

CLEVELAND AND CUBA:

It is thought the Administration is about ready to let.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The Cuban question may come up for settlement by the incoming administration.

There are signs on all sides that something is going on. At the White House and State Department the greatest secrecy is being maintained.

Nothing would apparently please this peace loving nation more than a brush with Spain.

Should the Cuban question, however, go over to the next administration, it is expected that the lone star island will be taken in under the folds of our flag.

The Garfield School Exhibit by the Colored Fair.

A special and a very attractive feature of the colored fair now in progress is the educational exhibit of the Garfield school of this city.

Mr. Bryan and the So-Called Bolts.

LITTLETON, N. C., Nov. 10, 1896. Editor Press-Visitor:

Mr. Bryan craves our indulgence until 1900, but he madly charges upon members of the democratic party, to which he has recently claimed to belong.

The leaders of the national democratic party openly expressed their preference for McKinley rather than Bryan, Altgelt and their platform and since the populists have declared further confusion, charging treachery, the Bryan democrats must soon realize that they cannot succeed without the support of the million democrats who refused to vote and more than a million who voted against "depraved currency and social disorder."

Before the election "the organs" repeatedly charged that we were "bolts," "decoy ducks" and "yellow-bellies."

"Paid $5.00 each to three preachers, Rev. Ransom Milborn a Hard Shell Baptist and Democrat, a Rev. Mr. Richardson and Lewis Bryan. This was entirely charity, but was expended during the campaign."

"Paid Jo Horton (colored) at Elkin $5.00 for vitals which was eaten by a large number of colored people, men, women and children."

"D. C. Pearsons expenses to attend meeting of Republican and Populist Committee at Raleigh and urge co-operation."

"Paid Hal Ayer $50 for issuing extra copies of the Caucasian in eighth Congressional district."

Joseph J. Martin, republican candidate for elector is an honest man. In his expense account Mr. Martin records whiskey and cigars. His expense in the campaign amounted to $115.

J. E. Fowler's election to Congress in the third district cost him $198. Abe Middleton received $70 of this amount for faithful work in the interest of co-operation.

COST RUSSELL $599

E. G. WHITE IN TROUBLE.

Arrested in Norfolk Charged With the Theft of $6,000.

The Norfolk Ledger of yesterday afternoon contains the following concerning a young man who spent a few days in Raleigh some time last June, claiming to be sporting editor of the New York Journal: The young man Edward Gay White, who was arrested here yesterday on the charge of stealing $6,000 from H. Dalton Newcomb in Baltimore, was before Justice Tomlin this morning, and was, after being refused bail, committed to jail for ten days to await the action of the Maryland authorities.

White being a Richmond man, he had his counsel Col. Tazewell Ellett, of that city, who arrived here last night. The money in question is said to have been entrusted with White, it being the purpose of the young man to go in the bookmaking business at the races. Newcomb and Detective Gault, of Baltimore, who were here yesterday in connection with the case, left for that city last night to have White indicted to day and to get the necessary papers for his extradition. In the meantime there is talk of White being taken before Judge Hanckel upon a writ of habeas corpus, it being held that he was arrested here without sufficient warrant. White is a married man and has relatives here.

The following from the Richmond Times on the subject of White's arrest, is interesting:

"White was raised in this city, where he was identified with a wild set of young men. He attended college at Randolph Macon, in Ashland, Va., for a while, but the place was too tame for his sporting proclivities, so he returned to Richmond, and after a short residence here went West, and was next heard of as sporting editor of the Chicago Inter-Ocean; at least that title appeared upon his business cards.

"After spending some time in the West he appeared suddenly in Richmond, and raised quite a stir here by eloping with Miss Addie Johnson, daughter of the late Virginian Johnson, a young lady of many personal charms and very well known in Richmond.

"White carried his fair bride to the Windy City, and for a time nothing was heard from him. Then came the news of his arrest for shooting one of his quondam friends on the suspicion that he had insulted his wife. The affair, which at first looked serious, did not amount to anything in the end. The wounded man recovered, and White was acquitted on the ground of having had sufficient provocation for his action.

"Since that time he has several times been in Richmond accompanied by his wife. He was here during the session of the legislature, and used every endeavor to prevent the passage of the Maupin anti-gambling bill. The telegraph last night brought the first news of this erratic young man that has been received for some time in Richmond."

Since the above was written Col. Ellett has decided not to apply for a writ of habeas corpus, but is at this writing arranging to give a bail bond of $6,000, upon which Judge Hanckel has agreed to release the prisoner.

A telegram has been received saying that White was indicted in Baltimore today, and that officials had left for Annapolis to get the extradition papers and would proceed to Richmond tonight to get them endorsed by Governor O'Ferrall.

The following special telegram was received by the Times last night from Norfolk:

Several days ago a young man giving the name of Edward Gay White put up at the Mt. Vernon Hotel in Baltimore. He claimed to be on the staff of the New York Journal, and while there struck up an acquaintance with H. Dalton Newcomb, a well known Baltimore man, to whom he confided a plan of establishing a book-making concern, at the same time representing that $6,000 would be necessary to start in business.

Newcomb fell in with the scheme and turned over $6,000 to White, with instructions to deposit it in the safe of the hotel. White went back into the office to do this, but slipped out the side door and was not heard from until traced to this city, where he was today arrested and placed behind the bars.

In response from Marshall Frey, of Baltimore, Detective Gault, of the latter city, arrived here this evening in company with Newcomb, and is awaiting instructions. If White will go back to Maryland without requisition papers he will be taken today. If not, Officer Gault will await the arrival of these papers from the authorities.

White refuses to talk, except to say that it was a business transaction, and that he did not steal the money, which he does not deny taking. He intimates that it was a betting transaction. None of the money has been recovered.

White is tall and slender, has dark hair and eyes, is five feet eleven inches in height and about twenty-three years of age. He is addicted to excessive cigarette smoking.

Marrage This Evening.

Mr. Mortimer Maxwell and Miss Lizzie Owens were quietly married this afternoon at 3:30 p. m. at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Chas. Hutchings, corner of Salisbury and Martin streets.

A number of relatives and invited friends witnessed the ceremony which was impressively performed by Rev. W. C. Norman.

Mr. Maxwell is very popular in Raleigh and has won many friends by his gentlemanly bearing. The bride is a very attractive and accomplished young lady. Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell will make their home at Manly, N. C.

Thanksgiving Entertainment.

A Thanksgiving entertainment for the benefit of the Odd Fellows' orphan home will be given by Ruth Lodge, No. 4, Daughters of-Rebecca, this evening at their hall in the Pullen building.

The bill of fare will be as follows: Oysters, either fried, stewed or raw, ice cream, cake, chocolate, coconut, jelly or pound, hot coffee, fruits, apples, oranges, bananas and pears.

The amusements will consist of fortune telling, the mysterious mystagogue will explain your fortune; fish pond, try your luck, you'll surely catch something; guessing contest, a box of fine cigars will be given to the one who guesses the nearest to the number of beans in the bottle; a booby prize will be given to the one that makes the poorest guess; postoffice, write to your sweetheart or friend; letters post-paid.

Remember this entertainment is for the benefit of the Orphans' Home at Goldsboro, and every cent of the receipts go to that institution.

The notice in this paper a few days ago of the location of a down town office on Fayetteville street by Dr. H. A. Royster was misleading. The office will be occupied by Dr. W. I. Royster as well as Dr. H. A. Royster. Their practice of medicine in conjunction is the same as heretofore.

The supreme court affirms the decision in the case against S. G. Mattock for forgery in Durham county. Mattock is the foxy duck who passed several forged checks on merchants in this city signed by tobacco firms. He operated the same game in Durham, where he was captured. He was sentenced to four years imprisonment and appealed to the supreme court. The former decision is affirmed.

A Winston Sentinel reporter questioned Mr. Settle relative to the report that he intended to contest Mr. Kitchen's seat in Congress. He denied that he had ever intimated or that he contemplated such a thought, and said that the report must have originated in the guilty consciences of some of the Democrats of his district.

Mr. W. E. Jones, the hustler of hustlers, at 206 Fayetteville street, announces a special big sale of blankets, and ladies capes for tomorrow. Cold weather is on the way here, therefore we advise, "in times of peace, prepare for war."

In other words buy blankets and capes when you can get a bargain, and be ready to resist old man frost. See Mr. Jones' advertisement today.

Mrs. Lilly Grady, of Barton's Creek township today secured a divorce decree from the Superior Court. Within five minutes she was united in marriage to Chas. E. Mangum, of Barton's Creek. Justice H. H. Roberts performed the ceremony. This is the third case during this court and Wake seems to be making her record in presto change cases in the matrimonial world.

The last Legislature authorized elections in thirty-nine counties on the question of levying a special tax for public schools. The State Superintendent of Public Instruction says that so far as he can discover, no election was held in any county. The only reason he can advance is that the law provides for only two boxes and two tickets at an election, and that it was feared another box and ticket might invalidate the election.

DEF'T DISCHARGED.

Case Against Clarence Upchurch Heard by Mayor Russ Today.

The case against Clarence Upchurch, who was charged with causing the death of Ida Hill, was heard before Mayor Russ this morning.

A number of witnesses were examined, but the testimony was of little consequence. Among those who were examined were Lydia Chamblee, Creedy Adams, Becky Divine, Bettie Womack and Henrietta Freeman. The testimony of Creedy Adams, who shrouded the dead woman, was that the body bore signs of one or two small bruises, which were of a trivial nature.

Justice Roberts made a statement of the facts in the case heretofore enumerated. The defense did not introduce any witnesses, as it was not deemed necessary.

The defendant, when arrested, put in a plea of former jeopardy and the further plea of "not guilty." The case was called before Justice Roberts and on suggestion of Mr. Thos. Devereux, counsel for the defendant, it was removed to Mayor Russ for the reason that the defense might desire to use Justice Roberts as a witness.

Mayor Russ in rendering his decision held that while the plea of former jeopardy was good, the case tried and determined last Thursday by Justice Roberts, who had jurisdiction only for the same offense and the same evidence, if it was good, yet there was no evidence adduced to even hold the defendant upon the plea of "not guilty." Mr. Upchurch was discharged.

Ida Hill's remains were interred in potter's field today, under the direction of city authorities.

"A Night's Frolic."

The bright, new and up-to-date farce comedy, "A Night's Frolic," will be presented at the Academy of Music Tuesday night by a company of farceurs under the management of Wilson & Thayer. When Augustus Thomas framed "A Night's Frolic," he constructed it to bring forth laughter, and it has made millions laugh. Full of witty sayings, funny scenes and ludicrous situations, it never fails to create mirth. The plot is comedy and the characters comical. Mr. Thomas, the author, is one of the foremost of American dramatists, having written many of the successful plays of the day, "Alabama," "The Burglar," "The Capitol," etc. The company which will present the roaring farce is composed of artists of acknowledged ability and all who attend the show may expect to see and have "A Night's Frolic."

With the Company is Mr. Chas. F. Newsum, a Raleigh boy who is making a name for himself in his chosen profession. Seats on sale at King's.

Minister Ransom's Son Critically Ill.

Mr. Thomas Ransom, son of Hon. Matt Ransom, United States minister to Mexico, was taken suddenly ill Sunday at his home, a short distance from Weldon, and two physicians were called in to attend him. Monday his condition became so critical that a third physician was called in. He is suffering from pneumonia. Minister Ransom, who is now in Mexico, is being kept advised by wire of his son's condition.

Cuban Scare Depresses Stocks.

By Telegraph to the Press-Visitor. NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The war-like talk with regard to the Cuban situation gave the stock market this morning the first thrill since the election. The scare was based upon the reports that the administration was hastening work on its ships with avidity. It hammered the market vigorously and there was a decline of a quarter to one per cent in the entire list.

Bryan Will Tell It Again.

By Telegraph to the Press-Visitor. LINCOLN, Neb., Nov. 12.—Mr. Bryan, in a speech before the Lincoln Travelling Men's Bryan Club and other local organizations next Saturday, will outline the future course of bi-metallics. This will be the first formal utterance of the Democratic candidate from the rostrum since the election.
