TELEPHONE No. 168.

THURSDAY, July 9, 1896.

It is asserted that the combined wealth of the ten members making up Hanna's executive committee is $30,000,000.

At Logansport, Ind., the other day, Mrs. Cadwallader brought suit for divorce from her husband, John Cadwallader. They separated at 9 o'clock, the complaint was filed at 9:30, and, appearance being waived, the divorce was granted at 10 o'clock.

The memorial church built by George Vanderbilt at Biltmore, will be formally opened on July 10.

Rev. Peyton H. Hoge, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Wilmington, has gone to Chicago to pursue a course in the Chicago University.

A very curious idea for a submarine telescope has just been patented. This contrivance is a long tube with a telescope at one end and a reflector at the other. With the aid of this instrument wrecks that are in deep water may be examined and so make it possible for divers to find out if there are any valuables worth going for before entering into the water.

EARTHQUAKE experts propose to establish a number of stations for seismological observations round the earth. Starting from Japan, where is the most complete system for studying earthquakes in the world, the stations will be Shanghai, Hong Kong, Calcutta, Sydney, Rome, Tacubaya in Mexico, Port Natal, cape of Good Hope, Santiago in Chili and Rio de Janeiro, all communicating with a central station at Strasburg.

The new high license law of New York now goes into full operation, all the old licenses having expired. The first effect of the law has been to reduce the number of licenses in New York city to about 1700. Those who failed to apply were the proprietors of the smaller beer saloons, who could not afford to pay the $800 required. A more important effect upon the revenues is an increase of more than one million of dollars in license fees to the city treasury, besides a contribution to the state treasury of nearly $1,500,000 from the city of New York.

Small ambitious to beat Chicago, it is said that in New York, on the site of the old International Hotel, Nos. 11 to 23 Park Row, the tallest building in Gotham is to be erected. It will be 386 feet high, twenty-six stories in the main and three in the towers. The weight of the structure is to be 52,000 tons. The front of the building will be peculiar by reason of the complete omission of an important cornice. In the foundation, piles, 75 feet long, under water, will be united at the head by a concrete bed 3 feet thick. The building will be furnished with fifteen elevators—nine from the first floor to the twenty-first, four express elevators to the twenty-sixth and two from the twenty-sixth to the twenty-ninth.

The quarterly list of American tin plate works, published in the Metal Worker, shows that on July

1, there were thirty-six complete tin plate plants rolling their own black plates in actual operation in the United States, and three in course of operation. The active plants possessed an aggregate of 179 tin mills, having an estimated yearly capacity of about 5,500,000 boxes of tin plates. In addition these establishments, there were thirty-one tin plate dipping works, without rolling mills, possessing an aggregate of 169 tinning sets. At the end of last month the production of American tin plate is estimated to have been going on at the rate of over 4,000,000 boxes yearly. During the last quarter, the New Castle Steel and Tin Plate Company, of New Castle, Pa., has completed large extensions to its works, making it an eighteen-mill plant. This gives the United States the largest and most complete tin plate works in the world. Its annual capacity is three-quarters of a million boxes.
