your address. We have already recoived several with no address, and you must not be disappointed if the old man misses you. He can't find all unless you tell him where you live.

Remember you must write your

we letter. Old man Santa is pretty sharp and he can tell when some one helps you. You must not be more than ten years old, because he is making a special trip to the real little folks this time. If you are only 10 years old and write, without help, and have your letter here by the 23d he will remember you, and the one that writes the best letter will get the big dog or the toy iron cooking stove, whichever you like best.

Three disinterested gentlemen will read all the letters and decide which is the best one. You will find the letter box right on the inside of our front door, or you can send them through the mail. We have received some through the mail already. All may write; the only restriction is that you must not be more than 10 years old, and you must write yourself, without help from anyone.
