GRANT'S SUBSTITUTE

Offered as Majority Report .... In the Hou the Revenue Act is Taken up-... Taxes Apportioned. Other Matters

The house met at 10 o'clock. Not many bills were introduced. Among those were the following:

By Hancock, to create office of prosecuting attorney for the eastern oriminal circuit court, to get same pay as solicitors,, to be appointed by the governor and to serve four years.

By Lusk, to allow county com missioners to elect an auditor.

The house went into committee of the whole on the revenue bill, with Cook in the chair. The bill was taken up by sections.

There was quite a debate on the 3rd section which provided for 222.3 cents for state purposes, 31-3 for pensions, and 20 cents for public schools Drew offored an amendment making the rate for schools 22 cents, but withdrew it. Sutton offered an amendment making the rate for schools; Blackburn offered an amend ment making the rate of general tax 212.3. This amendment chairman Johnson accepted. Hauser said that the money was all appropriated and now it was proposed to cut down the school tax. Alexander offered an amendment making the total tax 45 cents instead of 46. Bryan of Chatham, said he was glad to see the house scattered today and attacked Sutton's amendment, and said the bigh appropriation men were the one who antagonized the increase of the school tax. Dockery, Lusk and Young called Bryan down. Bryan said he was for 20 cents and also for a direct appropriation of $100,000. Dockery and Lusk spoke forcefully in support of 20 cents. Sutton and Blackburn withdrew their amendments, Alexander's amend ment was adopted with only one "no." Then the poll tax rate was fixed, Lyle sending an amendment 'to make it $1.35. This was adopted. The taxes as fixed are, on poll $1 35; general, 21 2-3cents; pensions, 3 1-3 cents; schools, 20 cents.

Section 5 was adopted, making tax ode so as to allow women to vote in tion elections; also to forbid the giving of a reward to any employee of the present general as-sembly out of the treasury. By Whidbee, a bill to regulate the price of illuminating gas. The hour for special order having arrived Mr. McCaskey made a motion that the special committee ap-pointed on the memorial of the president and directors of the N. C. R. R. relative to the lease report. Mr Grant the chairman of said committee sent forward the majority report, said report being that after carefull consideration they had arrived at the conclusion from examination of various witnesses that there was no suspicion of fraud or Intimation thereof.

Grant then offered a substitute which recommends the lease for a term of 35 years and upon failure by the Southern to assent to such modi-fication on or before April Istitshall so the duty of the Governor, by and with the assistance of the attorney general and such additional counsel as the governor shall deem necessary to cause to be instituted an ac-tion for the purpose of having de-clared null and void the contract of lease executed in 1895.

The minority report does not concurr in the majority report because the committee failed to summons and examine ex-governor Carr. Col. A. B. Andrews and R. C. Hoffman; that they wanted the truth and that they could not get at it unless the parties above named were examined; that director Maxwell had said that R C Hoffman said he could not bid on the road 6 years before the road down. The minority recommends that the substitute do not pass.

Knox. first lease of the R & D road expired because the Southern would run the

McCaskey said he was unalterably opposed to the substitute of the majority.

Grant favored the substitute. He thought it a good bargain that the State had made He declared that n ten years the improvements and betterments would aggregate an increase of 10 per or at, and he was afraid if the lease was annulled that before long a sheet line would be built and the N.C. R. R. would be thrown back on the state.

Anderson, saids petition had been handed to him from citizens of his county signed by nen of all classes and political parties asking him to work, vote and up his influence to defeat the bill seeking to annull the lease.

him alone. He did not believe there GEN. LEE WILL REMAIN practiced in the lease of the NCR R. He said that if he had been one of the directors be would never have voted for a lease for 99 years." I am no friend of railroads but they have rights as well as any one else. I am unalterably opposed to the 99 year lease and I am also opposed to the original bill, but I favor the sub-IN stitute with my amendments attached thereto. The substitute is as follows, 1st it provides that the stockholders and directors shall also assent to the modification of 36 years, by June 1, 1897. Also allows the state to bring suit, in event of the failure of the Southern railway and stockholders and directors to assent to the modification, without giving bond or other undertaking. Musicale at Mrs. Higgs.

Last evening there was a very leasant entertainment at the charming home of Mrs. J. A. Higgs on North Blount street, for the benefit of the Church of the Good Shepherd, In spite of the inclement weather large number of people were present and the financial result of the entertainment was most satisfac ory.

It was a high class musicale, in which some of the leading artists in the city took part. In addition to this the hostess entertained with such grace and cordial hospitality that all were sorry when the hour came to say good night. The programe for the evening was

"La Belle Russe," one of the repertoire of the Floy Crowell company next week is the play that Mrs Langtry desires to revive. The fact recalls the hasty work of David Belasco in writing that drama. He was a stage director in San Francisco. "Forget-Me-Not" had proved a great success in London, and a California manager, unable to get it for use in that state, induced Mr. Belasco to turn out a play of similar char-

WASHINGTON, D.C., Feb. 26 .- Gen. Lee has relieved the administration of the embarrassment that threatened to cloud the last days of its existence with a warlike storm. The General was assured that for the five remaining days of the Cleveland government, be will have the backing from Washington in his efforts to protect American citizens and their treaty rights. Under these conditions Gen. Lee consented to remain in Havana the few days to elapse before his successor is named.

LONDON, Feb. 26.- A despatch from Madrid says the government received information of a sudden uprising which occured at Manila, the capital of the Phillippine islands yesterday. The insurgents made an attack upon the quarters of the Spanish Carbineers and carried them by storm. The Spanish troops were victorious. and at nightfall the disorder was suppressed. When the fighting ceased two hundred rebels were lying on the streets.

IN AN ENCOUNTER! Byatt Says Alexander Offered Him An Office for file Vote---This, Sectorary Alexander Stoutly Denles---Conflicting Testimony-

Mr. J E Alexander, private sore tary to the governor and S Jas L Hyatt of Yancey county had a personal collision on the floor of the senate this morning, shortly before noon.

The clash occurred in the anteroom on the right of the senate chamber. It was brief and spicy. but the evidence is exceedingly conflicting as to what occurred.

Mr. Alexander says no blows were passed and his distinguished adversary declines to make any statement. Several witnesses state that blows were passed, while others say not. Both gentlemen came off the battlefield with honors even, and neither possesses a souvenir of the occasion.

Mr. V. J. McArthur, assistant doorkeeper of the house, was standing in the ante room when Mr. Alexander and Senator Hvatt first encountered. Mr. McArthur states that he saw Senator Hyatt push Mr. Alexander against the bookcase and that he thought be struck him twice but is not certain. He states that Mr. Alexander was trying to hold the senator off and that he rushed in and separated them, carrying Senator Hyatt to one side, McArther says he told the gentle men that they would have to settle their differences outside of the Senate Chamber and that Senator Hyatt came up again, and addressing Alexander, said "you can't talk to me that way.'

"Some one asked Senator Hyatt what he said to Mr Alexander," said McAarther "and he replied : "Damn it he offered me the Secretaryship of the Agricultural department if I would vote for the lease bill

Mr. Alexander spoke up and said that the senator had misunderstood him entirely. Then the lie was passed by both, said the assistant

Section 6 was also adopted repealing any limitation or exemption from taxation.

Schedule B was taken upand Fer-'rell moved to strike out section 7. which imposes license tax for carry. ing on business. He said it imposed a tax ou going into business. Blackburn asked Ferrell whether he objected to the license tax on lawyers and doctors. Ferrell said yes. Sec. tion 7 was then adopted.

When section 16 was reached levy ing a tax of $25 on billiard or pool tables, an amendment was offered but was withdrawn, including those for private use. Bryan, of Chatham, was aroused by this amendment and said it was an infringement of liberty.

There was quite a discussion of section 19, taxing dealers in horses or mules as a business of profit $25 annual tax and $10 in each county, and each person who keeps horses or mules to let 50 cents for each animal for each 6 months.

McCraven sent an amendment to strike out the whole section and denounced it as unjust. There was quite a sharp quarrell between him and McCrary, but Sutton, of Cum-berland hoisted a flag of truce.

At this point, (noon) the commit tee arose and reported progress to the house on the bill, showing the endments in section 2 and 3, and showing that 11 other sections were adopted without any amendment. The bouse decided to postpone, porats and a few populists allde

"I was speaking to Hyatt about the lease billand urging him to vote for the original bill. I said "It is claimed that federal patronage is being used to defeat the bill annulling the NCRR lease. It is claimed that no man who votes for the bill will be recognized in the distribuschool and he was ever faithful, true tion of federal patronage." This was the statement I intended to refute when I spoke to Mr Hyatt; and said that "the governor was as able to take care of his friends as the Southern railroad was to take care of theirs." Whereupon Hyatt said in a loud tone of voice and seemingly to attract attention. that I was trying to bribe him. I said it was a lie; that he did not understand or want to understand what I said. He attempted to strike me, but jumped out in the crowd and said I wanted to bribe him, to which I reiterated the "lie." His friends took him away and there was no further colloquoy or controversy. I offered him no position nor promised to use my influence for him, in
