The convention was a cut and dried affair and was hurried through with a hoop. There were several hundred of "Russell's savages" present and possibly twenty-five white men. A Home for Poor Incurables.

EDITOR PRESS-VISITOR:

We saw in one of the late papers of our city, that there had been a large donation made by a big hearted Christian man, to build a home for aged Baptist ministers. The exclamation, was, God bless that man with long life, and add, always an overflowing basket and everwidening, and extending store that be some big hearted philanthropist, who is ready to stretch forth the willing hand to assist the band of Christian woman in Raleigh who have established a home for the poor Incurables of this city and State. These ladies will be glad of any as-

o-operation, if such could be effected, between Democrats and Populists on the Governor and United States Senator. The proposition was put in two ways, the Populists to be given the privilege of keeping Watson up and the Democrats to support Guthrie for the Senatorship or vice versa. The circular requested those persons to whom they were mailed to return replies.

It is very sure that the report spread and became public in this way, the Republicans sending it out with great glee. Walser stated when here that Watson would withdraw in three days.

Such a proposition as has been suggested by the Populists would not even receive favorable consideration at the hands of the Democracy of North Carolina, which desire above all things the election of Cy Watson as Governor.

April, May, June, The World's Highest and Longest Diver. It is not long since our telegraph columns contained an account of a July, August, person in another city who received fatal injuries from a fall of less than twenty feet, and the newspapers of the country chronicle deaths from falls daily here and there. They are very ordinary occurrences and not to be a all wondered at. If. however, an account should appear in our columns of one of our people going to the top of the highest church steeple in the city and voluntarily throwing himself off and hen arising and gracefully bowin on which the Populists leaders to frightened ones gathered around him, go on home and eat his dinner as though nothing out of the ordinary had taken place, we would be set down as crazy, and if we were to chronicle the fact that the man not only did this once, but did it regular twice a day and seemed to like it. there would be no hope at all for us. Pictures of a greater leap and full description of it are seen in the circus paper which The Walter L. Main Circus advertisers are passing around. This astohishing individual ascends the towering structure. the climbing of which alone is a feat few men would undertake, and reaches the summit of the very topmost pinnacle, appearing to those far below him no larger than an eagle on a mountain's crest. He shouts gaily, throws out his arms, bands forward slowly over the great, frightful, yawning, gaping space between him and the earth ever so far below him, plunges' down, down, falling swiftly as the swallow darts, rushing, sweeping treachlessly through the awful void, heels top, head down. The Wrong Man Got the Letter.

The Winston Sentinel gives this

"A Statesville Democrat was astonished a few days ago to receive a letter from Republican State Chair-man Holton enclosing an order on a prominent States ville Republican for $50. The Landmark says the letter was intended for a Republican can-didate in Iredell county whose initials are the same as those of the emoorat who received it, but whose ostoffice is not Statesville. The let er was sent there by mistake and was forwarded to its rightful owner. From this it can be seen that Mark Hanna's cash is beginning to float around. The Statesville Republican on when the order was given is evilently holding the bag."

Butler said yesterday that he had no comment to make upon it, and evaded questions about the letter by replying. "Ask me something else." Watson's manager, Mr. H. W. Reed, of Georgia, was in Washington over Sunday, and talked with Chairman Butler about the stumping tour of the vice presidentiol candidate after the Georgia election. Chairman Butler stated yesterday that Waston could not leave Georgia until about October 9. when he would devote his time to the Northwest. Just what States Watson would visit Chairman Butler could not say. He thinks Watson will spend some time in Minnesota, but probably he will not go again to Nebraska.
