THE REPUBLIC.

Believing that the inestimable privileges of self-government guaranteed by the Federal Constitution involve corresponding duties, and that among these are sleepless vigilance and the devotion of the best thoughts and efforts of the citizen in aid of the preservation and development of our country and its institutions, we have determined, in futherance of these objects, to establish a monthly magazine devoted to the discussion of the science of government and to a review of political events.

Assuming that the legitimate object of good government is provision for the welfare and happiness of the citizen, his physical comfort, educational growth, and moral development, The Republic will bring to this test all economic questions, political action and governmental, measures. Holding firmly that in a republic, constituted as ours is, political parties are essential, and that they furnish the best, not to say the only means of that constant and severe scrutiny to which power should be always subjected, The Republic will insist that the country is not only safe, but safest with its destiny in the keeping of the Republican party; that measures of reform and progress must be carried forward through its instrumentality, and that its permanent ascendancy should be maintained so long as it responds to the demands of enlightened and progressive public

The Republic will avoid unwarranted censure of opponents as well as indis-criminate praise of friends—aiming at that degree of independence and candor which concede justice to both. It will not waste words, influence, or power by purely negative criticisms, but will endeavor to promote correct action by affirmatively and plainly showing the better way. True, this line of criticism involves thought, care, investigation with the exercise of an impartial judgment; but history has conclusively demonstrated that by these means the cause of truth and good be best advanced.

The Republic will furnish a brief and accurate record of events of political and general interest, as-The proceedings of Congress. The decisions and action of the Execapplication. The publication being monthly, the record will be made up after the events have transpired, and will make, at the close of the year, a volume of accurate and valuable information in convenient form for preservation and reference. Among the topics claiming discussion

The relative power and jurisdiction of the Federal and State Governments; the expansion of territory, revenue, finance, education, industrial school, postal telegraph, postal savings banks, railway and canal transportation, life and fire insurance, river and harbor improvements, the public health, reforms in the public service, and the establishment of equal civil and political rights. On these and kindred subjects The Republic will aim to convey reliable information, excite thought, and induce action.
