THE Washington Post is authority for the statement that Mr. Cleveland has informed Secretary Carrisle that he must enter the contest in Kentucky as a candidate for the Senate against Blackburn. We do not know that the Post's statement can be relied upon, but if Mr. Clevelar d has told Mr. Carlisle to do so we take it that it will be even so.

THE PRESS-VISTOR appreciates the many kind words which are being said by its friends and contemporaries. There is nothing which we more greatly desire than the good will and kind relations of our colleagues in journalism. Our most appreciative acknowledgments are made to Brother Daniels for his kind expressions in this mornings News and Observer.

THE Baltimore Sun expresses the opinion that the extension of the Baltimore and Ohio Southward from Lexington, Va, its present terminus, is thought to be contemtplaed in the examination now being made by a Baltimore financier and a Baltimore and Ohio official of the Roanoke and Southern and Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Railroads. A roadbed has been partially com pleted from Lexington to Salem, near Roanoke, a distance of 50 miles. The completion of this missing link of 50 miles and the acquisition of control of the Roanoke and Southern and Cape Fear and Yadkin Valley Roads would take the Baltimore and Ohio to Wilmington, N. C.

SECRETARY MORTON has done a commendable act in calling a good roads convention to meet in Atlanta during the Cotton States Exposition. It will be a gathering whose deliberations and action will be of surpassing interest to the people of every State, and to none more than the States south of Mason and Dixon's line. People who use carriages, either for business or for pleasure, prefer the smooth highway to the rough country road, so termed by courtesy and custom, but in reality nothing more than a succession of hills and gullies and in rainy weather a very slough of despair. The real merits of the case, however, are presented 18 per cent, and another, with a by the necessities of the farmer. He it is who suffers more than anybody else, for not only does he lose in the deterioration of his vehicles and teams, but in the indirect depreciation of his property, which is less ac cessible over bad roads than over good.

THE activity of the Japanese in cotton manufacturing is attracting the attention of the outside world, and it is said that they are making an effort to aid a steamship line from Yekohama to this country with a view to turning our Southern cotton in the direction of Japan. The Japaness government is fostering the numetaring industries of its subcts, and as they are artistic, indus trious, skillful and work for low wages they will soon be formidable ors. As in Mexico and India. a silver currency has a prote effect, and stimulates local indus-trice. English economists predict oan and China will soon oon According to the San Fran plant to Japan. The company has a capital of $600,000, and the Japanese offer it exemption from taxes for twenty years, a better market and cheaper labor.

GEN. FITZHUGH LEE, of Virginia has defined his position on the financial question. He says he stands now where he stood two years ago, when he canvassed the State for Hon, Charles T. O'Ferrall, the Democratio candidate for Governor, when he took the position that this ountry could not maintain free sinage of vilver alone, and that if we had free coinage it must be under an international agreement or not at a'l. Then the question arises, why cannot this country maintain free sinage alone? An eminent Amerioun statesman declares that the United States equals. in wealth, England, France and Germany, and that the United States has twice the wealth-producing power per year that these countries have. An authority emanating from France, which is probably not partial to this country, declares that the United States possesses twenty-five per cent of the wealth of the civilized world This being true, it is nonsense to compare the United States to Mexico. It is nonsense to say that the United States may not adopt and dictate its own financial policy re gardless of other powers. This country can do what it chooses in the premises, and if it chooses to adopt the free coinage of silver it can do so with impunity and will

WE have had occasion to note within the past few months the growing cotton milling interests in North Carolina, and to know that all the cotton mills of the State are and always have been, paying good dividends. We have yet to hear of any well conducted cotton mill any where which does not pay well. A good example of what the cotton milling business is doing is found in the fact that among the Fall River mills, notwithstanding the higher wages paid their employes, the cotton manufacturing companies of Fall River, have recently declared quarterly dividends amounting to $369,875. Their combined capital, including watered stock, is $20,678, 000, and their profits, therefore, amount to 1.8 per cent of this sum. which is equivalent to 7.2 per cent a vear net.

maintain itself after it has done it.

In addition to the regular quarterly dividends, two of the largest cotton mills in Fall River have recently de clared extra dividends of 10 and 8 per cent respectively. One dividend an even $100,000 among its stockholders and the other $72,000 These are extra profits, made in addition to the regular quarterly dividends. Including them, the total profits of 34 companies in three months were $541,875, or nearly 11 per cent per annum on the capital invested. Only one dividend was as low as 1 per cent for the quarter, and but two were below 1 1-2. Ail the other cotton mills of Fall River ex cepting the two non-dividend payers are earning at least 6 per cent per annum on the capital invested. One, capitalized at $1,000,000, is making capital of $300,000, clears 25 per cent. Fourteen and 16 per cent profits are
