River and Harbor Bill Passed Again in the House.

BUTLER'S BOND BILL

Will be Taken up at Three O'clock and Will Pass-Morrill Speaks Before a Large Crowd on Finance.

Washington, D. C. June 2-There was a large attendance in the Senate today to hear Morrill speak on the tariff and currency questions, and an agreement for a vote on Senator Butler's bond prohibition bill. Morrill's speech was largely devoted to his ideal, that "Free coinage agitation was a menace to the prosperity of the south and west.

He said there should be no tariff legislation. Continuing, he said: 'The recent obstructive tactics brought forth in the Senate to defeat the coin redemption fund bill as well as to defeat the emergency tariff bill in the house with a silver coinage substitute, is wholly irrelevant having no possibility of becoming a law, but contemptuously obtruded solely to defeat measures in the house. It can hardly be regarded as standard Senatorial Statesman ship, and not as legitimate opposi tion by regular opponents.

Senator Hawley of the Committee on Military affairs, has reported to the Senate his bill for the re-organ zation of the Militia. The Bill is a recodification of laws relating to Militia with such changes as is necessary to adapt them to existing conditions. It provides for two classes of Militia organized and un organized, the former to be known as the National guard, and the lat ter as reserve Militia.

The Senate has taken up the con ference repoat or the Indian appro priation bill. There will be no vote on the bond bill until after 3 o'clock

WAKE'S PRIMARIES.

Doubtful Precinct in Raleigh.

Much interest is centering in the primaries which will be held in Raleigh and the entire county. Saturday next. Very little doubt exists as to the result on the financial question. The advocates of the yellow metal are not at all numerous in this section, and the result of Wake's convention on the financial question s almost a foregone conclusion.

There is no effort on the part of the gold men so far as is known, to capture the primaries. In most all ther places the fight for the supremacy in the paimaries has been very

It is said that there are more gold men in the second division of the second ward than in any of the other precincts. It is not likely that Democrats will vote by and wdivisions as nethod of voting by wards will like y be observed. This course is found to be almost necessary, so it is stated, because it is impossible to learn the representation that each division is entitled to.

The silver men are lining themelves up for a fight, if necessary. If Wake county has a preference for a gubernatorial candidate it is not known. Nearly all the candidates ave warm advocates in the city. Col. Jule S. Carr has a decidedly strong following, though he is mak ing no effort to get the nomination and on the other hand has stated that he was not a candidate.

Col. Carr is considered a champ on of silver, though a leading Demperat said today that his declaration several months ago, was not sufficient. Mr. Carr stated that he was for sil ver as long as a parity between gold and silver can be maintained. The gentleman referred to above has taken a leading part in the fight for ilver, and he declared that the ominee of the party would be required to declare himself for the free and unlimited coinage of silver, 16 to 1, regardless of the balance of

BOOKS THEIR TOPIC.

Various Representatives of the Book Con-

Nothing is more interesting than a battle between book boomers. This morning the representatives of the eading book concerns in the country arrayed themselves around the County Commissioners of Wake, in their chamber on the second floor of the Court House. There they scrapped and cut at each other to the delight of the Board and the interested spectators.

The charges of book men against each other are marked by a splendid display of self possession, repartee the Woman's Christian Temperance and an evenness of temper. Like lawyers they never get mad. Once and a while they seem to be unruffled, but then they are battling for Hurley, of Oxford, N. C. their books, and everything goes.

Mr. R. T. Gray, who represents Johnson and Company of Richmond was the first speaker to address the Board. Mr. Gray made a shor speech presenting the superior points that the books of Johnson & Co. possess. Mr. Gray emphasized the fact that his books were endors ed by leading men in the South and in some instances by Confederate Veterans Associations. He stated that Johnson's histories were en tirely free from prejudice and did the South justice. Mr. Gray presented Lee's histories. Southern States by Dr. J. L. M. Curry and Southern Literature by Miss Manly, for the Boards consideration. Unlike the other representatives of the counsel at his side. The gentleman s well enabled to take care of himself on that score, however.

When Mr. Gray concluded his remarks, Mr. Fab. H. Busbee, counsel for the American Book Company, made a motion that speeches be restricted to a certain time. Mr. Gray seconded Mr. Busbee's motion.

Capt. Kendrick, who continually sallied forth with bright and clever remarks when his books were misrepresented, arose to object to the motion. He stated that his books were being attacked by all the other representatives because they were the adopted books of the board. He said that he wanted three hours of the board's time and he would make it interesting.

"Mr. Busbee wants to restrict ne," spoke the Captain, with emphasis on the pronoun.

"You and Col. Harrell are the ones I desire to restrict," retorted

'Gentlemen, there is but two dolars in this meeting for us, if we stay here six months, "echoed Chairman Stronach, "and we are not anxious to remain here in a prolonged session.

It was decided not to restrict the speakers. Capt. Kendrick, of the University Publishing Company, had Mr. C. M. Busbee and Mr. S F Mordecai as his counsel. Col. Engene Harrell, who is the representa tive of Ginn & Co., had Mr. W. Jones associated with him.

Col. Harrell spoke next in support of the books of Ginn, the firm w has instigated the fight. Col. Harrell made a splendid speech, which vas interesting at all times. The Board gave him careful attention.

He was followed by Capt. Kendrick, who looks every inch a sage and that is what his opponents say he is. Capt. Kendrick was speak ing as we went to press.
