

A HEALTHIER UNDERTONE

The Cotton Market Closes Firm Today.

30 POINTS ADVANCE.

Leading Bear Operators Said to Have Bought Quickly—This Sustained the Market.

By Telegram to the Press-Visitor.

New York, Oct. 22.—Liverpool opened with a decline of 6-64, but soon recovered the loss and advanced 4-64 more, with a firm tendency. The unfavorable opening of New York and realizing by jobbers caused a decline of 3 to 3-64 and the market closed irregular and unsettled 1-64 below yesterday; moderate spot business; sales 8,000 bales, of which 7,000 were American; middling 4 3/8, eastern.

New York opened about 30 points higher than last night's close, barely steady, plenty of selling orders being in the market. Soon the market dropped 15 points with a feverish feeling. After all the selling orders were absorbed, the tendency became steadier and closed finally firm with an advance of 30 points above last night.

Leading bear operators seemed to have bought quickly which sustained the market. It is said that the prominent New Orleans operator is still holding his cotton, being confident of much higher prices.

There is a healthier undertone in the market. Liverpool is evidently disposed to buy. After such a penny and enormous decline of 114 points within a few days, a sharp reaction is but justified.

The estimated receipts are 54,000 bales, against 73,000 bales last year. Options closed as follows:

October, 8.47 to 8.50; November, 8.47 to 8.48; December, 8.53 to 8.54; January, 8.59 to 8.60; February, 8.64 to 8.65; March, 8.66 to 8.69; April, 8.73 to 8.74; May, 8.77 to 8.78; June, 8.82 to 8.83; July, 8.88 to 8.89.

Rates, 300,300 bales.

Interior markets kept relatively very steady.

Chicago Grain Market.

CHICAGO, Oct. 22.—Grain quotations closed to-day as follows:

Corn—October, 30 1-4 to 30 3-8; November, —; December, 27 7-8; May, 29 3-8.

Raleigh Cotton Market.

Tuesday, October 22d.

Middling nominal, —. Strict middling, 8. Good middling, 8 1-8 to 8 5-8. Strict good middling, 8 1-8.

Very little offering.

CARL BROWN ALIVE.

If Cleveland Issues More Bonds He Wants to Hang Him to the Capital Dome.

By Telegram to the Press-Visitor.

Mansfield, Ohio, Oct. 22.—A letter from Carl Brown denying his reported death says at Ocala, Va., there was a roasting meeting of mountaineers. He says if Cleveland dares to issue more bonds they favor going to Washington under my leadership and hanging him to the dome of the capitol.

Has Killed Six Men.

By Telegram to the Press-Visitor.

MIDDLEBOROUGH, Ky., Oct. 22.—A large posse has started after Andy Jackson, the negro desperado, who shot Major Campbell last night. This is Jackson's sixth murder. He killed a white miner last winter and effected his escape by shooting the officer. He is now in the mountains.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 22.—Rev. Dr. Kendrick, age eighty-six, one of the founders of Rochester University, and for a number of years its President, died today.

Col. J. S. Carr, the Agricultural Society's great President, is here to look upon his work.

A NEW YORK MYSTERY.

Two Suicides Found—Dressed Alike and Resembled Each Other.

By Telegram to the Press-Visitor.

New York, Oct. 22.—The police have a peculiar mystery to solve. Ernest A. Robins left home yesterday after a severe illness. His wife became frightened and applied to the police, suspecting suicide, as he took a revolver with him. A search revealed the body late in the afternoon at King's Bridge Heights, which was identified as Robins. Later the Hoboken police reported the fact that Robins had suicided at the Atlantic Boat Club House. The bodies and clothes were almost identical and both used revolvers. There is no clue to King's Bridge suicide.

GROVER INVISIBLE.

A Large Crowd at the Depot, But the President Did Not Appear.

By Telegram to the Press-Visitor.

GREENSBORO, N. C., Oct. 22.—The Presidential special passed here en route to Atlanta before seven. A large crowd assembled at the depot, but the chief executive was invisible. The crowd went away disappointed.

Duke Won't Pay Duty.

By Telegram to the Press-Visitor.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Invitations have been issued for the Vanderbilt-Mariborough wedding on November 9th at St. Thomas church. Fifty police will be on duty at the church to prevent the disgraceful scenes witnessed at the Martin-Gravin wedding, when a mob of women overran the church and stole flowers and other decorations. The Duke has refused to pay duty on presents from Europe and ordered them returned to Blenheim castle, where they will be received. One came from Victoria.

J. B. Mackay's Imposing Funeral.

By Cable to the Press-Visitor.

PARIS, Oct. 22.—The funeral of J. B. Mackay, Jr., today resembled the obsequies of a public personage in many respects. The entire front of the mansion was draped and traffic suspended on the avenue in the vicinity of ArodoTriumph. Five-four horse cars were required to carry the floral tributes. Scores of mourning private carriages followed. The coffin and hearse which were white, were drawn by six white horses.

The alarm of fire was turned in to-day about one o'clock. It proved to be the residence of Mr. Jesse Ball near Horson and Dawson's school. The damage was slight.

THE PRESIDENTIAL PARTY

Go to Attend the Atlanta Exposition.

MRS. CLEVELAND STAYS

At Home to Take Care of the Baby—The Anxiety of Republican Senators.

Special to the Press-Visitor.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 22.—The distinguished party, including the President, his entire Cabinet and most of the ladies of the Cabinet families, which left here last night on a special train for Atlanta, carried no banners, brass bands or other implements of war, but their arrival will be hailed with much more delight by the citizens of Georgia's metropolis than was another party which visited the same city something like thirty-one years ago, amid the roar of cannon, the rattling of drums, the blare of trumpets and waving of flags. Mrs. Cleveland did not go. She was too good a mother to leave the baby, and it was deemed injudicious for so young a wife to make such a long railroad journey.

Secretary Olney had a long conference to-day with the wife of ex-Congressman Waller, who was sentenced to twenty years in prison by a French court martial for his alleged interference with French military operations in Madagascar. Mrs. Waller, who only reached Washington this morning, from Madagascar, via France, told the Secretary the whole story from her side. After the interview she expressed herself as being perfectly satisfied that the administration was doing, and would continue to do everything that it could properly do for the relief of her husband.

It is really amusing to hear the fears expressed by some of the Republican Senators, that they will be compelled, when Congress meets to recognize the Senate and take charge of the committee, thus becoming responsible for legislation without the majority to pass it. Pray, who is going to compel them to assume such responsibility? Surely not the Democrats, who are probably willing, although not anxious, to allow things to remain as they are; nor the Populists, unless they can make a deal for their own benefit. If there is any compelling it will be done by Republicans.

In order to keep the the fine gun-making plant at the Washington Navy Yard in operation, it has been decided to make the three-inch field guns, which are needed for the navy there. About 100 of these guns will be made. The Navy department had authority to have them made by contract; when bids were just as cheap or cheaper, and the keeping together of the skilled force of mechanics which are employed in the Government gun shop turned the scales in favor of having the work done there.

The Tall Man Here.

Fred. A. Bennett, of Boston, the Champion Police Gazette Still Walker of the world, will give an exhibition during Fair week on Fayetteville street and at the Fair grounds. He will advertise the Press-Visitor, the Southern railway company, J. B. Ferrall & Co. and N. Y. Pease, of Greensboro.

Mr. Bennett is one of the greatest earliness at the Fair. You can't fail to see him.

The Long Drought.

Dust is as bad as it was several weeks ago. The recent rain did a thing more than lay the dust for a few hours. The earth in this section for a depth of several feet is perfectly dry. It will take a several days' rain to moisten the ground. Dust is more desirable just now than a rain. Weather prognosticators will do a favor by keeping their hands off during fair week. The long drought is almost universal and prevails in a majority of the states.

The Court Takes in the Fair.

Court met this morning and adjourned shortly afterwards. Most of the cases were continued and there was no business before the court. Nothing much will be done until after the Fair. There are three hundred cases on the docket for trial and there is a possibility that the court will continue three weeks.

Tomorrow the following cases are set: O. L. Luther vs. Apex Lumber Co.; Nathan Holleman et al. vs. A. K. Clements, executor. On Thursday there are no cases set for trial at all.

DRIVEN OFF AT PISTOL'S POINT.

Foreman Jacobs, of Monroe, Driven from Town by Angry Relatives.

Newspaper readers will remember the story printed several days ago of a wayward girl, named Sikes who was brought here by a Seaboard Air Line freight conductor from Monroe and who then entered a house of ill repute. They will remember, too, how the brother-in-law of the girl, Les Monroe, came here in search of her; how he found the girl, who refused to go back with him; how finally in order to force her return, he swore out a warrant for her arrest on the charge of larceny, she having on her sister's hat.

That was over a week ago, but the turmoil and strife consequent on this girl's waywardness has not ceased. The little town of Monroe is shaken to its centre with the scandal, and two factions have sprung up. There is danger even of a deadly feud.

When Mr. Monroe returned with his sister-in-law, his and her friends took upon themselves the duty of avenging her lost honor. Throats were made against a man named Jacobs, foreman of the S. A. L. round-house. He said and says yet that he had nothing to do with the girl's fall. Her friends, however, went to him in a body. They poked the gleaming barrels of pistols in his face, and advised him to leave the town; under these tragic circumstances, Jacobs quailed and left.

But all is not yet quiet in Monroe. The friends of the girl's family are now hunting for the conductor who brought her to Raleigh there may yet be a tragedy in Monroe.

But the poor weak woman who was the cause of the trouble, is safe again.

A POULTRY DIVISION

Will be Added to the Experiment Station—Mr. Hege, of Newbern, in Charge.

The North Carolina Agricultural Experiment Station has added another division to the several already in operation which will be known as the Poultry Division. Among the specific studies for this division will be first to ascertain the best breeds of poultry which can be recommended for different sections of the State, how to raise them economically, including the best treatment for their diseases and insects, and how to prepare and ship to market all poultry products. It will be the endeavor to foster the poultry industry in North Carolina so that a profitable and financially paying business may be inaugurated in any locality or on any farm. As but little capital is required, the returns for the investment should always be large.

The Station proposes to publish educational bulletins to bring the matter before the attention of the people of the State, and to extend such knowledge to all who raise poultry, as would be of benefit in the management, preparation and shipment to market.

The poultry manager in charge of the Poultry Division of the Experiment Station will be Mr. F. E. Hege, now of the Riverside Poultry Farm of Newbern, N. C. He will enter upon his work on December 1st, on the farm of the Station adjoining the State Fair grounds.

The raising of poultry and the products for market (in North Carolina) is susceptible to great extension, and the new departure by the Station will without doubt contribute largely to that end and will prove consequently of great and far reaching value.

ADDRESSES TONIGHT

At the House of Representatives—Well Known Citizens Will Speak.

This evening at 8 o'clock addresses will be made in the hall of the House of Representatives as follows:

1. "The Mission of the Board of Agriculture," Col. W. F. Green, Franklinton.

2. "Irrigation and Trucking," Mr. S. Otto Wilson, Raleigh.

3. "Tobacco Growing and Curing," Col. J. S. Cunningham, Cunninghamham.

4. "Indigenous and Foreign Grapes," Col. Allen Warren, Greenville.

"Trees and Fruits," Mr. J. Van Lindley, Pomona.

These subjects are of great interest locally and no doubt many interested persons will be on hand. Addresses will be delivered every evening during the week by well known persons.

BURLEIGH, N. Y., Oct. 22.—A workman fell ten stories from the Guarantee Building and was killed.

THE FAIR IS OPENED.

Governor Carr Makes the Opening Address.

SOME OF THE EXHIBITS.

The Crowd Small—This Because Low Rates Went in Only Today—Much Work Being Done.

At the grounds there was every indication that the Fair will be a success; Floral hall is not yet fully adorned with exhibits, but the workers form a young army; the crowd, too, was small but this is explained by the fact, in addition to that of opening day, that the one cent rates were put on only this morning, the exhibits promise to be good, the racing will be the best ever seen and altogether there is no reason why the Fair will not be a grand success.

The Fair was formally opened at 11 o'clock by Governor Carr in a talk, rather than an address. He was introduced by President J. S. Carr, of Durham. The band played and the people shouted and went hurrying away in response to the vociferously worded invitations of the midway jock.

Space forbids mention of all the exhibits and the people that the reporter saw and talked to. Suffice it to say that a day at the Fair is well spent; and that Chief Marshal Patterson and his dashing assistants are as jolly and brave and handsome as a set of Knights as eye did honor to their native State.

In the main building the following exhibits stand out prominently: Occochee farm, W. H. & R. S. Tucker & Co., Durham Pearl Cotton Mills, Raleigh Cotton Mills, Carolina Phosphate Works, A. and M. College exhibit, H. Steinmetz, Cooper Brothers' marble yards, Undertaker John Brown, Rambler bicycles, Spacor Brothers, tobaccoists of Mt. Airy; large exhibits of fruits and farm products by various exhibitors, W. H. Hughes & Co.; the finest exhibits of poultry, kennels, etc., ever seen.

The cattle have not all arrived; columns would not tell of the exhibits in this line already on the ground. The stables are filled with blooded trotters and runners, and this morning the pneumatic wheels were spinning over the track.

The midway is well calculated to catch and detain the visitor, but flavors strongly of fakes. There is one really meritorious show, the "Noah's Ark" of animals; and the "spinning jenny" goes merrily on. There is lots to see; and many are they who will see the sights.

SEVERELY CRITICIZED.

New Orleans Accuses New York of False Bearish Reports.

A New Orleans special to the New York Times says: A great deal of money has been made in cotton this year, as it has steadily advanced somewhere in the neighborhood of 5 cents to over 9 cents a pound. The New Orleans dealers have generally been bulls, and believed that in the present condition of the crop cotton is bound to go up, and they have invested or speculated accordingly.

Stories of fabulous fortunes made in cotton speculation have prevailed here for weeks past. One man, it was reported made $65,000 on an investment of $500, another is said to have won nearly $1,000,000 during the year. Such stories whetted the appetite of hundreds of persons with a little money to invest, and they have sought to follow the example of the big dealers and make their hundreds where others made thousands. These were heavy losers.

The action of the New York Cotton Exchange is severely criticized here by the press, as are the papers of that city which are accused of printing false bearish articles in order to recoup the losers.

An idea of the panic on the floor of the Exchange can best be judged by the fact that over 3,500 messages were sent off during the excitement yesterday. And in response word came back from all over the country, sell, sell, sell.

The bulls are confident today and claim they will regain their position tomorrow.

Tattersall, the Horseman, III.

By cable to the Press-Visitor.

LONDON, Oct. 21.—Tattersall, the head of the well known horse exchange, is critically ill.

"THE OTHER GIRL."

A Pretty Play—Miss Mabel Paige and Her Company a Success.

Pretty, petit Mabel Paige and her desiring company presented "The Other Girl" to a very large audience at the Academy of Music last evening. The audience was appreciative in their applause and encored the frequent hits with hearty applause.

Miss Paige is a charming little comedienne. She is vivacious and bewitching and displays rare ability for one so young in years. The high opinion of this little actress which was formed two years ago by the Raleigh public developed to a larger degree last evening.

The support is equally deserving of notice and withal is one of the best attractions that has visited our city in some time.

Mr. Allen Wightman, "the lover," made a decided hit with the audience. He is a deserving young actor. Mr. Frank Morehouse as Dr. Killquik was a success. This clever gentleman did the natural historian up in great shape and never for a moment lost his identity. Mr. James Thatcher was good as mama's pet. In fact the support was well balanced and deserves much credit.

Miss Fannie Ogden is a clever and captivating little actress. Her work as Ella Rose was catchy and caught with the audience. She has talent in addition to her pretty face.

Prof. Tony Fernandez is a natural born musician. If there is music anywhere he can locate it. Prof. Fernandez is a specialist on a violin and revealed many neat tricks on that instrument. He was encored freely.

Mr. Harry Siggins as a banjoist is in class A. Tonight the company will present a Spanish romance. A large crowd should greet Miss Mabel and her splendid company. Reserved seats are on sale at King's drug store.

WHAT OF A GIFT?

If any Appreciation is to be Shown the Cruiser Raleigh, it Should be Done Now.

The Raleigh correspondent of the Charlotte Observer says: "A gentleman who recently visited the 'White Squadron' at Newport found that the cruiser Raleigh was the only one which has no gift from the place after which it was named. He also found that the officers of the Raleigh are very sensitive on this matter; that it is, in fact, a sore subject with them. Thus far only $800 of a fund for the purchase of a gift is in hand. This was raised by the Southport Leader and Raleigh gives less than a third of it."

The Asheville Citizen says: "If the Leader's fund does not soon eventuate we shall feel constrained to extend the Citizen's part, as raised in Asheville and suburbs, for some gift for the Raleigh. As the matter stands, the whole State is disgraced by the lack of appreciation of the compliment extended in the naming of the cruiser."

It is a notable fact that Asheville's gift is larger than Raleigh's, in whose honor the cruiser is named. Some effort should be made to complete the fund and get up a suitable testimonial.

The Big Races.

J. F. Wray, secretary, writes that Gentry and Patchen and Robert J. will race at Reidsville on October 31st. The purse will be $2,000. Ample accommodations will be made for the entertainment of the crowd. As the track is a mile one everybody can see the race, even should there be 30,000 people on hand.

Baronet, the trotting crack, owned by our fellow citizen, Mr. L. Banks Holt, will be on hand as well as his other horses. The meeting will probably be the best ever held in southern State, with the exception of Kentucky.

Many Raleigh people have expressed a determination to be present. The railroads will offer a reduction in rates.

Introduced to Mrs. Jackson.

Mrs. Stonewall Jackson, of Charlotte, lives near the Southern station. She had just reached her home Sunday after attending services at the First Presbyterian Church, when the Connecticut troops returned from the hotel to the depot. They learned that the widow of the great Confederate General lived there, and Brigadier General George Havens, and the members of his staff, called on her, were introduced and paid their respects. Mrs. Jackson had not got into her house, and held a kind of an informal reception at her front gate. General Havens and his officers esteemed it a great privilege to have been introduced to Mrs. Jackson.

Mr. J. Hal Bobbitt and Mrs. Bobbitt and Miss Waddell returned yesterday from the Atlanta Exposition and report a delightful trip.

Mr. N. W. Horton, a wealthy business man of Worcester, Mass., is in the city. He has been visiting points in the South and will be here several days.

The best attraction on the "Midway" at the fair is "Noah's Ark." This is a splendid collection of trained animals and is well worth seeing by both young and old.

Died on Sunday night in Columbia, S. C., after a few days, Mrs. Carrie Danovant Royster, wife of Mr. O. M. Royster, a former resident of Raleigh, and brother of Dr. W. I. Royster.

Mrs. B. S. Jerman has an exhibition at the Fair a handkerchief made by her grandmother's mother. It was away back yonder in 1770. The cotton was ginned by hand, spun and woven by hand.

The last of Sells Bros. advance cars is in the city today thoroughly advertising the show. Handsome lithographs are being put up in every conceivable place. This is the last car to visit the city prior to the entry of the mammoth show itself on the 29th.

Four men charged with assisting in the lynching of a white man in Allegheny county two years ago, will be tried at the December term of Forsyth court. They were to have been tried at the present term of Surry court but the case was removed.

Over half a million feet of lumber will be used in construction of warrens and building by the Seaboard Air Line at Portsmouth to replace those recently destroyed by fire. The Page Lumber Company, of Aberdeen, N. C., is under contract to supply this large amount of lumber within ten days from the 19th inst.

The bulls who have been raiding the cotton market have retired to winter quarters. Many of the nibblers who invested one and two hundred dollars have been entirely wiped out. In the South the speculators are almost to a unit, bulls. The winnings which they made two weeks ago went with the recent slump—where, nobody knows.

Among the crack horses at the Fair which have obtained a record as swift ones, are Miss Thompson, 2.30, owned by T. M. Heintz, of Virginia; Maggie Campbell, 2.31 1-4 by Benehan Cameron; Clipper, 2.33 1-4 by J. W. Pa. Reidville; Kitty Hawks, 2.39 1-4 by Cross & Linsahan, of this city; Gretna Green, 2.35, and Lady May by G. M. Hardin.

The trained animal show, Noah's Ark, at the fair grounds is one of the best attractions at the show and is well worth seeing. It is an education to see a man play with the wild beasts as if they were boys. A big colored man tackles an ugly looking bear and plays with him like a cat. The show is indeed an interesting one and well worth the price of admission.

Superintendent Howell wants to be understood in regard to the trip he has arranged for the Atlanta Exposition. The trip was arranged for this week and holiday given for seven days in order to allow the teachers to attend the Educational Congress at Atlanta. Two days holiday are given every fair week, but the whole week is practically lost. The teachers going expressed a willingness to look after children and that is why they were invited.
