The Old Time School House.

A unique and attractive show window eas be seen at the North Carolina Book Company's store. It attracts hundreds of spectators daily. The chief object of interest is the "old time school house," which is most artistically constructed of logs, weather-boarded on the gables with pencil fablets and shingled with school slates. From the roof flies the North Carolina flag. Standing by the door are "Mary and little lamb" about entering school, while on the intect. The conclusion is other side is a boy entered, "Johnny patent; he immediately breaks with had a little lamb." The school is peaches that can be raised the adventuress, and resolves neith tastily filled with everything used in The display is very fine. by a nest fence made of black board erssers. Mr E G. IMPORTANT MEETING.

a Bond Election.

CAN ONLY BE $50,000.

Chicago Syndicate Anxious to Secure Them-Means Much For

Raleigh At the meeting of the Board of Aldermen to night, the matter of calling an election for the purpose of issuing bonds will likely come up. It is a subject in which every citizen should be interested. It means the immediate change of some of Raleigh's roads-often called streetsinto handsome paved and macadamized thoroughfares; or it means that they will continue along just else. Philips lave claim to eight about in the same old "rickerty" condition. The aldermen have a responsibility before them, and they no doubt will be equal to the emergency. The street committee at the last meeting recommended the issuance of bonds. There has been a good deal of talk as to the amount of bonds that should be issued. Sums all the way from $200,000 to $50,000 have been suggested. The fact is that only $50,000 worth of bonds can be issued according to an act of the Legislature. The charter does not conflict with this act in any way. This fact was only recently learned.

It will be $50,000 or nothing. Some Northern gentlemen and especially a Chicago syndicate is anxious to secure the bonds. They have heard that the city intended to issue these bonds, and they have written several time to the City Clerk to learn how they will be sold, whether at private or public sale.

All this speaks volumes for Raleigh.

Negro and the Wheel,

An old colored man was walking slowly across Newbern Avenue this morning. Under each arm he carried a package. From behind came three cyclists abreast. They halloed to the old man to "watch out!" and he turned suddenly. On all sides he saw the fast-coming wheels. Had he stood still the cyclists would have passed him successfully, but he dodged to one side, while the cyclist on the right turned his wheel the other way. The old negro became flurried and again dodged, this time in the path of the wheel. There was a thud and then a crash. Along the road for abou fifteen feet skated the negro. In the ditch lay a prostrate rider and the wreck of a wheel. The negro got up and laughed. Golly, boss but dem things do come powerful quiet." And the cyclist sought a repair shop.
