MONDAY, OCTOBER 28, 1896.

A newspaper has at least 5,000 readers to 1,000 subscribers. A merchant who puts out 1,000 hand bills gets possibly 300 or 400 people to read them. The hand bills cost as much as a good advertisement in his home paper. All the women and boys read the advertisements. The merchant who uses a newspaper with 1,000 subscribers has 4,000 more readers. There is no estimating the amount of business that advertising brings to a merchant, but that every dollar thus invested brings a good return there is no doubt. The Press-Visitor is read every day by more than ten thousand people.

MR. HAL W. AYER, editor of the Caucasian, is quoted as saying that in a few days it will be known whether the Populists favor fusion both on the State and also the electoral ticket. Mr. Ayer says their plan of action is to write to every county chairman, who in turn writes to every township chairman. The township chairmen are supposed to consult the people of their vicinity. In this way the Populists say they will find out how their people stand. This is one of the things that was agreed upon at the executive committee's meeting. Mr. Thos. Settle, Congressman from the Fifth District, who has been here for a day or two says on the other hand that fusion will undoubtedly be continued, and says that it is the only dependence and salvation of the Populists in North Carolina. We shall see what we shall see.

A New York paper says that a new and original mode of making money has been hit upon by an enterprising capitalist of the metropolis. Weddings have been numerous, and as the habit of making handsome presents, as well as wedding-breakfast giving, is dying out, the bold adventurer has started lavish present loans. His method is this: He lends a $1000 note to the father or other important relative of the bride, which note is exhibited among the gifts of the fair one to intimidate or cheer others into following the good example. A detective is kept on the premises to keep a wary eye on the valuable trophy, which, when its work of encouragement is done, is returned to its original owner, plus a handsome commission for the use thereof. This, after all, is very little worse than hiring dancing young men for evening parties, which, it is whispered, does take place when mothers are distressed and bantlings numerous.

The Baltimore Manufacturers' Record remarks that the necessity for bringing the spinning and weaving mills to the cotton fields is being liberally exemplified at Columbia, S. C., where the Granby cotton factory is being built in a cotton field. The Record, describing the fact, states that early in September, when work on the building was commenced, the cotton plants in full bearing had to be cleared away from the site, and now, as the building progresses, the pickers continue gathering the cotton as it opens. "It would," says the Record, "be difficult to present a more forcible argument in favor of the South for cotton manufacturing than this fact. It tells the story of the folly of transporting cotton to mills 1000 miles away, and indicates how hard it will be for such mills to compete with those that are in the cotton field. With favorable labor and climatic conditions added, the South is setting the pace for the world in cotton manufacturing." The mill, when completed, is to operate 30,000 spindles.

Sale of Land Under Mortgage.

By virtue of power conferred upon me by a certain mortgage, executed by Lucy Mangum, which said mortgage is duly recorded in Registry of Wake county in book No. 128 at page 344, I will offer for sale to the highest bidder for cash at the court house door in the city of Raleigh, N. C., on Wednesday, October 23, 1896, at 12 m., the land described in said mortgage, adjoining the lands of Jno M. Greenhaw, J. S. Brasfield, Mrs. D. E. Ellens and others, lying in Barton's Creek township, said county and state and more accurately described in said mortgage, which for description etc. is made a part hereof. Said tract of land contains 120 acres more or less. B. F. MONTAGUE, Sept. 23, '96. Atty. Mortgage. Continued to October 30th.

SALE OF LAND.

By authority of a mortgage from Christopher Woodard and wife, recorded in Book 74, page 124, Register of Deeds' office for Wake county, I will on Monday, November 4, 1896, at 12 o'clock m., at the Court House door of Wake county sell to the highest bidder for cash a tract of land situated in Swift Creek township, Wake county, containing 50 acres, more or less, adjoining the lands of P. P. Peace and others, the said tract being composed of two tracts as follows:
First tract contains 25 acres and adjoins the lands of W. E. J. Goodwin, P. P. Peace and others, and is particularly described in a deed to said Woodard from P. P. Peace and wife recorded in Book 68, page 260, said Register's office.
Second tract contains 25 acres and adjoins the lands of W. E. J. Goodwin and others, and is described in a deed from P. P. Peace to said Woodard recorded in Book 68, page 447, said Register's office.
A satisfactory purchaser will be allowed every term as to payment of part of the purchase price is paid in cash. W. N. JONES, Oct. 18-96. Attorney.

BUSINESS SUITS

Are in order with the advent of autumn activity. No clothing suits business at all unless it fits neatly and perfectly. No garment fits properly unless it's made to order. That's the first axiom of dress, and it doesn't need proving. It's as plain as the multiplication table that our made-to-order suits are unequalled in town.

YOU RECOGNIZE THAT

Every time you see one of our suits which are exactly what they should be in every particular. The logic of facts is unanswerable.

READY FOR THE FALL CAMPAIGN

With everything decreed by the world's dictators of Fashion for the coming season, and governed by the moderate price system which has built up our vast constituency, and keeps increasing it in gratifying volume season after season.

YOUR MONEY'S FULL VALUE

It is considered fair and upright dealing everywhere but we are never satisfied unless we can go this accepted mercantile truism one better; to out-do the best values of our competitors and to improve upon our own. Your inspection of prices will, we think make evident the success with which we have applied the above principle or rather our improvement upon it.

CLOTHING

As stylish, handsome and new as it is possible to make them at prices lower than most houses ask for last season's carried-over stock.
