Fair and Cooler.

The storm yesterday central over Minnesota has moved eastward and now lies North of the East lake region.

The high area has moved to the North Atlantic coast and another high area with a considerable cold wave has appeared in the North-west.

The temperature has fallen 40 degrees at Bismark with a minimum this morning of 40 degrees, it has fallen 20 at Huron, 18 at St. Paul and Omaha, etc.

The winds are southerly in the lower Mississippi valley and east lake region, and elsewhere are northerly.

He is here and at work.

The Durham Sun says: The white man who struck this city Sunday, and who has been going around with an arm in a sling, begging our citizens for money, left this morning for Raleigh, where he will no doubt also beg for help. There is something the matter with his legs, as he walks with considerable difficulty. He secured several dollars from our citizens, but exactly how much could not be learned. Whether his arm is really hurt or not, we are not able to say. Yesterday afternoon he was crazy drunk. Whether he is deserving of help or not, he is a pitiable looking object.

No Nomination in the Ninth.

A special from Waynesville says the ninth district Populist convention met there yesterday with 30 or 40 Populists present. Wallace of Butherford, introduced a resolution endorsing the platform and candidates put out by the Populist convention at St. Louis, and recommending that no congressional candidate be endorsed by the convention, this matter being left in the hands of the executive committee. The resolution was adopted by an actual vote of 16 to 1. A. M. Bumgarner, of Jackson county, was nominated for elector.

No Convention this Year. At a meeting of the executive committee of the North Carolina Sunday School Association, held at Durham, last Friday, it was decided not to hold a State convention this year.
