Both Liberals and Conservatives Clamor for Action

AGAINST TRICKY HAMD

At Constantinople the State of Affairs is Unchanged—Warship Waiting at Dardanelles.

By Cable to the Press-Visitor.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—Neither the ascent of the Sultan to each of the powers in having a second guardianship at Constantinople, nor the promulgation of the paper of reforms, will quiet the rising public wrath over the progress of his policy of extermination, directed against the Christians of Asia Minor. The clamor for strong and decisive dealing comes from Conservatives and Liberals alike. Popular conviction grows that Abdul Hamid is jockeying with the powers and that the palace intrigues, to whom his obstinacies and duplicity are attributed, agree with but don't rule him.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 30.—The situation shows little change. The cabinets of the powers have not yet reached a decision as to what action shall be taken in regard to the refusal of the Porte to issue armaments permitting doubling foreign guardships in the Bosphorus. The Dardanelles, awaiting further instructions.

ROSTOV, Nov. 30.—A letter from a Bostonian in Constantinople says that reforms under Abdul Hamid are impossible; that he must go; that his de-thronement is now common talk.

ENGLAND BOOKS DOWN.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 30.—Ambassador Currie has backed down and ordered the Dardanelles to return to Salontia and not try to force an entrance in the Dardanelles.

NO WAR CLOUD IN LONDON.

The Season a Brilliant One—Royal Reception.

By Cable to the Press-Visitor.

LONDON, Nov. 30.—The eastern war cloud does not cast its shadows over the city, which continues merry. Drawing rooms of the West End are rarely ever so well filled. Public places of amusement are enjoying a large patronage and royalty is enjoying the season as much as any one. A brilliant dinner is given at Windsor this evening by the Queen, in honor of the betrothal of Princess Maud, of Wales, to her cousin, Prince Charles, of Denmark.

Thirteen Buried in a Mine.

By Telegram to the Press-Visitor.

SAWYERS, N. Y., Nov. 30.—A great crowd gathered at the Tilly Foster iron mine this morning, where a cave-in yesterday killed thirteen men. Hundreds of men are carrying on the work of digging for bodies. Seven have been recovered and six are still buried, with no hope for their life. Mark Critchley and Patrick Burns are seriously injured, and seven others slightly. Nineteen years ago six men were killed by a slide of rock into the mine.

To Fight the Sugar Trust.

By Telegram to the Press-Visitor.

STRAUS, N. Y., Nov. 30.—Attorney Wilson, of this city, has filed with Attorney General Hancock a petition in behalf of John Moore & Co. and the Andrew Brothers, of this city, and Thomas Kingsford & Sons, of Oswego, against the American Sugar Refining Company, asking that the trust be prohibited from doing business in the State of New York.

Drunk Soldier Shot for a Burglar.

By Telegram to the Press-Visitor.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Anthony Conly, a United States Soldier, attached to Fort Schuyler, was mistaken for a burglar attempting to rob the residence of Collins P. Huntington, whose coachman emptied the contents of a double-barreled shotgun into his legs. Conly, partly intoxicated, was prowling around Huntington's country residence at 9 o'clock in the morning.

COTTON DOWNS TEN POINTS.

New York Market Opened Up, Lost and Closed Steady.

By Telegram to the Press-Visitor.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Liverpool opened 1 1/2-64 down, but recovered the loss and closed quiet and steady, unchanged as compared with yesterday's close. Good spot demand; sales, 20,000 bales, of which 8,000 bales American, 1,000 bales for export and speculation.

New York opened 3 points up, steady, lost the improvement, and closed finally easy 10 points lower than yesterday.

Sales, 165,500 bales. The firm undertone which prevailed yesterday at noon, did not exist today, and although Liverpool did not follow the decline of yesterday afternoon in New York, the market in New York was easier today owing to selling by bears. The political situation renders matters uneasy at present, and is predominant, otherwise the market would advance owing to the statistical condition, which is very bullish.

The movement in November has been extraordinarily small, smaller than in 1892-'93. It shows a loss of 888,000 bales as compared with last year, 869,000 with 1893-'94, (crop 7,560,000), and 181,000 with 1892-'93, (crop 6,700,000). So far this season came into eight 5,500,000, against 4,908,000 in 1894-'95, (decrease 1,790,000), against 5,774,000 in 1893-'94 (decrease of 265,000) and 3,480,000 in 1892-'93 (increase of 89,000). We will compare with the following receipts last year during the coming week. Today 48,000, Monday 74,000, Tuesday 61,000, Wednesday 46,000, Thursday 47,000, Friday 79,000. The amount brought into sight during the past week was 375,600, against 478,300 last year, 378,000 in 1893-'94, 334,500 in 1892-'93.

Options closed as follows:

November, — to —; December, 8.26 to 8.27; January, 8.29 to 8.30; February, 8.34 to 8.35; March, 8.39 to 8.40; April, 8.43 to 8.44; May, 8.47 to 8.48; June, 8.50 to 8.51; July, 8.51 to 8.52; August, 8.53 to 8.54.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.'s Cotton Letter, Special to the Press-Visitor.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.

Although the foreign advices were of a better tenor than the trade expected, the market declined, closing easy at the lowest price of the day, with a feeling of depression, for which it is difficult to account. There was a slight increase in receipts due to the monthly increments at New Orleans, but the main feature was the absence of support from any source. After a slightly better opening the only influence seemed to be the liquidation of long cotton, which slowly but surely carried the market down, the only buyers being the local short interest, covering on the probable light receipts on Monday. The Chronicle today shows the taking by American spinners to have been 350,000 bales less than last year, a surprising statement in the face of the good business during the past six months, and this has caused many to think that perhaps the American consumption has been over-estimated. The temper of the trade is bearish on the prospects of the political trouble in Europe.

TEARING AWAY THE DAM.

The Health of the Community Threatened—Evil Still Exists.

The Water Works Company has a force engaged today tearing away the dam of the pond. It is a very tedious job and will require some time. The dam was put up to stand for all time and the removal of some of the large pieces of granite which are eight feet long, is very difficult.

Now that the Water Works Company has drained the pond, the existing well still exists, so it is said. A gentleman went to the low area at the head of the pond a few days ago and he says that the draining of the pond will not carry the water away and that it will be unhealthy next summer. He Judge Whitaker says a canal should be built from the Rhamkate road through the low area. He further says that a canal five feet wide through that section would make some of the best corn-producing land in the State.

A gentleman remarked today that the Raleigh people who had been so active in prosecuting the Water Works Company, ought to go to work to remedy the evil, as it is a threatening foe to the healthfulness of that community, as well as to the city.

TO INCORPORATE ORPHANAGE.

Grand Lodge of Masons Meets Here Thursday for That Purpose.

"Well, the Grand Lodge meets here next Thursday," said Secretary Drewry when braced for news today. "The meeting is a special one to consider matters in regard to the Oxford Orphanage. You remember the death of a Mr. Bradley in California and the fact that he left $25,000 to the Orphanage. It is to hold this money that the meeting is called. The Orphanage has never been incorporated and it will be necessary to take this step to secure the money." So the Masons will gather here next week. They will transact their business and hold for their very excellent institution this money. They will have a pleasant time, if Raleigh can give it them.

New Cotton Baling Process.

Persons who visit Atlanta are particularly impressed with the new method of ginning cotton, which is shown there daily.

The cotton is put in such compact form that it is almost impossible for it to ignite by fire, and the rate of insurance is correspondingly small on cotton baled by the new method. A bale weighs about the same as those baled by the old methods. Canvas is used to encase the cotton, which is rolled out. The manager told me that the factory had only commenced operation in August but that twenty or more of the gins had been located in the far Southern States. It is the intention of the management to send representatives to each of the Southern States at an early date. The new peaking and ginning method will be explained to people in the various sections.

MUTUAL CONCESSIONS.

The Demand that Only Union Men be Employed Relinquished as its Legality is Doubtful.

By Telegram to the Press-Visitor.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—It is announced on good authority that the great House Smiths' strike will be amicably adjusted by arbitration and mutual concessions of both sides, between the employers and working men this afternoon. The men will be granted nearly everything they ask for. The demand that only union men be employed will be relinquished as its legality is doubtful. The Iron League has signified its willingness to agree to a compromise by offering terms, which the union will later in the day accept.

A LIBERAL OFFER.

The Manly Jail Company will Put in an Annex Free.

Captain C. B. Denison, of the Board of Public Charities visited the county jail today and reports its condition as excellent. The prisoners were questioned in the absence of the jailers as to the treatment they received and the condition of affairs inside the jail. They all spoke well of the management.

Captain Denison is very desirous of having an annex made to the jail for the accommodation of women. As it is the women are in the same tier of cells with men and are compelled to hear any language which the other prisoners may use.

Captain Denison says that it is a shame to the county that such is the case. "There are times, when women of character have to go to jail and it is not right that they should be put where all kinds of prisoners are," said he. The matter is receiving the attention of the Board of Charities and will probably be adjusted in a few years. In Atlanta the Manly Model jail is on exhibit. It is in a building by itself and attracts much attention. When Captain Denison was there he made arrangements with the Company to place on exhibit here a model of the jail, so that Sheriff's, bringing prisoners to the Penitentiary could inspect them.

Captain Denison says the Manly Station House or the county jail free of charge, so that they can be inspected by visiting Sheriff's. This is quite a liberal offer. Captain Denison hopes that the county authorities will accept of it and use the cells for an annex for the accommodation of female prisoners.

The Manly system is said to be almost perfect and less expensive than others.

ADJUTANT TALKS.

The Vice President Arrives in Washington and is Interviewed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 30.—Hon. Adlai Stevenson, Vice President of the United States, is a man of few words, and he has had less than usual to say today at the Normandis, after his return from the West.

Mr. Stevenson has come in order to be in due time for the opening next Monday of the senate, of which he is president.

As a private citizen and a Democrat Mr. Stevenson undoubtedly has some well-considered ideas on the question of a third term for Grover Cleveland. But Vice President Stevenson has no opinion on that matter. Yes, he has heard that Secretary of Agriculture Morton had given utterance to some rather strong views on this question of a third term, but, as the Vice President, he had nothing to say about it.

It might have been a feeling of delicacy on his part; he did not say so. Just simply that he had no opinion to give.

"What will Congress do this winter?" Mr. Stevenson was asked.

"Well, if one could be a prophet and foretell things correctly it would be a good thing to be. Of course, there are the routine matters and the appropriations that have got to be attended to. I cannot say what will be attempted in the way of financial legislation, and that is a hard thing for any one to foretell at this time. Such a large proportion of the members of the House, where most of the legislation originates, are new members, that nothing definite can be said in advance about the stand that will be taken on important questions.

"The Cuban question will undoubtedly come before Congress, for there is a very strong feeling throughout the country in favor of recognizing the Cuban revolutionists. The matter will be taken up and thoroughly discussed."

"What do you think of the outlook for the Democratic party?"

"In the light of recent elections the outlook is certainly not very encouraging. Like all good Democrats, I am hopeful there may come a change that will swing things around all right, but there isn't much to arouse hopefulness just now."

CARNEGIE FOR SOUND MONEY.

He Thinks the Revenue Would be Increased by Levying Specific Duties.

(Atlanta Constitution.)

Andrew Carnegie addressed the chamber of commerce here yesterday afternoon. In the course of his address he said he believed the money question had been settled by the practical agreement that sound money was best for all.

The first duty of the hour, Mr. Carnegie said, was to provide adequate revenues for the government. He declared that the government was being robbed of one-third of the revenues which it assumed to assess through under-valuation under ad valorem duties. If specific duties could be restored he was certain there would be no deficit in the revenues. Furthermore, he had enough confidence in the honesty of President Cleveland to believe that he would not veto such a measure if it was passed.

Stock Company Formed.

The Winston Republican announces that on Tuesday, 26th inst., the stockholders met in Winston and duly organized what in future will be known as The Union Republican Publishing Company, with place of business at Winston, N. Ellis, J. F. Miller and J. W. Gosler.

A site adjoining the Wachovia Loan and Trust Company has been chosen and a suitable building will be erected thereon at an early date. It is the intention of the company to do a general printing and publishing business and continue to issue the Republican weekly, and also semi-weekly or daily, as the directors may deem expedient.

Help the Orphan Fund.

Don't forget the Orphan Raleigh fund, when the committee waits on you. Every little helps and a big pull and a pull all together will take us out of the embarrassing position in which the city is situated. Raleigh should do the most by the fund for the Orphan, because of all the towns in the State Raleigh was chosen as an appropriate name.

A COMBINE MADE.

Southern Republicans Have It in for McKinley and Harrison.

If some of the Southern Republican Congressmen make good their threats the prospects of two presidential possibilities may be injured by the action of Ohio and Indiana delegations in voting to support the McDowell-Glenn combination for the offices of clerk, doorkeeper and sergeant-at-arms of the next House. When the news reached the headquarters of Mr. Tipton of Tennessee, who is the Southern candidate for doorkeeper, great indignation was expressed.

There were present in Mr. Tipton's room at that time Congressman Brewer, McCall, Gibson and Anderson of Tennessee, J. B. Fortune of North Carolina, and a number of State politicians from Kentucky and North Carolina. A heated discussion of the situation followed, in which it was asserted that neither McKinley nor Harrison could secure the delegations from these Southern States at the next Presidential convention after the refusal of their delegations to support the Southern candidate for doorkeeper.

Senator Pritchard, of North Carolina, and Hon. Clay Evans, of Tennessee, took part in the conference by invitation.

Southern Railroads Complimented.

Vice President Stevenson is a member of the jury of awards at the Atlanta Exposition. In an address just issued, the jury says among other things:

"We believe that the permanent good of an exhibition of this kind will be manifested in the improvement of popular intelligence and industry; in diffusion of correct standards of taste and skill; and in more accurate knowledge respecting the natural resources and characteristics of the different parts of our own country. For example: the collective exhibits made by the Southern Railroad and the Seaboard Air Line, and the Plant System of Florida, bring out in vivid outlines the advantages of the regions through which these railroads are constructed. The improvements in the railway connections of Atlanta with Chicago, New York, New Orleans and Florida, are permanent contributions to the prosperity of the country."

Former Raleighites in Atlanta.

The Imperial, of Atlanta, a wife under the management of Mr. Richard Gierach, formerly of this city, is one of the finest places in the Gate City. It is centrally located on Broad street, right in the heart of the city. The fare is excellent and well served and prices are liberal. North Carolinians who go to Atlanta will find the Imperial an agreeable and pleasant place.

Mr. Henry Burge, so well known in this city, is connected with the Markham House. Henry stands way up in hotel circles; he is a very clever gentleman and could not do otherwise.

The Alleghany Lynchers.

The trial of the Alleghany lynchings is set for next Thursday—in Forsyth Superior Court. The parties charged with being connected with the affair are Hiram Cox, Steve Taylor, G. R. and John Woody. The case was removed from Surry Court to Forsyth. One of the attorneys for the defendents says they are only charged with being members of the lynching party and that their guilt will have to be proven.
