

Mr. F. H. Busbee, of Raleigh, appeared before Judge Coble, at Salisbury, Saturday night, and asked that he recommend that the fine of $500 against the Southern Railway for running its trains on Sunday be remitted. It will be recalled that in a case in Guilford Superior court the railroad company was convicted of violating the law prohibiting the running of freight trains between the hours of sunrise and sunset on Sunday, and fined $500. An appeal was taken and the Supreme court confirmed the judgment of the court. Judge Coble took Mr. Busbee's petition under advisement.
