A CAMPAIGN FOR SPOILS.

The coming campaign in North Carolina, so far as State matters are concerned, promises to be a campaign for spoils, pure and simple. It will be a regime of striving and trafficking for office and the emoluments of office, and all fair ideals of the people's weal, which have been masquerading in the tinsel of patriotism are being divested of disguise. Fusion between the Populist and Republican parties means just what it did two years ago—a compact to acquire the public pelf and to divide the spoils among the foragers. The Press-Visitor declared that this would come to pass a good many moons ago, but we were told that the two parties could not combine again. Populists said they could not fuse again because they were fighting for a principle and the Republicans would not subscribe to that principle. The Republicans said they could not fuse because the conditions were entirely different and there was nothing in common between the two parties. The conditions have not changed so far as the insatiate greed of the politicians for office is concerned, and there is always something in common between two parties whose common mission is the acquirement of plunder. We can well remember when the Populists were crying from the house tops for the establishment of the sub-treasury system, and for government ownership of railroads. In their zeal it would have been supposed that the salvation of the entire human race depended upon the swift consummation of these utopian schemes, and we were prepared at any time to see these great reformers turn Heaven and earth in their patriotic fervor to administer their newly found rostrums and panaceas to the immediate relief of the country from its direful political hypochondria. But what do we hear of the sub-treasury or of government ownership of railroads now? In their stead the star of free silver has blazed into the unprey and eclipsed the entire constellation of reform, and yet that, too, is about to be dulled and lost with the decadence of the statesmen who have come down to their true level and are groveling for the sordid desideratum of political pelf. How can intelligent citizens look upon these exhibitions and still have faith in the sincerity of a party which has declared itself to be fighting for a principle above party and above all things else? As we declared when the campaign was first mooted the Populists and Republicans deceive nobody. They are out for pelf and we suppose they will get it, but will not these glaring demonstrations of their real objects, aims and purposes set the people to thinking? Or are their eyes already sufficiently opened as to render further reflection unnecessary?

Don't All Speak at Once!

I have the following bargains:
20 shares N. B. Raleigh stock.
7 shares Farina Flour Mill stock.
5 shares Dime Savings Bank stock.
1 house and lot on Halifax street.
2 Handsome residences on Halifax street.
1 handsome cottage on Oakwood avenue.
2 houses and lots on South Bloodworth street.
1 house and lot near Bledsoe's Grove.
1 house and lot on North street.
1 store and residence combined (a decided bargain).
1 (3) room house and lot on South street, price $250, rents for $52 per year, has a good tenant who pays in advance every week, which is 20 per cent profit. Call and get prices and make me an offer. Those marked * thus I will sell on 100 months time or for cash. Recollect if you want to sell, McDonald is a hustler if you want to buy, McDonald is a seller. Stop paying rent. I can give you 100 months time to pay for a home, and if you can't pay for it this way, you will never have one. It is an actual fact, I can sell you a house and your monthly payments will not be much more than your present rent and in some instances less. Give me a trial.

Don't You Forget It!
That old Reliable Raleigh Branch of the Southern is the best place for the clerk, mechanic and laborer to save some of their money. Better results are shown. When people have received all of their money with a profit, call and let me show you who they are, they will tell you. If you are going in to save some of your hard earnings and when you are unfortunate, have to come out, you don't only get your hat back, but every red cent (and if in long enough) a handsome profit. If you make six monthly payments you can withdraw and get every cent of same. How is it with others? Rise up, you suckers, who have been nibbling at every new thing that comes along, and tell the people how you have been fooled and how much less you got than you paid. Let them have your experience and they will profit by going in the Raleigh Branch of the Southern, who has been with you six years, and you can't find a single honest person who has any complaint, but instead, praise—actual fact. I have known strangers to come along and sell building and loan stock to men whom I trade with every day and pay cash. Every cent I make is spent in Raleigh. I can give you names of people who cry "patronize home industry" and who order their dry goods, clothing and other things north, even white underwear, instead of giving their sewing to our worthy poor people. I had a neighbor who wanted my wife to order a suit of clothes with her (as she could get two for $1.00 each when one would cost $2.) I refused, and said I had rather buy here, as I make my living here, even if I have to pay a little more. How is it in financial matters? Would you show good sense in buying cotton mill stock in Rhakatte when the statement of earnings showed they had spent more than they had made, or in one in Oberlin whose statement showed handsome earnings. All I ask you is to use the same common sense in buying building and loan stock. Don't buy ANY unless you know some one who has tried it. Look well, as it will be too late when you have been fed on promise and got them. Show me a man who has ever been in the Raleigh Branch of the Southern, and if he is a sensible man (most of the sensible ones are "still in it" and the others have come back.) Isn't it strange?—it is "shust as easy" to get them back when they have had a taste of its profits, fair and square dealing, wherein other associations you could not pull them back with the force of a mule. They know when they have had enough.

No Money in North Carolina.
Why is it that the Raleigh Branch of the Southern does not lend money in North Carolina? Simply for the PROTECTION of her members who have put confidence in her? How is this? Well, the Supreme Court has decided, more than once, that no building and loan association, individual or corporation, can lend money in North Carolina, EXCEPT on straight 6 per cent. The Southern has sense as well as "cents" and only loans her MEMBERS money in those States where our contracts are UPHOLD. She has bids for her money as fast as it comes in those States. She would be SUICIDAL to lend money HERE, where it would take 15 YEARS to mature stock (as it will all associations who lend money in North Carolina at 6 per cent straight) when she can lend it elsewhere and mature her member's stock in less than 9 years (this is the highest estimate.)
Don't you see, then, why any sound building and loan can't afford to lend in North Carolina. If you can't I'm sorry for what little sense you have, and the Southern will do without your cents.
