

COWCY SLAPS GUTHRIE.

Pops Who Vote for Kitchen Must Get.

AYER GETS HUFFY.

Chairman Ayer makes the statement to a Press-Visitor reporter that the total registration in the state will be very near 350,000.

The highest estimate of the total registration heretofore given is 318,000 and many considered this too steep.

The Caucasian this week is a campaign issue, being the last to get before the people before election day.

And any person, the paper says, who intimates that Ayer or his committee has seen or heard from Hanna is denounced as a mean, sneaking, cowardly liar.

The Cowcy reviews the case of the stolen registration book in the second ward and concludes as follows:

"It is not our business to make any assertions here concerning Rogers, but we do make this statement: If there was or is any trickery in this matter, a Democrat or some Democrats will be found there. Watch the case now and you will see this as sure as God reigns."

Abd it adds that the Democrats are starting race riots for campaign purposes.

The Caucasian covertly slaps Maj. Guthrie. Refraining from using his name it takes the fifth district as a subject and proceeds to read him out of the party.

"Peoples party men! Oh, ye men of the Fifth! Throw yourselves together. Show that you defy the sneaking attempts of hypocrites to stampede you."

"Therefore be it Resolved, that in the death of Major Augustus M. Lewis the bar of Wake county deplores the loss of one who was long one of its leaders and whose death is felt as that of a friend by every member."

"Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family with the assurance of our deepest sympathy with them in their sad affliction."

This is a direct thrust at Maj. Guthrie since he has repudiated Dalby and declared in favor of Kitchen.

Major Guthrie was in the city today and he was told that the Caucasian said that any Populist who voted for Kitchen against Dalby was a traitor.

"Well I am one then," was the Major's reply.

Last evening unknown parties went to the gin house of Mr. Haywood Knight, which is located at his home place about nine miles from the city.

The bale was a large one and bore Mr. Knight's regular brand, which is H. H. K. On one side of the bale was the letter T.

IN MEMORY OF MAJ. LEWIS

Resolutions Passed by the Raleigh Bar Yesterday.

At an adjourned meeting of the Raleigh Bar in the Court House yesterday afternoon the following resolutions in memory of the late Maj. A. M. Lewis, were presented by the resolution committee.

"Augustus Marion Lewis, son of Guilford and Jane Lewis, was born in Franklin county, N. C., May 7, 1821, and his youth was passed in that county."

He entered the University of North Carolina, taking an elective course, and was a contemporary at that institution of Rev. Dr. Thomas E. Skinner, Judge George V. Strong, Hon. J. B. Batchelor and others who have since achieved prominence.

He began the study of law at the University under the Hon. W. H. Battle. He left the University in 1845 and soon after obtained his license to practice law. He located at first in Louisa, Va., but not long afterwards removed to Raleigh, where he thereafter resided continuously, except for a brief interval, until his death.

Major Lewis was a democratic candidate for congress in the Raleigh district in 1853, but owing to a division in the party, caused by the candidacy of another democrat, the Hon. Abram W. Venable, the Whig candidate, Hon. Sion H. Rogers was elected.

Major Lewis was a member of the house of commons from Wake in 1856. He was a candidate of his party for the convention from Wake in 1861. On the outbreak of the war he was commissioned in the Quartermaster's department with the rank of major, and stationed at Raleigh and rendered efficient service in clothing and providing for the North Carolina troops during those four memorable years.

In January, 1848, he married Miss Sarah M. Gorham, one of the belles of Pitt county, and their union was blessed with eight sons, two of whom died in infancy, and three daughters. In 1838 he joined the Baptist church of which he remained a conspicuous and honored member until his death.

"As a lawyer he was honorable in practice and devoted to the interests of his clients. On cross examination and in the address to the jury he had few equals. His relations with his brethren of the bar were kindly and cordial and his departure from among us has left a void which cannot easily be filled."

"Resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family with the assurance of our deepest sympathy with them in their sad affliction."

"Resolved, that these resolutions be presented by the committee to the Superior court at its session this afternoon with request to the presiding judge that they may be spread on the minutes and that a copy be also furnished to the press of the city with request to publish the same."

Remarks in regard to the life and character of Maj. Lewis were made by Maj. M. A. Blodgett, Mr. F. H. Busbee, Judge J. C. MacRae and Mr. R. H. Battle, after which the meeting adjourned.

Ayer Calls the Ticket Bogus.

Chairman Ayer received a ticket today containing the names of all the populist nominees with that of Joseph S. Adams for Congress. The ticket was headed "People's party ticket." Mr. Ayer denounced the ticket as a fraud and humbug and seemed very indignant that Mr. Adams' name should be on the ticket.

NEARLY A TRAGEDY.

A Story of Mishaps Which Might Have Been.

On Sunday night about 7.30 o'clock Mr. Thomas Smith a traveling salesman left the Park hotel with the intention of attending service at the Baptist Tabernacle.

When he reached the corner of Salisbury and Hargett streets near the printing office of Edwards & Broughton he heard a faint moan although he could see nothing.

"Well," the man replied, "I took supper out with a friend tonight, and was returning to the hotel. After getting off the main street where a few lights were shining in the store windows to help the wayfarer, I came into pitch darkness."

"I believe there is a doctor at the Park Hotel," said Mr. Smith, "and I will get him just as soon as I can find my way there in the darkness."

Knowing that the hotel was in a southerly direction, Mr. Smith at once set out for the doctor. By the aid of matches which he struck now and then he was enabled to keep on the sidewalk until he reached McDowell street.

Upon returning to the stricken man with the doctor neither could see him, there being no street lights any where in that vicinity, and the lights in the store windows upon which the people have to depend at night were turned out, consequently both men stepped upon the poor fellow and almost crushed the remaining life out of him.

The doctor struck a match to see the extent of the man's injuries, whereupon Mr. Smith exclaimed, as the light fell on his face, "Oh Heavens! it is my brother! Let us take him up, doctor, and get him to the hotel as quickly as possible so that we can look after his wounds."

Lifting the poor man as tenderly as possible they set out for the hotel. The darkness was intense, not a street lamp anywhere to be seen. Gropping their way they suddenly stepped off the high curbstone onto the street at Edwards and Broughtons corner not being able to see the depression. The shock caused them to drop the man on the brick pavement which nearly killed him.

"I am afraid we will be the death of the man if we try to move him any farther along these benighted streets. Let us call the carriage which I can see in front of the hotel and we will try to haul him remains to a resting place."

This was accordingly done and by constantly striking matches as a signal to the driver he finally discovered their whereabouts and the badly broken up man at last reached the hotel where his injuries were attended to.

Although this incident did not actually occur such things are likely to happen any night if the streets of Raleigh are not properly lighted at night.

The Messenger says that as Mr. G. S. Bradshaw was entering the court house at Wilmington Saturday night to make a sound money speech he received a telegram announcing the death of his mother.

A countryman's mule dropped dead near Moore Square this morning.

LEE'S REPORT ON CUBA

President to Call Special Session of Congress.

STOCKS DISTURBED.

Consul Report to President Cleveland Said to be Very Favorable to Insurgents—The Report Well Authenticated.

The following telegram was received here today by E. B. Cuthbert & Co.:

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 27. War rumors are afloat to the effect that Gen. Lee has been withdrawn from Cuba and war will be declared by an extra session of congress.

We have the highest authority for saying the Cuban war story afloat is perfect rubbish. If it were true that Lee was coming back with a report against Spain the President has full power already to recognize the belligerency of Cuba and would certainly neither call an extra session nor submit war messages.

A Washington dispatch to New York says that as far as can be learned the rumors of impending political complications of this Government with Spain in connection with Cuban affairs are entirely without foundation.

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—There is a well authenticated report that General Fitzhugh Lee, consul general to Cuba, has made a report to President Cleveland on the situation in Cuba which is in every way favorable to the insurgents.

ADDRESS BY BUTLER

To the Populists of North Carolina—Tells Them to Stand by the Ticket.

WHITNEY IN IT.

The Secretary of the Navy interested in the Seaboard Air Line.

The latest information in reference to the Seaboard is that ex Secretary of the Navy Whitney is largely interested in the property, and it is reported that Mr. Whitney's connection with the syndicate forms a large part of the basis for the assertion which has been made that Ryan and Thomas have practically unlimited capital, as well as abundant credit.

It is further reported that the resignation of President R. Curzon Hoffman is a question of but a short time, and that Mr. Thomas F. Ryan, who in addition to being one of the owners of the Seaboard, is secretary of Mr. Whitney's street railway system in New York, will succeed him.

It can be stated on the best authority that there is no longer any doubt that the deal made between two and three weeks ago, when Ryan and Thomas, with the help of Gen. Gill, of Baltimore, formed the pool which secured the control of the Seaboard stock, will be carried through on the lines as originally intended.

"Finally, let me appeal to every man who voted to send me to the United States Senate because he believed in the principles which I advocated, and for which our party stands to now vote to put in the White House a man who will not veto every measure that you sent me to Washington to labor and contend for."

"Our information at headquarters shows that the tide has turned against McKinley and his Hanna boodle campaign in the great central west. The outlook now is that we will sweep that whole section and carry the country triumphantly."

By Cable to the Press-Visitor. LONDON, Oct. 27.—The telegraph says regarding the demand for and the supply of wheat: "The stock of foreign wheat in the principal British ports it is stated is not sufficient to feed the country a fortnight."

WHEAT GOING UP.

Source in British Ports and a Big Rise Expected.

By Cable to the Press-Visitor. LONDON, Oct. 27.—The telegraph says regarding the demand for and the supply of wheat: "The stock of foreign wheat in the principal British ports it is stated is not sufficient to feed the country a fortnight."

Accidently Killed His Companion. Thomas Ashe, a youth of 16 years, son of Mr. Samuel T. Ashe, of Wilmington was accidentally shot and killed by a young companion Herbert Stelis, yesterday while gunning for ducks in the river near here.

Storm Developing. The storm in the northwest is developing in intensity, the pressure having fallen three tenths of an inch at Bismarck since yesterday. But little rain as yet has occurred in that vicinity.

The high area is central over the north Atlantic States, where the weather is generally clear. Cloudy weather prevails in all the southern States, and local showers have occurred along the Gulf coast.

A Serious Run. By Telegraph to the Press-Visitor. SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 27.—The sub-treasury has just pulled through a serious run which threatened to annihilate its gold reserve, and leave it without a dollar with which to redeem the greenbacks that poured in from over the counter.

Messrs. Wollcott make a new and attractive announcement today which our readers should not fail to note.

SHORT STATEMENTS.

Minor Matters Manipulated for the Many.

AROUND THE CITY.

Work on the annex to the agricultural building is progressing very rapidly.

The local cotton receipts here by wagon are 11,926 bales, against only 6,444 to this date last season.

Clerk of the Court Young is sending out ballot boxes to the different precincts. Each precinct is entitled to four boxes.

Hon. Chas. Price, who was billed to speak at the Academy of Music last evening failed to put in appearance.

The populist headquarters are busy sending out the state and national tickets today. Last night several presses were kept busy printing the tickets.

Miss Lula M. Ellis, of West Raleigh, left yesterday for Paris, Tennessee, where she will spend several months with her uncle, Rev. William B. Jones.

John Brown, colored, officiated at the Yarboro as head waiter during fair week and it was the verdict of all the guests that he was one of the most polite and obedient and that his services were excellent.

The Palmer and Buckner ticket is out. It includes the Palmer and Buckner electors, Democratic nominees for state offices and a blank space for the name of a congressional nominee.

A British steamer, the Ormidale cleared from Wilmington Saturday with 11,739 bales of cotton, weighing 5,802,000 pounds and valued at $450,000. This is the largest cargo ever shipped from Wilmington.

Tomorrow night at Brooklyn church, Prof. Johnson will exhibit his panorama of Bunyan's Pilgrims Progress for the benefit of the church. Admission: Adults, 20c; children, 10c. Let all the people come out and see it.

Note Messrs. Heller Bros., new announcement today and call and see their specialties in foot wear. Their line is complete and elegant and strictly up to date, and are at the proper figures.

Sunday the New York Herald printed a forecast of the election, in which it gave 248 electoral votes as sure for McKinley, and 134 as sure for Bryan. Of the remaining electoral votes, 42 are put down as favorable to McKinley and 23 as favorable to Bryan.

The agent of the Farmers' State Alliance gives notice that application will be made to the Legislature to investigate the 99 year lease of the North Carolina Railroad to the Southern Railway and to provide for bringing the question of the legality of the lease before the courts.
