GETS THIRTY DAYS.

J. W. Mayton Sentenced for Turning in a False Alarm.

J. W. Mayton, a young white man was arrested this morning for turning in the alarm of fire from box number sixteen on the corner of Blount and Polk streets. The alarm was turned in shortly before 1 this morning, and though the fire companies responded promptly, there was no evidence of fire.

Young Mr. Mangum, who is connected with the fire department accomplished the arrest of Mayton. The latter with two companions named Shaw and McClave were at the box when the fire department arrived. Mr. Mangum watched Mayton and secured sufficient evidence to have him arrested.

He was arraigned before Mayor Russ this morning and fined fifty dollars, the maximum penalty. Being unable to pay the fine, Mayor Russ sent the offender to the roads for thirty days.

Mayton said that he was intoxicated and that he did not know what he was doing. Shaw and McClave, who were with him, stated that they saw Mayton when he turned in the alarm and that they advised him not to do so. Mayton works at the Pilot cotton mills.

The sentence imposed by Mayor Russ was just and it should prove a lesson to those people who have been guilty of the same offence.

TO TAX CIGARETTES

Bill Introduced to Tax Packages Fifteen Cents—Tucker & Company Paid for Destroying Microbes—Adjourned Until Monday.

The House met at 10 and Rev. Levi Branson, D. D., offered prayer.

Bills were introduced as follows: By Morton to tax cigarettes 15 cents a package; to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquor in Hyde county; by Ward to declare ordained ministers and justices of the peace public officers; by Schulken to provide for publishing 500 copies of the public and 100 copies of the private laws of 1897; by McBryde, to amend the charter of Lumberton.

The resolution introduced yesterday by Parker, of Wayne, setting forth that the requisite thirty days notice was not given on the bill to repeal the charter of the Goldsboro and Morehead railway company, was taken up, and was indefinitely postponed. Duffy protesting against such action.

The bill to provide for and promote the oyster industry of the state, came up. Harris, of Hyde, found fault with the provisions of the bill in regard to license for dredgers, insisting that the bill imposed tax on those who take oysters for private use. Hancock insisted these were not taxed. The bill passed its second and third readings.

The speaker announced assistant enrolling clerks, appointed by Lieutenant Governor Reynolds and himself: H. F. Jones, A. V. Miller, J. C. Maxwell, A. S. Byrd, A. C. Lehman, F. B. Wimbish, A. Spruill, D. V. Carroll. On motion of Lusk the house confirmed the appointment.

Bills passed providing that in all actions brought by heirs at law or minor children dependent in actions to plead any defence which might have been pleaded by an executor; in other words to plead the statute of limitation in case an executor or administrator failed to make that plea for them; to allow Sunday trains to carry express matter of all kinds; to create office of tax collector in Mecklenburg; to allow all J. Bills passed to give the judge of the western criminal circuit court the same power as a civil judge and striking out the word "criminal" in designation of said county, allowing the judge to hold special terms, at $100 each (Lusk saying there were over 400 cases on the civil docket and there was great demand for more courts in Buncombe.) At 2 o'clock the house adjourned until 10 a. m. Monday.

Leave of absence was granted Messrs. Henderson, Grant, Person, Cannon and Hardison.

GOODWIN HOME AGAIN.

He Will Be Seen in Raleigh in His New Play Next Wednesday.

At the Academy of Music on Wednesday night next the eminent comedian Mr. Nat C. Goodwin, supported by Miss Maxine Elliott and a superb comedy company, will appear for an engagement of one night only. His appearance here will be made doubly eventful by his production of an entirely new comedy, which when lately produced for the first time at San Francisco, proved as prominent a success, if not more so, than any play ever brought out by the successful comedian. In Chicago this play scored a hit and had a long run at Hooley's theatre. In writing this play the author fully bore in mind the abilities of Mr. Goodwin, Miss Elliott and the supporting company, and wrote a play that fits the organization like a glove. Each member shines to advantage in his or her particular role, and plays it with an intelligence that is certainly appreciated by every lover of good stage work. The play is in four acts. The first takes place at New York, and the other three are laid at Nice. It was written by Madeline Lucette Ryley, who is best remembered by her successful comedy work, "Christopher, Jr.," which was produced by John Drew. The new work is said to be superior in every regard. The comedy element is of an order fitted to suit the most fastidious theatre-goers. The play has been staged with all the care and attention for which all of Mr. Goodwin's productions have become famous.

The curtain will go up at 8 o'clock. Reserved seats can be had at King's drug store.

A Card From Representative Jones.

Editor Press-Visitor.

In rising to a question of personal privilege recently in the House I wished to give only a passing notice to an unwarranted attack upon my course as a representative by the editor of one of the city papers. On that occasion I said the News and Observer takes evident satisfaction in criticizing my course in the election of a United States Senator, nor

THE LOCKS PICKED.

In Swinson's Office this Morning—Douglas Retained as Counsel.

Swinson is gone. Though officially ousted by both branches of the North Carolina general assembly from the office of enrolling clerk, to which he was elected by the Assembly, he still claims that he was illegally removed and will doubtless make a fight in court.

The clerks in charge of the office forced the locks to the door yesterday afternoon and took possession. Swinson had the keys to all the drawers, where the bills were kept and the clerks could not get to them. Today however, under the advice of Lt. Gov. Reynolds, the locks were picked and the drawers and boxes opened. The work went on in the office as usual.

Swinson was perched up on a seat in the house gallery this morning and passively watched the proceedings from above. He goes to Goldsboro today to visit his people, but will return Monday.

Swinson has retained Mr. W. C. Douglass as his attorney and is acting under his advice. Mr. Swinson and his attorney will have a final consultation Monday and he will decide as to what course he shall pursue in the future.

A pre-Lenten Mission will be held at St. Ambrose Church, of the colored Episcopal congregation, beginning Thursday night Feb. 18. The series of services will be conducted by Rev. C. N. Field, S. S. J. E. of Boston who belongs to the society of St. John the Evangelist, the American branch of the famous Cowley Brotherhood in England. A cordial invitation is extended the public.

The Flora-Stanford Company will present "Imp" at the Metropolitan Opera House to-night.

ODD FELLOWS' COLUMN.

The brethren at Louisburg and Rockingham have had the pleasure and benefit of a visit from our Grand Secretary, Woodell this week.

A member of Capital lodge, whose home is in Vermont, recently bid his good wife adieu, when asked if he was not afraid to go so far away from home and friends. No, he replied there are Odd Fellows in Raleigh.

What has become of those brethren who can't stand hot or cold weather (in the lodge room) and are looking for more pleasant weather in order to attend the lodge meetings? In other words, what's the matter with this happy and delightful "lukewarm" weather we are now having? It ought to fill their bill exactly. Come! Come! Come!!

On Tuesday evening February 16th, the joint monthly meeting of the Raleigh lodges will be held in the lodge room of Manteo No. 8. All Odd Fellows, especially visiting brethren are especially invited to be present. Some of our best local talent, and possibly a distinguished speaker from a distance, will at this meeting entertain and instruct those who are so fortunate as to be on hand.

Our order, while American born, has not confined its benevolent work or its efforts in elevating human character, alone to our own grand and glorious republic. But it has extended its great fraternal chain to the isles of the sea and to all the leading countries of Europe, linking man to man, and ever pointing man to his creator and encourages in every possible way the love to country and fellow man.

The next session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge will be held in September at Springfield, Ill. The meeting will be presided over by that typical Southern Odd Fellow, Fred Carleton, of Texas. The Deputy Grand Sir is Alfred S. Pinkerton, of Massachusetts.

The order in our city will no doubt celebrate with appropriate ceremonies, the anniversary of Odd Fellowship on the 26th day of April. The order on that day will be seventy-eight years old. In this connection it is not out of order to say that the growth of the I. O. O. F. has been simply remarkable. A million members now grace its roster, while millions upon millions of dollars have been annually expended in the relief of distress. Long wave the triple link banner. The question is often asked "are Odd Fellows bound to stand by each other?" We would say that they are under certain circumstances. That is, when misfortune's hand is laid upon a brother, or sickness and death comes he must have the aid and comfort of his brethren. But when a so-called Odd Fellow shall depart from the right, and practice those vices so strenuously opposed and condemned by the teachings and principles of the order and the Bible, and expects to be shielded in wrong doing, then of all men he becomes in the estimation of his brethren the most contemptible. Designing men have frequently attempted to use the order as a stepping stone to political preferment, but how signally they have failed is attested by their haste in getting out of the order. One great advantage in being an Odd Fellow, and one which legitimately belongs to every member, is its introducing powers if we may use the words. Often has the writer been in strange cities and in distant states and had kind attentions and hundreds of friends because he was an Odd Fellow.

MR. BELVIN APPOINTED

Receiver of the Raleigh Paper Company by Judge Robinson.

Judge W. S. O'B Robinson today appointed Mr. Chas. H. Belvin, of the Raleigh National Bank, receiver of the Raleigh Paper Company. The appointment of a receiver for the mills was made upon application by the Raleigh National Bank. The appointment of Mr. Belvin was satisfactory to all parties concerned.

In appointing Mr. Belvin receiver, Judge Robinson allows Mr. Holding to direct and manage the affairs of the Company, until April 19th, when court meets here. Other action will likely be taken in regard to the property then.

The paper mill, which is situated at the Falls of Neuse, this county, is a very valuable piece of property.
