A STRAIGHT TICKET WANTED.

We are among those, who like Mr. David Bennett Hill, the best Democrat on the American continent, do not think it necessary to say every day in the year, "I am a Democrat." Neither do we see any sense or reason in charging apostasy to Democratic faith and nominees upon those Democrats who differ from their neighbors as to any one issue, much less to those Democrats who protest against a mongrel ticket. For our part we have never known what it was to vote any thing else except a straight Democratic ticket, and never contemplated anything else, and we propose to continue to vote straight Democracy, whenever and wherever we find it. And we want it straight. We want it straight enough to be free from an element so foreign to the body politic of Democracy as to rend the anatomy with nausea.

Give us Democracy and we will take it in large and copious draughts, but give us a non-descript decoction and we trust not to be read out of the Democratic party or deduced by non-sequiter logic into the category of gold bugs for not taking it.

The question of the Democratic party forming a foreign alliance has nothing to do with the merits of the financial issue and straight Democrats may protest against the former and still be as firm believers in the principle of bimetallism and as good and true exponents of true Democracy as any man who ever cast a shadow, and some of them may be a little more straight in the faith than some of their fellow travelers who ride upon all winds that blow and whose chief mission on the ocean of life is to find the popular tide and drift with it.

"To be let or sold," is the melancholy legend that disfigures the approaches to Somersby Old Hall, Lincolnshire, where Tennyson was born.

Date vinegar, which has been made and used by Arabs for years, has recently been put on the English market. Englishmen who have used it say that it is far superior to any other vinegar.

Judge John O. Smith, of Savannah, Ga., has been so annoyed by cyclists who persist in using a private path on his lands that he has strewn broken glass on a portion of it, and publicly advertised the fact.

Barney McKernan, of Phoenixville, Pa., says that he is one of the two men now living in this country who took part in the famous charge of the Light Brigade. He was born in Ireland sixty-nine years ago and came to this country forty years ago. He has lived in Phoenixville ever since.

According to Chambers' Journal, Egypt is at present the most active and aggressive competitor in the union trade. The trade with Egypt for onions is now so important that four lines of steamers are engaged in the traffic, bringing consignments from Alexandria to Liverpool, Hull and London. The Egyptian onion is a handsome and useful vegetable, and by selecting the best strains of seed the quality tends, year by year, to improve. So excellent in quality are these onions that efforts are, it is said, being made in other countries to raise onions from Egyptian seed.

Charles Ring Fairchild, who is a son of Leroy W. Fairchild, the retired gold pen manufacturer of New York, and is a well-known Western jewelry drummer, is missing. The police of California and neighboring States have been searching for a week for some clue to his whereabouts. He was last seen at Butte City, Mont., where he was at the Hotel McDermott up to September 3, when he disappeared from the hotel. He traveled for several well-known San Francisco jewelry houses and left behind him in the hotel safe packages containing $5,000 worth of samples.

Cures Talk

"Cures talk" in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla, as for no other medicine. Its great cures recorded in truthful, convincing language of grateful men and women, constitute its most effective advertising. Many of these cures are marvelous. They have won the confidence of the people; have given Hood's Sarsaparilla the largest sales in the world, and have made necessary for its manufacture the greatest laboratory on earth. Hood's Sarsaparilla is known by the cures it has made—cures of scrofula, salt rheum and eczema, cures of rheumatism, neuralgia and weak nerves, cures of dyspepsia, liver troubles, catarrh—cures which prove
