DEATH OF HON. OCTAVIUS COKE

Octavius Coke, the big hearted, magnificent specimen of manhood, has fallen beneath the stroke of that enemy of the human family, that spare no man.

Endowed by nature with gifts of mind and body possessed by but few, and in the fullest vigor of ripened judgment and usefulness his earthly life has passed away.

Like Saul among his fellows, he moved in our midst. Who that has ever seen him will ever forget him, or would drive him from his memory?

He was of so chivalrous a disposition and of such strength and symmetry of proportion that had he lived in the olden time, his sword would have flashed where strong and manly deeds would today appear on the pages of history amidst the heroes of the past.

His love for his friends was intense, and, to the uttermost, true.
No man who dressed him as a friend ever had reason to doubt his sincerity.

In politics, he was a Democrat.
The Eastern portion of North Carolina, where he lived for years, will attest his ability as a canvasser, and his wisdom as a counsellor. And North Carolina, on its every hilltop, will avouch his worthiness to rank among the foremost of its faithful and true.

In the death of Octavius Coke, there has passed away from earth a statesman of strength and breadth of mind, a citizen of inestimable value, a public servant of untarnished record and untiring energy, and most of all a generous, noble, warm hearted spirit about whom it has been the gift of but few men to so intertwine the heart strings of all of those who knew him in a sincere and lasting friendship. Capt. Coke's distinguishing characteristic was his genial and winning nature, his never waning flow of kindly cordiality which pervaded every circle in which he moved, in private, social or public life. He was a man from whose great heart there ever welled up the perennial diffusion of good fellowship, of open, frank and friendly hospitality, which made it a happiness to be near him. We have never known one of a greater and warmer heart, none who had more friends among his fellows, and none whose friendship was more sincere and loyal. Blended with this was the beautiful sunshine of a delicate and infectious humor, which made shadows impossible in his presence, making it seem that shadows and sorrows had no place in his life. It is such natures as these which make happiness and kindly feeling about them, and the world is infinitely blessed at having such men in it.

His passing away from among his associates in the prime of life leaves a void in the hearts of those who have known him but to love him.
It is a loss to all who have known him. It is a personal loss to the writer who has known him and fellows the genial glow and benediction of his generous nature and his whole-souled and sunny characteristics.
His taking off is a loss to the State and those who enjoyed contact with his daily life will carry deep in their hearts a sorrow which will linger, for there are none to take his place

In their esteem, their regard and their affection.

The citizens of Raleigh, especially, will miss him, for his daily work was among them. His manner was ever cordial and sincere. The days of his years were too few. The thread of his life was too short.

When shall we see his like again!
The whole State of North Carolina will miss his wise counsel!
Alas! alas! he is gone!

A new phase of the conjectures as to the B. and O. extending its valley line to Roanoke is the story that it will use the Chesapeake and Ohio line from Lexington to Buchanan and Baltimore capitalists will build the needed link from Buchanan to Roanoke. The C. and O. will be permitted free use of the link in consideration of its allowing the B. and O. free use of the track from Lexington to Buchanan, but the B. and O. will pay for use of the new road $18,000 a year, that being 6 per cent. on $300,000, the estimated cost of the track from Buchanan to Roanoke.
Nothing is said of the existing track of the Norfolk and Western from Buchanan to Roanoke.

SENATOR GORMAN, of Maryland, foresees Quay's triumph in Pennsylvania when he said a few days ago: "Mr. Quay has taught the people of his State all they know about politics, but he hasn't taught them all he knows."

use Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which he did, and in two days was able to be around. Mr. Shafer has recommended it to many others and says it is excellent for any kind of a bruise or sprain.

Waverley Bicycles.

are the Highest of All High Grades.

Warranted Superior to Any Bicycle Built in the World, REGARDless of Price.
Read the following opinion of one of the most prominent American dealers who has sold hundreds of these wheels: BIRMINGHAM, VA., Oct. 2, 1894.
Gentlemen: The Waverley Bicycle and Bell came to hand yesterday. We are afraid you have sent us the high-priced wheel by mistake. You can't mean to tell us that this wheel retails for $30? We must say that it is, without exception, the best we have ever seen, and, moreover, we have faith in it, although it weighs only 24 lbs. for all Waverley's we have sold this year and last (and you know that is a right good number), we have never had a single frame put into the shop, either from accident or defect, and that is more than we can say of any other wheel, however high grade, so called, that we sell. We congratulate ourselves every day that we are the Waverley agents.
Yours truly,
WALTER C. MICKLER & Co.
High frame, wood rim, Scorchers, weight 22 lbs., $25; steel rim, 16 and 17 lbs., $18; regular frame, same weights, $25; ladies' drop frame, same weights and rim, $18; 16-inch Diamond, wood rim, weight 21 lbs., $17.
You are invited to call at 117 Lewis Hardware Co. and see the Waverley.
