OUR STATE FAIR.

The State Fair, which is once more upon us, is attracting the people of our whole State to the capital as it has done for many recurring Indian summers. The success of the Fair this year is pronounced and it is something to inspire gratification in the face of the difficulties which hung over it sometime ago, and a large share of the credit for that success is due to the patriotic North Carolinian whose strong arm has been under it when others were weak. Secretary Nichols has also been zealous and indefatigable in his labors and we have him to thank in a large measure for the success of the Fair.

It has long been a recognized fact that the great benefit of the State Fair is derived from the fact that it brings together the people of the entire State in social and friendly contact. It is an institution in that respect and one which serves a good purpose in bringing together the people of the State. They meet and exchange pleasant greetings and carry away each others' practical ideas.

The Fair is a success. The attendance is good and the exhibit is exceptionally fine. Tomorrow will be Raleigh day, and Raleigh will turn out in full force.

COTTON MILLING INVESTMENTS IN THE SOUTH.

An intresting review of the cotton milling business in the South is given as follows by the Atlanta Constitution:

Although the talk about the removal of the New England cotton mills to the South has subsided, and although it is now pretty well understood that the hubbub was raised for the purpose of influencing legislation in some of the New England States, the discussion has nevertheless been of vast benefit to the South.

It has been the means of opening the eyes of the New England mill men and capitalists to the substantial advantages which Southern mill property enjoys over the same kind of property at the North and East. Though some of the mill owners of New England visited the South for the purpose of emphasing their dissatisfaction with existing or projected legislation, many of them were so struck with the possibilities of the situation here that they went far beyond their original purpose and invested a good deal of their surplus capital in Southern mill plants.

The result of it all is that there has been during the past two years a tremendous increase in the amount of capital invested in cotton manufacturing in the South. Part of this has been furnished by Northern men who are familiar with the mill business and part has been furnished by Southern capitalists who know something of the comfortable dividends that the mills in this section have been paying during the hard times.

It will be remembered that the Constitution has never taken any stock in the idea that all the New England cotton mills would be moved to the South in a few months, or even in the course of a few years. Such a movement would be unnatural and therefore destructive. The movement will be gradual and natural. It began several years ago, and has recently received an impulse from the hard times that will hurry it forward more rapidly. But years of prepartion and adjustment are required to bring about great industrial changes and developments, and it will be so in this case.

It will be helped forward not only by Southern competition but by the competition of Japan. This will prove to be more than the New England mills can afford to face, and one of two things will happen; either the capital invested in the mills will be withdrawn and transferred to more profitable enterprises or the mills will be gradually moved to the South as the pressure of events becomes more serious.

MESSRS. LIPPMAN BROS., Savannah, Ga

DEAR SIRS—I bought a bottle of your P. P. P., at Hot Springs, Ark., and it has done me more good than three months treatment at Hot Springs.

Have you no agents in this part of the country, or let me know how much it will cost to get three or six bottles from your city by express.

Respectfully yours,
JAS. M. NEWTON,
Aberdeen, Brown County, O.

NEWNANSVILLE, Fla.

MESSRS. LIPPMAN BROS., Savannah, Ga.:

DEAR SIRS—I wish to give my testimonial in regard to your valuable medicine, P. P. P., for the cure of rheumatism, neuralgia, dyspepsia, biliousness, etc. In 1861 I was attacked with bilious muscular rheumatism, and have been a martyr to it ever since.

I tried all medicines I ever heard of, and all the doctors in reach, but I found only temporary relief; the pains were so bad at times that I did not care whether I lived or died. My digestion became so impaired that everything I ate disagreed with me. My wife also suffered so intensely with dyspepsia that her life was a burden to her; she would be confined to her bed for weeks at a time; she also suffered greatly from giddiness and loss of sleep. Some time in March I was advised to take P. P. P., and before we (my wife and I) had finished the second bottle of P. P. P., our digestion began to improve. My pains subsided so much that I have been able to work, and am feeling like doing what I haven't done before in a number of years. We will continue taking P. P. P. until we are entirely cured, and will cheerfully recommend it to all suffering humanity.

Yours most respectfully,
J S DUPREE
