

MAPS FOR PRITCHARD.

Caucasian Says he Would not Speak Before Pops.

SENATORIAL TIMBER.

Walter Henry Ottobard's Elusive Character's Paper Says That no Advice is Wanted from Democrats as to how Pops Shall Vote.

The Caucasian appeared today for the first time in two weeks, but the delay did not check the warmth of the editorial matter, which was lavishly served by editor Ayer.

The reason assigned for the paper's temporary embarrassment is that the offer of three months subscription for ten cents on the paper in debt.

The Caucasian says that Senator Pritchard, with the certainty of a re-election before him, went over to the gold ring because the latter informed him that they would fight him and beat some other man if he voted for silver. The paper asserts that Senator Pritchard's conversion was not a real one, and that he was ashamed of it. It says he talked tariff and dodged the money issue speaking only in manufacturing towns. The paper adds: "It is noticeable that he made very few speeches during the last campaign, and that he could not be gotten to speak where he would likely have a large popular audience."

"We repudiate the charge that any Populist member of the legislature is pledged to vote for a goldbug Senator. If any one is pledged, who got the pledge then? We challenge the man who holds such a pledge to give the name of a single member so pledged."

"The Caucasian wants to go on record again as saying that we do not believe there is any foundation for any such absurd claim. In fact we denounce it as false."

"There never was a time when it was more important for people to be certain where a man stands before they send him to the Senate than now. We have no fear that any Populist will vote to send a goldbug or a monopolist to the United States Senate."

"These boasts are an insult to the Peoples Party."

"If there is any doubt about where any candidate stands let him be required to make a pledge like Zeb Vance made."

And the Caucasian finally adds that Democrats might as well keep their mouths shut. It says that the Populists want an advice from Democrats.

The latest addition to the arena of senatorial candidates is the massive form of Walter R. Henry. And why not Walter. It would seem that the entire Populist party will enter the arena by January.

A Paines-Vivron reporter made the rounds of the politicians today and obtained a list of candidates. Among the more avowed Populist candidates are S. Otto Wilson, Cyrus Thompson, Walter R. Henry, J. W. Ramsey, Spier Whitaker, L. C. Caldwell Mayor of Statesville, Maj. W. A. Guthrie, Oliver Dockery and Harry Skinner. Dr. J. J. Mott was not put down as a Populist. Under the latest classification he is a free Populist.

TO CHANGE THE CHARTER.

Republicans Give Notice That they Want to Carry over the City.

Notice will appear in Jim Young's Gazette tomorrow that application will be made to the General Assembly to change the charter of the city government.

Newly all the local Republicans express themselves as being anxious to obtain a charter by which the wards can be gerrymandered so that the city will go Republican.

Jim Young declined to say what action he proposed to take in the General Assembly relative to changing the charter of the city.

The idea of the Republicans is to gerrymander the city and throw the election in the hands of the Board of Aldermen.

SCRAMBLE FOR OFFICE.

Populists Don't Get Much Ahead of Republicans—John Graham for R. R. Comm'r.

Candidates for public pay are springing up from every pig path. It is amusing to hear some of the names mentioned in connection with important offices.

The populists and republican brethren are keeping tab pretty well. Whenever a populist claims a boom, it can be counted as certain that a republican is close behind.

Prof. J. W. Graham is said to be an avowed candidate for Railway Commissioner to succeed Mr. Eugene Beddingfield. The name of T. R. Funnell and numbers of others are also heard. The Populists are not bothering, they can trade and everybody knows how they take care of themselves when it comes to making a bargain.

Some of the more hungry want to organize the railway commission in order to elect a successor to Maj. Wilson. "Such a radical move is not contemplated by populists or republicans as a rule. Railway Commissioner Wilson stated today that the Commission would not be reorganized. "The republicans tried that two years ago," he said, "but we would not let them."

TO OCCUR THE 15TH.

That is the Day Agreed For Gov. Elected Russell's Inauguration.

The date of Governor Russell's inauguration and the change of administration has been a matter of uncertainty since the election, the law on the subject being badly clouded. But it now appears that the new administration will take the oath of office the thirteenth of January, if Governor-elect Russell is not so unpopulistic as to refuse to be inaugurated that day.

The inauguration would have occurred on the 26th of January had not the act of '93 been repealed. The constitution says that the term of the executive officers begins January first and the same article provides that the speaker shall open and publish the vote, which it requires to be sealed and sent to him at the seat of government. The act of '93—the new election law—provides that this duty shall be performed on Tuesday after the assembling of the legislature.

Thus it will be seen that the returns will be officially canvassed by the legislature on the 15th. It has been agreed that the inauguration shall occur the next day, which is Wednesday the thirteenth.

HEARING DELAYED.

Charged that Republicans are Postponing the Lapse Until Russell Gets In.

The temporary injunction restraining the stockholders of the Atlantic and North Carolina railroad from leasing the road, was continued in Halifax yesterday by Judge Robertson until next Tuesday. The continuance was made for the purpose of giving the plaintiff time to file counter affidavits.

It was broadly asserted today that the republicans were trying to delay the matter until Russell's inauguration, when the whole thing would be squashed and the road put under republican management.

Mr. M. Stevenson and C. R. Thomas, attorneys for Craven county, made application that Craven be made a party to the suit, which was granted.

Mr. T. E. Funnell, who represented the plaintiff, returned to the city today.

Address to Y. W. C. T. U.

Not many of our citizens perhaps know of the good work being done in this community by the Young Women's Christian Temperance Union, of which Miss Daisy Young is President and Miss Nellie Shively is Secretary. An interesting feature of their monthly meetings is an address by some one of our citizens. At their meeting on last Monday, M. N. Amis, Esq., an honorary member of the association, by invitation, spoke to them, and his address was highly commended and warmly received. He called their attention to several needed amendments to existing laws and gave some valuable suggestions for the advancing of their noble work.

A very successful revival is being conducted in Cary. Among those assisting are Rev. John White, Mr. J. T. Pallen, Rev. C. W. Blanchard and Rev. A. D. Hunter. Much good has resulted from the meeting.

THE FIGHT ON STATE AID.

Biblical Recorder has no Doubt but that the Legislature is With Them.

From an editorial in this week's Biblical Recorder it is apparent that the Baptists propose to make a fight in opposition to aid to the University. The Recorder seems confident that the legislature will react sharply as is asked by the opponents of the University. The organ of the Baptists says:

"We have never had a doubt but that the members of the last General Assembly, and of the General Assembly just elected, are largely in favor of reducing the appropriations to higher education, with the view ultimately of cutting them off entirely. We have never had a doubt but that any man who undertakes to represent the will of the people of North Carolina will be opposed to State-aid."

"The voluntary principle is the only right one, and the people know it; and it will prevail."

There is no adequate argument to sustain the appropriation of the taxes of the people for the higher education of a few young men and women. Such education does not reach the masses of the people. It is, therefore, unjust to them to expend the public taxes for this purpose. These young men and women, whether they purpose teaching in public schools or not, may as well be educated in institutions voluntarily supported, or at their own expense. The expenditure of the public taxes for their higher education is, therefore, unnecessary. The money now spent for higher education is sorely needed for the common schools for the lower education of the children of the great mass of the people.

"There is no argument to justify the State of North Carolina in aiding an institution that teaches religion, which is the beginning of the union of church and state. And there is no argument to sustain the support by the state of an institution that teaches no religion. Where shall the state-aided institutions stand?"

"State aid rests upon sentiment."

Confederate Veterans.

Gen. J. B. Gordon, commanding general of the United Confederate Veterans, through his adjutant general and chief of staff, Gen. George Moorman, has announced that the next annual meeting and reunion of the Veterans will be held May 5, 6 and 7, 1897, at Nashville, Tenn.

SYMPATHY WITH CUBA.

Expressions From Many U. S. Senators.

MOST ALL FRIENDLY.

To the Struggling Patriots—Several Senators Await the President's Message.

While Others are Opposed to Any Action.

The following telegram was received today by E. B. Cuthbert & Co., over their private wire to G. E. Leach:

New York, Nov. 25.—The following are expressions and answers of Senators on the question, "Are you in favor of Congress acting early, passing a joint resolution which will be mandatory to the President to protect the struggling Cubans from being exterminated by the Spanish: Lodge of Massachusetts hopes for Cuba. Chandler of New Hampshire is in favor of immediate action. Proctor of Vermont wants war to cease. Carter of Montana thinks agitation would be unwise. Mitchell of Wisconsin believes nothing can be done. Cockrell of Missouri wants to recognize the belligerency. Vest of Missouri is undecided. Kyle of South Dakota, wants no delay. Faulkner of Virginia opposes haste. Bacon of Georgia, wants to end the war. Paddock of Florida favors prompt action. Call of Florida favors recognition.

Blaekburn of Kentucky wants to exhaust the powers of congress in favor of the Cubans. Tillman of South Carolina, Allen of Nebraska and Wilson of Nebraska favor action for Cuba. Lindsay of Kentucky awaits President's message. Morgan of Alabama thinks there will be trouble. Pugh of Alabama believes it an executive question.

Perkins, of California, says we must not act hasty. Sherman, of Ohio, is reticent. Harris, of Connecticut, thinks the President will let the matter stand as it is. Blanchard, of Louisiana, favors Cuban recognition. Morrill, of Vermont, awaits the President's message. Burrows, of Michigan, thinks action depends upon future events.

Weyler's Successor Called for.

By Telegram to the Press-Visitor.
MADRID, Nov. 25.—Several of the leading newspapers of Madrid are very bitter in their criticisms of the return of General Weyler to Havana and declare him to be morally ruined. All of these papers demand that General Azcarraga, the present Minister of War, be sent to Cuba at once to supersede General Weyler.

Keeping Up the Gait.

The election in Cary yesterday passed off very quietly.

W. M. Sorrell, the Populist candidate carried the day. This was in accordance with the eternal fitness of things in this anti-Democratic year. Forty Democrats failed to vote. W. M. Sorrell received 118 votes and Mr. Larry B. Woodell, the Democratic candidate received 111 votes. Mr. Sorrell triumphed by a majority of seven.

One McKinley Elector in Virginia.

Through a clerical error, C. M. Wallace, democratic elector in Virginia, loses 21,273 votes. This ejects one of the McKinley electors.

"The White Crook" Coming.

Ed F. Rush's Spectacular Extravaganza "White Crook" company will make their appearance at Metropolitan Opera House Friday Nov. 27th. The Extravaganza is divided into two parts, the first a Tropic Island, the second a Royal Palace. Its dialogue is bright and it is said the stage settings and costumes are most elaborate. The whole company will be introduced, and during its action, there will be numerous, varied and pleasing specialties, musical and terpsichorean numbers, among which are Helene Russell, musical artist; Mona Lynn, comedienne and dancer; the charming Sisters Arnold, the four Chevaliers, the London sensation, Tommy Atkins, the flowery boys and girls, march of the Broadway squad, Baker and Lynn, comedy duo, J. Edgar Johnson, character vocalist and the famous El Capitaine March.

There are nine colored members of the House of Representatives and two colored Senators.

THE R. & S. ROAD SOLD.

To Be Leased to Norfolk and Western Company.

The Winston Sentinel of yesterday says:

The sale of the Roanoke & Southern railroad, under mortgage foreclosure, occurred in Winston yesterday and was knocked off to a syndicate of five prominent capitalists, who propose to organize, under the laws of North Carolina and Virginia, what will be known as the Norfolk, Roanoke & Southern Railroad Co. The property is then to be leased to the Norfolk & Western Company.

William E. Glyn was the only party to deposit, with the special masters, the required pledge of good faith as a bidder for the road. The deposit consisted of bonds, secured by the mortgage being foreclosed, to the value of $100,000. Mr. Glyn bid when the sale was called was $500,000, and there being no other bidders the property was quickly knocked off to him.

The gentlemen in whose name the purchase was made are Wm. E. Glyn, Joseph L. Doran, A. J. Hemphill, H. S. Marshall, and G. C. Callahan, of Philadelphia. These gentlemen and the special masters of the sale, accompanied by F. H. Fries, left immediately after the sale on a special train for Richmond where the sale is to be confirmed by the court, and steps will be taken at once to organize the Norfolk, Roanoke & Southern Company, which as stated above will lease the road to the Norfolk & Western Company.

The Private Secretary Tomorrow Night.

All the theatre going public of Raleigh is looking forward to the appearance here tomorrow night at Metropolitan Opera House of that immitable jewel of comedy, "The Private Secretary." The play is so well known that it is superfluous to attempt to anticipate it by any kind of comment. After a good thanksgiving dinner there is probably no other attraction which could afford a more genuinely happy wind up of the day. Certainly there is no more mirth-provoking play upon a high plane than "The Private Secretary." The Birmingham Age-Herald says of it: "Mr. Edwin Travers had every reason to feel proud of the audience which received him and his company on his first appearance in Birmingham. "The Private Secretary" is broadly comical without a suspicion of vulgarity, horse-play, coarseness or "specialities." The humor is not of the fine-spun kind that requires close attention to detail to appreciate but is so distinctly forcible that even the unlettered "catch on" at once. It is not made up of intricate plays upon wit hard to catch, but is "all wool and a yard wide." In the hands of this excellent company the comedy cannot fail to be amusing, and as evidenced by the applause last night, everybody was amused. "Do you know" fairly caught the house last night.

Hotel Changes Hands.

ASHVILLE, Nov. 25.—Kenilworth Inn, changed management to-day. Henry Clair, who has managed the hotel for several months, is succeeded by C. E. Lindsay, of Bon Air Hotel, Augusta, Ga.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Jacob S. Allen, Jr., is in the city.

Judge E. W. Timberlake was in the city today.

Maj. Samuel F. Telfair, left for Washington today.

Mr. Barrin Busbee went to Richmond today to witness the football contest tomorrow.

Mr. W. P. Hanszey has returned to Cumbock from his trip to Philadelphia.

Miss Beatie Tucker has gone to Chapel Hill on a visit to Mrs. Cnas. Beaskerville.

Miss Henrietta Merrell Daniel, daughter of Dr. Daniel, is visiting Miss Wetterspoon in Goldsboro.

Mrs. C. H. Mosely, who has been visiting Mrs. T. B. Wilkinson, left today for Greenville, to visit her daughter Mrs. T. E. Lipscomb.

Hon. Jas. E. Boyd, of Greensboro, was in the city today. Mr. Boyd is an original McKinley man, and who by his declaration for the Canton man, broke the Reed boom in this state. Rumor has it that Mr. Boyd will succeed Hon. M. W. Ransom as minister to Mexico. Mr. Boyd is a splendid republican and a gentleman whose geniality is like sunshine itself.

TO BE RENEWED.

The Rate War to Break out Again Between the Seaboard and Southern.

The Baltimore News of yesterday afternoon says: As foreshadowed in The News, a renewal of the rate war from Baltimore to the south is only a question of time, and that time, it would seem, is not far off unless the managements of the Seaboard Air Line system and the Southern Railway Company adjust the differences that exist between them within the next few days.

President R. Curran Hoffman of the Seaboard Air Line system was today by a reporter for The News in reference to the prospective renewal of hostilities, and while he would not commit himself, he intimated that the Seaboard would be pushing rates again if the Southern persisted in its present policy toward the Seaboard—that is, denying the latter through passenger service between New York and New Orleans, and running the line of steamers between Baltimore and Norfolk in opposition to the Bay Line, which is owned by the Seaboard Air Line.

"I have not outlined my policy as yet," said Mr. Hoffman, "but you may say that the management will protect the interests of the company at all hazards. I was in hopes that when the negotiations for the transfer of the control of the property to the New York people fell through the Southern would be willing to withdraw its objection to what are undoubtedly our rights and restore harmony. If it does that, of course we will be satisfied, and trouble will be averted, but if it ignores our claims as it has done, the responsibility must be upon the shoulders of the Southern Railway Company and not upon the Seaboard Air Line system. The Seaboard will insist upon fair treatment, and if it is denied us then we will take steps to enforce our rights. It is premature, however, to talk of another rate war. For the present I will take no action. I will await developments."

It is almost certain that the Pennsylvania will soon become involved in the pending controversy unless it will consent to haul the Seaboard's cars between Washington and New York, and which under an agreement existing with the Southern the Pennsylvania is said to be prohibited from doing.

The Louisville and Nashville and the Southern have, it is understood, similar traffic arrangements for the operation of trains between Montgomery and New Orleans, and so it is likely the Louisville and Nashville would find itself involved in difficulties with the Seaboard also.

Mrs. Bryan Used as an Example.

By Telegram to the Press-Visitor.
MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 25.—A bill passed the senate of Alabama permitting women, whether married or single, to practice law in all of the courts of the state. It has created a tremendous sensation here, inasmuch as no other southern state has given recognition to women attorneys. The bill was passed by a majority of two only, and a strong effort will be made to kill it in the house. One of the strongest arguments used in favor of the bill was that Mrs. W. J. Bryan is a lawyer.

Railroad Sold For $6,000.

Mr. F. H. Busbee attended the sale of a railroad in Danville, Va., yesterday, which with its six miles of track, stations, engines, rolling stock and equipments sold for $6,000. The road was the Milton and Southernland. It may be stated however that the road only had one engine and that was minus tender. Among the other effects were two box cars and a combination caboose and passenger affair. The purchaser was L. M. Warlick.

Thanksgiving Services.

Union Thanksgiving Services will be held at the First Presbyterian Church Thursday morning at 11 o'clock. The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. W. C. Norman, pastor of the Edenton Street Methodist Church. It is desired that there may be a full attendance, and a large collection for the three Orphan Homes, Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian. Superior music may be expected.

The entertainment by the children of the public schools are in progress at Metropolitan Hall as we go to press. The exercises are interesting and beautiful and will be fully described in tomorrow's Paines-Vivron.

SHORT STATEMENTS.

Minor Matters Manipulated for the Many.

AROUND THE CITY.

Post-Pourri of the News Featured on Paper—Points and People Pertinently Picked and Pithily Put in Print.

Mr. P. M. Briggs came from Durham this afternoon and will preach at Central Methodist church tonight. Go and hear him on the "Prodigal Son."

Mr. Geo. Allen, Secretary of the Mechanics and Investor's Union has something interesting to say to our readers today. Read his announcement.

Jim Young's constituents in the fourth ward tendered him a banquet last night. Four hundred persons were fed. A speech from Jim highly delighted those at the feast.

The B. Y. P. N. of the first Baptist church will give an entertainment, complimentary to the young men of the A. & M. College, Friday evening, Nov. 27, in the Sunday school room. A pleasant program has been arranged and the public is cordially invited.

The Garfield graded school will hold its Thanksgiving exercises this evening, and make its Thanksgiving offering for the poor of the city at the colored Presbyterian church, corner of Davis and Person streets. The object of the exercises is to teach the children practical benevolence.

Gen. J. M. Wolf, of Greensboro, state's proxy of the North Carolina railroad, was a visitor in the city today. General Wolf is a splendid gentleman and his recent appointment as state's proxy by Governor Carr has been highly commended.

Mr. C. M. Busbee, postmaster, announces that Thursday, Nov. 26, being a legal holiday, Sunday hours will be observed at the post-office. The general delivery and carriers window will be open from 2:30 until 3 p. m., and all outgoing mails will close at 5:30.

The girls and boys must not forget to attend the "Mother Goose Party" given by the Thompson Orphanage Guild at Mr. Battle's Friday evening. Prizes will be given and refreshments served free of charge. Admission 25 cents.

The elocution pupils, under the direction of Miss Caspari, instructor in elocution at Peace Institute, will present the play, "The Rapid Transit Question" to-morrow, Thanksgiving at eight p. m. The play will be produced at the Institution.

Solicitor Claude M. Bernard is said to have very rosy chances of receiving the appointment of District Attorney for the Eastern District. Mr. Bernard was a delegate at large to the St. Louis convention and was an original McKinley man. He was also a member of the national notification committee and journeyed to Canton.

Mr. J. D. Riggan, Raleigh's great leader in novelties for the holiday trade is now ready with a bewildering profusion of toys and all sorts of attractions for the Christmas trade, cheaper and better than ever. Call and see his beautiful stock and don't fail to read his new advertisement today.

Messrs. John N. Harrell and W. S. Primrose, Jr., will leave on Monday to fill a number of engagements for exhibition of the wonder of Graphophone. Their route covers a large part of this state and South Carolina, and we are sure these energetic young gentlemen will reap a richly deserved harvest. The Graphophone is one of the most remarkable and mysterious inventions of this age and the exhibition will attract hundreds of spectators.

We make our acknowledgement to the firm of W. H. & R. S. Tucker & Co., for a pretty pamphlet entitled "C. C. Tridger Photography." It contains some very interesting information and illustrations concerning the Modern Kodak, which is typified in the improved instrument of the Eastman Kodak Company which is to be seen at the store of the Messrs. Tucker. It is a pretty and compact little machine and is strictly up-to-date in the kodak line.
