

MANLY'S FINAL WORDS

Republican Triumph by Fraudulent Registration.

POPS COMMITTED

To Return Pritchard to the Senate—Keep Your Eye on Otho Wilson—Holton Says Pritchard Will Be Elected.

The result in this State is known and the political leaders are packing their tents.

Republican headquarters will remain open two weeks or more. Secretary Hyams will hold the fort. Chairman Holton and Treasurer Grant left the city this afternoon. They will return next week.

At Democratic headquarters records are being packed away and valueless papers destroyed. Chairman Manly will not leave the city until tomorrow. Populist headquarters are closed and chairman Ayer is waiting to take the oath of office as Auditor.

Russell's majority will be somewhere in the neighborhood of ten thousand. Bailey of North Carolina, who has compiled all returns of Russell's majority at republican headquarters says that his majority will be fourteen thousand. Chairman Holton's latest figures are twelve thousand majority for Russell.

Major Grant is the only republican who does not concede Bryan's carrying the state. He thinks McKinley will get two or more electors on account of scratching. He says an official count will be necessary. All indications point to a majority of fifteen thousand in the state.

There is still a chance for Mason and Avery. It will take the official vote to decide the result. The clerks of the court in the different counties are required by the new election law to forward the official vote for President to the Secretary of State within 12 days after the election.

Chairman Manly gave out the following interview this afternoon:

"The political battle of this year is over. In the national contest we made an arrangement with the people party for the electoral ticket. We have elected this ticket by about 15,000 votes. Whatever the action of other States has been in their support of Mr. Bryan, our candidate in this year of '96, the democracy of this state has done its duty. The arrangement between the two parties for their joint support of Mr. Bryan has been honorably carried out by each of them, and when on September 10th I stated in the public press that the sunrise of November 4th, would see the democracy honorable in the discharge of its agreement, it is gratifying to know that the result justified the prediction.

"We have lost our State ticket by a small majority of the counted votes—Watson being about 5,900 votes behind Russell. But the people of this state can truly feel and know that the Democratic ticket, composed of the best men in the land, was elected by the honest vote of the State, and that the fraudulent registration and voting of disqualified negroes has defeated our candidates. On this rotten base stands Republican triumph. No truer or more honorable man could have been selected than Watson as the leader of the ticket. His serious illness in the thick of the fight was a great trial to him and a great loss to the party, and this man who, from his boyhood, has been true to North Carolina and her people in war and in peace, has been defeated by wards packed with illegal negro voters in the various cities in this State, worked by corrupt election machinery. The returns fully show this, and further show that in every white county, with rare exceptions, Democracy made its splendid gains, which brought the head of this ticket so near to victory."

"We will have seventy-five members of the legislature on joint ballot or eleven short of a majority. Enough populists are committed, however, to insure the return of Senator Pritchard to the Senate."

The above is an interview given out by Chairman Holton. The statement coming from the State Chairman reveals the fact that a combination has been formed in some of the counties for the election of Senator Pritchard.

Populists assert that Holton gives the republicans a greater plurality of members than they will have. They say that while a few individual populists may vote for Pritchard the populists as an organization will support the populist caucus nominee.

The report spread that Otho Wilson would be a candidate for the Senate. This morning the adjutant was asked if such was the case.

"There is nothing at all in the statement," Mr. Wilson said. "The report is simply a hoax and was given out for the purpose of aggravating my political opponents."

When asked whether the populists would have a candidate, the adjutant said most assuredly they would. "We are not pledged to the election of any one. The next Senator will be a silverman."

If the populists name a candidate for the Senate just keep your eye on Adjutant S. Otho Wilson, but indications point very strongly to Senator Pritchard's re-election.

Conditions might arise whereby Guthrie would be a formidable candidate. The populist organization will use its best endeavors to secure his defeat.

NEW LINE OF STEAMERS

Will be Established from Savannah Direct to Liverpool.

It will be remembered, says the Washington Star, that several months ago President Samuel Spencer, of the Southern Railway Company, and the great king of finance, Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan, went to Europe, for, it is stated, the purpose of enjoying a much-needed rest by each.

Evidences are continually cropping out that despite their efforts to secure relaxation from the cares of business, nature asserted itself and one result of the trip is the proposed starting of a line of steamships between Savannah and Liverpool, the inauguration of the enterprise to take place on the 15th of the present month.

It is stated by President Comer, of the Central of Georgia Railway Company, who has been intrusted with the management in the United States of the new line, that the latter will work in harmony with all the railroads centering in Savannah, and while this is doubtless true, it does not make the fact any less apparent that the enterprise is another great step in the transportation business of the world in which Messrs. Spencer and Morgan are the directing spirits.

The European partners in the ownership of the new line are Messrs. William Johnson & Co., who are among the leading steamship owners in the world, and who already operate lines of steamers between Liverpool and Baltimore, Liverpool and Norfolk and Liverpool and various points on the Atlantic Seaboard of the United States.

It is understood that a charter for this corporation which it is necessary to organize in order to carry the project to success will be applied for at once and that the concern when organized will be known as the Georgia Export and Import Company. It will, it is understood, start with a capital of $50,000, with the privilege of increasing it to $1,000,000, the intention being that some time in the future, when it has made sufficient progress, it shall own its own ships as well as charter and operate others.

The establishment of this new line of steamships is regarded in railway and shipping circles as one of the most important movements of the kind that has taken place in many years, and it is likely to add very largely to the revenues of the Southern Railway Company, as it will enable them to secure the carrying of a vast quantity of cotton and other bulky freight.

Another advantage expected to be brought about by the establishment of the line will be to the shipper himself, who will be able always to find a vessel for his cargo, and besides having it transferred at lower rates of marine insurance attendant upon using a direct line of steamers. Marine risks upon ordinary tramp steamers are considerably higher than on those which ply direct, and arrangements have been made by which insurance will be secured to the shipper at the rates usually given in direct line steamers.

A request to the office of the general manager of the new company from a Star reporter brought the following reply: "I am tired," Mr. Comer is quoted as saying, "of hauling cotton through Savannah to Port Royal and to Charleston, and of seeing cotton that rightfully belongs to us go to Norfolk. This diversion of the traffic has been going on for a long time, and I have been working on some plan to put an end to it.

LEE WILL SAY NOTHING.

Consul-General Refused to Talk About Cuba.

A New York special to the Washington Times of yesterday says: "Gen. Fitzhugh Lee, accompanied by Thomas Jones, his private secretary, arrived from Havana late last night on the Ward Line steamer Vigilancia. The steamer remained in quarantine until this morning, when she was released by Health Officer Doty."

Gen. Lee was interviewed at quarantine, and said his health had been excellent from the time he left this country last June, in spite of reports to the contrary. His stay in Cuba had been pleasant, although the duties of his position were exceedingly onerous. Every day questions of importance had to be decided and the consulate was daily thronged with callers.

He had been treated with military courtesy by Gen. Weyler, whom he described as a gentleman with pleasant manners, but a strict disciplinarian. Gen. Lee declined to talk about the Cuban question, even in general terms. He will go to Washington at once. He said that if things remained as they were at present, he would take Mrs. Lee to Havana when he returned.

"I speak such poor English after my four months' stay in Cuba, that I am afraid to trust myself to be interviewed in that language," said Gen. Lee, as he excused himself from replying to further questions.

When asked seriously what was his mission here he refused to tell, but he said he would go to Washington by the very first train, and as he had called upon President Cleveland, he would go to Virginia and visit his family.

He said he would return to Havana in three or four weeks, and would be glad when the time arrived for his departure, for he did not relish the idea of a winter here when he could enjoy it in a pleasant place.

At the Y. M. C. A.

There was a large and select gathering at the opening reception given at the rooms last evening which were very prettily decorated with flowers.

The musical program was well rendered by Prof. G. W. Bryant and Misses Bessie Busky, of Norfolk, and Mamie Robbins, their selections being very appropriate. The addresses by T. H. Briggs, President of the Association, Rev. Dr. Daniels and J. F. Watson were in close touch with the work.

Secretary Overton announced that a course of entertainments and practical talks would be given, one every month, by the leading business and professional men, also that the gymnasium classes would begin their regular work next Tuesday evening, the class nights being Tuesday and Thursday.

In connection with the gymnasium work, there are three shower baths, supplied with hot and cold water, and can be used at any time. The expenses of putting in bathing facilities has been borne by the Ladies' Auxiliary and they deserve great credit for their loyalty to the work.

The membership fee of $6 entitles any man to all the privileges of the association, and many men will no doubt avail themselves of these advantages.

In its new quarters the Y. M. C. A. have better equipped rooms and better adapted to the work than ever before and the expense will not be as much as heretofore.

Side Notes.

Chairman Holton says there is ground for a contest in Guilford because it is claimed that a number of Oak Ridge students voted. It will be remembered that a democrat and republican elected by a majority of one each in Guilford.

In Dare county they say alligators were there. There are no populists in Dare.

Chairman Holton says there are no populists in Alleghany. "There never were but two in the county," he remarked.

"Who were they?" the chairman was asked.

"Otho Wilson and Walter B. Henry."

Kentucky for McKinley.

By Telegraph to the Press-Visitor. New York, Nov. 6.—Chairman Hanna is at the Hotel Waldorf and this morning received a dispatch from Governor Bradley of Kentucky saying the state has gone for McKinley without doubt though by a small plurality and would certainly be counted for him.

MACADAM ON HILLSBORO

To be Continued to the Capital Square.

IRON GIRFERS

To Replace the Wooden Benches Under the Southern's Track on South Street—report of street committee.

Through the courtesy of Chairman Drawry we present to our readers today the report of the street committee which will be submitted to the Board of Aldermen this evening. Many interesting reforms of long standing are about to be accomplished. The report is given herewith:

"It affords us much pleasure to report that the improvements on Hillsboro street are nearly completed from the bridge to McDowell street. We hope to complete the grading of the sidewalks on this street next week and will at once commence planting a row of nice and well selected water oaks on each side of this street. As soon as this work is completed to the point named above it is our desire to continue the grading and macadamizing of this street to the capital square. This will give us one of the most beautiful thoroughfares any where to be found, not only in this city, but in the entire South, a street that will be an ornament and credit to our city and one in which every citizen can feel a just and commendable pride."

"Immediately after our last meeting, at which time this board adopted the report of the committee on arbitration concerning the opening of Morgan and Wilmington streets, we requested the street commissioner, Mr. Blake, to proceed at once in making arrangements to carry out the desire of the board in this matter. He immediately placed the order for the necessary quantity of lumber required to do this work. There was some delay in getting the lumber and it was only received a few days ago. But the work is now a progress and we intend to push it as rapidly as we can and we confidently hope and expect to have Morgan street open to the city limits before the next meeting of the board."

"The opening of Morgan street has for many years been an almost constant desire of a great many of our people and the final completion of the work in this direction will add materially to the comfort and convenience of our citizens, and the prosperity of our city. The achievement of this object had been delayed so long, and so many difficulties had to be overcome that a great many of our citizens had commenced to think that Morgan street never would be opened during their generation. Feeling keenly the many advantages to be derived from the opening of this street and realizing the task set before us necessary to its accomplishment, your committee has labored earnestly and almost constantly ever since we have been in office, for the final completion and consummation of this work and now that we see the end almost in sight and the fulfillment of our desire about to be accomplished, we feel that it is with a just and pardonable pride that we call the matter to the attention of this board."

Your committee recommended some months ago that the Southern R. R. Co. be instructed to remove the obstructions from South street where their track crosses that street and in place of the wooden benches which they now have there, that they be required to span that street with iron girders, from stone pillars placed on each side of the street leaving a clean road bed between pillars of at least 40 feet in width. This recommendation was adopted by this Board and the Railroad authorities notified.

We understand that they have readily decided to comply with the requirements of this Board and that they have already given out the contract for this work.

The extension of the sewer on South Blount street ordered by this Board some months ago is about completed.

Signed, JOHN C. DRAWRY, Ch'm.

J. R. FERRELL, J. D. BOUSHALL.

New York, Nov. 6.—The latest estimates give McKinley 260 electoral votes; Bryan 167; in doubt, South Dakota, Wyoming and Kentucky.

MCKINLEY'S CABINET.

Prediction that Hanna Will go to the Treasury.

The Herald's correspondent at Canton sends the following regarding McKinley's Cabinet:

Major McKinley has formulated no plans for his immediate future. It has been expected that he would take an early opportunity after his election to seek a change of environment, and that he would probably visit New York City. Much will depend upon the condition of Mrs. McKinley's health, and it is certain that at present she could not risk a railroad journey, though she is able to sit up this evening.

I talked tonight with a gentleman who has had an exceptional opportunity for knowing Major McKinley's views, and his statements, with information received through friends of Mr. Hanna, justify the statement that Major McKinley proposes to bring into the Cabinet the best talent he is capable of securing.

"In the first place," said my informant, "Major McKinley is very ambitious. He proposes to give the country an administration that will make a record in its history. He recognizes that he has no easy task before him, for he believes the elements which have separated the old parties in this contest will grow in force, rather than diminish and it is his purpose to consolidate and attract the forces which have stood by him in his contest, rather than repel or offend them."

Of course, the figure about which the greatest interest centers, outside of the President-elect, is that of Chairman Hanna. It is understood here that it is now Mr. Hanna's desire to succeed John Sherman in the United States Senate.

It was Mr. Hanna's desire to lay down his political cares with the nomination of Major McKinley in St. Louis. The conditions which presented themselves, however, were such as required his acceptance of the national chairmanship, and he made that sacrifice for Major McKinley. It is quite possible that Mr. Hanna may at the last moment be required to make a further sacrifice for the incoming president and become secretary of the treasury.

It is the understanding here among the closest friends of the president-elect that while a tariff bill will be early presented to the next Congress, Major McKinley has undergone a decided change of opinion as to the lines upon which the tariff legislation of the future must be laid.

He has not abated one iota in his views as to the necessity of a protective tariff, but he believes that reciprocity is the corollary of protection, and that the thirty-two nations which now impose a tariff upon American imports, and whose products now come into American ports free of duty, should be made to abate their own tax or be made subject to duty in the United States.

William McKinley Osborne of Massachusetts, will probably be appointed consul general of London. It is the most lucrative position at the President's disposal.

Walter Henry Gets an Order.

Walter Henry arrived in the city yesterday from Charlotte and applied to Judge Montgomery for an order restraining Clerk Morrow from counting the vote of Pineville township. He alleged that a "violent man" Barnett, had measured off the precinct lines and because two poll holders did not live in the precinct as measured, had driven them off, leaving less than a quorum of the election board and that eighty negro votes had been fraudulently thrown out. Therefore he asked for an order restraining Clerk Morrow from counting the vote as cast. Montgomery held that a clerk is like a piece of mechanism and must count votes as cast.

A False Pretender Arrested.

A man giving the name of King, has been arrested at Dunn, Harnett county, and brought here and lodged in jail for soliciting business on false pretenses. King visited several towns east of here and solicited orders for enlarged copies of photographs, claiming to be representing our well known photographer, Mr. C. P. Wharton. Mr. Wharton heard of the fraud and not having authorized King to represent him, and having no dealings with him, secured his arrest and had him brought here and lodged in jail for trial where he now is. King had collected a dollar from every person with whom he made an agreement to make a picture.

ANOTHER ELECTION.

Must be Had to Decide a Tie Vote on Magistrates in Raleigh Township—Three Republicans Elected.

The magistrates in Raleigh township have been overlooked in the shuffle, but the race was a most interesting one as the result will show.

J. M. Broughton, John Y. MacRae and T. L. Love, Democratic nominees were defeated, and R. C. Rivers, A. L. Chamberlain and L. N. White, of the fusion ticket, were elected.

C. E. King and Anderson Betts received 1,778 votes. Both candidates received a tie vote and another election will have to be called to decide the matter.

"We'll have another election," said Adjutant Wilson, "and then we'll fix the Democrats."

All the other democratic nominees received a scant majority vote. The majorities ran all the way from one to ten votes. John Upchurch defeated J. D. Newsum for constable by seventy-one votes.

The following are the magistrates elected. The vote they received is also given: W. D. Turry 3,558; L. W. White 1,809; W. E. Foster 1,807; D. I. Fort 1,803; W. P. Batchelor 1,803; W. R. Macy 1,802; W. H. Dodd 1,801; A. L. Chamberlain 1,801; Thos. Badger 1,800; J. L. Riddle 1,800; R. C. Rivers 1,800; W. W. Parrish 1,798.

NEARLY $90,000

Of Father Worth's Good Money Drawn Out of the Treasury Today.

Treasurer Worth would have been swamped today if he had not had a big fund on hand. He paid out in all ninety thousand dollars. Of this amount $67,826 was interest due on six per cent bonds. Old construction, N. C. R. R. bonds to the extent of $21,890 were redeemed. Two New Yorkers held these bonds. It will be remembered that last year they demanded interest on the bonds since 1886, when they expired. This Treasurer Worth refused to do. An appeal was taken to the United States court, but the case has since been withdrawn.

JOHN H. INMAN DEAD.

The Great Financial Magnate Has Passed Away.

By Telegraph to the Press-Visitor. New York, Nov. 6.—John H. Inman, head of the cotton house of Inman, Swan & Co., and a business man of national reputation, died yesterday of heart failure. He was 53 years of age. Mr. Inman was born in Tennessee and entered the Confederate service when 17 years old. He came to New York in 1865 and embarked in the cotton business. His estate is now estimated at $10,000,000. He not only invested in land in the South, but is believed to have led into the South, capital of more than $100,000. He was a member of both the old and the present Rapid Transit Boards, was a director in the Tennessee Coal and Iron Company and the Fourth National bank of this city and a member of several clubs.

The Attractions to be Seen Here Next Week.

The Birmingham, Ala. News says of H. Guy Woodward, who will open a week's engagement at Metropolitan Opera House next Monday night:

H. Guy Woodward was again the principal attraction. He is very droll and having lots of confidence in himself, he gives the audience the full benefit of what is in him. His comic songs were excellent and his facial expression was at times ex-cruciating.

Miss Bessie Warren came in for a full share of the honors last night. In her duet with Mr. Woodward she was very good, while her dancing was splendid. She received encore after encore until she could respond no more from sheer exhaustion.

Ladies free Monday night if accompanied by a person holding one paid 30 cent ticket.

Mrs. Castle Sentenced to Three Months.

By Cable to the Press-Visitor. LONDON, Nov. 6.—The trial of Mr. and Mrs. Walter M. Castle of San Francisco, charged with shop-lifting, took place today and resulted in the acquittal of Castle. His wife was sentenced to three months imprisonment without hard labor. The scene was very distressing. The sobs of Mrs. Castle were heart rending. She was heavily veiled and was unable to restrain herself.
