, making one of the most creditable concerts ever given by this school.

Tomorrow will be commencement day proper. The annual address will be delivered by Congressman G. W. Shell, of South Carolina. He arrived in the city last night.

The Presbyterian General Assembly.
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 31.—In the Presbyterian General Assembly this morning after the opening devotions fifteen minutes were exhausted in a desultory discussion of the order of procedure, the result of which was that the Assembly ordered (with an evident confusion and lack of understanding of just what they were doing) the roll to be called. The commissioners as called were to give reasons for their votes, the speeches to be limited to three minutes. This soon became monotonous and tiresome, and shortly before noon when Kansas had been reached in the call of synods, the moderator arose and said: "Dr. Briggs is very weary of this proceeding and has asked that he be excused by the moderator from further attendance as a party. I cheerfully grant his request." Dr. Briggs then left the church amid a buzz from the galleries. He looked tired and sad, and seemed glad to get away.

The President of the Nicaragua Regiments.
By Southern Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, May 31.—The State Department has received unofficial advice that President Sacasa, of Nicaragua resigned last night after signing the terms of peace.

WASHINGTON, May 31.—Secretary Gresham today received the following dispatch from New York: "President Sacasa, of Nicaragua, resigned last night and signed the terms of peace."

Jas. A. Schrymer.
Schrymer is president of the Central American Cable Company, and this dispatch is the first information that the State Department has received indicating an end of the war in Nicaragua. It has been unofficially stated that United States Minister Baker has been using his best efforts to bring about peace, and the department is anxiously awaiting official corroboration by him of the dispatch sent by Schrymer, although Secretary Gresham believes the latter to be trustworthy.

The House of Commons.
LONDON, May 31.—There was a fair attendance in the House of Commons today notwithstanding the attractions of the Derby. Viscount Wolmer, Lord Salisbury's son in law and Liberal Unionist, moved as an amendment to the Home Rule bill, that the Irish legislature should not be empowered to grant votes in supply respecting matters upon which they were forbidden to legislate. The proposed amendment was rejected by a vote of 240 to 188 after the closure had been ordered.

The Richmond Terminal.
By Southern Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 31.—Some of the Georgia Pacific bondholders who are dissatisfied with the Richmond Terminal reorganization plan threaten to withdraw the road from the Terminal system unless they get better terms. Six per cent bonds of the company sold at 112 at one time and holders are now asked to exchange them for 90 per cent in new bonds and 30 per cent in preferred stock.

FINALLY LAID TO REST.

JEFFERSON DAVIS' REMAINS NOW REPOSE IN HOLLYWOOD.

The imposing obsequies at Richmond yesterday marking the last rites in honor of the President of the Southern Confederacy—An immense multitude at Richmond to do the last honors.

By Southern Associated Press.

RICHMOND, May 31.—At 3:05 this morning the funeral train bearing the remains of Ex President Davis drew up at the depot in this city. Thousands of men, women and children, some of whom had waited hours, greeted its arrival, besides the military escort composed of Lee and Pickett camps Confederate Veterans and the First Virginia Infantry. The line of march was taken up with the Richmond Light Infantry Blues, who had gone to Danville with the Governor to meet the train at the head of the procession, followed by the First Regiment and the Louisiana, Mississippi, Georgia and North Carolina Veterans as escort. The march from the station to the Capitol was very impressive. Waiting notes of the dead march on file and drum and the slow steady tramp of veterans marching in fours behind the bier in the grey dawn, between the ranks of spectators on either side Virginia has a square battle-flag design. St. Paul's Camp has a diamond-shaped flag. The Army of Tennessee badge is circular. The Mississippi is Stephen D. Lee, General; S. W. Ferguson, Brigadier General of Cavalry; J. R. Binford, Colonel 15th Mississippi Infantry; E. T. Sikes, Adjutant General Jackson's Cavalry Division; J. L. Power, Adjutant First Mississippi Light Artillery; R. J. Harding, Colonel 1st Texas Infantry; J. H. Jones, Colonel 38th Mississippi Infantry; J. R. McIntosh, Lieutenant 24th Mississippi Infantry; Newman Cayce, Lieutenant 11th Alabama Cavalry.

The Texas delegation is: F. R. Subbock, War Governor of Texas, Colonel of Cavalry, and Aide to President Davis; J. R. Maties, private 2d South Carolina Infantry; E. F. Davidson, private 8th Texas Cavalry, Terry Rangers; W. H. Kyle, private 8th Texas Cavalry, and Judge Norman G. Kittrell.

The Georgia delegation is: C. A. Evans, Brigadier General, Commanding Division; C. C. Maddox, Lieutenant Colonel 42d Georgia Infantry; C. A. Withers, Major and Adjutant General John H. Morgan's Cavalry Division; R. E. Wilson, Major 1st North Carolina Battalion Sharpshooters; Salem Dutcher, Sergeant Virginia Infantry.

A. W. Bealor, W. H. Taylor, Governor Tillman and General Ellison Capers are the South Carolina escort.

The North Carolina delegation is very large. With Gov. Carr and headed the line, followed by artillery with three batteries, howitzers, Grimes of Portsmouth and Norfolk Light Artillery Blues, all under command of Maj. W. E. Simons. Four troops of cavalry followed, commanded by Col. W. E. Wickham. They were the Stuart Horse Guards, Ashby Light Horse, Henrico, Chesterfield and Albemarle troops. These were followed immediately by the catafalque, behind which came carriages in which were seated Mrs. Jefferson Davis and Gov. McKinney, Miss Winnie Davis and Mayor Elyson and Mr. and Mrs. Hayes. These were followed by the honorary pall bearers in carriages, G. W. B. Tillman, S. C.; Elias Carr, N. C.; Frank Brown, Md.; P. Turney, Tenn.; W. A. McCorkle, W. Va.; T. C. Jones, Alabama; General J. A. Early, D. H. Maury, William H. Payne, McLaws, L. S. Baker, Stephen D. Lee, Harry Heth, Geo. H. Stuart, Major Jno W. Daniel, Senator E. C. Wall-hall, Messrs. Moses Milhizer, M. A. Allen, Hugh Blair, John R. Purcell, P. P. Winston, A. S. Buford, Col. Jno T. Wood, Dr. John B. McCaw, Col. E. P. Reeve, E. T. Glasgow. Other distinguished persons in carriages were Bishop H. H. Thompson, Rev. Drs. O. S. Barton, M. D. Hodge, W. Landrum, Col. F. R. Lubbock, Col. Fred Skinner, Barton Harrison, Col. W. H. Taylor, Judge B. W. Crump, Maj. B. W. Richardson, Col. Clark, Col. Wm. Roy Mason, Col. John W. A. Sanford, Col. Jno Goode, Col. R. Snowden Andrews, Maj. S. M. Hill, Col. Wm. Lamb, Bob Brown, James Jones and McGinnis, the last three colored servants, of Mr. Davis, members of Jefferson Davis Monument Association, officers of Hollywood, Oakwood and Hebrew Memorial Associations.

Women and little children performed a large part of this feature of the parade. The bells of the city tolled while the procession was in progress. A number of old Confederate battle flags were borne in the procession while a number of carriages were filled with flowers. Arriving at the grave the military formed in the avenue to the right overlooking the bluff. The Veterans assembled in the avenue to the left. The Ladies Auxiliary Camps occupied the section east of the grave. The family of the deceased, the pall bearers, the escort of honor, the officers and officiating clergymen took places around the grave. The other organizations in the procession remained in their respective positions until the services were over. As soon as everything was in readiness the Stonewall Band of Staunton played a funeral dirge composed by Prof. Jacob Rinehart. Rev. Wm. Munford then read a selection of Scripture. Bishop Thompson, of Mississippi was to have taken part in the services, but he was unable to come.

Rev. Dr. W. W. Landrum then read the hymn "How firm a foundation" which was sung by the assemblage. At the close of the hymn Dr. Hoge stepped forward and said "let us pray," and nearly every head in the vast assemblage was bowed. Dr. Hoge prayed most impressively.

Rev. Dr. O. S. Barton, of Norfolk, pronounced the benediction. Immediately after the benediction the casket was lowered into the grave. After the bugle signal came taps and the infantry fired a salute which announced that the services were over. The column then moved to Gettysburg Hill where the annual memorial services of the Ladies' Hollywood Association took place, which consisted of the decoration of the graves of 16,000 Confederate soldiers, after which prayer was offered and a hymn sung.

"I CANNOT TAKE YOUR MONEY."

A Touching Story in President Davis' Life.

The following touching story is told by Mrs. W. T. Sutherland, of Danville, where President Davis' last headquarters were located. She said: "When Mr. Davis had been at our house for three days he said that he could not impose on our hospitality longer, and made arrangements to establish his headquarters at the old Benedict house, on Wilson street. I told him he might take his cabinet to any place he pleased, but as for himself he must be our guest so long as he remained in the city, and he yielded to the request. He remained here five days after that time, and was, of course, in a most anxious frame of mind, but was always pleasant and agreeable. One morning he and Mr. Sutherland went down town and soon returned in an excited manner and I knew something had happened. I met them at the door, and Mr. Davis told me almost in a whisper that Lee had surrendered and that he must leave town as soon as possible.

"Making a few hurried arrangements, he offered his hand to me to say good-by and I asked him the question: 'Mr. Davis, have you any funds other than Confederate money?' and he replied in the negative. 'Then,' said I, offering him a bag of gold, containing a thousand dollars, 'take this from me.' I offered the money without having consulted Mr. Sutherland, but knew it would be all right with him.

"Mr. Davis took my hand and the tears streamed down his face. 'No,' said he, 'I cannot take your money. You and your husband are young and will need your money, while I am an old man, and, adding after a pause, 'I don't think I shall need any very long.'

"He then put his hand in his pocket and took out a little gold pencil, which he asked me to keep for his sake, and I have the little memento now."

of the street with bare heads, was exceedingly weird and solemn. Upon reaching the Capitol building the military opened ranks at present arms while the veterans marched through with heads uncovered until the doors of the building were reached, when a halt was made and the casket was borne to the door of the Senate Chamber in the rotunda of the building, and placed in position under a guard of Lee camp.

RICHMOND, Va., May 31.—From daylight until 9 o'clock hundreds of strangers and city people passed through the Capitol and viewed the casket, which was almost enveloped in flowers of various designs from the North as well as from the South. Between the hours of 9 and 11 o'clock about five thousand public school children passed by the bier, each one dropping flowers as a tribute of affection until the huge mass had assumed proportions equal to several wagon loads.

The Louisiana escort of the remains consist of General John Glynn, Jr., commanding; Col. M. P. Ducros of his staff; J. Moore Wilson, John T. Block, Chas. Santana, J. K. Renaud, Dr. Geo. H. Tichenor, T. W. Castleman, Robt. McMillan, J. S. Demourelle, D. S. Sullivan, G. F. Utz, Thos. Clements, Howell Carter, N. M. Haas, Hon. Dugas T. G. Royster, E. McCullom, Will Miller, J. T. Brown, T. B. Finlay, J. Y. Gilmore, Thos. Higgins, T. E. Standifer, E. J. Kureheed, M. G. Shaddock, D. Arent. The following constitute the special detail of honor by Governor Foster, of Louisiana, and are also a part of General Glynn's escort:

Brig. Gen. Vinet, Chief of Ordnance; Brig. Gen. McGurck, Commissary General; Brig. Gen. Barksdale, Judge Advocate General; Col. F. A. Ober, Aide; Lieut. Col. Tremaux, of Staff, of 1st military district; Brig. Gen. Bortand, 1st Brigadier Louisiana State National Guard Maj. John W. Watson, Brig. Ordnance Officer. Every man is a picked veteran Confederate soldier, selected of the entire State of Louisiana by Veteran Camps. The escort badge is a white silk ribbon, with a portrait of Davis, and the black lettering, "Louisiana Division United Confederate Veterans escort, May 28 to 31st, 1893, Louisiana to Virginia." At the top is a bow of red and white ribbon, with the Pelican coat of arms of Louisiana, craped, on blue Union, finished off with a silver fringe. The cavalry veterans have an enameled shield with a battle-flag as their regular badge. The Army of Northern staff are Capt. J. A. Ramsey, Capt. R. A. Post, Col. E. Everett, Col. Wharton J. Green, Col. A. D. Starke, Capt. Wm. Smith, Col. J. S. Carr, Capt. N. A. Ramsey, Col. J. E. Brown, Col. J. M. Odell and Dr. Leith.

RICHMOND, Va., May 31.—All that is mortal of Jefferson Davis now rests in Hollywood. The special train from New Orleans bearing the remains and escort arrived here this morning. At the depot the first regiment and the veterans from Lee and Pickett Camps were drawn up to do honor to the distinguished dead, while thousands of men, women and children, some of whom had been waiting for hours, testified the appreciation of the occasion by the most respectful silence. As the casket containing the body was removed to the hearse, heads were uncovered.

The procession then proceeded with the visiting escort of veterans from the various Southern States in the post of honor to the State Capitol building where the body was placed in state in the rotunda immediately in front of the Senate chamber. Lee Camp performed the duty of guard of honor. Here it remained until 3 o'clock, and it is estimated that at least 25,000 people viewed the bier. Indeed, a stream of humanity poured through the building as long as it was accessible to the public. During the hours set apart for the school children of the public schools, six thousand of these alone marched past, presenting a touching and beautiful sight as they dropped their floral offerings at the foot of the casket. At 3:30 o'clock the body was removed to the caisson drawn by six white horses caparisoned in black, and the line of march was taken up for Hollywood. Houses along the line were almost without exception, decorated in black and white. National, State and Confederate flags, the latter predominating, were either floating to the breeze or worked in the funeral colors. The streets along the route, yards and windows of dwellings were packed with people. Nothing of tumultuous or noisy character marked the day or progress of the cortege, while the scene was a most imposing one, though the whole city seemed to be in mourning. The time set for the procession to move was 3 o'clock, but there was a short delay in starting. First came Gen. John B. Gordon, chief marshal, and staff of some fifty prominent Confederate officers, then the infantry, under Col. Henry Jones, then followed Brigadier General Brander and staff. Brigadiers then came as follows: 1st Brigade, Brigadier General T. S. Garnett, Commanding Staff; Colonel Samuel Hodges, Colonel D. H. Lee, Colonel Thomas Lewis and Major James H. Capers; Stonewall Brigade Band; R. E. Lee Corp; R. E. Lee Camp No. 1; Col. T. P. Pollard; Murray Camp, Col. Thomas E. Proctor; Pickett Buchanan, Col. Thomas L. Doran; Stonewall Camp, Col. H. C. Hudgins; R. E. Lee Camp No. 2, Col. W. A. Smoot; R. E. Pickett, Col. R. H. Northern, John R. Cook, Col. W. W. Green, Jno Bowie Strange, Col. J. M. Garnett; Second Brigade, Brigadier General Macajah Woods commanding staff; Col. R. T. W. Duke, Dr. Hugh T. Nelson, Dr. Thomas J. Moore and Col. J. E. Rockwell; Fourth Regiment Band Drum Corps; A. P. Hill Camp, Col. W. Gordon McCabe; Pierre Gibson Camp, Col. D. A. Grimsley; Job Stuart Camp, Col. H. A. Monreux; Magruder Ewell Camp, Col. T. Jefferson Stubbs; Stonewall Jackson Camp, Col. Jed Hotchkiss; Louisa Camp, Col. Wm. Keen Page; Puller Camp, Col. Wm. K. Porin; Meimyer Shaw Camp, Col. John S. Whitworth; Third Brigade, Col. Thomas H. Carter commanding staff, Col. H. P. Jones, Maj. W. W. Parker, Maj. H. C. Carter, S. W. Travers, Band; Howitzer Association; Parker Battery Association Society of the Army and Navy of the Confederate States of Maryland; Beneficial Association of Maryland; Confederate Veteran Association of the District of Columbia; Rowan County Veteran Association; Sumter Camp Survivors' Association of South Carolina, bearing palm branches; Cabell Grove Camp, Danville, Va.; Confederate Survivors' Association of Augusta, Ga.; Richmond Light Infantry Blues' Association; Person county N. C. veterans; sons of veterans; R. T. W. Duke Camp; R. G. Chew Camp, Cavalry division, Gen. Fitz Lee commanding staff; Gen. T. O. Rosser, Gen. L. L. Lomax, Col. C. L. O'Ferrall, Capt. Thos. Pinkney, Capt. P. T. Sutton, Rev. Frank Pinkney, Judge B. W. Lacy, W. J. Binford, R. F. Vaughan, mounted veterans.

As was expected would be the case, flowers were strewn along the route in front of the catafalque, and

FIRE AT MURFREESBORO.

WESLEYAN FEMALE COLLEGE BURNED TO THE GROUND.

Property of the Students and Teachers Destroyed—The Commencement Exercises Which Were to Take Place Next Week Necessarily Postponed.

MURFREESBORO, N. C., May 31.—Special.—Wesleyan Female College was burned down tonight at 8:30. Part of the furniture was saved. No one was hurt. The origin is unknown; insurance $100,000. The closing exercises at the institute are necessarily postponed.

NORFOLK, Va., May 31.—A Virginia's special from Murfreesboro, N. C., says: The Wesleyan Female College at this place is now being rapidly destroyed by fire. Prof. R. P. Troy, with the assistance of citizens and visitors, has succeeded in saving all the young ladies without the slightest injury. Much of the private property of the students and teachers is lost. All of the library and apparatus is a total loss. The magnificent building was insured for $10,000. The commencement exercises were to take place next week. President Brewer, of the Baptist College, has tendered the use of his college for the commencement of the Wesleyan. It is probable the young ladies will return to their homes.

The closing exercises of the Baptist Female College were in progress when the fire broke out and suspended at once. The building of the Wesleyan College was burned once before, in 1877.
