HIS JAGLETS, THE JUDGE

Norwood on a Spree at Union Court.

NO LET UP NOW.

Resignation to Governor Bussell to be Withheld on Good

If there ever was any hope that Judge Norwood would not be impeached it is all dispelled now. The Judge is just recovering from a hilarious spree. Intelligence was received here last night that the Judge was on a jag at Union

Judge Norwood's friends had been working assidiously in his behalf for the past few days to have the resolutions of impeachment held up. The Judge had pledged to do better and there was a prospect of his being given another trial to reform. Governor Russell had consented to rest the matter for a while on condition that Judge Norwood send in his resignation to him in such form that it could be accepted the first time he departed from the ways of the sober. This resignation should have reached here yesterday, but the Judge was drunk and it did not come. There is no hope for the Judge now and unless he resigns immediately he will probably be impeached this week.

The Charlotte News says the Judge was very jaggy in Charlotte last week. Judge Norwood arrived in Monroe yesterday, but was too drunk to hold court.

Solicitor J. L. Webb is now in Charlette on his way to Raleigh to get another Judge to hold Union county superior court.

LARGE NUMBER WET

To Attend the University Inauguration Which Occurred Today.

Attached to the train that left for the University this morning were five coaches filled with persons going to the langural.

The majority of them were members of the legislature and the number that took the trip was surprisingly large considering the very disagrecable weather.

In the party was Governor Russell, Lt-Governor Reynolds, and nearly all the State officers. It is estimated that not more than twenty-five legislators are left in Raleigh. The party will return by special train

The formal inauguration of Edwin A. Alderman as president of the University of North Carolina oc curred today at noon.

The procession was formed at the president's office at 11:40 o'clock. Col. Thos. S. Kenan, of Raleigh, president of the Alumni Association, was the presiding officer.

The exercises were inaugurated with music by the Mandolin Club, and prayer was offered by the Rev. Dr. Dixon. A hymn by the Glee Club, and Mr. Robert Herring Wright delivered an address on behalf of the students. Dr. Kemp Battle responded in an address on behalf of the faculty.

The induction of the president into office by His Excellency, Daniel L. Russell, Governor of North Carolina, then occurred. President Alderman then responded.

Congratulatory addresses were thea delivered by William Rainey Harper, president of Chicago University, and Nicholas Murray Butler, professor in Columbian University, New York. President Alderman then made his inaugural ad-

SCOTTISH REFORMATION GOING TO SEE MCKINLEY

Friday Nights. Senator Pritchard Will Visit A full rehersal will be held in the Academy of Music this evening Canton.

ANSWER IS FINAL.

Republicans Say They Will Make us Further Reply to Populists-Sonator Prirehard to Distribute Southern Patronage.

century style. The music is by the Senator Pritchard left this morning on the Seaboard vestibule for Washington. This will be the senator's first visit to the national capital since his re-election. He will remain there only a few days, however, when he will journey to Canton to visit President elect McKinley.

The object of Senator Pritchard's visit to the president elect is said to be in relation to the distribution of patronage to the faithful in this state. It was stated today that Senator Pritchard would push Col. Jas. E. Boyd's claims for a seat in the cabinet. While away the senator will doubtless locate Rev Hi Budger for the next four years, who according to reports from those on the inside, will be rewarded with the best plum alloted to North Carolina. That the tar-heel state will fare better in the distribution of federal patronage han any other Southern state, there s little doubt. Mr. Pritchard is the only republican senator in the senate from the South and as his vote will be necessary to enact any republican legislation whatever, it can be imagined that he will do the talking for the entire South. North Carolina will receive more federal officers then she has ever had

The race question has at last cropped out among our legislators. It has assumed an interesting and amusing form.

> The reply of the republican caucus to the populist caucus to the effect that the republicans were willing to co-operate with the populists members of the legislature as in the past, but were not willing to settle the differences inside the populist party, is final .

The republicans will not caucus again on the matter. That was the general opinion today among all classes of republicans. Spencer Blackburn said the republicans made their final statement last night.

Butler is pleased. He has the republicans where he wants them. When they go to enact party legislature he has another high card which will play. They say it is a corker. The republicans and minority populists will necessarily have to act together. The regular populists declare that the combination will be unable to carry both branches. The following resolution was adopted unanimously by the populist caucus last night:

"Resolved that if the republican caucus falls to keep its contract of co-operation between our organization and its organization and fails to give us an affirmative answer to our resolution tomorrow night that we then disclaim all responsibility for any and all legislation that may be passed by the majority of the legislature composed of the republican members and the bolting populists. "Resolved that we as individuals will not accept any patronage or favors unless it be offered us by this

ALICE BYNO

Rnleigh. Miss Byno was born at, and is a resident of. Terre Haute. Indina. She has been identified with the dramatic profession since she was a child, and her success as a star has been an artistic triumph from the first without doubt. She is the most versatile lady upon the stage today playing at popular prices. Her range of parts is most varied being a rolicking soubrette one night, doing a heavy emotional part the next, and being equally at home in male characterizations.

First in her support we would make mention of Mr. Charles P King, who has devoted some twenty odd years to the study and advancement of the profession of which he is an bonored member. His best success is in such parts as Damon in "Damon and Pythias"; Welfred Denver in the "Silver King" and other equally as strong romantic leads.

Next in line comes Mr. Will E. Keifer. The comedian with the company, is "a man of many "parts. He is not only an experienced man in his profession, but has held engagements in some of the very best metropolitan companies, having been with the Frohman's for over four years, playing leading comedy

Among others are Mr. Frank E. Gavin, a character actor who has been identified with some of the best known eastern companies for years. Mr. G. F. Mitchell, another well known legitimate actor, for the last three years with John Griffith's "Faust Company," and Mr. Charles D. Hammond, the manager, who has been identified with his present calling about twenty years, both as an actor and a manager. He was for years a member of the newspaper world. Mr. Hammond is a hard, conscientious worker who is deserving of success. In our interview with him we putthe question, "Why do you play at such low prices of admission?" and his answer was, "I am impelled to this by the demands of the times, and I find that the majority of the people are not able to pay the high prices for en-

A COMMITTEE

On Ways and Means Formulating a Report on the Affairs of the Southern Building and Loan

The Knoxville, Tenn Tribune of yesterday says

The annual meeting of the Southern Building and Loan association convened yesterday in this city and committee was appointed on ways and means, that held a meeting last night and they will report today at nine o'clock. It is understood that important changes will be recommended. Membersfrom thirty states are present and the meeting today promises to be a decidedly luterest-

At two o'clock the annual meeting of the Southern Building and Loan association was called to order and Hon, J. R. Miller, of Virginia, was elected chairman. Quite a discussion ensued on the present status of af fairs of the association, and the following committee on ways and means was appointed to report the best plan and methods for the future good of the company and the stock-

Judge Race, Morristown, chair man, N. H. Hunt, San Antonio, Texas; H. L. Culberson, Atlanta, Ga. Thos Gaffney, Philadelphia. Pa., J. R. Miller, Pulaski, Va ; Alley Bradshaw, Little Rock, Ark., A. A. Mil ler, Kentucky; Attorney McCloud, Asheville, N. C.

The committee on ways and means held a meeting last night in room No. 4 in the Imperial, and after the most careful consideration the com mittee formulated a report that will practically cover the following: That the receivership be made permanent in order to permit the association to secure from each stockholder a con sent to a change in everything to meet the condition required by the change in the construed law of Tennessee; to secure new contracts with porrowers; to reduce the rate of in terest; also to make such other changes as may be necessary to bring the association conduct of business to the basis that experience has proved to be the wisest and safest. A cut in the salaries of the officers and directors will be recommended from the present rate.

One of the strange things the of building and loan associations is the fact that experi ence has not borne out anticipations. It was expected that stock in the Southern would mature in eightyfour months, but now some of the Southern stockholders claim that it will take 168 months to mature.

One of the stockholders of the Southern stated last night that the company has plenty of assets but the trouble is these hard times is to realize cash on the securities.

The storm in the south has advanced to the south Atlantic coast, near Charleston, with lower barometer. Heavy rains occurred over Florida; the largest amount being 1.06 inches at Jacksonville, and the snow area has followed eastward to Montgomery, Atlanta, Knoxville, and over North Carolina. The storm will move northeastward up the coast and join the depression now central off Nova Scotia. The cold wave still prevails over the entire central valley and west and has progressed to the gulf coast; but has moderated further north, though the temperature is still 20 degrees below zero at Huron and St. Paul. The line of 20 degrees follows almost along the gulf coast from Corpus Christi to Mobile.
