$3.00 PER YEAR.

MISS WHITNEY'S NOBLE

Secretary's Daughter Married to Hugh Paget.

MR. CLEVELAND THERE.

The Wedding Aroused Nearly as Much Interest as the Marriage—Vanderbilt Too.

By Telegram to the Press-Visitor.
New York, Nov. 12.—Mr. Cleveland, Secretary Herbert and Lamont arrived on a special car at 7 o'clock this morning to attend the Paget-Whitney wedding. They were met by friends of the bride at Jersey and escorted to the Hotel Netherlands. The distinguished trio attracted quite a crowd at the depot.

It is not often that the President of the United States lends his presence at a wedding, and the announcement that President Cleveland would express his high regard for his old Secretary by dropping the affairs of State and coming from Washington to attend the wedding of Miss Pauline Whitney to Almeric Hugh Paget at high noon today, raised that event to an importance in the public mind equal to the recent Deuel wedding which occurred in the same sanctuary, St. Thomas Episcopal Church. A large crowd was early on hand.

The day was cool and ideal. The preparations in the church were in excellent taste and extremely beautiful. Society was well represented. The bridegroom is the youngest son of Gen. Lord Alfred Paget, who is a personal aide-de-camp to the Queen, and a grandson of the first Marquis of Anglesia, a noted diplomat.

Elizabeth Stanton's Eightieth Birthday.

By Cable to the Press-Visitor.
CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Women all over the land are today celebrating the eightieth birthday of Elizabeth Cady Stanton. The Cook county equal suffrage association is meeting at the Sherman House to formulate congratulations and celebrate the occasion in appropriate manner.

New York, Nov. 12.—Elizabeth Cady Stanton celebrates her eightieth birthday today. In the Metropolitan opera house tonight will be a notable gathering of women, who have been pioneers in the movement for the advancement of women in this country. Miss Susan B. Anthony, Clara Barton, Francis Willard, Julia Ward Howe, J. Ellen Foster, and others will speak. A lengthy address from Mrs. Stanton will be read.

Masked Robbers Got Thousands.

By Telegram to the Press-Visitor.
COLORADO SPRINGS, Col., Nov. 12.—The express office at the Santa Fe depot was robbed of twenty thousand dollars by two masked robbers, who held up the agent, forcing him to open the safe. Officers are scouring the country. There is no clue.

Big Long Island Blaze.

By Telegram to the Press-Visitor.
LAWRENCE, L. I., Nov. 12.—The Lawrence Beach hotel, Mrs. Kie's cottage and several other buildings were burned this morning. The loss will exceed a hundred thousand. Only the shifting of the wind prevented the destruction of the town.

Knights of Labor in Session.

By Telegram to the Press-Visitor.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—The 19th annual convention of Knights of Labor began in session today and will continue about ten days. The business meetings are guarded with the utmost secrecy. The attitude of the order toward the political parties will be considered.

Bill "Jawing" About Salisbury's Speech.

By Telegram to the Press-Visitor.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Salisbury's failure to mention the Venezuelan question in his recent speech is construed to mean that he attaches less importance to it and the controversy over the Monroe doctrine than has been supposed.

This Fire a Death Trap.

By Telegram to the Press-Visitor.
CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—John Baranovich was burned to death, his wife and twenty-four-year-old son, Martin, fatally hurt, and three others injured in a fire, destroyed two buildings on Noble street early this morning.

TODAY'S MARKETS.

Cotton Vacillating and Closes Three Points Off.

Special to the Press-Visitor.
New York, Nov. 12.—Liverpool opened with the spot market easier. Sales, 19,000 bales; middling, 4 9-16; last year, 5 12-32. Futures were steady, 5-54 decline and closed steady 7 1-3 points decline. Manchester quoted yarn easier, cloths dull. Our market opened with sales of January at 2.40 to 2.55 (closed at 2.55), and declined to 2.35, from which it advanced to 2.38. At 1 p. m. 2.35 was the ruling price. An active demand for cotton in Liverpool from Manchester, based upon the report of the Agricultural Department, which according to Mr. Neil's estimate, is supposed to indicate a crop of between 5,800,000 to 6,200,000 bales. This demand, however, was not sustained by any speculative demand in Europe, as the arrival market declined 3-64, closing steady at the decline. The market opened better, declined on long liquidation to the lowest point touched since the bull market culminated in October. From this point the market has reacted sharply to last night's prices and covering demand on the part of our local operators, who consider present prices low enough for the moment, though the tendency is to raise the crop estimates to about 7,000,000 bales as a result of the bureau report, which indicated a larger crop than the trade generally expected.

NEW YORK AND LIVERPOOL MARKETS.

New York, Nov. 12.—Liverpool opened 5-64 lower, recovered 1-64, but closed with a net decline of 7-64. Steady spot demand, good; sales, 19,000 bales, of which 10,000 bales American, 9,000 for export and speculation.

New York opened 5 points off, lost 6 points more, but recovered all the loss and closed steady 2 points above last night's close.

Sales, 20,000.

Bears are covering their recent sales. Receipts are 48,575 against 61,000 bales last year. Tomorrow we shall have to compare with 55,000 bales.

Towards the close there was a steadier undertone, and a better market is expected tomorrow.

Options closed as follows:

November, 8.25 to 8.35; December, 8.34 to 8.38; January, 8.39 to 8.40; February, 8.44 to 8.45; March, 8.43 to 8.49; April, 8.52 to 8.53; May, 8.57 to 8.58; June, 8.60 to 8.62; July, 8.65 to 8.64; August, 8.65 to 8.67.

Chicago Grain Market.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Grain quotations closed today as follows:

Wheat—December, 87 3-8 to 87 1-2; May, 81 5-8 to 81 3-4.

Corn—December, 27 7-8; May, 29 3-8 to 29 1-2.

Oats—December, 18 1-4; May, 20 5-8.

Raleigh Cotton Market.

Tuesday, November 12th.

Middling, 8.

Strict middling, 8 1-8.

Good middling, 8 1-4.

Strict to good middling, 8 3-8.

Market quiet.

Puritan Free Again.

By Telegram to the Press-Visitor.
New London, Nov. 12.—The Fall river line steamer, Puritan, was pulled off Great Gull island this morning. She is in harbor here and leaves for New York today.

What of a State League?

At the recent meeting in Durham of baseball enthusiasts, it was agreed upon to organize a State league, composed of the leading towns in the center of the State. Durham has made all arrangements to lay off a park and fence it in, if the league can be formed.

Raleigh should keep an advance in the movement. There is a strong feeling here for a league. If the right parties take hold, it will be a success.

Adjourning Court for the Races.

Rockingham court closed Wednesday. Judge Brown adjourned court on Tuesday for the Ralfeville races and some of the Rockingham papers are criticizing him for it. The Leaskville Gazette asks: "Who will now say that horse-racing is not demoralizing?"

There are 21 prisoners in the Rockingham jail, among the number being William Haines, one of the wealthiest men in the county, put in for some misdemeanor, with several other grave charges against him. Some think he should be sent to the insane asylum.

RADICAL DISSENSIONS

Republicans Already Quarreling Among Themselves.

HOPE FOR DEMOCRATS.

Boes Quay's Presidential Aspirations Become Serious, On the Old Appropriation Racket.

Special to the Press-Visitor.
WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—Democrats are extracting considerable consolation out of the old political maxim, that "a party is never in such great danger as just after it has won a great victory," and that it is a wise maxim the political upheavals of the last eight or ten years fully prove. No greater political victory was ever won in this country than that which in 1892 put the Democrats in possession of the executive and legislative branches of the government. Yet, look what followed. In 1894, dissolution in Democratic ranks, and a Republican Congressional victory; in 1895, more Democratic dissolution and Republican victories in States heretofore safely Democratic. The dissolution in the ranks of the victorious Republican party is already marked, and it is not confined to the fight over the Presidential candidate of the party, but includes the policy to be followed by the overwhelming Republican majority in the House during the coming session of Congress. These dissensions even extend to the tariff question. Senator Sherman lately said that he would vote for no bill amending the tariff that did not provide a duty for wool, and Representative Daisel, of Pennsylvania, who may be the next Chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, says the tariff is going to be amended and duties raised. Now comes ex-Senator Manderson, of Nebraska, who pointedly says: "The Republicans cannot afford to open up the tariff question. If an attempt is made to put a duty on wool or any other article, every industry will rush in and demand more protection." This being the situation, it is natural that Democrats should expect their prospects in the national campaign to be much improved by existing dissensions in the Republican party and those certain to be engendered during the session of Congress. As Senator Mitchell, of Wisconsin, now in Washington, aptly puts it, "I have seen much darker days than these for the Democratic party. But there was a vital principle in the doctrine of Democracy which was destined to make the party great, and which will always make it important."

The political whirligig turns up some queer things, but when it turned up Boes Quay as a candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination it turned up something queerer than usual. When it was first mentioned in Washington that some of the little Republican papers in Pennsylvania were booming Quay for the nomination, it was regarded as a sort of a joke on Quay, sprung by some well-meaning editor who was seriously grateful for favors done and hopeful of those yet to come and who really believed that Quay was big enough for such an honor. His candidacy is no longer regarded as a joke. He is seriously in the field and has a literary bureau working up sentiment in his favor. At first glance one is inclined to say that Quay is throwing good money away, so small is his chance to win, but when one considers that Quay has made big "government appropriations and liberal expenditures upon all sorts of internal improvements" the corner stone of his candidacy, and remembers the success of Republicans in the past who had no other political capital than "the old flag and appropriation," one doesn't feel so certain about it. It may be that Quay thought that Tom Reed was having too much of a walk over, and that his candidacy is put forth merely as a foundation for a good dinner.

Hon. William F. Harty, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, who has been in Washington for several days, believes it is always good politics to keep a stiff upper lip, no matter how the returns come in. This is the way he staid up the effect of last week's elections on the Democratic party: "While the elections showed great Republican victories, they have not disheartened us, by any manner of means. We shall get together again next November and we will make a good showing in the next campaign. We will select a good candidate and we will show the country that the Democratic party is still very much alive."

ADJUDICATION IN THE WEST.

To Squelch a How Postoffice Petitions were Necessary.

Major Hayes was showing today a unique letter, which he had just received from Jack Stillman, a widely known scout, deputy marshal, Indian fighter and general desperado in the stirring days of '68.

But as in the majority of cases with men who have had an abundance of "experience," Jack Stillman finds himself today, when he is getting old and the one time straight eye wavers, and the one time steady hand shakes under the weight of his six-shooter, sadly in need of funds. And so he writes to Major Hayes to ask him to write to Washington to ask for a per diem for services rendered 'way back yonder, when he was a deputy marshal.

"You know," he writes, "that in them days a deputy marshal had to perform the duties of a policeman. There was a big row every day which I had to adjudicate, either by the six-shooter bluff or moral snafos or by singing a petition for a postoffice."

There is lots of humor in the last line, as in fact through the whole letter, for a fifth-class postoffice was the height of the ambition of every cowboy and puncher and what-not in the West.

LOGE, HIS SPONSOR.

Bradley of Kentucky Got North Carolina's Vote in 1892.

Governor-elect Bradley, of Kentucky, the first Republican to be elected Governor of a Southern State, is being boomed by his friends and Kentucky Republicans for a place on the national ticket. Northern papers have taken up "the cry" and altogether, Mr. Bradley is getting right much valuable advertising.

It is interesting to note in this connection that Mr. Bradley was voted for by the North Carolina delegation for the nomination for the Vice-Presidency in the National Republican Convention of '88. A Raleigh Republican, and no less a personage than our good friend J. C. Logan Harris, placed the young Kentuckian before the convention.

Mr. Harris put the ball to rolling, and Mr. Bradley received a flattering vote. Mr. Harris, though differing with Bradley on the silver question, says he is qualified in every way to be at the head of the nation.

Mr. Bradley's boom for the Vice Presidency is moving at such a rapid rate and being looked on so patronizingly by McKinley, the high priest, that it is about to take the wind out of Fritchard's vice-presidential aspirations.

The Next Attraction at the Academy.

Mr. Meares announces that at the Academy will be the Agnes Wallace Villa Company on Friday night Nov. 22nd.

The Danville Star says of the Company:

The melodrama, "The World Against Her," was presented at the Academy of Music last evening before an appreciative audience. The Agnes Wallace Villa Company is composed of good people, and their performance last night gave eminent satisfaction, each and every point of the performance being applauded to the echo. Where all were so competent it were invidious to particularize. Especial praise must, however, be given to Miss Agnes Wallace Villa, whose rendition of the difficult role of Madge Carlton frequently brought tears from her sympathetic audience. Miss Sabra Deahon, as the adventures, was all that the part called for, and Lucie Viola's magnificent presence and vocal abilities won the warmest approval. The dude, the showman and his wife were perfection. We must not forget that all the specialties were capital and particularly that of Little Mabel, whose dances were a delight to the audience. The same play will be repeated this afternoon and tonight, and we advise you to go and see one of the best companies that has visited us this season.

Applied Only to Chatham.

A gentleman who pays taxes both in this and Chatham county received today a postal from Sheriff Jenkins saying that under chapter 200, laws of 1885, tax payers had until January 1st to pay; that if they paid before that time they were entitled to a discount of six per cent. The gentleman having settled in Wake kusted about to find the law; and from the sheriff's card, it looked as though a "tempest" might be raised in the sheriff's office.

When the laws were looked into, however, it was discovered that the section applied only to Chathamians. Wake county people draw no bounteous gifts from fiscalists.

THE PORTE MAKES REPLY

Scheme of Reform to be Sent "Without Delay."

A JOINT POLICY LIKELY

Will be Pursued by the Powers—Naval and Military Displays are Looked For.

By cable to the Press-Visitor.
CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 12.—The reply of the porte to the communications sent in after the meeting of the ambassadors yesterday was announced this afternoon. The porte replied in the identical same notes to the ambassadors of Germany, Austria and Italy. They said simply that information regarding this scheme for reform in Armenia would be forwarded to the representative powers "without delay."

This means that these three ambassadors have received no satisfaction at all; it is not yet known if the notes of the ambassadors of Great Britain, Russia and France have been replied to, but it is presumed that they also were assured that their requests for information regarding the proposed reforms would be complied with, "without delay."

It was stated this afternoon in European official circles that as the result of an additional exchange of views between the powers through their representatives here and at different capitals, it is believed that a joint course of action involving a display of naval and possibly military force has already been decided upon with a view to restoring order in Armenia, recent events demonstrating that the Sultan has no intention of executing the scheme of reform demanded.

Advices from Zettoun, Asia Minor, say the Turkish garrison at that place has been compelled to surrender to the Armenians. The financial situation in Constantinople is still unsatisfactory.

WILL KEEP IT UP.

The Seaboard Will Continue to Cut Rates—Less Than 1-2 Cent a Mile.

The Seaboard will next Saturday place the $5 rate to Atlanta on sale. This will be done at various times during the Exposition, so it is said. The rate is one of the lowest ever offered, being about one half cent per mile.

The Atlanta Constitution of yesterday says: The Seaboard Air Line has come to the front once more with a passenger rate war.

The Seaboard makes the offer openly that it will sell tickets to the Atlanta exposition north of Abbeville at $5 from any station, no matter how far up the line from Atlanta that station may be.

These tickets will be good on special dates, which will be properly advertised by the Seaboard.

The first trains came into Atlanta yesterday on this schedule of rates and the effect was all that the officials of the road could have asked. The trains brought about a thousand people to Atlanta.

Each of the Atlanta specials brought nine carloads of people. They had passengers from various stations in the Carolinas and Virginia.

Capt. B. A. Newland said in talking to a reporter: "We are more than satisfied with the result of the first excursion and will run them just as we find the demand for them."

"There are plenty of people who would come to the exposition if they could only get lower railroad rates, and while the railroads have all made low rates the Seaboard intends to make them even lower for those who live far away."

It is known that the Seaboard is not a member of the Southern State-Passenger Association and they have bolted the rates that were fixed by the other lines.

Chamber of Commerce Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce and Industry will be held on this (Tuesday) evening at 8 o'clock in the Mayor's office. Business of importance will be presented.

Geo. Allen, Sec'y.

Oh, Yes—Drunk.

The Durham Sun says two nights ago, Will Tallock and John Cough, who were confined in the city guard-house for being drunk, made their escape by battering a hole through the wall of the jail with a window weight, which they secured from one of the jail windows.

NEW RAIL BEING LAID.

The Southern Making Many Improvements on the New Route.

The Southern Railway has begun work at this end of the line in preparation to reach their deep-water terminus at Norfolk. New rails have arrived, and the old track is now being replaced by 60 pound rails. The heavy rails will not reach Raleigh. The new track will extend from Greensboro to Nelson, a station just beyond Morrisville.

The company had this supply of new rail contracted for and it was decided to use it as far as it would go. Next year the entire track from Greensboro to Selma will be replaced by heavier steel rails.

The small engines which were used on this division of the Southern will be replaced by heavier and larger ones. The work at the terminus is progressing rapidly. The Southern will establish a water route from Norfolk. In addition to the new steel steamship recently ordered from the Cramps, several of the vessels now running to West Point will be transferred to Norfolk. The Charlotte is among the number.

The Southern officials are making a strong effort to complete their new route by January 1st.

SNOW AT GREENSBORO.

It Fell Steady From 11 Till 1 Last Night—A Touch Here.

Persons who came down from Greensboro this morning report that the snow, which pedestrians here last night confidently expected, came down with a will at Greensboro, and presumably at all points west of that city. Greensboro, however, seems to have been as far east as the snow descended to fall. At Durham, Raleigh and other points east of Greensboro last night there was a mean, slow drizzle, chilling to a degree, but still a rain.

Editor Hal Ayer says that some snow fell here late yesterday afternoon. At the hour designated by him, however, most people were hugging a fire or enjoying their evening meal, so few other than he, saw the first coming of the wintry forerunner.

At no point where snow fell did it stick. This was due of course to the previous rains which had thoroughly wetted the ground. The 11th of November is exceedingly early for a snow in the central portion of the State.

Marshall Carroll Ill.

We regret to announce that Marshall O. J. Carroll is ill at his residence in this city. Mr. Carroll has never recovered since his attack at Newbern. He went to Wilmington last Wednesday, and was sick at the time, but grew worse and had to return home Saturday evening.

Two physicians are attending Mr. Carroll three times a day. He has fever and symptoms of appendicitis. His condition has not improved since his return. His many friends will learn of the Marshall's illness with regret. We sincerely hope to see his genial countenance on the streets soon.

Chief Clerk Clifford Carroll and Chief Deputy Hannah are running the Court at Wilmington in the Marshall's absence.

Chrysanthemum Show this Week.

The chrysanthemum show will hold forth at the store formerly occupied by Norris, Robbins & Co., Wednesday and Thursday of this week. The ladies are making elaborate preparations for a lovely display of the queen of autumn. Those who desire to help make the display a success will send chrysanthemums and flowers to the store tomorrow afternoon.

As everybody knows, the chrysanthemum is a fad. It is only a "weed of Japan," which has been cultivated and idealized into the glory of the hot houses. It came into vogue or fashion about eight or ten years ago.

CITY IN BRIEF.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. will meet tomorrow afternoon at the rooms at 4 o'clock.

The carpenters' union meets tonight in the Pullen building. It is desired that the members will be present.

There will be an important meeting of Manteo Lodge tonight. The matter of changing the by-laws will be brought up. A full attendance is requested.

Mr. James W. Allison returned home this morning from Friendship, where he has been with Mr. Samuel Spencer, President of the Southern, as private operator. Mr. Spencer is spending a few weeks hunting at Friendship. Mr. Allison will return to Friendship next Saturday and remain there ten days, as he has been engaged to handle Mr. Spencer's telegraphic work.

NEWS GATHERED IN A DAY

Condensed and Put in a Readable Form.

FACTS AND GOSSIP.

Interestingly Told as Picked up on the Streets and Various Points About Town.

Four convicts arrived in the city today from Wilson.

Revival services conducted by the pastor will be held at Central Methodist Church each evening this week beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Before Mayor Russ this morning a man was fined $5 for indecent exposure; also one for disorderly conduct. An old drunk was given twelve hours in the station house.

Married near New Hope Church, at the residence of Mr. J. L. Thompson in Neuse River township, on the 10th inst., Mr. Nathan Tyson and Miss Lilly Spikes, Rev. R. H. Whitaker, officiating.

Senator Marion Butler leaves for Washington Friday, where he goes to make arrangements at the mansion, which was recently leased by him for occupancy. His furniture, which was stowed away in this city, was shipped to Washington yesterday.

Rev. D. H. Tuttle is conducting a revival at the Central Methodist church. The meeting last night was a stirring one. Much interest is being taken in the revival. Mr. Tuttle has preached six sermons on the Holy Ghost, preparatory to the meeting.

Rev. Mr. Tuttle will not emphasize the sanctification idea in his revival. He may dwell upon it in one of his sermons. Dr. Carradine, the divine who preached sanctification last year in Nashville, Tenn. He has engagements for over a year hence.

Commissioner B. R. Lacy is showing today a unique souvenir of the Atlanta Exposition in the shape of a tiny bale of genuine cotton, with gold thread for bagging. It is the gift of Engineer Dave King. Mr. Lacy says 'tis the first bale of cotton he ever owned.

Mr. John Y. MacRae believes in putting his advertisement where it will go into every home in Raleigh and that is why you always see it in our columns. All our readers are invited to call on him and they will always find what they want at his drug stores.

In Assembly hall of the Centennial School can be seen the roof of honor for the week ending, November 8, 1895. It contains the names of Masters Jack Perry, George Badger, Talcott Brewer, Myrtle Belvin, Paul Faison and Misses Dora Olmstead, Metta Gulley, Hattie Branch, Moddie Ellington, Amanda Cross.

Rev. Dr. J. J. Hall and wife, of Norfolk, Va., on their return home from Atlanta, stopped over in our city today, and are the guest of Mr. C. B. Edwards, on West Martin street, where they will be pleased to receive their friends this morning. Dr. Hall was formerly pastor of the Tabernacle church of this city.

Mr. W. E. Murchison, of Jonesboro, was in the city today. Mr. Murchison is one of the most prominent lawyers of his section and is also interested in the Jonesboro Cotton Mill. He declares that the farmers thereabouts are in better condition than they have been in ten years, and he is confident that cotton will go much higher.

The personally conducted trip of Mr. W. K. Ellington carried away this morning one hundred and fifty persons to see the exhibition. People came in from the country and neighboring towns all day yesterday. When, in the biting cold of a mucky, rainy morning the crowd surged in the cars, but found no fire there. And so the trip started under a cloud-burst by profanity as well as rain.

Deputy Collector Davis yesterday captured at Ophir, in Montgomery county, two illicit grain distilleries, which were cut up. The stills were supposed to be owned by James Woodhall and Lee Hall. As neither of these gentlemen were present when the deputies arrived, no arrests were made. Ophir, "the land of gold," would seem to be a misnomer, considering the number of blockade establishments near that place.
