

THE PRESS-VISITOR.

THOS. J. FENCE, - - - City Editor.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1896.

Index to New Advertisements.

Notice to Tax-payers - Page, Sheriff, Peanut Brittle - Barbee & Pope, B. B. Seawell, Jr. - Surveyor, Felt Weather Strip - Julius Lewis & Co., Great Bargains - Thomas & Maxwell.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Forecast for North Carolina Monday - Not Received. Local Forecast for Raleigh and vicinity Monday - Fair, warmer.

Monday, November 4th Local data for 24 hours ending at 8 a. m. today - Maximum temperature, 55. Minimum temperature, 37; Rain-fall, 0.00.

PERSONAL.

Mr. W. P. McGehee is in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Grimes have returned to the city.

We are glad to see Mr. Ben Moore in the city looking well.

Mr. W. S. Utley returned from Hillsboro yesterday.

Mr. Will Ashe, of the Geological Survey, is in the city today.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave King left on this morning's vestibule for Atlanta.

General O. C. Huggins left for Onslow county this morning on a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Higgs left today on a visit to the Atlanta exposition.

Miss Sadie Kiner, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is in the city visiting the Misses Horton, on Wilmington street.

Mr. Charles Howard, has returned from a week's visit to the Atlanta Exposition. He says it is a big show.

Bella Lockwood, passed through here yesterday morning on the Seaboard Air Line train, bound from Atlanta to Washington.

Marshal Carroll left for Wilmington, N. C. this morning to attend the Federal term of court. Mr. Clifford Carroll accompanied him in order to relieve him of official duties.

Mr. George Terrell returned yesterday from Raleigh, where he had been in attendance on his father, Mr. S. W. Terrell, who is seriously ill. He returned to Raleigh this morning.

A Slander Case.

From Little River to-day came many country witnesses in a slander case. The crowd struck town early in the morning and hung around the steps of the law building and the magistrate's court, talking excitedly in little, interested knots. In the main entrance of the public building stood "the woman in the case," young and with a certain wild beauty.

It seems that Adel Eddings married a woman named Hagwood. It is said that the match was distasteful to the husband's family, and that his brothers have been making slanderous statements against her character. She is who brings the suit against Eddings' two brothers.

The case will hardly come to trial, as strenuous efforts are being made to compromise.

New Foreman of Wrecking Department.

Mr. J. S. Riddle has been appointed foreman of the wrecking train on the S. A. L. by Mr. W. T. Plad, superintendent of motive power. Mr. Riddle will have supervision of wrecks occurring on the road between Portsmouth and Monroe, including the divisions. He succeeds Mr. Larson, who has resigned to return to his former home, St. Paul, Minn. Mr. Riddle is an expert mechanic and an all-around hustler. This much is evidenced from the fact that he has been chosen to superintend so important a work.

Raleigh Ahead of Liverpool.

There is not much doubt about the fact that Raleigh cotton buyers pay better prices for their cotton than is paid elsewhere in this state. A glance at figures will show this to be true.

This morning a local buyer received an order for a supply of cotton from Liverpool. The figure named as the price amounted to 8.00. The same grade of cotton was selling here at 8.32. Raleigh was purchasing cotton 25 points above Liverpool.

Gov. Carr and Family Leave for Atlanta.

His Excellency Governor Elias Carr and family leave this afternoon via the Southern Railway for Atlanta to visit the Exposition. The Governor and party will occupy private Car No. 109, formerly used by Col. A. B. Andrews. Gov. Carr's visit is informal, but no doubt he will be shown many courtesies.

This afternoon Thomas Anderson, son of Congressman Alexander, of Charlotte, had the misfortune to have two of his fingers cut off in some of the machinery at the A. and N. Col. mill.

There is a big rush for the great bargains at Thomas & Maxwell's. Dislocation of Partnership. The firm of Barbee & Thompson is this day dissolved by mutual consent. Mr. Alf A. Thompson retiring. The business will be continued by Mr. E. B. Barbee. (Signed) E. B. BARBEE, ALF A. THOMPSON. Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 30, 1896.

Under the advice of my physician I have concluded to retire temporarily from business and beg to cordially commend Mr. E. B. Barbee, who continues the business of Barbee & Thompson, to the patrons of the old firm. My connection with Mr. Barbee is severed with sincere regret. Not only as partners, but friends, our relationship have been, without exception, thoroughly cordial. With every facility for conducting the business, an entire knowledge of the wants of the trade, and a fixed intention to give value received, there is every reason to assure those interested that dealings with Mr. Barbee will be entirely satisfactory. ALF A. THOMPSON.

I desire to thank our patrons for past favors and solicit a continuance of the same with the assurance that I will do my best to please them. E. B. BARBEE.

Berwanger's Reasoning.

If you have your Overcoat made "to order," you are one in a thousand. There are a hundred reasons why it is unnecessary. There isn't the excuse for an Overcoat that might prompt you to "go to a tailor" for a suit.

The Overcoat is a single garment—a single fitting in a suit there are three satisfactions to give—coat, pants and vest. Now fashion runs to the longer lengths. You don't know whether you're going to like a long coat, a medium long one, or a tolerably short one best. When you order you are in the dark. You pay a high price, $50 to $75 at least, and it is too much to hazard on chance satisfaction.

The difference is just here. In our line of fine Overcoats we have reproduced fashion in its variety. All lengths hang on our racks. You see what you are buying, size yourself up in it before you go to a cent's expense. As for the get-up, ours are not to be compared with any but the finest. We don't care how particular you are, your notions are not beyond the forethought of our collection.

Do you know that artists, such as design our fine Overcoats, are paid about the salary of four ordinary knights of the shire? Because you don't find the coat hanging to the coat, because you can buy ours cheaper than the local tailors can make them for you, don't give it the wrong reason, don't think the saving is skimmed from the cloth, or the trimming, or the making, but figure a little.

Where a tailor buys a yard of cloth we buy ten cases, where he makes one coat we make ten thousand, the business of our buying brings its discounts, and the big-ness of our selling gives its discounts. Look at our Overcoats, $7.50 to $30, and you get the best made.
