The Leading Afternoon Paper in the State.

The Press-Visitor publishes the news every day and has double the circulation of any daily ever published in Raleigh.

TELEPHONE, 168. TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 2, 1896.

MANY men are receiving the empty compliment of being mentioned in connection with the presidential nomination. It is quite evident that the crop of "favorite sons" will be very large next year.

Good roads mean increased business, more profits, less expense and better accommodations in many ways to the public, and bring the country districts into close fellowship with the city. Therefore it is the duty of every citizen to advocate the cause of good roads.

In the absence of the Governor of Wyoming his 19 year old daughter discharges all the duties of the office. This may be an evidence of the ability of the nineteenth century woman, or it may merely reflect the income competency of the man who holds the place.

A St. Louis Republican paper says that if the Republicans shall carry Maryland and Kentucky it will place that party in control of the border States on both sides. But the Republicans are not likely to carry either Maryland or Kentucky, and they are likely to lose all the States north of the border.

TALMAGE'S definition of a woman is: "A work direct from God, a sacred, delicate gift with affection so vast that nothing but the measuring line of an infinite God can tell their bound, fashioned to elevate, irradiate the home, society and the world." It will be observed that the eminent divine does not say a word about bloomers.

THE Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun has a very cunning and altogether innocent and guileless letter in yesterday's Sun, painting in roseate tints the possibilities of Mr. Carlisle for the presidential nomination. It probably looks prettier on paper than it will ever look anywhere else.

THE nomination of Jas. E. Campbell for Governor of Ohio has caused a degree of interest in the Democratic party throughout the country that is unusual in politics. Democrats and Republicans regard it as of the highest political importance. It is a challenge to the Republicans in a State that they carried a year ago by 137,000 majority, and they interpret it as a denial that they can carry the State this year.

THE SOUTHERN RAILWAY. A preliminary report on the operations of the Southern Railway system for the fiscal year ended June 30, which has been issued by President Spencer, not only offers splendid evidence of the recuperative powers of the South, but contains a flattering testimonial to the efficiency with which the great property has been managed under the reorganization.

The report covers 4,391.04 miles of road, the Georgia Southern and Florida and other recent purchases, which are still in the hands of separate officers, not being included. It appears that while the gross earnings were larger by $271,493.05 in 1895 than during the year previous a reduction of $293,773.32 was effected by the expense. The net earnings, consequently, show an excess of not less than $74,569.37 over the previous year, an exhibit which must prove highly gratifying to the stockholders. These figures, however, surprising as they are, do not represent the full measure of success achieved by the new management. Notwithstanding the introduction of economies in operation, many improvements have been made. Large sums were devoted to maintenance of way and the purchase of equipment, which have added not a little to the intrinsic value of the properties.

The New England Cotton Manufacturers' Association, which usually holds its annual session in the White Mountains, was invited to meet this year at Atlanta, during the Cotton States and International Exposition. A vote was recently taken by mail with a result in favor of Atlanta, and the Association will come in October. It is one of the most potent industrial organizations in America, representing some $400,000,000 of capital, invested in a great industry which is the growth of a century. The visit of these gentlemen will bring the possibilities of the Piedmont region as a site for cotton mills more prominently before the world than ever before, and will no doubt cause a world wide discussion of this branch of Southern industry.

WORDS FROM EXCHANGES. A Splendid Daily.

Oxford Ledger. The capital city now has in the Press-Visitor a splendid afternoon daily, and best wishes are with the owners in their efforts to build up Raleigh. Mr. Greek Andrews is editor, and the fine looking Col. Penoe still shoves the faber well in the local department.

Jingling Columns. Rockingham Index.

The Press-Visitor, the result of the consolidation of Raleigh's two afternoon papers, in an up-to-date, live, readable newspaper, worthy of the capital city it is published in. Its editorial columns are filled with the best of matter by an experienced newspaper man, Greek O. Andrews, while its local columns just jingle with the freshest news, written in the best of style. Mr. Thomas Jones Penoe is the local reporter, and we have thought for a long time that there is none better.

To Fill a Long Pet Want. Goldsboro Argus.

Raleigh's two afternoon dailies, the Press and Visitor, have been consolidated, the first issue under the new management appearing Monday, under the name of Press-Visitor, with Mr. Greek O. Andrews, a fluent writer, as editor and manager. The paper starts out under most promising prospects and will no doubt fill a long felt want by giving its readers a complete telegraphic service. Our best wishes for its future success.

Kind Wishes. Mocksville Times.

The first issue of Raleigh's consolidated daily, the Press-Visitor, appeared last Monday with Greek O. Andrews editor and manager, and Thos. J. Penoe city editor. The paper is owned by a stock company, of which Mr. Andrews is president. It is with genuine pleasure that we welcome Mr. Andrews back into North Carolina journalism. May he and his most excellent paper live long and prosper.

The Alliance and the Church. Correspondence of The Press-Visitor.

The public generally, and especially many ministers of the different churches are greatly increased at the expression "The church stands today as it has always stood on the side of human slavery and opposed to liberty"—which was uttered by Dr. Cyrus Tompson, in his speech accepting the presidency of the State Farmers Alliance at Cary.

Does the Alliance as an organization endorse such expressions against the church? Is it the purpose of this organization to antagonize the church and bring reproach upon the individual members who believe in the church? In other words is the Alliance opposed to the church? We have believed for years that the Alliance did not tolerate or endorse expressions against the church, or even political parties. If this is true, then Dr. Tompson has shown very poor political economy and bad statesmanship, and should be asked to modify or qualify his strictures upon the church, and not cause this odium to rest upon the Alliance.

The church needs no defense in this age of religious light, for all history evidences the fact, that the civil and religious liberty enjoyed by us today is the outcome of the church, and that the church has done more to relieve humanity of slavery than all other agencies and influences combined. While it is a fact that the existing methods of the church are inadequate in solving the great problems of our day, and while it has failed to win the masses and mould the civilization of our time into that social brotherhood of peace which we all so much desire, still is there anyone who doubts the fact that we can not have social peace without social righteousness, and that the church is the only teacher of righteousness.

Yes, thank God, it will be through the church, and not through any other instrumentality—the Farmers' Alliance to the contrary—that there is yet to be on earth light divine, law divinely enforced, society divinely regulated, and every form of evil, including the blasphemers of the church, divinely repressed.

This position taken by the president of the Alliance will recoil, and against him will be hurled the anathemas of an indignant and outraged people. The Alliance as an organization for good, will be seriously damaged, and unless it repudiates the position taken by its leader, will lose its hold upon the people and finally become one of "the things that were." As to Collections on Subscriptions.

All subscribers to the Press-Visitor are hereby notified that Mr. Vernon McHARRY is the only authorized collector of subscriptions to this paper, and bills presented by any other person are not authorized and payments to any but him will not be recognized. It has come to our ears that parties not authorized to do so have been presenting bills for back subscriptions and our subscribers are hereby warned. We wish also to emphasize that carriers are not authorized to make collections and that no payments whatever should be made to them. Mr. Vernon McHARRY has entire charge of the collections and will wait on all subscribers in due time.

Last June Dick Cr wford brought his twelve-months-old child, suffering from infantile diarrhoea, to me. It had been weaned at four months old and had always been sickly. I gave it the usual treatment in such cases but without benefit. The child kept growing thinner until it weighed but little more than when born, or perhaps ten pounds. I then started the father to giving Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Before one bottle of the 25 cent size had been used a marked improvement was seen and its continued use cured the child. Its weakness and puny constitution disappeared and its father and myself believe the child's life was saved by this remedy. J. T. Marlow, M. D., Tama, Iowa, Ill. For sale by J. Hal Bobbitt Druggist.

Irving W. Latimore, physical director of Y. M. C. A., Des Moines, Iowa, says he can conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm to athletes, gymnasts, bicyclists, football players and the profession in general for bruises, sprains and dislocations; also for soreness and stiffness of the muscles. When applied before the parts become swollen it will effect a cure in one half the time usually required. For sale by J. Hal Bobbitt, Druggist.

Charles Sagstelo and wife fell from their carriage and were badly hurt at Saratoga.

John G. Mauger, editor of the Sun-beat, Seligman, Mo., who names Grover Cleveland for the Presidency in November, 1896, while mayor of Buffalo, N. Y., is enthusiastic in his praise of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He says: "I have used it for the past five years and consider it the best preparation of the kind in the market. It is as simple as sugar and coffee in this section. It is an article of merit and should be used in every household. For sale by J. Hal Bobbitt, Druggist."

The American Railway Union is organizing very thoroughly at Buffalo, N. Y.

The Discovery Saved His Life. Mr. G. Caillouette, druggist, Beaverville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with a grippe and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store I sent for a bottle and began its use and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We can't keep store or house without it. Get a free trial bottle at John Y. MacRae's drug store."
