REPUBLICAN RESOLUTIONS.

Common Schools and the Western North Carolina Railroad.

SENATE CHAMBER. Raleigh, Feb. 12, 1874. The republican members of the legislature, in joint caucus assembled, representing, as they believe, the unanimous feeling of the republicans of North Carolina do Resolve, 1st. That the education of the poor children of the State, so shamefully neglected in the past, is a duty the performance of which we have attempted to obtain from this general assembly, controlled by a large democratic majority, and in which we have failed, but we shall never cease our efforts to obtain the same at the hands of the government, of North Carolina, and we confidently rely upon the people to sustain us.

2. That it is to the best interest of the people of North Carolina, that her great works of internal improvement shall be pushed vigorously to completion, and to that end every available resource shall be applied.

3. That the true economy dictates that the vast mineral and agricultural wealth of our transportation routes should be unlocked and poured into the markets of the world, by the speedy construction of both branches of the Western North Carolina railroad, both to Ducktown and Paint Rock, and the republican members pledge themselves to cooperate with the people of the west in any and all plans which will accomplish this end.

AUG. S. SEYMOUR, Pres't Republican Caucus. EDWARD R. DUDLEY, Secretary.

The editor of the Sentinel writes himself another letter in yesterday's paper, and signs it "M." A democratic investigating committee of a democratic legislature in 1872 reported that the said editor was overly fond of the letter "M." His extravagance of affection in that direction footed up the snug little sum of $3,358.00, at the expense of the public treasury.

Organization for Judicial Districts.

For the judicial districts the republicans are without the beginning of an organization for the approaching campaign.

The democrats have already organized their judicial district committees, having accomplished the work through a joint meeting of their State executive committee and democratic members of the legislature.

The Examiner frequently called for the republican State executive committee to meet, but no such meeting was had.

The congressional districts all have their old organization of 1872 to begin work with, but for the judicial districts the republicans have never had an organization.

To illustrate the trouble:—The first congressional district includes all the counties of the first and second judicial districts, except Edgecombe, which is in the second congressional district; and Pamlico, which is in the first congressional district, is in the third judicial district.

Again, the second congressional district includes counties of the second, third and sixth judicial districts. Some other counties of the sixth judicial district belong to the fourth congressional district; while other counties of the fourth congressional belong to the seventh judicial district.

The following expressed determination of the editor of the Elizabeth City Carolinian is not a bad idea for a local paper to adopt.

The Carolinian of Wednesday the 4th inst. says:—The North Carolinian has always been free and independent in its declarations and opinions.

In this paper to-day arrangement of the twelve judicial districts is published. This publication will be followed by the congressional districts. This is done for the convenience of reference, and that it may be seen how necessary it is for prompt action in regard to the judicial districts.

The State Contracting as a Corruptor and Repudiating as a Sovereign.

A case is now being argued before the supreme court of this State, wherein certain parties are hoping to attach the disgrace of repudiation to the name of North Carolina. The event illustrates that the love of private gain is stronger, in some people, than their pride of public honor.

The case alluded to is one in which the State, as a corporator leased to a corporation known as the Richmond and Danville railroad; her interest in the North Carolina railroad. The effort making is to repudiate the contract after she has ratified it in her capacity as a sovereign.

The result of the case before our State courts can make little difference, one way or the other, for it is understood that the parties to the suit, both plaintiff and defendant, will appeal to that tribunal of last and long resort, the supreme court of the United States; and the parties to the defence are understood to be in position to own the stock of the State in the North Carolina railroad long before the period of litigation is ended by final decision of the case in the highest court of the land.

The Examiner simply takes notice of this case, here, to protest, for the people of North Carolina, against this, to them, expensive litigation in the interest of one railroad ring fighting another.

With this suit, the State of North Carolina has paid, of lawyers' fees alone, not less than ten thousand dollars within the past twelve months, for services charged for in railroad and public debt litigations, and one is led to believe from the nature of things that the paying has hardly begun.

It is a melancholy fact, that North Carolina has not one dollar of interest in any railroad within her borders, save the equity of impossible redemption. All is mortgaged, deep down below the hope of recovery, some two and three times over, yet the State treasury is being constantly depleted to gratify some rival railroad and give the legal profession of the State a profitable airing.

That the State of North Carolina has no actual interest in the railroad over which this litigation is going on at the expense of the people, whose money is being squandered in lawyers' fees, the Examiner quotes from Hon. W. A. Smith, president of the North Carolina railroad, an authority that will not be questioned touching the affairs and status of that corporation.

In his late "messages to the people" Major Smith says:—"It is well known that the democratic party opposed the measure [consolidation] in this covert manner, falsely stating that they feared the State would be a loser, when in fact, the State had no moneyed interest in the North Carolina road, as a decree of court had already put the income of that "bond holders."

It is well known that the State's interest in the North Carolina railroad company is pledged for the payment of the State bonds issued to obtain the money which built the road. This constitutes a first mortgage. A second mortgage was effected by this company guaranteeing, in a manner, the bonds issued in aid of the Western North Carolina railroad. A third mortgage was made in 1866 to pay off a floating debt of the North Carolina railroad company.

Yet, in the face of these facts the people of North Carolina are called upon to pay the expense of a needless, captious, foolish litigation over a property lost beyond the hope of redemption.

Supporting one Another. The following expressed determination of the editor of the Elizabeth City Carolinian is not a bad idea for a local paper to adopt.

The executive committee for the third congressional district, as constituted by the republican convention which met at Clinton, Sampson county, May 22, 1872, is as follows, with W. P. Canaday, chairman:—

New Hanover, W. P. Canaday. Onslow, E. B. Sanders. Harnett, J. S. Harrington. Carteret, A. C. Davis. Duplin, Enoch Hill. Brunswick, E. M. Rosafy. Cumberland, A. G. Thornton. Columbus, R. N. Maulsby. Bladen, Evander Singletary. Sampson, Clinton Ward. Moore, A. R. McDonald.

NOTE.—The chairman of the executive committee for the first, sixth, seventh and eighth districts will please forward the names of their committees to the Examiner immediately, as they have never before been published.

Judicial Districts of North Carolina.

The following is the latest arrangement of counties into judicial districts for this State. In every district an election for solicitor occurs on Thursday, the 6th day of August, this year.

And in the first, third, fourth, fifth, seventh, and ninth districts, elections are held by law for judges. Four years hence the other six districts elect judges:—

- FIRST JUDICIAL DISTRICT. Currituck, Chowan, Camden, Gates, Pasquotank, Tyrrell, Perquimans, Hyde, Dare.

- SECOND JUDICIAL DISTRICT. Bertie, Martin, Hertford, Beaufort, Washington, Pitt, Edgecombe.

- THIRD JUDICIAL DISTRICT. Wilson, Lenoir, Wayne, Jones, Craven, Greene, Pamlico.

- FOURTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT. Carteret, Bladen, Brunswick, New Hanover, Columbus, Onslow, Robeson, Duplin, Sampson.

- FIFTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT. Harnett, Union, Moore, Anson, Montgomery, Richmond, Stanley, Cumberland.

- SIXTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT. Northampton, Johnston, Nash, Wake, Warren, Granville, Franklin, Halifax.

- SEVENTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT. Guilford, Rockingham, Caswell, Person, Orange, Chatham, Randolph.

- EIGHTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT. Surry, Davie, Yadkin, Rowan, Davidson, Forsythe, Stokes.

- NINTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT. Polk, Rutherford, Cleveland, Lincoln, Gaston, Mecklenburg, Cabarrus.

- TENTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT. Catawba, Alexander, Caldwell, Alleghany, Ashe, Wilkes, Iredell.

- ELEVENTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT. Watauga, McDowell, Henderson, Buncombe, Madison, Yancey, Mitchell, Burke.

- TWELFTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT. Graham, Clay, Cherokee, Macon, Swain, Jackson, Haywood, Transylvania.

Below is published the district organization of the republican party, by congressional districts as adopted for the campaign of 1872.

PROSPECTUS.

THE GRANGE OUTLOOK. PUBLISHED AT KNOXVILLE, TENNESSEE. On or before the 25th day of March, 1874, the undersigned will issue a weekly journal in the city of Knoxville, Tennessee, called THE GRANGE OUTLOOK.

It will be devoted to the prosecution of the great work known now throughout the United States as the "Farmer's Movement" or "The Patrons of Husbandry." Its distinctive aim will be the intellectual, moral, social, and financial elevation of the agricultural and working classes of the country, to guard and protect them against fraud, to assist them in their work and to stand by them in all their struggles.

No antagonism to classes. No war will be waged against other classes so long as they make no war upon the industrial classes of the country. The law of dependence is fully recognized and acknowledged, in all its force and potency, and, therefore, it would be unjust to attack any class whose aim is, in a legitimate way, to protect itself and to secure those necessities essential to its own existence. The farmers and working classes, however, must ORGANIZE FOR THEIR OWN PROTECTION.

And in doing so, they are simply obeying the promptings of an instinct and an impulse, which, to-day, is swaying and controlling all classes in the United States. Mutual protection is what they demand, and is what they will have at all reasonable hazards. The Grange Outlook will encourage and stimulate the growth of this sentiment, believing it to be essential to the happiness and prosperity of the classes in question.

EDUCATIONAL, SOCIAL AND MORAL ADVANCEMENT. Regarding these great principles as the foundation—in fact, the chief cornerstone of individual and national success, no effort will be spared to give them due prominence.

Non-Political. Partisan politics can find no place in its columns. The great movement which it has the honor of representing does not, happily, admit the discussion of politics. This wise and thoughtful provision will be adhered to tenaciously. Universal Brotherhood.

The Grange Outlook will extend the olive branch to struggling humanity in all parts of our land. It will be governed by no sectional lines. One flag floats over our common country, and under its ample folds it will battle for the continued well-being of every section, thus binding together indissolubly, the East, the North, the South and the West.

Commercial and News Department. Full and accurate reports will be given of the various markets of the principal cities of the United States. All the current news of the times will be condensed and furnished to the reader.

Inter-Communication. Through its ample columns subordinate granges can communicate with each other, cultivate each other's acquaintance, interchange views, publish their doings and thus strengthen each other in the mighty work in which they are engaged.

Able Correspondents. From all parts of Tennessee and contiguous States, able correspondents will grace its columns with their well matured productions. In the ranks of the agricultural and working classes there are men of brains, of culture and intelligence, and all they need is the opportunity to establish this fact.

Immigration. The cause of immigration will be stimulated to the fullest extent. There is no better State in the nation than Tennessee. Its advantages will be faithfully unfolded, and good citizens invited to make their homes among us from all parts of the world.
