EIGHT HUNDRED KILLED

And American Mission House Burned—The Missionaries Managed to Escape.

By Telegram to the Press-Visitor.
COMBATIOWOLA, Nov. 16.—About eight hundred persons have been massacred by Muslims at Klarpur. The reports so far received bring intelligence of the most cruel and atrocious outrages. The fanatical rioters indulged in all sorts of crimes and murdered and robbed everyone on whom they could seize.

Eight, out of twelve buildings belonging to the American mission were burned to the ground. The missionaries effected their escape.

It is believed that this last outbreak will bring about decisive steps, other than mere demands, by the powers. The United States may be drawn in at least to protect her missionaries.

By Telegram to the Press-Visitor.
DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 16.—Senator Burrows left for Washington today, saying that the outlook for legislation of a general character was not flattering. He expects to see the appropriation bills passed, but beyond that there will not be much work of general nature. Much time will be given the financial question, the present condition of the treasury and providing measures of relief. He favors the return of a protective tariff and the abolition of the practice of collecting duties by ad valorem.

A FORGER CAUGHT.

He Signed Checks Promiscuously and Used no Canning.
Yesterday in Durham a well-dressed man giving his name as Mattacks was arrested for forging checks on tobacco men. It is reasonably certain that he is the same man who forged checks in this city on Thursday on the J. S. Meadows warehouse. Not only that he forged checks been done in Raleigh and Durham, but also in Henderson and possibly in other towns.

Thursday during the day several parties who created suspicion hung around the Meadows warehouse on the corner of Davis and Blount. When the close of business came, several checks from the check-book, all being numbered, were missing. One of these checks was passed on the Citizens National Bank. Another was passed on Mr. A. B. Stronach. The checks were signed: "J. S. Meadows, per Williams."

The cards forgot slipped out of town Thursday night. The police were on to him yesterday, but he was caught at his own game in Durham. It is likely that he will be tried in Durham. Several of Mr. Meadows' blank checks were found on his person.

Messrs. Royal & Borden are now offering great bargains in handsome furniture. Call and see what they are showing.

FUNERAL OF DR. DURHAM.

Leading Baptists were Present—Boy Entered in Oakwood.
The funeral services of the late Dr. C. Durham occurred from the First Baptist Church this afternoon. The large seating capacity of the church was taxed by the many people who went to do reverence to the lamented Baptist. Part of the congregation was composed of Wake Forest people and there were others present from surrounding towns.

The music was simple and impressive. Dr. J. W. Carter, pastor of the church was the officiating minister. He was assisted by Dr. Simms and others. Prayer was offered by the Rev. Dr. Thos. E. Skinner.

Dr. Gwaltney of Wake Forest spoke of Dr. Durham's relation to Wake Forest College. Dr. Huffman spoke of Dr. Durham's great labor for state missions.

Funeral exercises were conducted at the grave in Oakwood Cemetery. The pall-bearers were Messrs. C. J. Hunter, H. L. Watson, J. D. Bonshall, J. H. Alford, J. S. Allen, J. T. Pullen, D. H. Young, and J. B. Brewer.

Dr. C. E. Taylor, President of Wake Forest College, regretted very much that he could not remain in the city to attend the funeral, but he left for New York on the morning train to fill an engagement made two weeks ago.

Among the Baptist ministers who were here to attend the funeral were Dr. Huffman, of Shelby; Dr. Gwaltney, Dr. Pritchard, Rev. T. Hartwell Edwards, Rev. J. K. Howell. Others were expected on the afternoon trains.

CITY IN BRIEF.

Dr. C. E. Taylor, President of Wake Forest College delivered a lecture last night on manhood and womanhood to the students of Shaw University.

One more poor, sad-eyed convict came slouching along in the rear of a sheriff to the penitentiary today. He, however, was one to whom the horror of novelty had worn off in the matter of iron bars.

Mr. George Farrell, of the Agricultural Department, is making up the mailing-list of the next Bulletin. The task is a long one, as the heavy mailing machine must be thumped down 10,000 times.

Mrs. W. H. J. Nelms, who, as Miss Alice Green, was known as one of the State's most accomplished and popular young ladies, is in the city, the guest of Mrs. W. P. Whitaker on Fayetteville street.

The University of North Carolina football team plays Blacksburg College a second-class Virginia eleven today. The Tar Heels hope and confidently expect to run up a big score. Joe Whitaker is now permanently located as full-back of the "Varsity."

John Williamson and Rev. R. E. W. Leak spent several of the sun-warmed morning hours against a telegraph pole in front of the Citizens' bank. Politics—and of dark hue—was their theme, but a pale faced reporter could catch nothing of this latest plot covered with a cloud of mystery as dark as its author's face.

Announcement is made in another column that Dr. Harvey Upehureh will locate in Raleigh in the practice of medicine. Dr. Upehureh is a young gentleman of fine qualities and is in every way fully qualified and equipped to practice medicine. He graduated with honors at one of the leading medical institutions and has since been doing hospital work, acquiring valuable observation and experience. It is with peculiar pleasure that we announce Dr. Upehureh's intention to practice medicine in this city.

Oil to be Sold by the Pound.

The Standard Oil Company has out a new wrinkle. Ever since oil has been used people have been buying it by the gallon, half gallon and quart, as other liquids are sold, but now oil will be sold by the pound. The Salisbury Herald wants to know whether or not the stuff will be cut off in blocks or slices, like meat and cheese, or whether it will be furnished in pound cakes, like butter.

Governor Carr today received from a prominent citizen of Norfolk, but a former North Carolinian and Raleighite, a letter enclosing a dispatch from Texas to the effect that Governor Culbertson had appointed a committee from the State at large to design plans through which to secure funds for an appropriate memorial to the ship named after that State.

COTTON UP AGAIN AT LAST

The Staple Advances Nine Points Today.

SPOT BUSINESS GOOD

Manchester Spinners are Said to Be Bare of Raw Material.

New York, Nov. 16.—To the surprise of the trade, Liverpool opened 3-64 a. lower and immediately improved under an active demand for cotton by Manchester spinners, closing steady at 1 to 2-64 d. higher than yesterday.

That demand from spinners confirms our advice of yesterday, that the Manchester market was decidedly more cheerful, and spinners were disposed to buy freely. Today our cables say the sales should have been 30,000 bales instead of 14,000 as officially reported; and that they expected the English spinners will continue to be free buyers at present prices. If the continental demand increases in a similar proportion, we may look for support to prices from a source long lacking.

It is evident that the decrease in the visible supply of cotton as compared with that of the last four seasons at the same time, is causing the spinners to consider whether it might not be well to obtain at least a portion of their supplies when the ultimate outturn of the crop is still in doubt.

The temper of the trade is, however, still bullish, based upon the idea that the bull speculation for the year is over, and that it will be found that the crop has been largely underestimated. Calculations of the probable error in the bureau's figures of yield per acre, as given in the Chronicle this morning, are the same as we called attention to when the report was published; viz: that it indicated anything from 6,500,000 bales to 8,000,000 bales, depending upon the bias of the statistician. We anticipate a continued good demand in Liverpool next week, and a higher market.

NEW YORK AND LIVERPOOL MARKETS.

New York, Nov. 16.—In consequence of yesterday's decline in New York Liverpool futures declined 4-64 at the opening, but recovered all the loss and closed steady at an advance of 1 1/2-64 as compared with yesterday's close. The spot business was very good; sales, 14,000 bales, of which 12,000 bales American, 1,500 bales for export and speculation; middling, 4 1/2-32, firm.

New York opened 10 points up and closed about 9 points higher than yesterday. Sales 187,700 bales. Cables from Liverpool say that the present cheap price for cotton attracts the attention of Manchester spinners who are said to be bare of raw material. The spot sales in Liverpool during the last week show that Manchester is buying very freely and continental spinners will not hesitate to follow the example of Lancashire.

Should the spot demand in Liverpool continue on a liberal scale, and the political situation not become more complicated, an improvement in the price of cotton may be seen. Bears are fighting the advance. Gold exports, which are predicted for next week, may help the bears to a certain extent. The export of cotton to Europe has so far been very limited, and the supply of cotton bills is very much felt in New York.

Estimated receipts, 28,000 bales, 47,000 last year. On Monday we shall have to compare with 71,000 last year; Tuesday, 70,000; Wednesday, 49,000; Thursday, 41,000; Friday, 60,000. Options closed as follows: November, 8.10 to 8.12; December, 8.11 to 8.12; January, 8.16 to 8.17; February, 8.30 to 8.32; March, 8.35 to 8.36; April, 8.30 to 8.31; May, 8.34 to 8.35; June, 8.37 to 8.38; July, 8.39 to 8.40; August, 8.40 to 8.42; September, 1895, 8.04 to 8.06.

CHICAGO GRAIN MARKET.

CHICAGO, Nov. 16.—Grain quotations closed today as follows: Wheat—December, 57 3/8; May, 51 5/8. Corn—December, 37 3/4; May, 33 3/8.

RALEIGH COTTON MARKET.

Saturday, November 16th. Good middling, 7 1/2-8 to 8. Strict middling, 7 3/4-8 to 7 7/8.

THE KING'S DAUGHTERS

Held Their Annual Meeting Yesterday—Reports and Election of Officers.

The annual meeting of the King's Daughters was held yesterday afternoon at the Sunday School rooms of Edenton Street Methodist Church. Mrs. Hayes presided at the meeting in the absence of the president, Mrs. Kendrick.

The annual address by Mrs. Hayes was first read, giving a detailed account of the work of the order for the past year.

Mrs. Hayes' report gave some interesting statistics. During the year she made 1,000 visits; nine hundred needy persons were assisted. An especial effort has been made during this year to obtain homes and employment for persons out of work; and in food, wood, clothing, medicine, burial for the dead, nurses for the sick, and in many ways the worthy poor have been assisted by these noble women.

The ladies desire to return thanks to those who have helped them during the year in monthly pledges. The reports of the different circles for the year were read. They showed that the members had been active and had done a great work for the order.

After the reading of these reports, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Mrs. W. B. Kendrick, president. Miss McVea and Mrs. J. W. Carter, vice-presidents.

Miss Annie Hill, treasurer. Mrs. W. S. Primrose was unanimously elected to succeed Miss Eliza Moore, resigned, as secretary. Capt. C. B. Benson made an excellent talk, and called special attention to the work of Mrs. Hayes.

The audience repaired to the Mission rooms where a reception was tendered them. The evening was pleasantly spent.

THOSE STORM DOORS AT THE POSTOFFICE.

There is a complaint which every citizen in Raleigh has against the United States government, and it remains with the postoffice authorities to remedy the cause. It is those storm doors at the main entrance of the postoffice, which cause so much trouble and vexation of spirit. A person cannot enter the postoffice without an over-shadowing fear that one of those large doors will be pushed or swung against him. Usually the door hits the head in preference to other parts of the body.

According to the present arrangement the doors are a nuisance. Glass panels with wire protection could be put in the top panel of the doors at a very small cost. It is to be hoped that some action will be taken.

ON THE BIALTO.

The Virginia towns are turning out small houses to theatrical attractions and as a result some of them are shy of the South. One company telegraphed Manager Meares to cancel the date here.

Richard's and Pringle's minstrels which has the great Billy Kerans as an attraction is in this section and Manager Meares is trying to get them here. Gorton's Minstrels will be here next month.

Agnes Villa is the next attraction. Raleigh people are hungry for an attraction and will doubtless be out in full force.

GORMAN WAS A PLENTY FOR HIM.

John R. Morris, the non-delegate to the Drummers' Congress at Atlanta, passed through yesterday afternoon. Senator Butler arrived on the same train. "Yes, Marion Butler was on this train," said the bright traveler and writer, "but I want you to understand that I didn't chaperone him."

Dr. J. D. Huffman, of Shelby, formerly of Tarboro, will preach for pastor Sims at the Tabernacle tomorrow. Dr. Huffman was the first pastor the Tabernacle had and his collaborators and friends will be glad to see and hear him again. The public is invited.

IN THE MAYOR'S COURT.

Yesterday was a Bad Day with Howland—George Cross Again.

B. H. Howland, a timid country sport with a sad eyed expression was in the Mayor's Court today. Howland awoke this morning from a weary jag with two charges preferred against him in the Court. Several witnesses testified that he was drunk yesterday at the depot and was also indecently exposed.

Howland said the 15th of November was an entire blank in his mind. Mayor Russ taxed him $5 and costs as an admonition to keep his wits together in the future.

Howland had an ugly razor and a big bull dog pistol on his person when arrested, so the charge of C. C. W. stated him in the face. In his failure to thoroughly satisfy the Court that he had a good reason for carrying the implements of war, he was sent on to Court under a $25 bond.

Mayor Russ asked Howland what brand of liquor he had been drinking. "Corn" said the prisoner. "The wonder is that you did not do worse" responded his honor. George Cross is something of a juggler. He touched a Wilmington street habitue for a shirt and a bottle which contained a quart of liquor. Now George is in jail awaiting Court. His bond is $50.

THE NEXT ATTRACTION AT THE ACADEMY

Is "Agnes Wallace Villa, in Frank Harvey's tear drawing, heart-rendering melodrama of English country and city life. "The World Against Her" is the attraction at the Academy next Friday night and as the play is one of that class which appeals to the feminine heart, a large audience will doubtless be recorded. "The World Against Her" is vastly different from the average emotional melodrama of the present day. The story of a wife placed in a questionable light, through no fault of her own; the indignation of her husband, who casts her off; her lonely struggle for existence and battle to prove her innocence, and the final triumph of right and justice over villainy, has been told over and over again in many different ways, and the play is only one version of this story. It is played by a strong cast, the members of which as a rule, do effective work."

Taxation of Churches in Raleigh. Rev. D. H. Tuttle, pastor of Central Methodist church, writes as follows in this week's Christian Advocate: "The last Legislature put the following clause in Raleigh's new charter: 'That all real and personal property, whether held and owned by churches, religious organizations or societies, shall be taxed.' This shows which way the wind is blowing. What good can result? Will not valuation of church property be nearer correct? Will not our disposition to boast be frost-bitten? Will not this result in less dependence on wealth, and yield a plainer preaching of the gospel. See at once Ex. 21-8, and Dent 16-19. Do we not need something to bring us back to the saving simplicity of apostolic times? Rom. 8:38."

FOOTBALL THIS AFTERNOON.

The football teams of the University of North Carolina and the Virginia Agricultural and Mechanical College, will meet in Charlotte this afternoon. Both teams are unusually strong and have been playing exceedingly well this season. The Virginia boys have defeated every team met this season, excepting that of the University of Virginia. The Tar Heels have not met a single defeat and only one team so far has been able to score against them. In one game, at Swannee, Tenn., the result was a tie, 0 to 0, but the regular University players were laid up from bruises.

WILL WYNE ON HIS BIKE.

Will Wynne was to have rode a bicycle down one of the chutes at the Atlanta Exposition yesterday afternoon. The Constitution says: "At 9 o'clock Friday a daring race will be witnessed at the chutes. William A. Wynne, the champion trick bicyclist, will descend the chutes in a race with one of the boats. It will be a scene of thrilling excitement. The feat has never been accomplished. Mr. Wynne arrived in the city last night."

SPORTSMEN REPORT THAT BIRD-SHOOTING IS BETTER NOW THAN WAS THE CASE AT THE OPENING OF THE SEASON.

Birds are apparently as numerous, and are now much better grown. Mr. Charles Hinton, of the Executive office, who is a crack shot, went out yesterday and today brought his Excellency a beautiful feathered present.
