TELEPHONE No. 168.

FRIDAY April 16

We make our acknowledgments for advance copies of The People's Pictorial Edition of the Confederate Soldier in the Civil War, now in course of publication. It is a magnificent work, and when completed will be the finest thing of the kind ever produced on the Southern Confederacy. It is beautifully printed and handsomely illustrated.

It has been given out that a cotton mill is to be erected at Depew, the manufacturing town near Buffalo, N. Y., operating 1250 looms or 40,000 spindles. The mill building will be 185 feet wide and 660 feet long, will manufacture cotton cloth of all kinds, and will give employment to 350 women and 50 men. The entire cost of the plant will be in the neighborhood of $550,000.

Brooklyn gas companies are threatening to bring suit against the trolley companies because leaks are caused by the electrolysis of the pipes from the current escaping from the trolley conductors. An expert says that if the gas companies used cast iron pipes, as they should, instead of wrought iron pipes, as they do for the sake of cheapness, there would not be any leaks.

It is announced today that the recent visit to London of the King of Belgium had for its object the consummation of a contract by the terms of which a syndicate rents for a term of years the King's splendid chateau in Ardennes, for use as a gambling club. The grounds and park are exquisitely attractive, and the King is to build a large hotel adjoining the chateau. The promoters seriously believe that the place will rival Monte Carlo.

St. Patrick's cathedral in New York is to be enriched with the costliest holy water font ever placed in a Catholic church. It is Gothic in design and cost $10,000. It is a beautiful creation in pure Carrara marble. The bowl of the font is cut from a solid piece of marble 6 feet square. The exterior of the font is richly carved. It was executed by Prof. Fondi, a celebrated Italian sculptor, at the quarries of S. A. MacFarland, in Carrara, Italy. Mr. MacFarland's agent said that there was no cathedral in Europe that possessed so beautiful and costly a holy water font. It is surmounted by a figure of an angel, nearly life-size, also in marble. The font is a gift to the cathedral by Archbishop Corrigan and several of his friends, who do not desire their identity to be known. It will be used for the first time on Easter Sunday.

The press of the State of Mississippi has ceased discussing isms and theories and turned its influence to the material upbuilding of town and country. The horrible condition of the public highways of the State leads the North Mississippi Herald, under the caption of "A Plea for Good Roads," to say editorially: "There seems to be throughout the country a disposition to again agitate the good-roads question. We live in a day of evolution and revolution. The present declining price of horses has a more significant meaning than appears to a superficial observer. Motive power is being drawn from other sources, and the probability is that the horse will in the future be almost unknown. But even this will make it more necessary that the roadway should be made fit for the horseless carriage, the bicycle and other means of locomotion.

They All Come Back

"There are fads in medicine as well as in other things," said a busy druggist, "but the most remarkable thing about Hood's Sarsaparilla is that customers who try other remedies all come back to Hood's, and this is why the enormous sales of this great medicine keep up and continue the whole year round, steady as a clock." "Why is it?" "O, simply because Hood's Sarsaparilla has more curative merit than any medicine I ever sold." This is of daily occurrence in almost every drug store. Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured more sickness, and made more happiness through restoration to health than any other medicine.

DRESS GOODS!

Our stock is overflowing with all the staples and novelties intended for spring and summer wear, and you see the marvellous genius of Frenchmen in the soft, lustrous colors and exquisite fabrics, and the combination of reds and purples and violets. The effects produced with the blacks and brilliant or subdued colors are astonishingly tasteful.

The gowning of woman this season is an important factor in the dry goods business, and to plan new dresses something else is needed besides time and money. Some capacity for colors and suggestion—some native taste—the proper light, and above all, the whole round of the season's productions to look over and select from.

Our Dress Goods corps have made the "gowning of woman" their constant study, and have gathered the brightest and best goods from all the world, and will so place them before each visitor that no woman need fall into the error of wearing an ill-chosen dress.

The most brilliant gathering of the world's choicest products displayed with all the skill and taste of our dress goods people! The offerings are unusually attractive—the variety unusually large and the prices unusually moderate. Greater values than we are offering in High Art Fabrics are not obtainable elsewhere.

We invite you to visit us this week and be shown what "fashion" says you must wear this spring and summer.
